The mill owners in Phoenix put the brackets on the dam last week and for a time the water in the local race was very low, and a great deal of anxiety was felt lest the condition would continue during the low water season. An Advertisement by Elbert Hubbard

NERVOUS Prosperity is the result of tangled grey matter. It's not the plain work, but the hundred and one petty, worrying details that put a man under. And most of these details hang around the effort to save—to provide for THAT day, and having provided, to be sure that the purpose in view will actually be achieved. The thought, "Suppose—what would they do?" is calculated to make most men rather quiet and white for a while. Life insurance, by doing away with these worries, makes for peace, sound sleep and good digestion. By eliminating most of the worries, you live longer, and that in itself is worth insuring for. Then if the surface car, benzine buggy, or aeroplane, gently logs you into the sweet eternal, why the missus and the boys can capture and kill the sniffling wolf and send his pelt to market. You'd better make sure of yourself and secure assurance by being insured. The man with fifty thousand or so on his life carries his chin in, the crown of his head high; and his plane pan because he believes in them and in himself. And remember this, that the world takes you at the estimate you place upon yourself. The man whose life is well insured for the benefit of his family and business, never sneaks his way through life. He asks for what he wants and gets it by divine right.

Woman's Home Companion for August.

The August issue of the Woman's Home Companion is called "The Good Time Number," and it lives up to that title in every particular; giving ideas for summer enjoyment of every sort. The fiction is of the light, happy variety with, in most instances, the atmosphere of vacation days charmingly depicted. "Mile Mystique," a midsummer comedy by Anna Steese Richardson, will doubtless be acted in many gardens during the summer, and a remarkably timely article on the Outdoor Play, by Walter Prichard Eaton, will help in a large measure to make all fresco theatricals the popular thing during the summer.

The prize-winning answers to the "Which Girl Would You Love?" contest appear in this month's issue, and among the attractive and practical articles are "How to Build a House-Boat," by Charles B. Searle; and the article about Queen Mary, by Philip Hume Forster; and a boy's vacation letters to his mother.

The regular departments are summer and happy, the fashions are particularly fetching and the cookery is cool to even read about.

Of August it may first be said, its name is from Augustus, whom men have likened unto Ted, perhaps without injustice. He made the world go round about as many times a minute, and the news was always dull without the great Augustus in it.

He had his Ananias Club for liars and for fakers, and he loved to sail his little tub among the Roman breakers. He counted peace a sort of plague, and never did pursue it, but let it rally at The Hague, and you couldn't beat him to it.

He preached about the same old things that Teddy has been preaching, and most of Rome's awakenings resulted from his teaching. He battled hotly for the right, and valiantly imbued it, and the stork could not attempt to light but what he up and shooed it.

There was, however, one affair to tell which is to fatten, and that was where this Roman bear was coming in from battle. He had, of course, put everything opposing him to slumber, and Rome awaited him to sing some laudatory number.

Augustus said them, No, sir! and when he entered with his lists it might have been the grocer for all the greeting that he got from that admiring chorus, the which desire, of course, was not a bit like Theodoros.

But, howsoever, when he died the month that loves to grill us was being written far and wide the seasons of Saxtilus. They wanted to commemorate the hot time he presented the nation with, at any rate, so August was invented.

The dog days will resume again. And the man who voted water with the weather down to eight or ten.

Below will grow the hotter With wishing that he had foreseen The season hot and stewing. And nothing but a choice between Pink lemonade and bluing.

At any rate the world will spin With very small pretension, And the fall elections will begin To clamor for attention.

The next few weeks will fire the gun Repeatedly and offit, And a lot of folks begin to run For office very softly.

The bold insurgent will have polled the principal chauntausas, and will by that time have been told how far discreet his balk was, or if to follow his attack with further demonstration, or quietly to tip-toe back upon the reservation.

The hopeful Democrat will too! this way and that way training, and hope to have us as a rule have none of their explaining. He'll carefully trim up his wicks and get his pump pulsating, and pass the grand stand every six or seven seconds waiting.

There'll be some dust put up, it seems, when this event gets going, and some things starting at the seams that wanted proper sewing. No wonder Roosevelt came back, and nowadays his gun is rusting in the shooting rack, when here is where the fun is.

The time of green and growing things will near its termination, and the song the thrasher sweetly sings will come with moderation. We'll sort of think of autumn time, the hunter and the nutter, and the fishing hole will wear a slime as thick as apple butter.

Pathos of Senator Gore As He Poses For New Pictures

Senator Gore of Oklahoma is making his charges that the Indians of his state were in danger of being defrauded out of $3,000,000 through the efforts of various unnamed persons started a row in the senate that will not be closed for many a day. The senate has taken up the charges of Senator Gore, and early in August a committee of senators and congressmen will meet in Oklahoma to make a complete inquiry into the case. It has been reported that Senator Gore could have cleared some $25,000 if he had entered into the case, but the blind senator refused.

The above picture of the senator was taken a few days after the close of congress on the steps of the senate office building in Washington. The photographer suggested to the senator that all pictures of him now in use were old timers and the public would like a new one. "Oh, how happy I would be if I could even see one of the old ones," he would satisfy me," said the senator, and the next second he had changed the subject by telling a humorous story to his companion.

DEATHS

The death of Edward Wolover, aged 64, occurred at the Lee Memorial hospital on Tuesday night. The funeral arrangements have not been perfected.

The death of Mrs. Mary Flood, aged 70 years, occurred on Wednesday at her home near Volney. The funeral services were held on Friday from the Catholic church and interment was made in St. Mary's. The immediate survivors are three sons, Timothy and Thomas of this city and Michael of New York city, and one brother, Thomas, of Ireland.

James D. Houser, aged 80, and for a number of years a resident of Volney, died at the family home on Monday morning after an illness of but two days, resulting from a stroke of paralysis. The deceased, who was a very well-known resident of this section, was found unconscious in his barn on Saturday morning and he passed away without regaining consciousness. The funeral services will be held from the late home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. George Ward officiating, and interment will be made in Mt. Pleasant. The immediate survivors are the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Fred Stokes and Mrs. Carrie Conklin of Volney and two sisters, Mrs. Louise Heru and Mrs. Josephine Summers of this city.

After a residence of over 40 years in this city, Mrs. Chloe Foster, aged 80, wife of Mr. John Foster Sr., passed to rest at her home in Worth street on Friday evening. The deceased was born in Lowville, but in the city of her adoption she had made a wide circle of friends who loved her for her many splendid, womanly traits. In her family she reigned supreme, her sons and daughters grown to man's and woman's estate still found the mother the best friend and confidant. The funeral services which were private were held on Sunday and interment was made in the family lot in Mt. Adnah. Besides the husband, the deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. David McClure of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. E. M. Worden of Salem, Va., and four sons, ex-mayor J. A. Foster, ex-mayor J. M. Foster, Cashier L. C. Foster, Mr. C. Frank Foster.

The large circle of friends and acquaintances of George W. Currier, aged 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Currier of West First street, were shocked and grieved to hear on Sunday morning that the young man had been suddenly summoned by the grim messenger while walking in the garden at the home with his mother. For several years he had been suffering from organic heart trouble brought on by over-exertion in bicycle riding and other athletic pursuits and he had travelled with his parents in many cities in quest of health but to no avail. The disease progressed and for the last two weeks of his life the fight was known to be a losing one. All that tender care and medical skill could do was done but all to no avail. The deceased was exceedingly popular with all who knew him. He was an active Elk, prominent member of the Citizens club, the Pathfinder Boat club and the City club of Auburn. He was, until failing health forbade, connected with the drying department of the woolen mill, of which his father is the head. The funeral services will be held from the late home this (Wednesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock and the floral tributes with which the beautiful casket is surrounded testify to the depth of regard in which the young man was held by his associates. Beside the stricken parents, the immediate survivors are two brothers, Charles T. Currier, Jr., of Brooklyn, and Richard of this city.

A TRIBUTE.

Mrs. Chloe C., wife of John D. Foster of this place was born in 1830 at Lowville, N. Y. Her father, Charles Clark, of that place was a descendant of the pioneers of New England stock who emigrated from Connecticut in the latter part of the seventeenth century. Ensign Reuben Clark of Revolutionary fame and the Rev. John Clark who was a chaplain in the American Army in 1812 were her direct forbears.

Mrs. Foster was one whose best eulogy was that she earned the supreme title of noble womanhood and bore with devoted grace the name of Mother. Of her it could be well spoken:

"She looked well to the ways of the household, her children called her blessed, and her husband praised her in the gates."

Her characteristics were distinctly those that make and establish the home and in that sphere she wrought out a faithful destiny, using the qualities of strong character, modest retirement and amiable labor and usefulness.

After a married life of sixty-four years, she is survived by her husband and all of her children. Her four sons, Charles Franklin, James Altab, John M. and Langdon C. of this city, and her two daughters, Mrs. David McClure of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Edward M. Worden of Salem, Virginia.

Mrs. Orville Jennings of Palermo was stricken with paralysis in a local store on Monday and taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fones, in the Foster Theatre block, where her condition is improved.

Twenty-five foreigners employed by the McDermott Contracting company refused to return to work on Monday or to leave the buildings belonging to the company, in which they were housed. Patrolmen Dyer and Hartigan gave them orders to vacate which they promptly obeyed.

Rev. J. L. Lindsman paid the firemen of the city a high tribute at service on Sunday morning for the masterly manner in which they handled the fire of Friday which threatened wide devastation but which was kept within a small area by supreme effort.

J. C. O'Brien is making many improvements to his Oneida and First street store in the line of placing a new cement walk, sills, etc. Mr. O'Brien also contemplates remodeling the front and Oneida street sides of his store by changing the location of the doors and installing magnificent plate glass show windows on the two sides.

Through his attorney, S. B. Mead, Charles J. McDermott has asked

United States Judge Ray for permission to sue the McDermott Contracting company, now in the hands of a receiver and of which company his father is a member, for personal damages sustained when a steam shovel owned by the company tipped over, striking him on the head and causing an injury from which the young man will probably never recover. He has been an intense sufferer from that time, over a year ago and his physicians give no hope for his recovery. The case, which is a very sad one, will be watched with interest.

THE OLD BOYS MEET

At Mexico Point Inn and Indulge in Outdoor Sports of All Kinds—The First Supervisors' Outing a Success—Senator Cobb Speaks—Charles W. Candee of Schroepfel, Dean of the Supervisors.

The first annual outing of the Oswego County Supervisors' Association was held at Mexico Point Inn, Saturday of last week and it was a success in every way. The day was perfect and the lake breeze was enjoyed by all present.

There was an attendance of two hundred and fifty and included past and present members of the board of supervisors, county officers, candidates for the nominations the coming fall, several ladies and children, postmasters galore, photographers and members of the press.

The oldest supervisor in attendance was Charles W. Candee of Schroepfel, aged 83 years; the next oldest was the popular Hiram D. Fox of Phoenix, and the youngest was George W. Fuller of the Fourth and Fifth wards of Fulton, who is 28 years of age.

There was quite a delegation from Watertown, who came in autos, headed by State Senator Cobb, Mayor Hugo and several other live people from Jefferson county.

The feature of the morning was the ball game between the city and county supervisors, and was won in six innings by the city fellows by a score of 13 to 9. The umpire was from Oswego, but in the row that broke up the game, escaped the wrath of the losers by swimming the inlet and hiding in the woods.

Photographer Mulholland of Oswego, rounded up the party in front of the hotel and took a picture, which is reproduced in this issue.

Dinner was served at two o'clock and was fine, considering the unexpectedly large attendance. Plans were made for one hundred and fifty and this was exceeded by one hundred.

Following the dinner, Hon. John O'Brien of Phoenix, was called upon to preside as toastmaster and he added new laurels to his already excellent reputation in this line.

The principal speakers were Mayor Hugo of Watertown, and State Senator George H. Cobb of the Jefferson-Oswego district. The remarks of both were well received and interrupted frequently with applause.

Following the speaking the party repaired to the lawn where the following sports took place. We give below the list of events and names of the winners:

100-yard dash—George Haley, first; Hamer, second; W. W. Spencer, third. 100-yard dash for fat men—Vowinkel, first; Chiles, second; Buck, third. 100-yard hurdles—Pelky, first; Peterson, second; Snyder, third. ## THE POLITICAL FIELD

The Patriot's Summary of Politics and Politicians—Compiled from Everywhere and for Everybody.

Chairman Taft of the Republican county committee, phoned The Patriot Tuesday afternoon that the county committee had just decided to hold the primaries on Tuesday, Aug. 9th, in the several towns and wards. The county convention will be held at Pulaski on Tuesday, Aug. 16th, commencing at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The first political meeting in the campaign in Oswego county held by the Republicans, was that of the Sixth Ward Republican Club in Oswego on Wednesday evening. W. V. Barr presided and after outlining the club's policy, introduced Candidate L. W. Mott, who congratulated the club and solicited their support to his candidacy for congress; he also endorsed the candidacy of W. S. Norton for county treasurer. Edward Baker, a life-long Stowell man, came out as a reorganizer and pledged the support of himself and friends to Mott and Norton. Short addresses were made by E. L. Lavers, Alderman Gernon, D. D. Long and E. J. Mizen.

Chairman Fred M. Moore of the Democratic county committee, has named his new county committee, with George W. Bacon of Scriba, as secretary. The following constitute the new committee:

Albert S. Barker, chairman, Orwell. Thomas D. Niles, Parish. O. M. Reilly, Phoenix. Joseph H. Connors, Fulton. John R. Sullivan, Fulton. Thomas L. McKay, Oswego. James H. Chrysal, Oswego. James Underkirk, Granby. W. W. Rouds, Oswego Town.

The executive committee of the Democrat party met Monday and decided to hold the primaries in every ward and town of the county on Tuesday, Aug. 9th, and the county convention at Pulaski on Thursday, Aug. 11. There are but two county nominations to be made, that for treasurer and a coroner. It is generally understood that there is to be no opposition to the renomination of Fred M. Moore for county treasurer.

The expected has happened. Former Judge Merick Stowell of Oswego, once leader of the Republican organization of this county, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress. The first announcement was made Wednesday in the Oswego Palladium. In that paper was the statement that Candidate Stowell "will get more than half of the Fulton delegation with the aid of, among others, former Surrogate S. B. Mead, former Mayor Quirk and Secretary John W. Stevenson of the Republican county committee."

Thursday evening Secretary Stevenson came out with a vigorous denial of being in favor of Judge Stowell, and stated he would do everything in his power to make Mr. Mott's nomination possible.

Friday evening denials were published from Messrs. Quirk and Mead, who were both out of the city when the Palladium's statement was made. Both of these gentlemen spoke very favorably of Mr. Mott's candidacy for the congressional nomination.

The attempt to make the supervisors' outing at Mexico Point Saturday non-political was a failure. Here and there all over the lawn and elsewhere were small groups of men, busily engaged in discussing the situation and telling "how it looks up our way." The results of the opinions expressed are summarized as follows:

For Mott—Albion, Constantia, Hannibal, Granby, Hastings, Mexico, New Haven, Oswego Town, Orwell, Parish, Richland, Sandy Creek, Schroepfel, Volney, Williamstown and West Monroe.

For Stowell—Amboy, Redfield and Scriba.

In Oswego city it is claimed the Second, Fourth, Sixth and Eighth wards are for Mott and every ward on the west side will be for him.

In Fulton it is stated the entire six wards will send Mott delegations to the district convention.

County Supt. of Highways R. A.

Howard will tender his resignation, to take effect as soon as the supervisors can meet and select his successor. He has taken the state civil service examination as inspector of good roads and will be appointed. The salary is considerably larger than his present position. The county board will have to hold an examination of candidates for the appointment to fill the vacancy.

State Chairman C. E. Pitts of the Prohibition party, missed his train in Oswego one evening last week and he was due for a speech at Tuilly—81 miles distant. He chartered an auto, left Oswego at 7:30 p. m. and at 9:30 p. m. appeared in the opera house at Tuilly in time to make his address. He received a great ovation for his "Paul Harvey" ride to keep his appointment. Chairman Pitts says his party in this state is enrolling 500 new voters every week.

The Democracy of Nebraska de-throned Bryan last week, after an absolute control for twenty years. On the test vote the Bryan forces could only muster 294 votes to 455 of his opponents.

The political horizon is about to receive a new cloud that augurs ill to professional politicians and may precipitate trouble of mammoth proportions. It is nothing less than the attempt to organize the National Transportation Workers' Political League and unite steam, electric, marine and team workers. It is estimated there are 3,000,000 members in these labor unions in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. The league proposes to take part in national, state, congressional, county and city politics. The officers of the national league are: President, E. E. Sherwood, New York; vice-president, W. S. Hynes, Kankakee, Ill.; secretary and treasurer, W. S. Shurtliff, Cleveland, O.

Announcement

To the People of Oswego County: I beg to announce myself as a candidate for Member of Congress and ask that Oswego county approve my candidacy.

I have been greatly favored by the people of this county in the past and shall consider it the crowning honor of my life to receive this nomination. My private and political life and record are known to you all and on them I confidently rely.

If nominated and elected I shall give my best endeavors to promote the interests of our districts. I shall support Republican principles and policies. I shall do my utmost to protect and assist the great manufacturing industries of the Black river valley and the Oswego river as well as others. I shall support all reasonable measures which may be for the interests of the veterans of the Civil war and of the Spanish war. I shall favor the construction of a Niagara ship canal.

I believe, with Theodore Roosevelt, that the people should govern and trust that at the coming primaries, a full, free and fair expression of the voters may be had, and with their decision I shall be content.

Oswego, July 30, 1910.

Merick Stowell.

Fulton's Auto Club.

The preliminary steps were taken Friday evening to organize an auto club in Fulton. A meeting of the owners of the one hundred or more machines in the city was held and a committee consisting of S. B. Mead, Dr. S. D. Keller and Chas. Doxlater was appointed to draft the constitution and bylaws and present a report at a meeting to be held next Tuesday evening, August 9th.

The organization meeting will be held at Pathfinder island club house and the features of the event will be a dinner, adoption of committee's report, election of officers and short addresses on the proper handling of cars.

If the new organization succeeds in adopting rules that will insure the safe and sane running of cars in this vicinity and the elimination from the chauffeur's seats of those reckless drivers—men and women—who assume to own the earth when motoring, the promoters of the auto club will be very popular in the estimation of the people—and the accident insurance companies.

The "Blue Line" Survey.

Last week the statement was made in some of the daily papers that two corps of surveyors have been started out by the state authorities to resurvey the "blue line" along the Oswego, Erie and Champlain canals. It was intimated in the article that where parties had been building on the alleged "blue line," the state—if it did not want the land—would offer it for sale, to the highest bidder.

In this connection, considerable speculation was raised as to the fate of the business blocks on the west side of South First street. It was stated that at least one half of these buildings were on the "blue line."

The Patriot has inquired of parties who know in regard to this line and found that none of the business blocks, with the exception of a portion of Dr. W. W. Kennedy's block, encroaches on this imaginary line.

We were also informed that away back in 1834, the state officials sent out a corps of surveyors who ran a line along the canals, which they designated as the "state boundary or blue line," and that the legislature in accepting the maps when completed, passed a law which stated these maps should be admitted in courts as "presumptive" evidence of the state ownership. Since then the higher courts have held that "presumptive evidence" is not "actual title" to the lands in question and if the state cannot show better title, then the possessor and occupant has an acquired title by possession.

It would appear therefore that Fulton has nothing to fear from the visit of the "blue line" surveyors.

Pulaski's Old Home Week.

Commencing next Sunday morning and continuing the whole week, the residents of Pulaski and surrounding country are going to hold a centennial in commemoration of the settling of Pulaski one hundred years ago, together with an elaborately arranged Old Home Week.

Everybody in Pulaski is busy getting ready for company. When that handsome village and its people start to do anything, they unite and success is assured from the start. The following is the outline of the program:

Former Fulton Girl Weds.

At the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. William Avery Groat, Syracuse, at 9 o'clock Monday morning occurred the marriage of Miss Mary H. Nichols and A. Edwin Rose. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Sawtelle of Elmira.

The bride is a former resident of this city and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nichols. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, the marriage was a very quiet affair, only a few of the relatives being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose left immediately after the ceremony to spend their honeymoon at Nantucket. On their return they will reside at 504 1/2 Waverly avenue, where they will be at home to their friends after Sept. 1st.

Governor Hughes has appointed Col. John T. Mott of Oswego, as a member of the Perry Victory Centennial Commission, to make arrangements for the centennial observance of the victory of Commodore Oliver H. Perry in the battle of Lake Erie in 1812. The centennial will be held at Put-In-Bay, Lake Erie, in the summer of 1913.

A Letter from Switzerland.
Mrs. J. E. Cary, formerly Miss Harriet Rector of this city, who is making a four months' trip through Europe, has given readers of The Patriot a pleasant glimpse of Lucerne, Switzerland:

Lucerne is situated in the heart of Switzerland, and here one finds the grandest scenery of the Alps. No one can claim to know Switzerland who has not spent a part of the summer at Lucerne.

You find all kinds of sports here, a well-arranged tennis court, golf links, motor boat racing, as well as rowing races and horse races. Beautiful feasts, Venetian nights and charming moonlight water parties enliven the evenings. Automobiling and motoring are delightful, as you have most magnificent scenery at every turn.

Arriving at Lucerne, you are agreeably surprised to find a new and commodious depot. Leaving the station, we see before us a truly magnificent prospect; on the right the green slope of the Rigi, in front the lake and town with its picturesque towers; the left leads up to the bridge known as the Seebach bridge, built at a great expense; it is 50 feet wide and 600 feet long. You become at once entranced by the scenery that lies before you.

Beyond the glittering surface of the Lake of the Four Cantons rises the Alps in all their splendor. On the left above the fertile gardens of Weggis towers the Rigi, with its gleaming hotels; on the right the rugged summit of Mt. Pilatus, while between them, overtopping the lesser eminences rises a long array of snowy peaks. A wonderful view, with its noble and commodious hotels, its elegant villas and country houses interspersed among luxuriant gardens, and the river, whose clear green waters issuing from the lake, flows under the bridge.

In the morning you are impressed with a gay and animated scene, but the evenings afford a unique feature of European life. As you stroll along the shady avenues past the lofty hotels and gardens gay with flowers, all that meets your view, near or distant, fills you with delight.

The walks are delightful around Lucerne; you arrive quickly into the open country near the farmhouses. About a mile from Lucerne on the left you find the Mansion Busechere, where the famous composer, Richard Wagner, spent six years of his life, and in which he was living at the time of his marriage.

The landscape increases in splendor as we proceed on our way and when, after a walk past the estate of Kramer-stein, we reach Kastamir beaming with its majestic laurels, we find ourselves in a paradise.

As you gaze at the Lake of Lucerne your heart beats faster as you think of the title, which recalls all the sublime scenery of the Lake of the Four Can-tons, the magnificent description of Schiller, the story of William Tell, of whose heroic deeds its shores was the scene.

A world of picturesque landscape rises before your eyes, conscious as you are that this famous lake is a treasure house of natural beauties, and as you explore all the recesses of its curiously winding shores and mark the effects of light and shade, which so enhance the beauty of its scenery, you enjoy the beautiful view, which is beyond description.

The mountains have become more popular because you can ascend by cable power instead of climbing. The Stanserhorn is the most majestic surrounding the Lake of the Four Cantons and includes besides the Rigi and the Pilatus, the beautiful pyramid of the Stanserhorn, which rises clothed to its summit with forests and pastures between the vale of Engelberg and the little state of Appenzel.

You take a pleasure boat at Lucerne, go up the lake about an hour, then the electric road for half an hour and you are landed at the cable car connecting the summit with the little town of Staus. The trip is divided into three sections of about equal length. You land at the station Blumal, (3,973 feet high), which derives its name from the beautiful flower among which it lies.
From here you obtain a birds-eye view of Staus, which lies almost vertically beneath you, showing like a heap of white pebbles in the green valley, and of the bluish-green lake of Alp Maeh glistening between the wavy outlines of its banks, while somewhat more distant is the city of Lucerne, fringed by its ancient towers, and beyond are the villages, all affording surprising glimpses of scenery.

You finally reach the terminal station, Stanserhorn, and step out upon the spacious terraces, 6,325 feet high, commanding an extensive panorama of the Alps. Behind lies bank upon bank of snow-capped peaks, which overpower you by their grandeur and sublimity.

By this time you are convinced that this is one of the most beautiful views in the world. It is an illustration of the very different conditions that may occur in the life of a single person. Masters of romance have maintained that there should not be in song or story
but one love. Playwrights never bring

A Woman Passes Two Existences
In One House

By EDITH V. ROSS

Copyright, 1919, by American Press Association.

My love for Edward Lane began when we were both so young that neither of us could remember a time when it did not exist. His father's place was but a short distance from yours. Indeed, the rear line marked the limits of both places. On one side of this line was the playground of the several children, boys and girls, including Edward and myself, who lived in the neighborhood. I can remember as far back as when I was seven years old and Edward nine that in playing keep house he and I always played the part of husband and wife. There was a swing on this playground, and Edward's father put up articles for a boys' gymnasium. A little house four or five feet high was built for us girls and furnished with toy furniture. At times we would leave our dolls there all night, first putting them to bed.

When I grew taller I could not understand how I could have stood upright in that little house. And what seemed more remarkable to me was that Edward could have done so, for he was always a large child. And I remember that when he had been away to school for a long while and came back he was taller than the house.

By this time we were growing out of childhood into that intermediate period when, though boys and girls may feel love, they are not likely to express it. It is a period of transition from child love to real love. The boy mind is taken up with athletic sports, while the girl hides her secret almost from herself. Indeed, so nebulous is this period that in my own case it is difficult for me to recall my exact feelings. I remember them faintly and as existing at intervals. They were rather a small portion of my girl's existence than the whole of it.

When I was sixteen I was awakened to the true condition by the marked preference displayed by another girl for my Edward. From that time my love became the principal instead of a minor part in my life. I failed to conceal my jealousy from him, and this brought out his own consciousness of what was between us. There was no formal declaration, no conventional giving of the hand, not even the lovers' kiss. He merely said something about the other girl, I know not what,
but it assured me there was no change in our position since the days when we played husband and wife at keeping house—no change in the position, but a great change in the condition.
It had then been like a winter bud,
but it was now swollen under a spring
sun, ready to put forth leaves.

I sometimes wished that I could have experienced the proposal that other girls seemed to regard the next most important moment in their lives to their marriage. Edward and I had no occasion for a proposal. Our love was rather, as I have said, an unfolding of a bud than the birth of a butterfly. The only abrupt part of it was when he gave me the first kiss. I have always treasured that in lieu of a proposal.

When we were married great changes had occurred. I was left alone in the world. So it was arranged that we should occupy my house. Our living room was on the second floor, overlooking the playground where we had pretended to be husband and wife.
The faint dream of childhood had been developed to a realization of almost perfect happiness. If there could be a perfection on earth, these five years of my life, from twenty to twenty-five, were such a condition. Two children were born to us, a boy and a girl.
What seemed strange to me was that,
though I gave them a boundless love, that which I bore their father, instead of being diminished, was increased.
Truly love must be, like space, infinite.

Up to this point there had been an expansion of happiness. Suddenly there came a check. Our youngest child sickened and died. I have described with some minuteness what I have likened to the gradual unfolding of a flower. I have no heart to give more than a brief mention of its blight-ing. Within a few months after the first death a second occurred, and within another year I lost my husband.

For a time I was in a sort of collapse, in which I did not take enough interest in my surroundings to be affected by them. After one has met with a serious accident or has been operated upon by a surgeon the senses are deadened; then comes the beginning of pain. It was so with me.
When I became myself my surroundings were painful to me. Some persons similarly situated nurse their grief by living in such surroundings. I longed to get away from them. Friends advised me to seek recovery in the many new scenes and interesting objects that are to be found abroad. I took their advice. I sailed for Europe, leaving the place where I had been so happy in the hands of an agent for sale. One thing I was resolved upon—never to return to it.

It may be considered that my story is one of coincidence. It is more than that. It is an illustration of the very different conditions that may occur in the life of a single person. Masters of romance have maintained that
but one love. Playwrights never bring a second one to the stage. They portray rather romance than real life and do not give all that real life needs.

They are of the same order as the people of India who believe that the wife should die on the funeral pyre of her husband.

I may be weaker than some women or I may be stronger. Possibly I may have less depth of feeling, though that I will not admit. I saw only in nursing my grief a dreadful life before me. I recognized the principle that no two absorbing ideas can occupy the brain at one time. I did all that I could to interest myself in what was about me.
True, I did not at first succeed, and when I did only partially so I dreaded the word forget, and yet I realized that to avoid suffering I must temporarily forget. I forced myself to feel that after a time I would be reunited with my loved ones and that meanwhile I must, except occasionally, put them out of my mind.

I made my home abroad. Three years after my bereavement I married again. I did so partly because I was lonely, partly because I wished for a man to rely upon, as is natural to a woman, partly because the man I married assured me that I could give him an interest in life and lastly because I became attached to him. He was an American, like myself, and, being wealthy, gave himself up to study.
He lived abroad that he might write books which required his presence among the subjects of which he wrote.

For five years after our marriage we
ing this period children were born to us. There was a tacit mutual agreement between us that I should not talk about the world in which I had lived.
I saw that he would rather leave that to me, considering himself as having no part in it, and I had no desire to make him a part of it. He was absorbed in his literary work, and if I ever told him even where I had lived he soon forgot it.

Then he was called to America on the matter of some property that needed his attention. It was agreed between us that he should leave me and our children in Lucerne, where we were then living. He expected to be absent not more than two months, but soon after his arrival in America he was induced to write for a publisher a work necessitating his presence in America. He suggested my coming some with the children, but left me to consult my own feelings in the matter.

I had never intended to return to the United States, dreading lest it would reawaken me to my lost world. But with a husband and children that world had receded further and further from me till the consciousness of it had grown very dim. I wrote my husband that I would go back to the western hemisphere and remain there.
I was tired of moving about from one place to another and the children were singing to that age when they should have steady instruction at school. Our boys I preferred to bring up in America. I therefore suggested to my husband that he buy a place in which we might settle. He replied that he agreed with me and would carry out my suggestions. Later he wrote me that he had bought a place in the suburbs of the city wherein it would be necessary for him to do his work.

We arrived after dark. I was delighted at our reunion, as were the father and the children. I did not ask where our home was to be. I intended to be satisfied with it, pleased with it, wherever it was. We took a train and in less than an hour alighted at a station, where a carriage was waiting for us. It was very dark when we reached our home and I saw nothing of it till I stood in the hall. Then I sought at a banister to prevent my falling.

I was in the house I had left more than ten years before with a blighted heart.
"My dear!" exclaimed my husband,
starting toward me.
But in a twinkling I had recovered myself. And what had enabled me to do so? The sudden appearance of an object. Ah, those objects that come to us! How much more valuable oftentimes than realization! I must at least for the present spare my good man the inexpressible pain of knowing what he had brought upon me.

"Nothing," I replied. "A little giddi-ness at having been so long rolling at sea."
"Nothing you don't like, is there?"
he asked anxiously.
"On the contrary, I am very well pleased. Let us see the rest of it."
He took me into every room in the house, a house that had been sold twice since I had parted with it and both times with the furniture included. Not for the world would I have betrayed that these rooms, closets, corridors, with every bed, table, bureau, had been familiar to me from childhood. But when it was over I passed the night alone in a room opening into one occupied by the children.

No tongue or pen can describe what that night was to me.
When morning came I found that if I could endure the first shock I could endure more. I deferred from day to day telling what had happened. My husband was delighted with his purchase, and before I had gained heart to tell him my secret he had become a fixture in it. Months passed, then years. My husband is now an old man and my children are grown.
None of them know that their mother has been living in her second earthly world.

And yet, after all, this coincidence has not brought me unhappiness. I have been living two existences, both of which are dear to me, the one nearly, the other in the far past and future; the one of flesh and blood, the other of spiritual form. In time it will be a spiritual mingling of the two.

Small Stores Should Advertise.
Small stores get the impression that nobody knows them and it does not to advertise. This is wrong. If advertising will benefit a big store, it benefits a smaller one in proportion.

There is no business that cannot profit by judicious advertising.
Advertisements we do not mean skimpy.
Get the idea that two or three advertisements a year will pay you.
man told you that two or three a week would keep you alive, would consider him crazy. Advertising is food for your business, before don't try to starve it to death.
It will feed you.

It pays dry goods, clothing, hardware and other stores to advertise, it pays grocers, milliners and all retailers. But they must advertise wisely. It has often been said—and is true—that money invested in advertising—in your home paper—is invested—especially when the advertiser will give as much study and to his advertising as he does to buying, selling and banking.

Small stores in the big city special men to do this work, but cannot afford this outlay; you must have to go to your home paper, the editor what you want and be help you; it is his business; tell what goods you handle and the editor will write you an advertisement, and live up to everything you advertise, and be a winner.

If you have to discard either the sign over your door or your advertisement in your home paper, take down your sign, but keep your advertisement in the home paper. It puts your sign right in the readers' faces every time they pick up the paper. If you give bargains, the people will find your store without any trouble. Try advertising in The Patriot and you will do more business.

MIDDLEMAN AND FARMER.

Views of a Railroad Man on the Lack of Co-operation.

Mr. B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the Frisco system, said recently in an address that the most important factor for the welfare of the nation will be found in an organization of farmers. This is true not only on account of the benefits they will receive directly, but on account of the money saved by the consumers. It is not the prices received by the farmers which make living expenses high, but the profits to the dealers handling farm products between the farmer and the consumer. He then cited some instances of the enormous profits that accrue to the middleman.

The Florida farmer receives $2.25 for a bushel of green beans, the railroad gets 50 cents for the 800 mile haul to New York. And the consumer pays $6.40 for this same bushel of beans. There are 35 per cent for the grower, 8 per cent for the carrier and 57 per cent for the dealer. This is not a fair division.

Thirty cents a dozen was the average price of eggs in New York last year, while the farmers of Arkansas and Missouri received 15 cents. The freight was 2 cents a dozen. The man who receives the eggs at a freight station in New York and delivers them to the consumer takes 13 cents a dozen profit.

The rice farmer of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas gets 2 1/2 cents a pound for the grain, and the consumer in New York pays 10 cents a pound for this rice. The freight is half a cent a pound. If the rice farmer were paid 3 1/2 cents (a cent more than he is now getting) and the dealer took a cent profit (which is 25 per cent) the New York consumer would get twenty pounds of rice for a dollar instead of ten pounds, as now.

If the above figures are correct, and we have no reason to doubt them, it would seem that the middleman is much to blame for the present high prices. And it would indicate that if the farmer and consumer can eliminate the middleman to a great extent the better it will be for them.

Grangers and Dairymen.

An important meeting was held June 22 at Newburg, N. Y., which was attended by fifty gentlemen, representing the dairymen's league of the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut; also the New York state grange executive committee, with the state grange master and representatives from Pomona granges in Washington, Columbia, Ulster, Orange, Dutchess and Warren counties, N. Y., and Sussex county, N. J. Ira Sharp, the chairman of the executive committee of the state grange, presided, and Albert Manning of Otisville was secretary. Plans were carefully laid for such united action as shall give to producers of milk some part in fixing the price of that commodity.

Farmers' Conventions.

The farmers' national congress will meet at Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 6. The national grange will convene at Atlantic City, N. J., in November. The New York state fair will be held at Syracuse Sept. 12-17. Special attention will be given this year to farm and draft horses. Ohio state fair meets at Columbus, Sept. 5; Michigan, at Detroit, Sept. 19; Pennsylvania, at Bethlehem, Sept. 4; Iowa, at Des Moines, Aug. 25. The National Corn exposition will hold a great agricultural congress at Columbus, O., Jan. 30 to Feb. 11, 1911. It is an educational exhibit par excellence. New York state fruit growers will meet at Sodua, Wayne county, N. Y., Aug. 5-7.

Next National Grange Meeting.

When the national grange conference in Atlantic City, N. J., in November it will be confronted with two matters that seem now to be unimportant in Patrons' minds. One is proportional representation in that body, meaning representation according to state membership. The other is the unsettled condition of affairs pertaining to the publication of the national grange organ. This paper is not a profit bearing institution, and large sums of money have been appropriated for its publication by the national grange. Its continuance will depend on the action of the grange at Atlantic City.

Topics For Lecturers.

What number of hours constitute a proper day's work on the farm? The value of amateur dramatics for developing the young people of the grange.

Do people watch the work of their senators and representatives as closely as ought to be done?

With present high wages and high prices, is the average workingman any better off than he was fifty years ago? What are the real facts about alfalfa raising in different sections of the country?

The national grange executive committee will meet Aug. 2 at Atlantic City, N. J., to perfect arrangements for its annual meeting.

Grange halls in Maine are valued at $1,000,000.

OREGON GRANGE.

Its Thirty-sixth Annual Session Held at Oregon City.

President Taft Has Signed the Postal Savings Bank Bill, and it Will Soon Be Decided What Postoffice Will Be Postal Savings Bank.

Oregon state grange met May 10. Austin D. Burton, state master, said in his annual address that the membership should be more restricted to those engaged in agricultural pursuits. He opposed too much participation in political issues. The state secretary reported 144 subordinate granges in twenty-five counties. During the past two years twenty-six new granges were organized. The total membership is now 5,238. C. E. Spence was elected state master. The salary of the state master was fixed at $300, secretary $400 and lecturer $200. The plan to bond the counties for the purpose of road construction was opposed. The use of convict labor on highways was approved. The grange opposed union with the federal trades on the ground that their taxation measures could not be supported. One hundred and sixty-four candidates took the sixth degree. Mrs. B. B. Lord, formerly lecturer of New York state grange, was one of the speakers. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of about $6,000.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

President Taft Has Signed the Bill, and It is Now a Law.

One of the measures for which the grange has been contending for several years is that which has been finally placed upon our statute books, the establishment of postal savings banks throughout the country. This is a source of gratification to members of the Order, and, while credit for the enactment is not solely theirs, of course they have been very earnest in the endeavor to impress upon the national legislators the advantages of such a bill.

Under the terms of the bill a board of trustees is created, who shall declare what postoffices shall become postal savings banks. Deposits in these banks made by one person shall not be more than $400 a month or exceed a total of $500. An account may be opened with $1, but stamps of 10 cents each will be issued for those desiring to accumulate money to be deposited. On deposits 2 per cent interest per annum is to be paid.

Any depositor so desiring can exchange his deposits for government bonds, to be issued in denominations of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100 or $500, to bear interest at 2 1/2 per cent per annum. The money accumulated in the postal savings banks is to be deposited in both national and state banks, such banks to pay 2 1/2 per cent interest.

Five per cent of the total deposits is to be retained by the secretary of the treasury as a cash reserve. Not more than 30 per cent of these deposits may be withdrawn by the government at any one time for investment in bonds of the United States, the remaining 65 per cent to remain on deposit in the banks.

Notes Here and There.

State Master Hull of Michigan will speak at the Ohio state fair, Sept. 7. Washington state Patrons have raised $500 as a fund to aid in pushing the parcels post scheme.

Wyoming County (N. Y.) Agricultural society has offered prizes of $15 and $10 for best registered attendance at the coming fair.

C. H. McCormick of Gallia county, O., has been named for the legislature. He is a granger and farmers' institute lecturer.

The new law abolishing the office of school commissioner and substituting superintendents over small districts for New York state was the work of the grange and the department of education.

Juvenile Granges.

Juvenile granges are to be commended from every point of view, says the New York Farmer. Such granges will give the farm boys and girls much of the social charm that is said to be lacking in country life. Grange work will familiarize the youngsters with parliamentary practice, develop what-over oratorical and rhetorical gifts they possess, give them self-possession, cultivate their self reliance and make them courteous, polite and intelligent young men and women. The grange has been of inestimable value to the farmers and their wives, and the juvenile granges will do for the children what the subordinate and Pomona granges have done for the parents.

Has a Membership of 7,201.

Pearless among the counties of New York state stands Jefferson, with a membership in her thirty-three granges of 7,201. This is a larger number than half a dozen states combined can muster and larger than many single states have. And yet this is one county only!

Contact For Members.

An Ohio grange instituted a three month membership contest resulting in an addition of forty-five members. The losing side furnished a banquet for the winners.

Merchants and private citizens are complaining of the smoke nuisance in the city. It is decidedly rank. The promises of smoke consumers and other methods to stop the smoke do not seem to have been fulfilled. The health authorities should act.

Last week the Oswego whist players from the Fortnightly club, Charles Tanner and H. J. Peebles, played a series of games with G. C. Webb and C. M. Allen at Pathfinder club house and the Fulton players won the well-arranged dinner that followed the games.

Cadieux, the Parisian Bounding Wire Artist, will do his act of seemingly impossible feats on the slack wire on the platform in front of the grand stand every afternoon of the county Fair. This exhibition alone is worth the price of admission to the fair. Cadieux has no equal in this line of performance in the world. He is a show in himself.

The funeral services of the late George W. Currier were held at the family residence on the west side Wednesday afternoon. Fulton lodge of Elks, of which the deceased was a member, attended in large numbers. Rev. G. C. Wadsworth of Zion church, officiated. The Elks' quartette of Syracuse, rendered excellent selections at the house and at the cemetery. The floral offerings of friends were numerous, denoting the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The dog catchers in Syracuse are adopting French methods. They will hereafter work at night, for the reason that many persons keep their dogs in the house all day and released them at night, to avoid buying tags. Another scheme to be tried is the imitation of the bark of dogs by men on the wagon. It is said the French use this method to attract dogs to the wagons and to detect their presence in houses. The dogs answer back, then the records are searched. If it is found that the owner has no tag, he is compelled to get one.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES

The Republican Caucuses to elect delegates to the District and County Conventions, were held yesterday, and the results were most conclusive. Hon. T. C. Sweet became the unanimous choice of the electors and his re-nomination and election are assured.

Mr. L. W. Mott secured, by a large majority, the delegates to the District Convention and he will go before the Congressional Convention with his own County loyalty at his back. He secured 22 of the 23 towns in the County.

Over the County Treasurership fight the battle had been a fierce and bitter one; each candidate being confident of success and each having many friends throughout the County. Mr. H. W. Kanat of Altmar secured the majority of delegates and will probably become the unanimous choice of the convention on Tuesday.

The result by towns and wards is as follows:

Albion—Mott, Kandt.
Amoy—Stowell, Hydorn.
Boristonia—Mott, Hydorn.
Constantia—Mott, Sweet, Hydorn.
Granby—Mott, Kandt.

West Monroe—Mott, Hydorn.
Williamstown—Mott, Kandt.
Oswego City—Mott, Norton.
Fulton—Mott, Kandt and Hydorn.
Fulton for Mott.

There was no contest in the wards of the city, and delegates were elected by acclamation. Mr. L. W. Mott became the unanimous choice for Congressman while the delegates are about evenly divided between Messrs. Hydorn and Kandt for the County Treasurership. It is generally believed however, that Fulton's 31 delegates will finally decide upon the one or the other candidate and cast her full strength to him. The delegates as elected are:

First Ward—County, William P. Hilber, L. E. Taggart, Charles Stewart, Wilbur F. Hill, Calvin Dines; district, John W. Distin, Ed. Connelly, Charles Kirby, Thomas Earnshaw, H. Dana.
Second Ward—County, John W. Stevenson, James Briggs, Edward Evans, Frank Herner, George Bailey, Fred Cox; district, J. W. Rieley, Ly-

MAYOR GAYNOR WILL PROBABLY RECOVER

Attempt Made to Assassinate Him on Board Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse Yesterday Morning—Shot in the Back of the Head by a Discharged City Employee—The Mayor Was About to Sail for a Short Vacation Abroad.

The civilized world, all interested in the fight Mayor Gaynor of New York city had been waging against vice, corruption and graft in the metropolis, was stunned on Tuesday morning when the news passed over the wire that he had been shot in the back of the head by a man as he was waiting on the vessel at Hoboken to take passage for Europe where he had planned to spend a month's vacation. The wounded man was hurried to a hospital while the would-be assassin was taken into custody and landed in jail.

The prisoner gave his name as James J. Gallagher, a discharged employe from the Department of Docks and Ferries. He fired three shots at his victim before he was apprehended, but one taking effect. He has so far expressed no regret for his act, stating that Mayor Gaynor took away his job and that he went after him and got him, murder being his intention.

Mayor Gaynor was hurried to St. Mary's hospital where four of the most noted surgeons examined and dressed the wound, not locating the bullet however. The injured official never lost consciousness, and expressed the determination to fight his way back to health and to continue his interrupted ocean voyage at a later day. The bullet entered Mayor Gaynor's neck, back of his ear in the region of the mastoid bone, where it buried itself. Notes X-ray specialists were called upon the case and it is expected that the bullet will be recovered and that the distinguished patient may recover without serious complications.

Mayor Gaynor was to have been one of the guests of the State Fair and was scheduled to make one of the main addresses. He is admitted throughout the State for his utter fearlessness and independence of action and the dastardly act of his assailant has caused the most profound regret.

The X-ray examination of Mayor Gaynor last night, revealed that the bullet was in two pieces, one fragment having lodged near the right entrance and the other fragment passed through the tongue toward the jaw bone, slightly affecting the speech. The physicians have decided that Mayor Gaynor's heart is too weak to permit the administering of anesthetics for an operation and that the danger from the bullet is not great at this time.

LIGHTNING FIRES HOTEL

During the severe electrical storm which visited this section on Wednesday night, the hotel and dancing pavilion at Beach Oswego was struck by lightning and buildings and contents were destroyed. The only occupant of the hotel at the time of the fire was a colored man left in charge. This is the third hotel on the beach to have been destroyed by fire within the past twenty-five years.

The loss is estimated at $5,000 with insurance amounting to $2,000. Proprietor Gokey says that he will immediately rebuild.

THE SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Albany, Aug. — A delegation headed by Mr. F. A. Emerick, President of the Oswego River Watershed Association, made a request to the State Water Supply Commission, yesterday, for the improvement of conditions upon the Oswego and Seneca rivers. Mr. Emerick was accompanied by Assemblyman Sweet, Senator Cobb and Charles A. Collins, of Brooklyn, who represented the Oswego River Power Company during the last session of the Legislature.

Senator Cobb, Mr. Sweet, Mr. Emerick and several others made addresses setting forth present conditions along the Seneca and Oswego rivers. Complaint was made that for the last years many of the mills have been unable to run even with the use of auxiliary steam plants.

The mill owners expressed the opinion that the plans made for the barge canal would tend still further to decrease the diminishing supply of water. They asked the Water Supply Commission to perfect storage plans, so that the mills might be able to continue operations. The conditions this year were said to be even worse than those of last year.

The necessity of obtaining suitable legislation was laid before the delegation, in the course of the general discussion, and the Oswego River Association was impressed with the importance of co-operating with other similar associations, to the end that agreement might be reached upon legislation which can be supported by the Water Supply Commission before the next session of the Legislature.

The State Canal Advisory Board will give the delegation a hearing on the matter.

BIG DEBATE AT COUNTY FAIR

Political Leaders Will Discuss Tariff Question.

There is considerable discussion of a probable political debate to be held during the coming Fulton fair which will open this next week. It has been thought that an affair of this kind with two orators of national prominence would certainly prove one of the greatest attractions ever put on by a county fair in this county.

C. I. Kingsbury has discussed the matter with Charles N. Bulger and Mr. Bulger has taken the question up with Congressman William Sulzer who has accepted. Mr. Bulger has suggested the following question for the debate:

"Resolved, That the Republican Tariff is responsible for the present high cost of living and is injurious alike to business interests and to the laboring men of the country and ought to be revised downward by the coming short session of Congress in December."

There is nothing definite or settled yet in regard to the debate and the question will have to be submitted to both speakers. Mr. Kingsbury has not yet announced who the Republican champion will be and nothing will be known definitely until this announcement is made. The date of the proposed debate is also uncertain but will be held on either the third or last day of the fair.

TO EXTEND TRACKS

The Ontario & Western Railroad company plan in the near future to extend their siding northerly for about 1,200 feet on the flats, or to the trestle which crosses the creek.

A great deal of filling-in will be necessary to bring the tracks to the right grade and it is expected that this will be commenced very soon, so that the additional trackage may be ready by winter.

One advantage in taking a vacation late in the summer is that one may learn from his friends of a lot of places not to go.

SYRACUSE HAS MARDI GRAS OF NORTH

Merchants Spend $75,000 Entertaining Visitors to Fair.

For the sixth successive year the Mystique Krewe of Ka-noo-ne will give a Mardi Gras in Syracuse, which is the way they spell it in Syracuse to entertain the thousands of people who visit the city during state fair week.

The Ka-noo-ne Krewe is a rival to the New Orleans Mardi Gras, whose participants have a worldwide reputation. Every year the Krewe has attracted larger crowds, and the prospects are that this year Syracuse will be crowded as it never was before.

The big entertainment, which consists of brilliant spectacles, electrical decorations, pageant parades and band concerts, costs the merchants of Syracuse every year $75,000. About $25,000 is raised by the Mystique Krewe of Ka-noo-ne. The city of Syracuse appropriates $3,000 for the special lighting of the streets, consisting of electrical arches over all of the streets in the central part of the city.

The merchants, besides contributing directly to the fund raised by the Mystique Krewe, spend thousands of dollars decorating their stores and making it attractive for customers in their particular line of business.

No one who has not seen the Ka-noo-ne Krewe can appreciate its brilliancy and spectacular features. The ceremonies open Monday evening on Clinton square, with the coronation of their majesties King and Queen Ka-noo-ne VI, and the abdication of King and Queen Ka-noo-ne V. Then begins "a fête in Ka-noo-ne land," in which inhabitants of many countries entertain the king and queen of Ka-noo-ne. The keys of the city will be presented by Mayor Edward Schoenbeck, after which comes the grand entry of the nations, followed in quick succession by Spanish dances, accompanied by guitars and mandolins; the dance of the French dolls and toy soldiers, the German dance, a flower dance, a Chinese dance, Arabian ground and lofty tumbling, American pony dance and the Grecian dance.

The beautiful Soldiers and Sailors monument recently erected by the county of Onondaga will be the background for the spectacle, while on the canal will take place a water scene entitled "A Night in Venice."

Five hundred costumed characters will appear in this spectacle every night during the week. On Tuesday night in addition to the spectacle will be held the fantastic parade, which will be a burlesque on current topics and other subjects. This is calculated to be amusing, and the spectacle will arouse the true Carnival spirit.

On Wednesday evening will be held a float pageant, showing the various nations of the world, represented in floats. These floats are sixteen feet high and twenty feet long, drawn through the streets each by four horses, accompanied by boys burning red fire. On Thursday evening will be held the second section of the parade, when more nations will be represented on floats, wearing the costumes of those nations. These parades alone cost $5,000.

On Friday evening will be held what will undoubtedly be the most beautiful parade ever seen in the United States—the school children's floral parade. Five thousand little children will march in various designs, using 150,000 flowers. Each school represents some idea and carries it out in the parade.

The business men of Syracuse are spending this money to entertain the visitors to Syracuse during fair week. Every part of it can be seen without expense, including the spectacle and parades.

THE BEST IN CATTLE.

Holstein-Friesian Interests to Be Well Represented at Fair.

When it is considered that the cattle of New York state have a higher valuation than the cattle of any other state in the Union, notwithstanding the great breeding interests of the west, there is no indication to doubt the claims of officers of the New York state fair for the biggest dairy cattle show of the year. The entries in the Holstein-Friesian cattle classes will, it is promised, be representative of the rich and steadily developing industry which has resulted in the shipment of cattle valued at many thousands of dollars not only to all parts of this country and Canada, but to foreign shores.

The cattle classes do not close until Aug. 15, but Commissioner Charles A. Wieting of Cobleskill, who is in charge of this department of the fair, has learned enough from exhibitors to satisfy him that the entry will be well up to that of any other year. Increased prize money has been allowed by the state for some breeds in recognition of the size of exhibits last year, and interest in the competitions will be further heightened by the offers of special prizes by cattle associations.

The American Shorthorn Cattle Breeders' association allows $500, the Holstein-Friesian Cattle Breeders' association $400 and the Hereford Cattle Breeders' association $200, the money to be awarded in the classes in which the associations are more directly interested. The American Jersey Cattle club of New York gives gold medals and the American Guernsey Cattle club a silver cup for special classes.

Interest in the state fair classes on the part of the largest breeders of sheep and swine and poultry fanciers throughout the state is seen in the offers of many special prizes.

BETTER FARM HORSES.

That One of the Aims in Opening New Classes at Fair.

The department of agriculture, headed by Commissioner Raymond A. Pearson, is interested in improving the breed of farm and draft horses, and the state fair commission is giving special attention this year to classes for these types of horses. The judging will be conducted entirely separate from the horse show, and every effort will be made to impress upon the breeders the advantage of developing a high class of heavy harness horses not only for their value for farm work, but that the demands of the city markets, now supplied by western states and Canada with thousands of draft horses each year, may be met from New York state.

It is estimated that 600,000 horses, with a value of $50,000,000, are owned on the farms of the state, showing the demand for greater attention to this branch of the breeding industry. The desire is to bring out the classes of horses for which there is the greatest demand and which may be produced with the greatest profit, with the object of encouraging the small breeder.

Special judging rings with ample seating capacity have been constructed for the farm, breeding and draft horses, and there will be no extra fee for those desiring to see the exhibits.

WARRANT ISSUED

An order to serve a summons by publication and a warrant of attachment has been granted in an action brought by Eliza M. Moore, of this city against her husband, Irving D. Moore. The plaintiff asks judgment in the sum of $1,032.82. Attorney S. B. Mead is her attorney.

In an affidavit made by the plaintiff in connection with the moving papers she alleges that she secured a separation from her husband in 1907. In connection with that suit she was granted $150 counsel fees and alimony of $4 a week for herself and $2 a week for her daughter, Dorris. She has never secured any part of this, she avers, and the total coming due to her now is $1,032.82, the amount asked.

In the affidavit made by Mr. Mead in connection with an application for services of the summons by publication he states that Mr. Moore according to the last information from him, is at Baneroff, S. D. He was heard from there late in 1908 or early in 1909, when he started a divorce action against his wife. The papers do not state how this action came out.

The racing card at the coming Oswego County Fair promises to be the best in the history of the Society. Many applications for entries have been received and indications are that more race horses will be on the Oswego Falls track than ever before. Many of the horses which will be entered have a state wide reputation.

LIFE

The great "IF" in Life.

The most pathetic thing in life is that fatal "IF" which seems to stand between so many folk and their happiness.

Fortunately for YOU there is no "IF" in your life-work.

Interviews with carefully selected prospects ALWAYS HAVE produced commissions and ALWAYS WILL.

THE MORE THE INTERVIEWS THE MORE THE COMMISSIONS. This is no theory of hypothesis but is a positive, conclusive, changeless REALITY in our business.

"IF" is happily eliminated from YOUR life-problem.

Delays are Dangerous. Don't put off taking that policy to some future date or you may leave an "IF" before your memory instead of a substantial support for your family.

THOUSANDS TO SEE CIRCUS

Fulton will be well represented at Oswego on Aug. 18, when the Great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Big United Shows exhibit there. A great many from this city and the surrounding country have made up their minds to go. The railroads are offering special inducements in the way of cheap fares.

A glance at the list of artists and the wonderful curiosities to be seen this season with this big show leads one to believe that the limit of tremendous size as well as novelty has at last been reached. Great interest also attaches to the show because it comes this year, after an absence of several seasons, with the most costly outfit ever built by any amusement enterprise in the world. Ten acres of ground will be under canvas. There will be a menagerie such as was never seen in this country in the past. The parade cost the circus kings over $1,000,000. What more can be said?

The wonderful sixty-one horse act is in itself a great enough attraction to bring people from a radius of 100 miles to see it. The aerial spectacle offered by the Ty-Bell sisters is even more wonderful. The acrobats, the riders, the aerialists, the gymnasts and the equilibrist are the pick of the best European talent. There are fifty clowns. They come from the comic opera theatres of Europe and the courts of Asiatic potentates. Every man among them is an artist, funny enough to make a mule laugh.

"A DEMOCRATIC YEAR"

"This is a Democratic year," declared Chairman Dix, on his memorable incursion into Brooklyn. That is a common-place. Everybody says this is a Democratic year, so what is the use of contradicting? But a Democratic year according to experience does not necessarily mean a Democratic victory. It is a mere locution, convenient, but not final. There have been many Democratic years. Not to go back too far, 1894 was a Democratic year in this state when Governor Higgins was elected by about 75,000 majority. And 1906 was even more a Democratic year, when Governor Hughes was elected by upward of 50,000. A Democratic year in this state, certainly, in the latter year. Nothing will ever persuade the Hon. Mr. Sulzer that he would not have been elected Governor in that year but for the crass and brutal folly of bossism. Mr. Sulzer became convinced of the evils of bossism at that moment, and he has been its enemy ever since.

To get away from personalities to principles, these things are not determined by the stars in their courses, as the locution "This is a Democratic year" seems to import. The stars in their courses did not impede Mr. Sulzer's worthy purpose to serve the people of this state in 1906. Alas, it was the Hon. Charles F. Murphy and his quondam ally, the Hon. William R. Hearst, who did the impeding. They are still to be reckoned with this year, this Democratic year, both of them. Then too, the Republican bosses, leaders and near leaders did their part in 1906, making a virtue of necessity and acquiring wisdom by "outside interference" — apparently their only way — and nominated an invincible candidate.

All of these factors enter into the problem this year, fatality, fertility, factionalism, an infinite capacity for blundering, and "outside interference" with a reserve of wisdom undiminished. What would be the use of an election if it could now be said that "this is a Democratic year?" Still, we would not diminish the popularity of the phrase if we could. It will admonish the Republicans to do a lot of sober thinking. Perhaps it will inspire the Democrats to be careful about candidates as about grammar. That will be a gain both ways. — New York Tribune.

PRESIDENT HELPS ORPHANS

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c. at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Professor Charles H. Tuck of Cornell University has arranged with the Secretary of the Oswego County Fair to bring a large and instructive exhibit from the New York State College of Agriculture to the Oswego county fair. This exhibit will be in the main building and it will pay all patrons of the fair to spend an hour or more with this exhibit. 8-4

SAVED FROM AWFUL PERIL

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for coughs and colds, it's the most certain remedy for lagrippe, asthma, moderate lung trouble and all bronchial affections, 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. ### LARGEST RAILROAD TERMINAL

The New York Central Railroad company is about to complete the largest railroad terminal in the world and it is located in the heart of New York city. The structure is being enlarged and rebuilt at an outlay of $130,000,000 and without interfering for a moment with the 700 trains that daily enter and leave the station, carrying their load of 60,000 passengers.

In a thousand and one ways the Grand Central will be of enormous use to even the casual traveller. For instance, there will be a lot of little dressing rooms which will be rented for a nominal sum. A man can go into one of them and change his clothes without hiring a room in a hotel. This will be of great convenience to those who come to the city to spend but a day. For women the same facilities are to be offered. In their dressing rooms they can change their traveling gowns for more elaborate costumes if they wish.

There will be a restaurant with medical attendance also. This will be centrally placed so that a person can be taken or can go there conveniently and by different ways. There will be no lack of nurses for those suddenly taken ill, and if necessary a sufferer can be carried out to an ambulance without being seen by other people.

In every way the comfort and convenience of the traveller has been considered in this modern terminal.

WHAT IS BEST FOR INDIGESTION?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquinn, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at all drug stores.

This will be one of the most interesting exhibits on the grounds both to agriculturists and all other patrons. Do not fail to see this interesting and instructive exhibit.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

Electricity Will Amputate Arms and Legs Painlessly

Paris, Aug. 2.—Electrical surgery by which arms and legs will be painlessly amputated without recourse to knife or saw, is a development of the immediate future, according to an announcement today by Professor Darsoneval, one of the medical authorities of Paris. Doctor Doyen recently showed before the academy of medicine the effect of an electrical current upon cancer and how a cure might be effected in this way. Prof. Darsoneval following up these experiments now declares he has treated the limbs of dogs with frequent electric currents, literally cooking the limbs so that they dropped off of their own account. The animal so treated he says did not manifest the slightest traces of suffering. When the limbs dropped off a healthy scar remained.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A New York minister in the course of his sermon lately, said that Mr. Carnegie and other millionaires got used to the feeling of giving away a million, and advised others to try the same to experience the joy of giving. But to this advice the answer of the majority will be an eager inquiry of how first to get the million.

chased from Mr. G. C. Webb, the vacant lot in Academy street between the residences of Messrs.
Webb and G. W. Morton, upon which he will erect a modern house.

The Fort Staawix Canning company's electric truck ran amuck on Monday and running into a fence at Bowens Corners threw Ralph Brown from the high seat and directly in front of the car. Fortunately the vehicle was under control before it struck the young man.

The Monthly Bulletin of the State Department of Health for the month of July shows that during the month of June there were twelve deaths and twenty-two births, of which one was suicide, one accident, three tuberculosis, one measles, and two from general causes.

Fleeta Broct and her son were arrested on Sunday—the boy for stealing wood from Porter's yard, and the mother for telling him to steal the wood. The woman was fined $50 by Judge Fanning, after she had confessed to participating in three such escapades, and the boy was held for a further interview with Judge Fanning.

The camp fire of Schenck Post

As the result of league ball and its attendant trials and tribulations in Fulton this year, a curious mix-up has arisen in which Alderman H.
F. Johnson and Mr. Tilden are being sued by Mr. C. C. Tibbitts for alleged interference with the rights and privileges of the latter at Stop 28.

or the farm owned by Mr. Tilden and leased in partnership to Alderman Johnson. Early in the Spring
Messrs. Johnson, Tilden and Howard Bidwell owned the league baseball franchise. Later Bidwell acquired the franchise which he in turn assigned to Mr. Tibbitts. Now Mr. Tib-bitts sues Messrs. Tilden and Johnson because they refuse to permit him and his baseball players the use of the diamond at Stop 28. The owners of the diamond offer as a counter claim that Bidwell was to have the use of the grounds providing that he paid all outstanding indebtedness of the partners at the time he took over the franchise, etc.

This they allege Bidwell did not do and they have had to settle. The trio of former partners have been sued by Outfielder Paige for salary alleged to be due him.

DEATHS

The death of Mrs. Robert Paul, widow of the late Rev. Robert Paul,
for many years pastor of the Episcopal church, Pulaski, occurred last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
Hawkins, in Schuylerville. The funeral was held from the Pulaski church on Tuesday.

Mrs. Hannah A. Gifford, aged 86, died on Sunday at the home of her son, Mr. George Gifford, Oak street, after a long illness. The funeral services were held from the Methodist church at Hannibal Center on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Henry Hughes officiating, and interment was made at Hannibal. The immediate survivors are two daughters and five sons.

The death of Mrs. Flora Baker, aged 54, occurred on Sunday at her home in Rochester street after a long illness. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Ellen Wright, and four children of this city: two sisters, Mrs. James Kennedy of this city and Mrs. C. H. Simmons of Oswego, and one brother, Mr. Harley Wright of Palermo. The funeral services will be held this Wednesday afternoon,
Rev. C. L. Peck officiating.

The New York Tribune contained the following notice of the death of the wife of a former Fultonian.
Katherine M. Lord, wife of Chester
S. Lord, died last evening at her residence, No. 57 South Portland avenue, Brooklyn, after a lingering illness. She was a native of Adams, Jefferson County, N. Y., being the daughter of Nahum and Mary Bates, who were lifelong residents of that region. Mr. and Mrs. Lord were married in 1871 and went to Brooklyn in 1872, where they have since lived and with which city they have been identified in many ways. Mrs.
Lord's two sons, Kenneth Lord and Richard S. Lord, who survive her, also live in Brooklyn. The funeral is to be at Mrs. Lord's home on Wednesday at 2 p. m.

After a lingering illness of over a year in which she had been tenderly cared for by sons and daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Vandellinder passed to rest on Saturday evening at her home in Second street, aged 64.
The funeral services were held from the late home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial was made in the family lot in Mt. Adnah. Among those left to mourn her loss are four sons, Frank J. of Berkimer, Theodore G. and Luther L. and Thomas C. of this city;
four daughters, Mrs. Grant Gifford, Miss Lena VanDellinder, Mrs.
Ernest Bailey and Mrs. Wm. J. Mills of Syracuse; two sisters, Mrs. William Ellis of Fulton and Mrs. George Smith of Syracuse. The deceased was well known throughout this locality and she had a host of friends who extend sympathy to the afflicted family.

The death of Samuel Baldwin, aged 54, occurred on Thursday morning, Aug. 4, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. C. Boigeol, where he had made his home for the past three years. The deceased was united in marriage in 1849, with Miss Louisa Morgan and his entire life, with the exception of the past three years, was spent in the towns of Volney and Palermo. Mr. Baldwin was a highly respected citizen and a most enthusiastic fisherman, enjoying the sport with the keen zest of youth.
He will be missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in this city and vicinity. The funeral services were held from the late home on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. C.
J. Taft of Binghamton, formerly pastor of Bristol Hill church of which he deceased was a devout member, officiating. Interment was made in the family lot at Volney Center. The immediate survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Boigeol of this city; Mrs.
Wilkinson of Syracuse and Mrs.
Bernard of Volney, and two brothers,
Stephen and Hiram, also of this city.

JEROME GIVES HIS SERVICES TO SKENE, FREE

Will Defend the Former State Engineer to Pay Off Old Scores
Albany, Aug. 8.—Former District Attorney William Travers Jerome of New York County will be chief counsel for former State Engineer and Surveyor Frederick W. Skene, who was indicted last week for alleged grafting in connection with the awarding of good roads contracts during his administration. Jerome's appearance in the case caused considerable surprise, particularly when it was rumored that he had volunteered his services without cost to Skene.

Jerome arrived in Albany Sunday and spent the day going over the case with Attorney Jacob L. Ten-Eyck, who has looked after Skene's interest to date. It is said Jerome volunteered for the purpose of paying off an old score he has against the interests which were instrumental in securing the Skene indictments. Supreme Court Justice Cowan will hold court Wednesday for the purpose of hearing counsel for the indicted men on any motions they may care to make. On behalf of Skene, a motion will be made for permission to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury to learn the testimony upon which the indictments are based.

The Cardinals lost to the Fulton Independents at Fulton Sunday 8 to 0, and this, too, in spite of the fact that the Cardinals got five hits to Fulton's three. The reason for the slaughter is found in the fact that since the cessation of the league games at Fulton the weeds have been allowed to grow in their own sweet way. In some places the grass is two feet high. Much laughter was aroused at one stage of the game when the Cardinal shortstop, snipping a grounder off the top of a milkweed, yelled to the second baseman, "Chip, where are you?"
"Over here behind this burdock," was the reply.—Palladium.

CARDINALS LOST IN FULTON

The Cardinals lost to the Fulton

The management of the Oswego County Agricultural Society have engaged another first class attraction for the coming County Fair, August 16, 17, 18 and 19, in Mr. Charles W.
Keene, in a Muscular Roman Ring Act, who will be seen twice daily at the Great Fair. Mr. Keene is one of the strongest if not the strongest ner in the world, and his wonderful performances will be worth more than the admission to the entire fair. Do not miss seeing this really first class performance. Single ad-

COUNTRYMAN ARRESTED AGAIN

Jacob Countryman of Granby, who recently completed a six months sentence in Oswego jail for attempting to corrupt the morals of his young daughter, was arrested on Sunday on a charge of public intoxication and when arraigned before Judge Fanning he was given another half year sentence in the county lock-up.

Countryman on Sunday afternoon attempted to persuade a little 7-year old girl to accompany him, offering her a ring and other inducements to do so. The child went with him for a short walk and then became frightened and made a fuss which attracted the attention of some boys who gave chase. Countryman ran to the sand bed, the boys in pursuit, and two of them held him captive while the third boy notified the police department and the rascal was at once taken into custody.

PHYSICIANS VIOLATE LAW

Dr. Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner of health, has informed Dr.
Schlappi of the Department of Health of this city that unless birth and death records are filed according to law that he will send a man here from Albany to take charge of the office of City Clerk MacNamara, registrar of vital statistics, and invoke the aid of the law in forcing physicians to file the records.

In his last letter Dr. Porter said that unless the Board could bring about an enforcement of the law here, he would do it himself by sending on a man from Albany to take charge of the office and prosecute the physicians.

Mr. W. H. Merriam has nearly completed his new walk in Oneida street, adding a great deal to the appearance of his property. Other property owners whose grades have been established, will at once complete their sidewalks, making a much better street for pedestrians than at present exists, although one cannot help but wonder what is to be done with some of the abrupt jumping-off places left in several instances.

After a drive to Oswego on the west side of the river, one can well believe that the trolley extension from this city to Oswego will be completed before the coming of the new year, so vigorously is the work being prosecuted. The grading for a considerable distance has been completed and the ties laid. The agitation relative to the trolley bridge in this city has not been definitely decided and that will be the only hold-up in the otherwise perfected plans for a speedy completion of the extension.

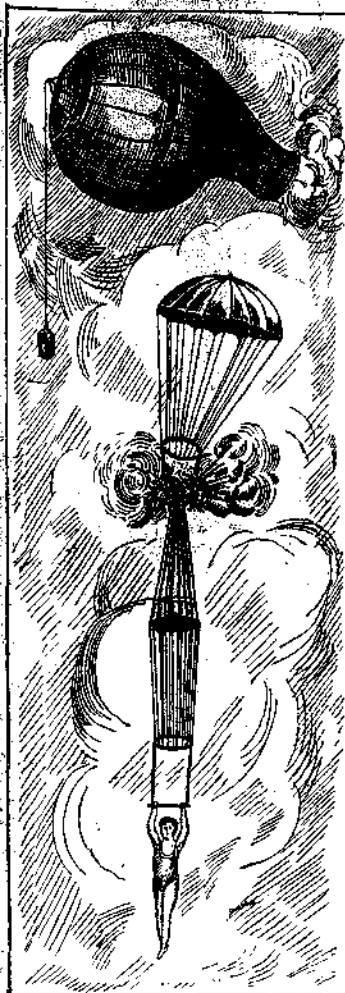

Mrs. Hiram Baldwin sustained a severe fall at her home near this city several days ago from the result of which she is in a critical physical condition. Mrs. Baldwin is advanced in years and her friends are apprehensive regarding her condition.

Jay Rude, a resident of the Chase Road, sustained a severe injury in a peculiar manner on Wednesday evening. Before dark he put his mowing machine in the barn yard. When the storm broke after dark, he forgot the machine and rushed out to close the barn doors. In his haste and the darkness he ran into the knives of the machine, cutting and lacerating the left knee in a manner which necessitated Dr. Hall's taking several stitches in the wounds. Mr. Rude suffered the loss of a great deal of blood.

There is such a total disregard of driving rules on the part of a number of automobile drivers in this city that serious damage will undoubtedly result unless stringent steps are taken to put an end to the recklessness. On Monday afternoon a young woman nearly ran down an elderly man in First street and at the corner of Rochester street the skillful driving of a man prevented a serious collision. Later in the afternoon a car driving on the trolley track and a team of donkeys on the right of the track made it necessary for Mr. Earl Foster to run his car containing two young ladies into a telegraph pole at the side of the road to prevent a collision and perhaps loss of life. Mr. Foster's car was damaged to a considerable extent. The keeping to the right law and the keeping of incompetent drivers from risking life and property should be enforced even though it makes bad blood between the officials and some of our citizens.

Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street, is open to the public for the summer season. The boats and canoes are in perfect condition and the rental per day or per hour is very reasonable.

Owing to an Accident

the management of the Oswego County Fair has received cancellation of Miss Dorothy DeVonda's act, but has been able to substitute a much better attraction in Professor F. D. Minerly, a daring performer who is recognized as the king bee of this profession, in a death defying double and triple parachute drop, and marvelous torpedo explosion act. This is one of the greatest thrillers of the age and is performed by Professor Minerly only. This attraction has been booked at much extra expense, and is sure to provide even better entertainment than Miss DeVonda. Every afternoon at four o'clock at the

NEW YORK LEADS IN DAIRY PRODUCTS

Exhibit at Fair in Keeping With State's Great Yield.

New York is the leading dairy state in the Union, and Commissioner of Agriculture Raymond A. Pearson is planning an exhibit of dairy products for the state fair which will let the general public know more about this great industry, which yields $60,000,000 annually. Entering its permanent home in one of the magnificent new buildings last year, the dairy products department of the fair furnished one of the very interesting features. Officers of the department, encouraged by support from the dairymen and a deep interest on the part of the public, mean to have an exhibit which will eclipse anything of its kind ever seen at any fair in the country.

A growing interest in the dairy industry has been shown during the past few years by the people from the cities. The desire is to learn not only the extent of the yield of milk, cream, butter and cheese, but about the facilities at the dairies, the sanitary arrangements and the methods employed in the handling of the products. Municipal authorities have helped to draw attention to the industry with campaigns for the improvement of conditions at the farms. The people interested in the dairy business, quick to answer the demand for the most approved methods and proper equipment of machinery, have shown a readiness to join in enlightening the public, and highly interesting exhibits have been the result.

Further inducements are offered to exhibitors in the excellent facilities in the new building, the variety of classes covering every important phase of dairying, and a large amount of prize money in addition to medals and diplomas of merit. Educational features have been added which are attractive to dairymen. The scores given by the judges will be sent to exhibitors, together with suggestions as to how the product may be improved. Milk will be given a bacteriological and chemical examination and full report made to the exhibitors. Dairymen are always interested in learning what their products score at the fair.

Commissioner Pearson has added several new features this year. Payment will be made at market rates prevailing on the date of sale for exhibits of butter of good enough quality to receive a pro rata prize. New classes are provided for butter and cheese judging, commercial starters and the cheesemaker having the highest average of scores in the more important classes. Prizes are provided for verified statements from patrons with not less than five cows, showing the greatest number of pounds of milk per cow delivered to a cheese factory, creamery or milk station during May, June, July and August this year. The prize money for the buttermaking competitions for men and women have been largely increased and placed on a pro rata basis.

There were over 550 exhibitors in the dairy products department last year, and Commissioner Pearson and his staff of associates are arranging for accommodations for a great many more this year.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eyes, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So gentle and so effective that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

Said He Would Die

"In 1903 we wrote you regarding my husband, who was suffering from heart trouble. He was superannuated by the North Georgian Conference. Ten doctors at different times said he would die. You advised Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Restorative Nervine; we did as advised, and improvement was apparent from the very first. He recovered and the Conference in 1904 gave him a charge. He never felt better, although he has very heavy work and does a great deal of camp meeting work. I am so glad we took your advice and gave him the medicine, and feel that I ought to let you know of the wonderful good results from its use."

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

Wednesday and Thursday of last week were the days upon which the Oswego County Volunteer Firemen's Association held their annual convention in this city. All along the business section of First and Oneida streets bunting had been used in profusion and the city presented a very gala appearance. Business men had contributed liberally toward the event and the committee, Messrs. Parks, Burdick and Lewis, had labored early and late to perfect plans for giving the fire ladders the time of their lives. Owing to the elaborate arrangements made, the attendance was very disappointing on Wednesday and while the banquet given by the old Fulton Volunteers in the City Hall on Wednesday evening was a delightfully informal affair and attended by many county celebrities and leading men, many of the active volunteers were not present. It would seem that the very least the expected guests could have done would have been to have notified their hosts of their intentions early in the week.

Thursday was a big day in point of attendance from nearby towns and there was something doing every moment, until the band concert in the evening brought the days festivities to a close. The parade in the morning was successful, the races interesting and exciting and the crowd was good natured and orderly. Prizes were won in the events as follows: Minetto, Phoenix and Altmar entered in the hose race. None of the teams were faultless in their work so first prize was awarded to Phoenix and the second prize money was divided between Altmar and Minetto. The local paid department then gave an exhibition of swift service work.

The Altmar team was awarded 1st money, $5, for being the best looking company in line, while the Minetto delegation won $5 for having the largest number of men in line. The captain of the winning hose team, W. J. Anderson of Phoenix, received a box of cigars. The Minetto company won the honor of being the best drilled team and the prize of $25, and the captain of the Minetto team, W. Stickney, was awarded a box of cigars.

It was decided that the best looking fireman in the parade was F. J. Rich of Altmar. The oldest exempt fireman in line was M. F. Crahan of this city. Anthony Calkin of this city was adjudged to be the fireman having the largest family. The tallest fireman in line was Warren Rice of Phoenix, while the shortest was John Powers of Altmar. The oldest active fireman in line was James Smith of Minetto. James King of Altmar was the fattest, Charles Kirby of Altmar had the longest nose, and the fireman with the shortest nose was Harry Osman of Phoenix.

The 200-yard dash was won by James Hanlon of Phoenix, while the 100-yard dash found Hanlon far in the lead, with Ray Davenport of this city second and W. Stickney of Minetto third. A protest was made on Hanlon, it being claimed that, by started before the word was given, and he was disqualified. The second money in this event went to Stickney and the first to Davenport. The three-legged race was captured by George Stickney and Ray Thompson of Minetto.

At the business session held on Wednesday a tri-county association, embracing the counties of Oneida, Oswego and Otsego, was discussed and the secretary of the local organization was instructed to send a delegation to Rome on Sept. 5, 6, 7, in all probability the three counties will consolidate and hereafter hold conventions of magnitude.

The officers elected for the ensuing year by the Oswego County association were president, Timothy Donovan, Oswego; vice presidents R. E. Parks, Fulton, and E. E. Sweet, Phoenix; secretary, W. M. Kellogg, Minetto; treasurer, Thomas McGovern, Fulton.

WILL SELL WATER

Product of Richland Springs to be Placed on Market

Pulaski, August 7.—A stock company is being formed and will be known as "The Richland Pure Water Company," and will be capitalized at $100,000. The officers of the company will be: President, E. W. Eggleston, of Pulaski; vice president and general manager, F. L. Scott, of Richland; secretary and treasurer, Albert W. Wright, of Richland. Offices of the company will be at Richland.

Arrangements are being pushed to place the water on the market. The wells have been tested and found in perfect condition, the water being taken from the deep rock. Chemists who have analyzed the water report that it is of excellent quality and also declare that it is unusual to receive a sample of water so free from all forms of organic matter.

The proposed company has secured the property on which the wells are located and will at once construct a large pumping house and bottling plant and expect to be ready to commence operations within a short time.

A number of the business men of Richland are forming a Push club with a view of making that place a manufacturing center. Curtis Bros. of Richland are erecting a large addition to their present extensive women wire spring factory.

I. C. S. THOROUGHLY PRACTICAL

The International Correspondence School's textbooks, being written by practical persons, deal thoroughly with the practical side. The student has the most modern methods explained to him. In no way, except through one of these courses, could he get the benefit of the explanation of these experts. When he goes to work he acquires experience quickly because he understands everything he does.

The International Correspondence Schools have their courses written and revised by acknowledged authorities in their respective lines. I know a course that cost $60,000 before ever a word was printed. A steel expert in Pittsburgh wrote 100 pages of a course on chilled steel, followed by 300 pages on engineering by a professor at Cornell. And Cornell University adopted the work as a text book. And men go to college and study the same book their neighbors study at home.

Colleges Use Correspondence Textbooks.

The textbooks of the International Correspondence schools have become so well recognized and highly valued that they are now being used as books of reference by the leading colleges and universities throughout the United States, such as Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Columbia, University of Indiana, University of Illinois, Case School of Applied Science, etc.

Columbia University of New York, is now using correspondence school instruction papers in class rooms on subjects of engineering. Recently, a student who graduated from Columbia stated that the best instruction he had ever received was from the pamphlet lessons furnished to Columbia by a correspondence school.

Government Indorsement

The United States government has contracted with the International Correspondence School, Scranton, Pa., to give instruction to its men in the Submarine Engineering Department of the Coast Defense, in several of the different engineering subjects. This was quite a feather in that school's cap, as the government investigated several different methods of instructing these men and found that school's work far superior and more convenient than anything that had come up for investigation.

The United States government uses the International Correspondence School's method of teaching Spanish to its officers in the Staff College, at Fort Leavenworth, and the students at Annapolis and West Point are also taught languages by the same correspondence school's system.

struction engineer to superintend the work of building the largest office structure in the world—the Metropolitan Life Insurance building of New York. Hundreds of the best technically educated men made application for this position, representing many technical schools, and after considering every applicant, Mr. John B. Clermont was chosen. He is not a college-bred man, but a graduate of the International Correspondence Schools. He was appointed over the heads of some of the best men on construction that can be found. The technical training he received was through correspondence instruction. The building under the supervision of Mr. Clermont has been among the most successful ever attempted in New York. The work done on this building excelled almost anything as far as rapid construction was concerned and Mr. Clermont proved conclusively that he thoroughly knew his business.

The man who scoffs at correspondence instruction is a man who has not carefully investigated the wonderful possibilities of this method of teaching.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTIONS

Luther W. Mott, Candidate for Congress, Becomes Unanimous Choice of Oswego County—Hon. T. D. Sweet Renominated for Assembly—Herman W. Kantd Selected for County Treasurer.

Yesterday saw good and bad Republicans alike gathered at Pulaski all intent upon the one business—that of nominating candidates for the offices of assemblyman, county treasurer and coroner. While the business that called the various delegates together was the same there was a slight difference of opinion on the part of some as to a choice between Messrs. Herman Kantd and P. G. Hydon for county treasurer and Drs. L. F. Hollis and F. E. MacCallum for coroner. The friends of these various contestants had been very busy in their respective interests since the primaries were held and the delegates had been courted in many manners so that the result at the final ballot was the free expression of the electors and the majority, fairly and honestly winning, should now have every right to ask and expect the loyal support of all Republicans at the polls in November to the end that the old Republican majority in Oswego county may prevail and the minority thus be placed again with the majority and in a light and position to ask and receive favors from the hands of the electors. The Democrats have profited long enough at Republican expense in this county and the Times believes that all men so see it and will cast their ballots in November in accordance with this decision.

The District Convention was called to order by Dr. Babcock of Constantia. Hon. P. W. Cullinan was made chairman of the convention and Mr. W. A. Church of this city became one of the tellers. As soon as Hon. T. C. Sweet's name was presented to the convention the wildest enthusiasm prevailed and with one ballot he became the choice of the convention.

The name of the present assemblyman T. C. Sweet of Schroepfel was presented to the convention in an earnest speech by J. Addison Hawks, president of Phoenix. Mr. Sweet's splendid record was dwelt upon and an unanimous nomination asked for. One ballot was cast for Mr. Sweet and he was declared the nominee. He was greeted with cheers and made the following brief address:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: I am deeply grateful for the confidence expressed by your unanimous action in according me the re-nomination for Member of Assembly."

"It indicates to me a degree of appreciation of former services which is most gratifying. I assure you that my effort in the past sessions of the legislature has been with the fullest interest of my constituents in mind and to prove myself worthy of the confidence reposed in me a year ago and by your action to-day I am inspired, if elected, to approach the duties of the office with renewed energy, again pledging you, gentlemen and the people of the county, my best endeavor is honesty and faithfully representing this Assembly District."

"I thank you."

The District Committee was then named as follows:

Albion—S. J. Mattison.

Republican County Convention.

No one could give any authentic information as to how the contest for county treasurer would result until the first ballot was taken in the convention on Tuesday afternoon. Each candidate was confident and so were his friends, of his selection. The result of the first ballot was 180 for H. W. Kantd, 181 for E. G. Hydon, and all other candidates having withdrawn from the contest. Attorney I. G. Hubbs presented the name of Mr. Kantd to the convention, paying high tribute to his character and ability. Attorney H. L. Wallace of Sandy Creek presented Mr. Hydon's name to the convention, paying equally high tribute to him.

When the result of the first ballot became known Mr. Wallace moved that Mr. Kantd's nomination be made unanimous which was enthusiastically done and the "little schoolmaster" may be counted upon to make very good in the office to which he will surely be elected. Mr. Kantd was brought before the convention by Messrs. J. W. Stevenson, W. D. Streeter and Frank Taylor. He thanked the convention for the honor paid him and pledged himself to a careful and business-like administration of the office if elected.

Thomas Moore placed in nomination David Pace Morehouse, Jr., of Oswego for Special Surrogate and his nomination was made unanimous.

At this point it was the order of business to nominate a coroner and upon Dr. F. E. MacCallum's withdrawing from the contest, the re-nomination of Dr. LeRoy Hollis became unanimous.

The predominating spirit of the conventions and conferences, as of the primaries, was that of harmony and it is believed that the Republican victory in November will prove so convincing that the county will once more stand at the head of stalwart Republican counties of the State.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Fifty-fifth Annual Fair Promises to Be the Largest in the History of the Association—Never So Many Exhibits or Exhibitors—All Ground Space Occupied—Attractive Racing Events.

ELECTRIC FRANCHISE SOLD

Attorney E. M. White, representing the Oswego River Transmission company, appeared before the Common Council on Friday evening and offered $2,000 for the electric franchise known as the Niagara Power franchise, through this city. Upon motion of Alderman George Smith the bid was accepted, this being the only offer made. Mayor Conners was authorized to execute the same.

This apparently will bring to a close the litigation and fighting which has long occupied the public eye over a franchise and will permit the mayor and aldermen to redeem their platform upon which they were elected to the office they now hold. It now but remains for the Public Service Commission to decide the case upon its merits as between the local electric light company and the new corporation.

CONTRACT TO BE LET

Superintendent of Public Works Stevens will open bids on September 7th at Albany for the barge canal construction work between Fulton and Oswego. The contract is known as No. 37, and is the biggest job on the Oswego canal, being 3.73 miles long and including the construction of the new dams at Minetto and Oswego, replacing the present Minetto dam and the High dam just inside the limits of Oswego.

Oswego residents expect that as soon as the contract is let that a resident engineer's office will be established in that city.

County Committee Organizes.

At the conclusion of the convention in Pulaski on Tuesday the newly elected county committee met and organized for business. Sheriff C. W. Taft was elected chairman to succeed himself; Mr. D. D. Long was elected treasurer and Mr. H. P. Allen was elected secretary. The various committees have not as yet been selected.

Given fair weather the 55th annual Fair of the Oswego County Agricultural society will go down in history as the biggest and best ever. Never before in the history of the society have there been so many exhibits, so many exhibitors and such full exhibits as this year. The only exhibits missing are apples and grapes but in the multitude their absence is scarcely noticeable. Every inch of available space could have been sold twice over, not only on the grounds but in the main building. A hurry-up despatch to Syracuse for tents in which to house fowls and cattle on Monday made it possible for seventeen cars to be unloaded at the Lackawanna station, and the quantity of all exhibits is on the same stupendous scale.

At the racing events there are 97 horses entered, a number which have never been equalled on the local race course before. Some of the finest specimens of horse flesh in the Empire State have been tried out on the local track and every promise of an exciting list of events will be fulfilled.

Secretary H. P. Allen has given his attention for months to the selection of suitable and satisfactory attractions and he has gathered together an exposition not to be forgotten. It has cost money and a lot of it to bring several of these wonderful specialties here but Mr. Allen made up his mind that this year should eclipse all previous years in point of excellence and that the additional attendance would repay the additional outlay. As soon as this became known there was an unprecedented demand for space and when the entries closed on Tuesday there was a list of over 400 exhibitors.

Prof. F. D. Minsky will at 4 o'clock every afternoon do his death-defying parachute and torpedo explosion act, dropping from the clouds to earth. Pequo, the famous slack wire artist, Cadieux, the Parisian bounding wire artist; Charles W. Keene, in his muscular Roman ring act will amuse all who see him; the exhibits from the St. Lawrence School of Agriculture; and the Cornell University in the main building; Green's candies; Dr. Mary Walker and her address on the real issues of the day; these are but a few of the sights to be seen. Of course the Midway, the ice cream cone man, fairs of many kinds, the happy throng, the beautiful scenery and the cool breezes from Lake Nantawanta all help to make the Fair a success.

Don't let the circus, the dust, the heat, the work—anything prevent your attending the Fair this week and participating in the greatest event in the history of the association. It will mean still a bigger Fair next year if this year's effort is appreciated.

POSTAL BANKS

Will Be in Operation in New York November 1st.

New York, August 13.—Plans for the installation of postal savings bank equipment in the New York and Brooklyn postoffices are being rushed here, under the personal supervision of Postmaster General Hitchcock. It is hoped to have the banks in operation by November 1st.

As yet it has been impossible for the postal authorities to form any accurate estimate as to what amounts will be entrusted to the postal banks by frugal New Yorkers. Postmaster General Hitchcock is optimistic. "I believe," he says, "that when we really get to work, the postal savings banks proposition will prove to be one of the most popular features of the present national administration. The department is making every effort to secure quick and successful operation. We are going to try the plan in some of the big office first. We have before us all the practicable points of its operation a-broad. Ultimately we shall have a postal savings bank wherever there is a postoffice.

"Since reaching New York I have discovered that most of the opposition which developed when the proposition was originally suggested has disappeared, and now many bankers are heartily co-operating with us. Bankers generally seemed to fear that it meant serious injury to their business. Now they are gradually coming around to the belief that it will not endanger it at all, but on the contrary will release incalculable amounts of which the poor, in particular have been hoarding because they were afraid to bank it."

It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c. at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

OSWEGO COUNTY FOR THE DIRECT PRIMARY

The comments of the press of the State upon the results of the primaries in this county on Tuesday last, in which Luther W. Mott scored such a sweeping victory for the component, Judge Stowell, for the congressional nomination, have been printed in the Times, and in the main they have pretty correctly represented the situation and most of the causes which produced the remarkable result.

However, sufficient emphasis has not been given in these comments to one important feature and that is that very many votes were cast for the winning candidate because he represented, very distinctly, an endorsement of the direct primary idea, and the opportunity was thus given to the voters of the County to express themselves on the question. He was one of the first to join with Governor Hughes in advocacy of the direct primary and has been one of its strong supporters in the county.

Had a direct primary bill been passed by the Legislature at its last session, this issue would have been largely removed from the canvass, because it would have been settled beforehand. Many of the Republicans of this county embraced the opportunity to give the direct primary an emphatic endorsement by voting for the candidate known to favor it.

Although the main result, the choice of the candidate, could not have been affected, that being sufficiently settled by the other influences that entered prominently into the canvass, yet there is no doubt that the desire to give expression to their views as to the direct primary accounted for the fact that the "silent vote" went so largely to the man who was on record as its advocate.—Oswego Times.

SAVED FROM AWFUL PERIL

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 5, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for coughs and colds, it is the most certain remedy for lagrippe, asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections, 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eyes, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

OSWEGO COUNTY A LEADER

The Department of Agriculture has issued a 110-page bulletin containing some interesting figures regarding the butter and cheese factories, milk stations and condensing plants and their products in the various counties of the State for a number of years. The great "IF" in Life.

The most pathetic thing in life is that fatal "IF" which seems to stand between so many folk and their happiness.

THE MORE THE INTERVIEWS THE MORE THE COMMISSIONS. This is no theory or hypothesis but is a positive, conclusive, changeless REALITY in our business.

TO BE RECLAIMED

A petition was presented to County Judge Rowe Friday by Attorney Francis D. Calkins, acting for James H. Calkins, asking that the Town of Oswego be required to drain certain lands situated on the road between Oswego and Hannibal. Mr. Calkins states in his petition that lands could be drained by means of a ditch or channel. Mr. Calkins claims that at least 250 acres of swamp land would be reclaimed and made fit for cultivation by this means. The land in question is located near Mud Lake. It is also claimed that the drainage is necessary in the interest of the public health.

Judge Rowe appointed the following commission to investigate and report on the matter: D. H. Johnson, civil engineer; Charles H. Stevens, Cade S. Lockwood, Hannibal. Mr. Calkins estimates that the property would be made worth $50 an acre or $12,000. There is now said to be a creek or water course through the land that has been filled up.

INFORMATION WANTED

The following letter has been received by Postmaster Hughes, and it is self explanatory:

Lott, Texas.

Dear Sir:—I am trying to locate the relatives or heirs of a man by the name of D. W. Bamber who died of heart failure here a few days ago; he has a good deal of property left and no one knows anything about his relatives. He said he was raised near Oswego, N. Y., he had lived here 18 years. If you know of any people in that country by the name of Bamber would like to correspond with them.

If you can give me their address it will be appreciated.

Yours truly,

DEATH FOLLOWS FALL

Mrs. Helen Hayes, aged 60, fell down a flight of stairs at the bottling establishment of J. J. McGinnis on Wednesday and when picked up she was unconscious. Dr. J. J. Cusack was called and he ordered the woman taken to the hospital, she having suffered concussion of the brain and spine. She died a few hours later without having regained consciousness. The body was taken to the late home in Oswego from held. The deceased was formerly employed at the McGinnis establishment and it is thought that she had returned to make a social call when either dizziness or a stroke overtook her and she fell to her death. A husband and several grown children survive.

VERY TRULY SPOKEN

They also (the Democrats), must find as good a man as Mr. Hughes has shown himself to be. Such a man will not be heartily sustained by a good many of the men prominent in Democratic politics, especially in this end of the State. Tammany has not changed its stripes, and though its leader is not in such good case just now that he can afford to be very dictatorial, we may be sure that Tammany will look carefully after its interests, and that its interests do not demand a first class man for any high office. But a first class man is absolutely needed, and it is to this aim that all the effectual efforts of the gentlemen seeking harmony must be directed. There is a good deal of talk about the "principles" of each of the parties. It does not bear examination. There is no special type of Republican or of Democratic honesty and ability, and ability and honesty are what the State now needs above all else. The party that can best supply the need this fall will certainly win.—New York Times.

NOTICE OF THIRD

VISITATION DAY

At State School of Agriculture

The first day, June 23, was fairly well attended. The time spent in advertising had been short which probably accounted for a light attendance.

The second day, July 28th, gave a very good attendance. About 300 were present. Eight of the northern counties were represented from Essex to Oswego and Oneida. This wide representation was satisfactory. Certainly the farmers of the north country are now awake to the importance of the school and its work.

The third visitation day, Thursday, Aug. 25th, should have a still larger attendance. No addresses will be given. The management believe that the business of these meetings should be stable and field work, and the speeches made should be in direct association with the soil, plant and animal. The purpose will be to build up these excursions upon the attractions of things purely agricultural.

The business or commercial problems of country life is the motto.

The farm and grounds will eventually be finely decorated but the management believe that bread and butter plants are first.

The undersigned Executive Committee of St. Lawrence Pomona are urged to further this movement.

Come, bring your friends and spend a vacation day and take home useful information.

A. B. Gates,
M. V. Hazelton, Committee.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. A. A. Inman gave a picnic at Beach Oswego on Wednesday, Aug. 11, 1910, in honor of her guests the Misses Jessie and Helen Snydan and her cousin, Miss Fannie Rappole of Fulton. The main feature of the evening was when the guests sat down at the table each found a red ribbon running from a huge mound in the center of the table to their place. Each was requested by the hostess to pull their ribbon on the end of which two red hearts were fastened. Upon opening the hearts they were found to bear the names of Miss Fannie Rappole and Howard L. Post of Fulton. The announcement came as a great surprise to the guests.

Later in the evening the guests journeyed to the home of Mrs. Inman's mother, Mrs. E. W. Emory, where the remainder of the evening was spent in games and music.

Interesting Old Time Stories of Bird and Beast.

THE HORSE AND THE CAMEL.

An Arabian Folklore Tale Tells Why Every Steed Shudders on a First Meeting With a Camel—Solomon and the Neck of the Vulture.

In the beginning the birds had no feathers, but at last word was brought that the Great Spirit had their clothes ready if they would send some one for them. As the distance was long, the turkey buzzard was selected on account of his endurance, and in recognition of the service he was to have first choice of apparel, the one condition being that he could try no suit on the second time. Can you guess the result? For one trifling objection or another he let all the fine feathers go by until, to his horrified astonishment, there was nothing left but the poor, commonplace suit that he wears today.

We talk conceitedly of the airship as though a brand new invention of the modern brain when thousands of years ago King Solomon had a most satisfactory one, a magic carpet upon which he frequently took a spin through space. Only one fault could be found with this carpet soaring car. It had no covering, and too often the sun shone uncomfortably upon the royal head. Now, the wisdom of Solomon included a rare linguistic accomplishment. The king spoke the language of birds. So one day when out riding on his carpet he called upon some passing vultures to hold their wings over him by way of awning. But they were going north, the king toward the south, and to his righteous indignation the birds insolently refused.

"Curse be ye, O vultures!" he cried in wrath. "And because you will not obey the commands of your lord who rules over the whole world the feathers of your necks shall fall off and the heat of the sun and the coldness of winter and the keenness of the wind and the beating of the rain shall fall upon your rebellious necks, which shall not be protected with feathers like the necks of other birds, and, whereas you have hitherto fared delicately, henceforward you shall eat carrion and your race shall be impure until the end of the world."

According to Arab folklore, one day Allah called the south wind to him, condensed it, took a handful, blew upon it the breath of life and thus created a horse. But the steed at once began to find fault. His neck, he complained, was too short to reach the grass, his back had nothing to steady a saddle, his hoofs were so sharp that they would surely sink into the sand. Instead of reproving his ingratitude in words Allah then created the camel as an object lesson of reproach.

The horse shuddered at the sight of what he wanted to become, and this is the reason that every horse starts when first meeting his caricature. Perhaps you have not had the opportunity of gazing dentist-wise into the mouth of a coyote and so have never wondered why its back teeth looked as though they were broken off and forced down into the gums, but you must surely have come across many an empty locust skin.

To the south of the Zuni lands in New Mexico a coyote once started out hunting, but got no farther than the foot of a certain old pine tree, so fascinated did he become in a locust who sat playing a flute and singing in one of its branches. In fact, such was the animal's enthusiasm that he insisted upon taking a lesson on the spot. His voice proved hoarse and growly, but he persevered until he learned the words of the locust song and turned homeward, proudly repeating them, when by bad luck he fell into a goopher's hole, and other words under his breath and forgot his lines.

Back to the pine tree he trotted, again imposed upon the locust's good nature, once more sallied forth in triumph. But this time as he practiced about he frightened a flock of pigeons that flew out with such a noise as completely to muddle his brain, and there was nothing left for him but another appeal to the worn-out locust.

Now, even a music teacher will turn, and the locust, seeing him coming from afar and having heard that coyotes ate insects, decided to rid himself of this tiresome fellow. No sooner thought than done. In a flash he swelled up, split his skin and crawled out. Finding at hand a clear, light colored bit of quartz, he put it in the empty skin, muffled it up the back with pitch and flew off to another tree.

The trick worked to a charm. The coyote called out to the supposed locust again and again without receiving a reply, became enraged, snatched the effigy out of the tree and bit so hard on the stone that he ran yelping away. The water of a creek partly soothed his pain, but ever since the mouth of a coyote has shown the effect of that tragic bite, and "whenever a locust ventures out on a summer morning to sing a song it is his custom to protect himself from the consequences of attracting too much attention by skinning himself and leaving his counterpart in the tree."—May C. Ringwalt in Los Angeles Times.

L. W. MOTT PLEASED

When the result of the primaries held last week was made known to Mr. L. W. Mott, he was exceedingly gratified and made the following statement to the press:
"I am more than pleased at my overwhelming victory in Oswego County. I do not regard it as much a personal victory as I do an approval of methods and policies of the present organization of the Republican party in this county. During the campaign, though sorely tempted, I have had no bitter or unpleasant words for my opponent or his supporters, and I think this is regarded as a refreshing contrast to the abuse and falsehoods of some men I might mention.
"We are trying to bring back Oswego county to its old place in the Republican column and today's work is a long step toward this. I have been called re-organizers. I think today's verdict shows an almost unanimous sentiment that the Republicans of Oswego feel that the re-organization has been thorough and good. I am rather proud of the title. The next nomination for Congress in this district belongs to Oswego county and I expect to be nominated."

JUDGE STOWELL'S STATEMENT

When informed of the result of the Republican primaries held last week, Judge Stowell, with the qualities best known to his closest friends, made this characteristic statement to a press representative:
"I have been the leader of the Republican party in the county for a good many years, not because I asked for or desired the leadership, but because the Republicans of the county made me so.
"The Republicans have now decided that a change in the organization should be made and new leaders should be placed in control of the party. I have always appreciated that a change might come at any time and I have always felt that should such come to pass I would join the rank and file of the party and work for its success. That decision I reached many years ago and it now goes into effect. In the future I will train with the Republican rank and file and shall give the new organization and its leaders my full and loyal support."

MAYOR GAYNOR CONVALESCING

Mayor Gaynor, who was shot on Tuesday when about to embark for a vacation trip abroad, is convalescing nicely from the shock and wound and is eagerly looking forward to leaving the hospital on Aug. 28.
The attending physicians have decided that an operation will be unnecessary and unwise at this time. The blood tests for infection are satisfactory, the patient's appetite good and his spirits excellent. From all sections of the globe have come to him and his family telegrams of condolence and sympathy, while regardless of politics the press has denounced in unmeasured terms the cowardly assault.

John Hunter, Secretary.

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE TICKET

The Democratic District and County Convention was held in Pulaski on Wednesday when the following was the result:
W. W. Rounds, of Oswego Town, was Chairman of the County Convention, which was called first. He said that Democratic opportunities were such as they have not been in years, both in State and County affairs.
F. T. Cahill and John M. Farrell were made secretaries.
Credentials were presented by two sets of delegates from the Seventh ward, and the affair was arranged by giving each one-half vote.
A Committee on Resolutions was named by the Chairman, as follows: C. N. Bulger, C. H. Lewis, J. G. Shupps, G. D. Wart, John O'Brien, M. Daley, T. D. Niles, J. A. Frost.
While the committee was at work A. W. Wright in a short eulogistic speech presented the name of Fred M. Moore for County Treasurer. Mr. Wright said that Richland had presented his name three years ago, and that he had proven such an efficient official that the voters, he believed, would re-elect him.
M. B. Dwyer, of Constantia, and C. N. Bulger, of Oswego, seconded the nomination and the Secretary cast the unanimous ballot of the convention for Mr. Moore.
A committee of three was named to bring Mr. Moore before the convention, consisting of John O'Brien, T. M. Niles and Horatio Potter.
Mr. Moore thanked the convention and said that with a united Democracy behind him he believed that he would be re-elected. He was received with cheers.
Dr. W. D. Crispell, of Williamstown was nominated for Coroner.
A committee consisting of A. W. Wright, J. L. McKay and J. H. Gill was appointed to fill vacancies.

OLD HOME WEEK SUCCESSFUL

Home coming week in Pulaski closed on Saturday and it had been a superb success from start to finish. The residents of the village, hundreds of former residents, business men and all interested in the slightest degree in the place, worked in harmony as one man for the project and the result attained must have been exceedingly gratifying to all.
The committee on raising funds met with exceptional success, every man approached, being generous in proportion to his means, and the committees did their work without regard for time or labor. One cannot but draw a comparison between the conditions that exist whenever an organization in Fulton attempts to bring success to a cause. Harmony and oneness of spirit are always lacking and great success cannot thus be attained.
Why not a home coming in May, 1911, for Fulton and all turn today and labor together toward a successful event?

NEW NORMAL SCHOOL

Work on the new Normal school building in Oswego was commenced on June 30, and is progressing as rapidly as is possible, and it is believed that the building will be completed long before the date set in the contract, Oct. 1911. Nine teams and drivers and twenty eight workmen are at present engaged in the excavation work.

Trolley Work Progressing

Interurban cars will be running on the line of the Beebe Syndicate between Syracuse and Oswego by November 1st, according to statements made by railway officials. The work on the grading between Fulton and Oswego is being rushed and although the contract does not call for completion by the 1. M. Luddington Sons Company until December 1st, it is expected that the 15th of October will see the track and roadbed ready for the running of the first car to Syracuse.
There are at present building in the R. S. & E. shops six new interurban cars which will be used between Oswego and Syracuse and these represent the latest improvements in trolleys. They are of forty two tons each with 500 horse-power motors and are geared to carry sixty passengers sixty five miles an hour. The cars now running out of Fulton have a capacity of seventy-five passengers and run a mile a minute.
Just as soon as cars are running between Syracuse and Oswego the Beebe people will apply to the Public Service Commission for permission to abandon the line South of Riverside cemetery. The roadbed there is in bad shape even though it has lately been rebalanced.
The construction of the road between Oswego and this city presented many difficulties never before encountered in trolley road construction. On the Parsons farm, one mile South of Minetto, there is the largest fill ever made on a trolley road in this country. The fill is thirty six feet high and extends for over an eighth of a mile. The cut on the same farm is twenty feet deep. Publicity Agent Arthur J. Littlejohn and Right of Way Agent O. J. Coughlin refuse to deny or affirm the report that the Syndicate has purchased a tract of land East of Oswego on the lake shore and will develop it as an amusement park and summer resort.
The first car which will make the trip over the line from Syracuse to Oswego will be the new $30,000 private car for the directors of the Syracuse, Lakeshore and Northern associated lines, which is now being built in the Lakeshore shops. It will be the most costly electric car ever constructed.

SKULL CRUSHED BY ROCK

Saturday morning James Kilfoyle of West Second street, aged about 23, and a son of the late Thomas Kilfoyle, was struck on the head by a rock which was being hoisted by the derrick as he was engaged at carpenter work on the canal back of the library. Kilfoyle was carrying a plank and failed to get out of the way of the crane in time to avoid the contact. He was knocked into the deep pit and was with difficulty brought to the surface and taken to the hospital, dying enroute. The widowed mother and three sisters survive.

The local physicians must not blame Dr. Schlappi or the Board of Health if drastic measures are taken to enforce the State law relative to the filling of vital statistics within a prescribed time. The State Board has written the local Board and there will be no possible way of dodging either the spirit or the letter of the law without paying the legal penalty, and it remains for the local officials to see to it that the doctors live up to the law.

Attorney Charles W. Tooke of Syracuse, brother-in-law of Mr. H. L. Paddock, is one of five directors of the East Canada Power and Pulp Company, just incorporated with $3,000,000 capital stock. The company is building near Murray Bay, Que., what is claimed to be one of the largest wood pulp manufacturing plants on the continent. Murray Bay is on the St. Lawrence river at the junction of Murray river, a short distance below Quebec. Mr. Tooke is secretary of the Oswego Falls Pulp & Paper Company of this city.

There was a pleasant gathering at the home of Major W. D. Ferguson last Thursday evening in honor of his 70th birthday. A number of his old "comrades in arms," as well as lady friends joined in making the occasion a memorable one. The genial Major was the recipient of a number of gifts, one, which he will highly prize, being a solid gold G. A. B. pin from his great grandson, Master Donald Ellsworth of Phoenix. A bountiful collation was served and all departed wishing their host many happy returns of the day.

COURT HELD AGAINST SKENE

Albany, Aug. 11.—Supreme Court indictments found against former State Engineer Frederick W. Skene and others for alleged grafting on good roads contracts. The dismissal of the indictments was asked for on the ground that the Grand Jury minutes were taken by an authorized person.

In denying the motion for the dismissal of the indictments, Judge Coman said that the District Attorney had another section of the code in mind when he made the designation of the temporary stenographer. As to the proposition that the indictments were found on the testimony of accomplices, O'Neill and Allen, he said that after a careful inspection of the testimony he was of the opinion that one was not an accomplice and therefore a denial of the motion to inspect the Grand Jury minutes was proper.

GIRL STEALS CHILDREN

A girl named Moody, aged 14, residing at North Hannibal, disappeared from her home on Tuesday last, taking with her a horse, wagon and four sisters and brothers all younger than herself, the youngest being less than two years of age. The police in the surrounding towns were asked to keep a look-out for the little party. On Thursday the four children and the rig arrived at the home of a relative but the older girl did not show up and no trace as of her whereabouts could be found.

It is a seven days wonder that in as thickly settled a community as Oswego county, that a wagon load of children could disappear as completely as though the earth had opened and swallowed them, and no trace be found of them.

Blunderbuss

In using the word "blunderbuss" we unconsciously imply a sense of disparagement for the shooting powers of our forefathers contrasted with the precision of the modern rifle. The word itself has, however, a terrible enough meaning and disdains all connection with "blunder." "Blunderbuss," in fact, as we have it, is a strange corruption—perhaps not altogether untinted with the sense and sound of "blunder"—of the old Dutch word "wonderbuss," which can be literally translated into the English "thunder box" or "thunder barrel."

BRYAN ASKS $15,000 DAMAGES FOR THE LOSS OF TWO FINGERS

Damages in the sum of $15,000 are asked by Duncan F. Bryant in a suit that his attorneys, Thomson, Woods & Woods have instituted in Supreme court against Frank B. Dilts and Bert W. Bennett, constituting the firm of the Dilts Machine works of Fulton. On the second floor of their plant in Fulton the machine company had what they termed their carpenter shop, one of the machines in which was a "buzz-planer," or "jointer."

Bryant was at work on this machine on May 12th, feeding into it a maple board. As he was engaged in the work, he says the board that he was feeding was suddenly thrown backward and the second and third fingers on his left hand came in contact with the sharp knives of the planer. The result was that the fingers were cut off at the first joint. This has destroyed the use of his left hand, he says, and he asks damages.—Syracuse Journal.

Had Her Guessing

The picture of the doctor who ran the dog and cat hospital hung on the wall as large as life. So did his diploma. "Does a dog and cat doctor have to have a diploma?" the woman asked who had taken her cat to have its teeth pulled.

"Why, certainly," said the clerk indignantly. "It's as much a science to be studied, the ailments of the dog and cat, as the ailments of a human being and requires as much learning—more sometimes. I've known dog and cat doctors who had a lot more sense than many people I have met."

"Oh," said the woman, trying hard not to look as if she thought the clerk had meant her.—New York Press.

Habits of the Wildcat

To say that a dog can "whip his weight in wildcats" is to pay about the highest tribute to his strength, courage and activity, and there are very few dogs that would care to earn such a tribute if they understood all it implied. Not that a wildcat is of a specially aggressive disposition. On the contrary, he would sooner mind his own business any time than fight. So anxious is he as a rule to keep out of trouble that he has often been accused of cowardice, but he has on so many occasions given evidence of the most desperate courage that it is doubtful if the accusation is a fair one. When wounded or at bay he is perhaps as dangerous as any creature of his size.

Rheumatic Pains

"My mother is a great sufferer from rheumatism, and Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills is the only remedy that relieves her."

MRS. G. DAVENPORT, Roycefield, N. J.

The pains of rheumatism are almost invariably relieved with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They also overcome that nervous irritation which prevents sleep because they soothe the nerves. To chronic sufferers they are invaluable. When taken as directed, they relieve the distress and save the weakening influence of pain, which so frequently prostrates. Many sufferers use them whenever occasion requires with the greatest satisfaction, why not you? They do not derange the stomach nor create a habit. Why not try them? Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

DYNAMITE AND ICE

A Strenuous Day in the Arctic With Peary on the Roosevelt.

I think that none of the members of the Peary expedition will ever forget the 30th of August. The Roosevelt was kicked about the floes as if she had been a football. The game began about 4 o'clock in the morning. I was in my cabin trying to get a little sleep with my clothes on, for I had not dared to remove them for a week. My rest was cut short by a shock so violent that before I realized that anything had happened I found myself on deck—a deck that inclined to starboard some 12 to 15 degrees. I ran, or, rather, climbed, the deck to the port side and saw what had happened. A big floe rushing past with the current had picked up the grounded berg to which we were attached by the hawsers and dashed it against the Roosevelt and clear along her port side as if that thousand ton berg had been a toy. The berg brought up against another one just aft of us, and the Roosevelt slipped from between the two like a greased pig.

As soon as the pressure was relaxed and the ship regained an even keel we discovered that the cable which had been attached to the floe berg at the stern had become entangled with the propeller. It was a time for lightning thought and action, but by attaching a heavier cable to the parted one and taking a hitch around the steam capstan we finally disentangled it.

This excitement was no sooner over than a great berg that was passing near us split in two of its own accord, a cube of some twenty-five or thirty feet just missing our quarter by only a foot or two. "Bergs to the right of them, bergs to the left of them, bergs on top of them," I heard somebody say as we caught our breath at this miraculous escape. The ship was now quite at the mercy of the drifting ice, and with the pressure from the outer pack the Roosevelt again careened to starboard. I knew that if she were driven any higher on to the shore we would have to discharge a large part of the coal in order to lighten her sufficiently to get her off again, so I decided to dynamite the ice.

I told Bartlett to get out his batteries and dynamite and to smash the ice between the Roosevelt and the heavy floes outside, making a soft cushion for the ship to rest on. The batteries were brought up from the lazaret, one of the dynamite boxes lifted out with caution, and Bartlett and I looked for the best places in the ice for the charges. Several sticks of dynamite were wrapped in pieces of old bagging and fastened on the end of long spruce poles, which we had brought along specially for this purpose. A wire from the battery end, of course, been connected with one of the primers buried in the dynamite. Pole, wire and dynamite were thrust down through a crack in the ice at several places in the adjacent floe. The other end of each wire was then connected with the battery, every one got away to a respectful distance on the far side of the deck, and a quick, sharp push on the plunger of the battery sent the electric current along the wires.

Rip! Bang! Boom! The ship shook like a dish of jelly, and a column of water and pieces of ice went flying a hundred feet into the air, geyser fashion. The pressure of the ice against the ship being thus removed, she righted herself and lay quietly on her cushion of crushed ice, waiting for whatever might happen next.—Commander R. E. Peary in Hampton's Magazine.

MacMahon and Grey.

In Paris in the revolution of 1830 a law student was soundly kicked by one of the king's officers for tearing down a copy of the ordinances placarded on the wall. The officer was armed, the student was not, so the latter ran away. Nearly a half century later, in 1879, the officer called upon the student to bid him goodbye, having just resigned the presidency of the French republic on account of a radical difference with the majority of the national assembly on questions of state policy. He combined with his adieu also a graceful word of congratulation on the student's election to succeed him in the presidential chair. The student was Jules Grey; the officer was Patrice de MacMahon, who died ripe in years and honors.

The Falkland Islands. The Falkland Islands are among the least known and most out of the way corners of the widely scattered British empire. They form a sort of British suburb of the south pole, some 500 miles from the antarctic end of America, Cape Horn. A former governor of the Falkland Islands, the late Sir William Robinson, used to say that he would have committed suicide while there if he could have found a tree tall enough to hang himself on.—London Standard.

Very Unconventional.

"Is this proposal the result of a bet or a joke or a dare?" asked the girl.

TOWN AND GOWN ROW

The Origin of an Ancient Dispute at Oxford.

STALE FISH AND BAD BEER.

The University Authorities Objected to These, and Then Came the Battle of St. Scholastica's Day and Open Warfare, Massacres and Pillage.

The modern town and gown row, supposing that town and gown rows have not altogether ceased, is a row about nothing in particular, inspired solely by the joy of battle and the lust for strife. The juniors fight, and the seniors separate the combatants. In the old days there was really something to fight about, and the seniors were as pugnacious as the juniors and joined as pugnaciously in the affrays. The dispute arose in the first instance out of disagreements between overlapping jurisdictions. The origin was in the divergent views entertained by the municipal and university authorities on matters of sanitation and hygiene, and it will not be denied that the university authorities were in the right. They objected to the sale of stinking fish and the brewing of beer from water contaminated with sewage. The townsmen thought such objections fastidious and were very angry when the university appealed to the king to interfere; hence constant bickerings and a frequent exchange of abusive language; hence ultimately open war and that battle of St. Scholastica's day, which takes rank in history as the earliest of the recorded town and gown rows.

The trouble began in a tavern on Feb. 10, 1354. Some scholars who were drinking there found fault with the wine, and the vintner said that it was quite good enough wine for them. The scholars threw the wine at the vintner's head, and the vintner summoned his friends and neighbors to the rescue. They rang the bell of the Church of St. Martin at Carfax, and the populace, summoned by this tocsin, shot at the scholars with bows and arrows. The chancellor of the university appeared upon the scene, ingenuitously peace where there was no peace, and he also was shot at. Then the bell of the university Church of St. Mary was started ringing, and the melee became general and lasted until the setting of the sun. No one was killed. The townsmen got the best of it, and the chancellor was under the impression that the riot was over. He issued a proclamation bidding the scholars go to their lectures as usual on the following day.

They went as he bade them, but not with the impunity which he expected. The townsmen had vowed and planned vengeance and were lying in wait for them. Re-enforcements—2,000 peasants carrying an ominous black flag—swarmed into the city from Cowley, Headington and Hinksey. The Carfax tocsin pealed out a second time, just after the midday dinner hour, and the tocsin of St. Mary's responded as before. The townsmen not only assailed the scholars in the streets, but when they fled before superior forces, pursued them into their lodgings, inns and halls, killing all that they could and stealing or destroying all the property that they could lay their hands on.

Pencemakers were badly needed, and the chancellor having called for peace in vain, the monks tried what they could do. There sallied forth a valiant band of friars, carrying their crucifix and seeking to compose the strife by chanting Hailies. Without avail. They themselves became the objects of the popular fury; a scholar was struck down while actually clinging to the crucifix. Other scholars were followed into the churches and massacred at the foot of the altar. Dead bodies were hung on to dunghills; the wounded were haled to prison, and even torture was not spared. "The crowns of some chaplains," says the chronicler—"viz, all the skin, so far as the tonsure went—these diabolical lumps stayed off in scorn of their clergy."

At last the university could resist no more. The townsmen began to flee into the country, all of them save the scholars of Merton, who alone had solid walls behind which they could retire. Withdrawing to their college, while the town triumphed outside, the sole representatives of learning in a deserted city which the bishop had laid under an interdict, the scholars of Merton waited for the day of vengeance and redress of grievances.

It came. The king sent down a special commission to investigate. The mayor of Oxford and his bailiffs were sent to prison, the sheriff was removed from office, and presently the town was further humiliated by the bestowal of fresh privileges upon the townsmen. The townsmen and not the townsmen were henceforth to decide whether fish stunk, and if they decided that it did stink they were to send it to the hospitals for the consumption of the sick. They were also adjudged pecuniary compensation for the damage done, and their supremacy was in various other ways established on a firm basis.

Such was the first town and gown row, in which Merton may be said to have saved the university. But for Merton the university would have been wiped out and its clerks would have been scattered over the face of the earth.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Odors in the Arctic.

There is nothing like polar exploration for increasing one's susceptibility to smells. Dr. Nansen told how, when approaching Franz Josef Land, he knew when he was in the neighborhood of a friend whom he had left there in charge of a base. "I smelt his scented soap long before I saw him, and afterward as we approached his hut I believe I could have given a sort of inventory of everything it contained without entering. The odors of the petroleum, coffee, cheese, tea, etc., reached me quite separately and distinctly."

100,000 AUTOMOBILES

The issue of the one hundred thousand automobile license at Albany furnishes a new standard with which to measure the extraordinary increase of motor vehicles in New York, says the New York World. According to Secretary of State Koenig the daily average of application for licenses exceeds 50, most of which come from Manhattan and Brooklyn. On the basis of an average valuation of $1,000 the cars licensed represent a weekly investment of $1,500,000.

Pollocks Become Strenuous.
 Saturday night three Pollocks of the west side became very strenuous with the result that they were all lodged in the local lock-up by Officer Fare but not until one of them had been so severely cut about the head with an axe as to make it imperative that Dr. E. J. Cusack be called to his assistance. In the fracas one man grabbed the axe and moved his friend to the level, proceeding to operate upon him as on a log. Dr. Cusack and the injured man laid out on the grass while he rendered first aid preparatory to removing him to a more convenient place for the finishing touches.
 On Monday morning when arraigned before Judge Fanning, the three men demanded counsel and the court took a recess until they can locate an attorney who understands the language.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Candidate Kant's Platform—A Business Administration of the Office and Why

TO THE VOTERS OF THE COUNTY OF OSWEGO:

As the candidate for the office of County Treasurer, to which I was yesterday nominated by the Republicans of this County, I can do no less than tender my heartfelt thanks for the honor thus shown me. I beg also to say that I deeply appreciate the gravity of the implied trust and that if elected the business of the office will receive my undivided attention and that it will be my constant endeavor so to discharge the various duties of the place that just cause for complaint shall be impossible. It shall be my pride so to act that there shall be no cause for subsequent regret on the part of the citizens whose support and votes I may receive. I say this not alone to the members of the great party to which I belong but to the members of all parties as well. To these last named I beg especially to say that in the sense of any business pertaining to the office of County Treasurer my effort shall be so to act that no one shall for a moment feel that politics has any kind of relation to it. I mean to make my conduct of the place, in which all have a common interest quite apart from politics, square with every word here written. It is as the intended servant of all, therefore, that I make bold to ask general and generous support.

Very truly yours,
Herman W. Kant.
Altmar, August 17, 1910.

HERMAN W. KANT
Republican Nominee for County Treasurer

HERMAN W. KANT

Mr. Herman W. Kant, the Republican nominee for county treasurer is about 36-years of age and he is a self made man. He laboriously worked his way through high school and the Oswego Normal School, securing an education at the price of self sacrifice in many ways. He is a resident of Altmar, is married and a highly respected citizen.

In 1904 he was secretary to the State Commission at the Louisiana Exposition at St. Louis and was in charge of the New York State building. He is now serving his second term as School Commissioner, in the discharge of the duties of which office he has been very able.

Mr. Kant as Master of Pomona Grange was very successful and in his contest for the office he will receive efficient assistance from county grange members.

SECRETARY'S RESIGNATION REQUESTED

Mr. H. P. Allen, the newly elected secretary of the Republican County Committee, finds himself in a rather embarrassing position because of the new honor which was thrust upon him by the committee and which was all unsought and unexpected to him. He was not even present at the conventions, being busily engaged in Agricultural Society work at the time. The election was unanimous, not one voice being raised in opposition to him. Mr. Allen was deeply touched by this act of his friends and he was showered with congratulations.

Two days later Mr. Allen was waited upon by several friends of the new county organization and asked to resign from the office to which he had been elected, the reason for such a course being neither apparent nor given. Mr. Allen was greatly surprised and declined to resign, stating that unless the friends who elected him to the office requested him to resign it that he should continue to hold it. Up to the present time there has been no such intimation.

MAY USE LOWER BRIDGE

Mr. C. A. Lux, representing the Beebe Syndicate, appeared before the Board of Public Works on Monday evening and announced that his company proposed to take advantage of their franchise and use the lower bridge for trolley purposes, property owners in the northern section of the city causing them a great deal of trouble in the matter of securing the right of way to construct a railroad bridge just below the lower bridge.

It is presumed that the city's bridge will only be used temporarily as the bridge does not permit of double tracking.

day after a short illness. Shortly after supper Wednesday evening Mrs. Perry complained of feeling ill. She steadily grew weaker until death came. Mrs. Perry was born in Oswego seventy-five years ago and lived there until her marriage, when she moved to Fruit Valley where she has since resided. Mrs. Perry was a member of Christ Church and for many years prominent in church affairs. Three sons, Lawrence of Ogdensburg, Arthur of Orange, N. J., Hobart of Panama and one daughter, Miss Alice Perry of Fruit Valley survive.

Frederick C., aged 36, son of Mr. A. L. Warner, died on Saturday night at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Harvey Carr, in Volney, after a brief illness with tuberculosis. The deceased was born in Volney, was educated in the Fulton schools, leaving several years ago for California where he was successful in business until the death of his first wife when he returned to Fulton. He was not in robust health at that time and he continued to grow gradually weaker although he entered into business in Lansing, Mich., about a year ago and continued the business until he became bedridden. Mr. Warner brought his son back to Fulton about two weeks ago and he passed to rest last week. The funeral services were held from the Universalist church on Tuesday afternoon and burial was made in Mt. Adnah. Beside the father, the widow, two sons, Oliver and Edmund, and his grandmother, Mrs. I. M. Warner, survive.

Phoenix Register: Mrs. Sarah McClaughry Wiggins died Friday, Aug. 12, after a brief illness caused by a fracture of her hip. Mrs. Wiggins was born at Hannibal Center, July 23, 1833, and was the daughter of John and Pamela Herrick McClaughry. She was married to Gilson D. Carrier of Volney and came to this town to reside soon after. Mr. Carrier died about ten years ago leaving her alone in the home. About two years after she married William Wiggins, who died in 1903, and again she was left alone, until a suitable person was secured who has cared for her and been a faithful companion. Mrs. Wiggins possessed fine qualities of mind and although feeble health compelled her to narrow her circle of friends, those who knew her best found her a true and sympathetic friend. She was a member of the Congregational church, Miss Millie Newcomb of Taunton, Mass., is her only surviving relative. The funeral services were conducted from her late residence at two o'clock on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Theodore Harris of Ithaca. The interment was made in Rural cemetery.

Nancy J. Chubb, aged 74, died from cancer of the stomach at her home on the west side on Monday. The funeral services will be held from the late home this Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The immediate survivors are the husband, two sons, Fred, of this city and Albert of Granby, and one daughter, Mrs. Ella Wilcox of Granby.

Miss Mary Hilling has received a copy of the Yorkshire, England, Observer, of recent date which contains announcement of the death of John Bacchus, a former resident of this city and a one-time superintendent in the wooden mill. The deceased returned to England nearly twenty years ago where he has since resided. The widow, five daughters and one son survive.

Mrs. Daniel R. Perry of Fruit Valley died at her home early on Thursday.

CURTISS TO FLY AT STATE FAIR

Daring Aviator to Try For New Records.

Race Between Flying Machine and Automobile Planned as Feature. Exhibitions Will Be Witnessed by More Than 200,000 People—Splendid Aviation Field.

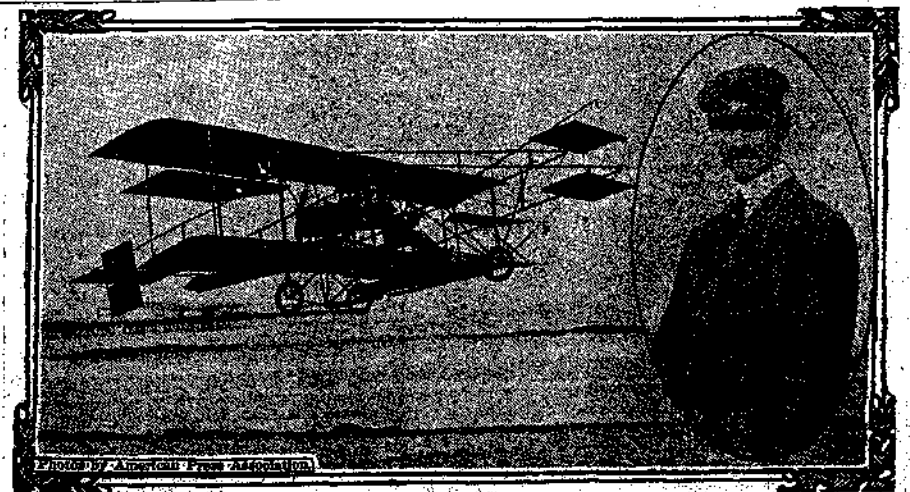

Glenn H. Curtiss, world's champion aviator, will operate his aeroplane at the state fair. Instead of allowing J. A. D. McCurdy, one of his assistants and an original member of the Aerial Experiment association, to do the flying fair week, as he had planned, Mr. Curtiss has decided to take advantage of the excellent aviation field offered by the racing course at Syracuse with the object of trying for more world's records.

Mr. Curtiss, famous as a bird man on two continents, will make his first appearance on Monday of the fair, when he plans to give trials of speed and exhibitions of soaring, diving and attitude climbing, and as the Curtiss machine is known for its ability to fly under the most unfavorable weather conditions there is not much danger of the great crowd which will attend the opening of the state's annual exposition being disappointed.

The remarkable victories scored by Curtiss at Rheims placed him in the rank of the leading aviators of the world, but it is since he flew down the Hudson between Albany and New York that he has attracted the greatest interest. The public has been following every movement of Curtiss with the expectation of some new sensation, and when he appears at Syracuse the attention of the world will be riveted upon him, for it is considered natural that he would want to accomplish some great feat at an exposition which will be attended by over 200,000 people of his home state.

One reason for the decision of Curtiss to operate his aeroplane at the fair is that the conditions at the fair grounds are ideal for flying. A broad, level country leaves small chances for the air currents which interfere with aviators, and the race track offers excellent starting ground. Unlike the Wright machine, the Curtiss aeroplane requires no starting rail, and Curtiss will be able to rise from or alight upon any part of the racing course. An interesting feature of the week will be the race between the Curtiss machine and an automobile.

The state fair commission has erected a large shed near the race track for the housing of the aeroplane. It will be open to fair visitors at all times when the machine is not in use, and thousands will have the first opportunity of closely inspecting a heavier than air flying machine.

SALT SEA YARNS.

Signs and Omens to Which the Sailor Grimly Clings.

A JOKE THAT PROVED FATAL

Superstition and a Guilty Conscience Proved Too Much For the Norseman—A Bucket of Water That Stopped a Mysterious Wailing.

It is a well known fact that in the past the sailor was among the most superstitious of mortals, and even in these enlightened days there are a goodly number of old salts who cling tenaciously to their belief in certain signs and portents. Some, no doubt, of these superstitions have vanished altogether into the limbo of forgotten things, but there will always be a credulous few who will shake their heads solemnly and prophesy dismally if a knife is stuck in the mast or an albatross or a stormy petrel is captured and brought on board. The origin of some of these superstitions cannot be traced. Many of them have been handed down from father to son for a great number of years, with a touch probably added here and there, turning a comparatively ordinary story into a weird and mysterious legend.

The Finn is the most superstitious of all sailors. There are many of this race who still believe in the ominous portent of the phantom ship, the folly of starting a voyage on a Friday a notion by no means confined to seafaring men, the low burning blue lights which are ghost spirits hovering near to give warning of approaching disaster and many other things, all of which fill the sailor's mind with murmurings and speak to him of wrecks.

A story is told of a brigantine which numbered several extremely superstitious men among her crew. One night when there was no moon and a slight ground swell was running the watch, who happened to be the most superstitious of them all, heard an unearthly wailing coming apparently from the very surface of the sea. The mate and the helmsman also heard it, but the former lacked imagination, and although he was certainly interested, he nearly blew the watch's head off when he ventured to suggest mermaids. The helmsman did not feel quite happy, but he had to stick to the wheel. The watch was pale with terror, but he kept silence owing to the mate's complimentary references to his courage and abilities. Slowly the sound began to move along the ship's side, becoming more and more agonized as it approached. This annoyed the mate, and, going to the side of the vessel, he waited until he had located the sound and then emptied a bucket of water over the rail. There was a gasp, then dead silence, and nothing more was heard that night.

When the watch went off duty he of course gave a detailed and lurid account of the incident to his shipmates, who listened, as he thought, in awed silence and then called on one of the audience for a version of the matter. This man, a Tyne-sider, who dearly loved a joke and had no respect at all for hoary superstitions, had conspired with his fellows to play a trick on the watch. On the night in question he had crept over the bows without a sound, carrying with him the ship's cat secured in a bag. Crouching under the stays, the joker let the cat's head out of the bag, which he tied round the animal's neck so that it could not escape. He then applied his teeth to the unfortunate animal's tail. Everybody knows the fearsome sounds an angry cat is capable of producing, and those to which a cat whose tail is being bitten gives vent are among the most hair raising. The sound was more or less regulated by squeezing the luckless bear's body. The mate's bucket of water was as unwise as an unexpected and caused the Tyne-sider to beat a hurried retreat.

Not only is the origin of many sea superstitions "wropt in mystery," but also any logical explanation of cause and effect. It would puzzle any one to say why it should be unlucky for the ship's boy to whistle on the weather bow, except that it is generally unpleasant for a music lover's point of view for a boy to whistle on any bow at all.

On one occasion superstition and a guilty conscience caused a practical joke to have fatal consequences. The incident arose through one of the sailors, a Norwegian, boxing the ears of the ship's boy for the aforementioned crime of whistling on the weather bow. Not unnaturally the boy was annoyed and determined to pay the Norwegian out. Aided by two other sailors, a white shirt and some string, a very presentable "ghost" was arranged in the forecastle on the night the Norseman was on watch. He was to be allowed only a glimpse of the "spirit" on entering the forecastle, and it was then to vanish from view, being jerked by means of a string underneath the bunk of one of the jokers. Everything was ready, and the three conspirators lay in their bunks awaiting their victim. Unfortunately they all fell asleep, to be suddenly awakened by a loud cry from the Norwegian. He stood gazing at the "ghost," the dim light shed by the lamp falling on his ghastly face. The three were about to call out to him when he spoke. "No, no," he cried, "I did not mean to kill you, Morgan! Oh, mercy, mercy!" And he rushed madly from the forecastle. Terrified, his shipmates followed him, but as they reached the deck they saw the Norwegian throw himself into the sea.—London Globe.

The Professional View.

An English physician of whom many stories are in circulation may not be as unsympathetic as a recent anecdote seems to make him. He is a specialist on all sorts of mental disturbances and the fits, spasms and convulsions which sometimes accompany them. One of his patients, a most estimable person, if suddenly alarmed or distressed, would fall into a curious comatose state from which she could not be roused until the effect of the shock had passed. The physician had been summoned again and again, but it always happened that he was away from home at the time, and before he arrived on the scene of action the patient had recovered. At last one night he was summoned and arrived at the house while the woman was still unconscious. He hurried upstairs and into the room where she was lying on the couch. He looked at her, and an expression of interest overspread his face.

"Now, this," he said in his most cheerful tone—"this is something like!"

Whistler's Ways.

It was Whistler's custom when drowsy to go deliberately to sleep, no matter where or what the circumstances might be. At one dinner party his gentle snore suddenly aroused his neighbor, who judged him violently with his elbow. "I say, Whistler," he protested excitedly, "you must not sleep here!"

"Leave me alone!" snapped Whistler. "I've said all I wanted to. I've no interest at all in what you and your friends have to say."

One evening he was my guest at dinner at a hotel. Edwin A. Abbey was also there. Right after dinner Whistler went calmly to sleep. On the way to the theater he enjoyed another nap to the cab, and he slumbered peacefully through the greater part of the play. The next morning he blandly asked me: "What did Abbey have to say last night? Anything worth while?"—Century.

"Charms" in Cornwall.

Cornwall, England, is a county of "charms." The passing of children through holes in the earth, rocks or trees, once an established rite, is still practiced in various parts of Cornwall, wrote Thomas Q. Couch about fifty years ago. "With us boys are cured by creeping on the hands and knees beneath a bramble which has grown into the soil at both ends. Children afflicted with hernia are still passed through a slit in an ash sapling before sunrise, fasting, after which the slit portions are bound up, and as they unite so the hernia is cured. The ash is indeed a tree of many virtues. Venomous reptiles are never known to rest under its shadow, and a single blow from an ash stick is instant death to an adder. Struck by a bough of any other tree, the reptile is said to retain marks of life until the sun goes down."

Halley's Comet.

A French scientist declares that Halley's comet was known to the authors of the Talmud long before Halley came into existence. This French scientist quotes from the Talmud: "Two wise men of Palestine, Gamaliel and Joshua, made a voyage on the sea. The first had brought with him bread to eat. The second one in addition had brought flour. When Gamaliel had eaten all his bread he asked him for flour, saying to him, 'How didst thou know we should be so long on our journey that thou didst bring flour?' To which Joshua did answer: 'There is a very bright star which appeareth every seventy years and which deceiveth mariners. I have thought that perchance it might surprise us during our voyage, lead us astray and thus prolong our voyage on the sea; hence it is that I have provided myself with flour.'"

The Falkland Islands.

The Falkland islands are among the least known and most out of the way corners of the widely scattered British empire. They form a sort of British suburb of the south pole, some 500 miles from the antarctic end of America, Cape Horn. A former governor of the Falkland Islands, the late Sir William Robinson, used to say that he would have committed suicide while there if he could have found a tree tall enough to hang himself on.—London Standard.

How Like a Man!

Mrs. Nocknoodle—Oh, Norris, if you would always be as good and gentle and kind as you are at this moment how happy we might be! Mr. Nocknoodle, dousing his temper instantly and bellowing at the top of his voice—Do you mean to say, madam, that I am not always as good and kind as I am at this moment?

Outdoors.

Jones—Yes, sir; that boy at mine is a wonderful piano player. Why, he can play with his toes! Brown—How old is he? Jones—Fifteen. Brown—I've got a boy at home who can play with his toes, and he is only one year old.

Liquidizing.

"Dry out this speechmaking." "Well, I've drunk in every word you've said." "Ab! Making a draft of my speech?"—Lippincott's.

A Pioneer Shipment.

The first shipment of wheat from Chicago via the lakes was made in 1838. The shipment consisted of seventy-eight bushels.

TO ORGANIZE GAYNOR CLUBS

Elaborate preparations are being perfected for the organization of Gaynor clubs throughout New York State to boom Mayor Gaynor for the Democratic nomination for governor this fall. The ambition of the Gaynor men is to groom Mr. Gaynor for the presidential nomination in 1912, and they believe that his election as governor of the Empire State would be a long step toward that end.

It is reported that Tammany Hall will support Gaynor and that all other aspirants to the office will side-step in favor of Gaynor. The Democratic State convention will be held in Rochester on Sept. 29.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller is taking, under advice of his physician, daily whiskey baths. It should be remembered, however, that Mr. Rockefeller takes them externally only.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

J. B. TAYLOR SUES

Through Purcell, Cullen & Purcell Asks $100,000 From the World

J. B. Taylor, of Watertown, has started an action against the Press Publishing Company, of New York, publishers of the New York World, for $100,000 damages for libel. The article complained of was an alleged summary of certain testimony taken in the divorce action of Mrs. Emma Flower Taylor against Mr. Taylor. The latter claims the article was false in its entirety.

NO POSTAL BANK PASS BOOKS TO BE ISSUED

Washington.—As a measure of economy the government will discontinue the pass-book in the conduct of the postal savings banks system. The Board of Trustees of the new bank will adopt a plan of deposit certificate to be issued by postmasters in exchange for deposits.

These certificates will be issued in denominations from $1 to $10, $20 and $50. On the margin will be punched the amount of each deposit, together with the interest due the depositor. Under the regulations to be adopted these certificates will not be transferable.

Mr. Bryan will probably not write up the first battle of the "County option" issue in Nebraska. So far as he is concerned, he may prefer to forget it.

The census gives poor old Houston, Texas, only a measly 75,000. What Houston lacks in population, however, it makes up in holler.

HELPER BADLY BURNED

Friday afternoon as the balloon was in process of being filled to make the ascension the gasoline in the tank, which was being used to inflate the huge bag, caught fire and before help could reach him, F. B. Long of Newburgh, helper to Balloonist Minerly, was covered with the blazing fluid. Quick action on the part of the bystanders prevented serious injury although he was painfully burned on face, hands and chest. Dr. Schlappi was called to care for the burns and Long was taken to his home on Saturday morning.

In the excitement attendant upon the accident the balloon sailed away and it was not recovered until late. The balloon ascensions were not satisfactory during either day of the fair, something interfering each time with the success of the venture.

"J. J." RANCH SOLD

A dispatch from Daltart, Texas, says the "J. J." ranch of 212,000 acres situated near there was sold by E. D. Neely to Pruitt Brothers of Kansas City, Mo., for $1,200,000 cash. It is one of the largest transactions in the history of the state. The ranch is one of the most noted cattle properties in the Panhandle region. It is extremely well watered, and is at present well stocked with cattle, but it is planned by the purchasers to dispose of the stock, as fast as possible and to convert the land into farms colonized by practical farmers. Only a few years ago the land was considered worth less than a dollar an acre.

DESERVES MEDAL

Station Agent C. L. Davis of the Lackawanna deserves a medal for his prompt action on Thursday which resulted in the saving of a human life. The afternoon train from Syracuse had just started to pull out of the station when a Mrs. Brown of Minnetto attempted to leave the train. She lost her footing and rolled directly under the train and between the trucks which were slowly proceeding toward her. Mr. Davis grasped the situation and hastily pulled the woman from her perilous position in the nick of time. How he managed to do so will remain a mystery to all who witnessed the occurrence.

Mr. Davis is very reticent about the matter but he deserves a heroes medal just the same.

LIFE

The great "IF" in Life.

The most pathetic thing in life is that fatal "IF" which seems to stand between so many folk and their happiness.

Fortunately for YOU there is no "IF" in your life-work.

Interviews with carefully selected prospects ALWAYS HAVE produced commissions and ALWAYS WILL.

THE MORE THE INTERVIEWS THE MORE THE COMMISSIONS. This is no theory or hypothesis but is a positive, conclusive, changeless REALITY in our business.

"IF" is happily eliminated from YOUR life-problem.

Delays are Dangerous. Don't put off taking that policy to some future date or you may leave an "IF" before your memory instead of a substantial support for your family.

REUNION OF OLD SETTLERS

The thirty fifth annual reunion of the Old Settlers of Oswego County was held in the camp meeting grove at Demeter on Friday and attracted many, but others were deterred from being present because of threatening weather conditions. It is the purpose of President Dean and Secretary Upcraft to see that next year a larger crowd than ever be brought together. With this end in view arrangements will be started early, so that a complete program can be provided.

The meeting was called to order by Vice President Tollerton, who spoke feelingly of the deaths of the past year, including Col. L. V. S. Matison, who had taken such an active interest. Mrs. Bowen, of Homer, lead the singing and the Rev. C. E. Miller offered prayer.

The report of Secretary Upcraft was listened to with interest. The mortuary record of the association showed that there were 187 deaths, all over sixty years of age. Of these, 136 were buried by Dahn & Son, twenty-six by P. J. Cullinan, twenty-five by H. D. Pierce, of Altmar, twelve by George Barnes.

The principal address was by the Rev. C. E. Miller, who spoke of conditions today and in the past when many of the members were young. The following officers were elected: President, David M. Dean, Scriba; vice president, S. M. Barker, New Haven; secretary, John Upcraft, South West Oswego.

SAVED FROM AWFUL PERIL

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for coughs and colds, it's the most certain remedy for lagrippe asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections, 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Mr. Bryan may be reflecting on whether he shall retire or become known to his party as "the disappearance leader."

If your liver is sluggish and out of tone, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and you will feel all right in the morning. Sold by all dealers.

GOOD ROADS WORK

State Supervisor of Highways John Dyer, of Albany, with County Superintendent E. A. Howard, is going through the county and inspecting the work which has been done this year on the highways; they will also go over the highway accounts in the various towns. The work of oiling the highway from the Oswego line to New Haven is finished and the oiling apparatus will be taken to road No. 278 in Hastings from Central Square to Brewerton.

Of the 30,000 gallons of road oil which was purchased two months ago by the county 15,000 has been placed on the Scriba road, 6,000 will be placed on the Central Square road and the remainder on the West River road and the highway at Fruit Valley. The last two roads will be only partially oiled, as there will not be enough of the material to go around. However, Mr. Howard says that the Fruit Valley road needs resurfacing because of and heavy travel by automobile and wagon and that this work will be done next Spring, which would make it unnecessary to put much on this year. He cautions automobilists to drive with care on the West River road, as piles of crushed stone have been placed along the road near the gutters and are liable to be dangerous for reckless drivers.

ANNUAL MEETING

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hunter Fan & Motor Company will be held in the office of the Hunter Arms Company on Wednesday, September 14, at 2 p. m., for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come regularly before this meeting.

John Hunter, Secretary.

There is to be an eclipse of the moon in November. It is predicted that there will also be some political eclipses about that time.

Newspaper comment about Mr. Bryan's recent defeat in Nebraska has played out. If Mr. Bryan ever hopes to again get himself talked about very extensively, he will have to get elected to something.

In buying a cough medicine, don't be afraid to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it, and relief is sure to follow. Especially recommended for coughs, colds and whooping cough. Sold by all dealers.

This is going to be a mighty poor plum season in the opinion of a majority of the candidates.

MR. MOTT AND THE STATE COMMITTEE

(Oswego Times, Aug. 18)

Mr. John T. Mott, State Committeeman for this, the 25th Congressional district, voted for Vice-President Sherman for temporary chairman of the forthcoming Republican State Convention. Mr. Mott is and always has been a warm admirer of Colonel Roosevelt since his conspicuous entrance into public life in 1898. Likewise, it should be said, that Mr. Mott and Vice President Sherman have been life-long personal as well as close political friends. This is a matter of common knowledge to those acquainted with the two and knowing the exceptionally warm friendship existing between them. In this light it will be understood that Mr. Mott's vote for his old time associate was a wholly personally matter and is not to be construed as indicative of Mr. Mott's future course in party matters or as inimical to Colonel Roosevelt's sentiments. As a matter of fact Mr. Mott's pledge to vote for the Vice-President was made with no knowledge that Colonel Roosevelt's name was to be brought before the State Committee for the temporary chairmanship. He arrived late at the Committee meeting and nobody representing or claiming to represent Col. Roosevelt asked him to vote for him. His action wholly personal as it was, will not in the least affect his future action or the action of this county's delegation, which he heads, at the State convention. The delegation will be found standing squarely upon the resolutions of the convention which named it at Pulaski. Mr. Mott knew well the spirit of the resolutions and they have his cordial approval to-day.

Possibly more is being made of the State Committee incident than future events will bear out. It is not past belief and it need not be surprising if Colonel Roosevelt should be made the permanent chairman of the convention of which Vice President Sherman will be the temporary chairman.

Mr. Mott's vote for his old-time friend, friends since their college days, ties him to nobody and to nothing.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas medicines made with mercury merely dry up the secretions and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real remedy, not a delusion. All druggists, 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Brothers, 58 Warren street, New York.

NEW POST OFFICE RULES

The following new rules have been formulated for the benefit of post-office patrons so that they may know what you may expect. No letters given out until they are received. If you don't get a letter or a paper on the day you expect it have the postmaster look through all of the boxes and down cellar also. It ought to be there somewhere and he likes to hunt for it just to please you. If your friend don't write rave at the postmaster. He is to blame. If he tells you so, put on a grumbled look and say there ought to be some. He is probably hiding your mail for the pleasure of having you call for it. Ask him to look again. If you are buying stamps make him look them and put them on, that's his business.

THE MANTILLA

A Spanish Woman Answers the Question, "Why Do You Wear It?"

The writer once asked of a well known lady of the Spanish aristocracy who was seated in the box of the president of a corrida in Madrid, "Why do you wear a mantilla?" and the fair duchess replied: "Because we all wear a mantilla at a bullfight or at any truly Spanish function. It is the proper thing to do, and we do it."

A little later as I strolled among a group of aficionados I ventured to ask a woman of the people over whose head and shoulders was also thrown a mantilla why all Spanish women, to whatever class they belonged, wore this national headgear, if it may be called thus.

This woman was sitting in the open air, and I was thinking that a large straw hat would have protected her better from the burning rays of the sun, and been quite as picturesque. She replied in that droling, warm tone so typical of the Spanish: "Well, I happened to have often thought of this, and I think the reason why we all wear the mantilla is because we Spanish women are most careful about our hair. We think the chief charms of a woman are her eyes and her hair. And, as you may see, we all have splendid, thick, lustrous hair, and we are supposed to have, many of us, fascinating eyes. Now, why should we hide our elaborately arranged hair under a hat and conceal our eyes in the shade cast by the brim of a hat?"

No doubt this woman was right. Parisian elegance to the Spanish women of the upper classes may have its attractions, but they, as their less fortunate compatriots, all agree that beautiful hair and expressive eyes are more important. * * * And both of these may be cultivated.—London Mail.

THE FIRST WINDMILLS.

Could Work Only When the Wind Blew From a Certain Point.

Windmills are said to have been introduced into England by the Knights of St. John, who observed them in use among the Saracens in the Crusades, but how long they had been in existence before this it is not possible to ascertain. A water mill was built in Bohemia in the year 718, for an old chronicler mentions it, going on to say that "before that time all the mills in Bohemia were windmills set upon the summit of hills."

For hundreds of years windmills were among the most important adjuncts of industry, yet they hardly changed from the rude and primitive design of earliest days. They were fixed to one position, and so could only be worked when the wind blew from a certain quarter, while the four sails boasted no slats or checking apparatus of any kind, which must have been most inconvenient at times.

The first idea of arranging a mill so that it could be worked "wherever the wind did blow" was that of tethering an ordinary mill in the middle of a pond by means of ropes. When the wind shifted the ropes were loosed and the mill dragged around until the sails were caught by the wind, and it was then again tethered as before.

Later on a great pole, which was worked on the principle of a turntable, was added to the mill. Not until 1500 did Holland, the land of windmills, introduce a movable dome carrying the sail axle. The dome ran on rollers and was shifted around by means of the pole mentioned above. These ancient mills were often of massive build, being made of brick or stone, and later entirely of wood.—London Globe.

The Helmet That Fell

Roque-laure, the deformed jester of Louis XIV., contrived to get out of many a scrape by his ready wit. One day he went to the king to ask his pardon for having struck off the helmet of one of his sentinels who had failed to give him the military salute. Louis, who knew his man, wondered that Roque-laure should crave his pardon for so venial an offense and said to him: "This is a serious matter, Roque-laure, but I will pardon you this time."

"It afterward turned out that the soldier's head was in the helmet and fell with it to the ground.—Argonaut.

The Astonishing Part

Lord Townshend at the battle of Dettingen was standing quite near a drummer boy whose brains were dashed out by a cannon ball. His lordship gazed on the horrible spectacle for some moments in silence.

At last an old officer spoke up and said: "Why is your lordship surprised? Such things must happen in war."

"I know it," was the reply, "but what astonishes me is that a boy with so much brains should be here at all."

A Bright Outlook

"De you—do you think, Miss Doleigh, that you will be engaged next Thursday evening?" asked Tommy very bashfully.

"Well, really, Mr. Tommy," replied Ethel. "I don't know, but if you can get up snuff enough between now and then to do your share I think there's a fair prospect that I shall be."

And Tommy did.—Harper's Weekly.

Where It Hurts

"Say, I have an awful pain. I wonder if it is appendicitis? Can you tell me on what side one gets it?"

"Why, on the inside, of course."—Columbia Jester.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Graves in Palermo was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon when their daughter, Ada Belle, was united in marriage with Mr. Frank Lyman Smith of Mexico. The happy young couple had been lovers since their high school days and both graduated from the Mexico school in 1905. The ceremony was performed on the lawn beneath an arch of evergreens and vines in the presence of over 100 guests by Rev. W. T. Clemens of Pennellville, also a classmate of the groom at Syracuse University. After luncheon the young people left in an automobile for Adams on their honeymoon. The bride wore white silk poplin and a bridal veil caught with sweet peas. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. In the bridal party were Misses Myrtle and Mildred Smith of Mexico, sisters of the groom, Miss Emma J. Brownell of Phoenix and Miss Frances Getman of Clifford, former classmates of the bride. The best man was Roy P. MacPherson of Corning, a classmate of the groom at Syracuse. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will take up their residence at Redwood, where Mr. Smith is principal of the High School.

He has devoted his time so exclusively to business that he has not figured prominently in politics heretofore but his interest manifested during the present campaign should continue. Never Knew Vice President Was to be Candidate for Temporary Chairman, President Says in Letter to Griscom.

Correspondence between President Taft and Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York Republican County Committee, following the meeting of the Republican State Committee which rejected Mr. Roosevelt as temporary chairman, was made public Monday by Mr. Griscom.

It disclosed hitherto carefully hidden facts which, known only to a few of the progressive Republicans, have caused them to declare that certain leaders of the "old guard" had misrepresented the President and sought in every way possible to make a breach between him and ex-President Roosevelt. These who felt that Mr. Sherman himself had been tricked into taking an attitude antagonistic to Mr. Roosevelt, also found confirmation to their views.

The letter from President Taft to Mr. Griscom which follows repudiates Vice President Sherman as his candidate for temporary chairman of the state committee.

The President said he never had the slightest notion that Mr. Sherman's name was to be presented to the committee.

He showed clearly his keen desire to have ex-President Roosevelt consulted about every move made by Republicans in this state, and made public his telegram to Mr. Sherman directing him, State Chairman Woodruff and National Committeeman Ward to confer with the ex-President before doing anything.

President declared that he had not expressed any opinion regarding the state chairmanship since the effort was made last winter by the Congress delegation to oust Woodruff.

Incidentally the President reiterated his belief that the Republicans ought to unite in support of the Cobb direct nominations bill. He sent a telegram of similar purport to Mr. Griscom during the extra session of the Legislature, but that document never was made public.

Mr. Griscom declared his expectation of seeing the action of the state committee reversed and Mr. Roosevelt elected to be temporary chairman of the Saratoga convention, there to sound the keynote for the state campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt already is on record as to what the tone would be—a clear trumpet note of progress.

Mr. Griscom expressed formally his desire to co-operate with progressive Republicans all over the state in a fight for Roosevelt, progress and Republican success at the polls in November.

Taft's Letter to Griscom

Beverly, Mass., August 20, 1910.
My Dear Mr. Griscom: As you know from your telephone conversations with my office, I have steadily refused to admit the propriety or necessity of the President's replying to newspaper statements which are not based on any act or authorized word of his and have no sponsor. I am entirely willing, however, to reply categorically to your telegram of August 19, which has just arrived, and which is as follows:

I am informed and believe that several members of the New York Republican State Committee who voted for Vice President Sherman over ex-President Roosevelt, as nominees for temporary chairman of state convention were influenced by statements that the Vice President's name was presented to defeat Colonel Roosevelt in accordance with your wish. A member of the state committee declared to me before the meeting that Mr. Sherman's candidacy had been arranged with you by telephone the previous day. Efforts have been made to create an impression that you favor a particular candidate for election as state chairman.

I want you to know that the injection of the name of a high member of your administration into a factional conflict has produced a most complicated situation, and the absence of any authoritative information as to your attitude is seriously misleading many Republicans and impairing a movement for progressive party leadership and clean government in this state. I know you desire us to have a fair field, and hope that this may be made clear to the public.

The suggestion that I have ever expressed a wish to defeat Mr. Roosevelt for the temporary chairmanship of the convention, or have ever taken the slightest step to do so, is wholly untrue. I never heard Mr. Sherman's name suggested as temporary chairman of the state convention until I saw in the newspapers of August 16 that he had been selected at the meeting of the committee. When you called at my house Saturday evening, August 13, you told me that Mr. Roosevelt intended to go to the convention as a delegate, and you suggested incidentally his being made temporary chairman—a suggestion in which I acquiesced. It did not occur to me that any one would oppose it. This was the first time the subject of the temporary chairmanship was mentioned to me by any one. You did not ask me to take any action whatever with respect to it. After a full discussion of the New York State situation, I drafted in your presence the following telegram and sent it to Mr. Sherman:

Honorable James S. Sherman, Vice President, Utica, N. Y.

Please say to Ward and Woodruff that I have had a long conference with Griscom. He confirms my judgment already expressed to you that the whole situation in New York may be saved without humiliation to any one and with victory for the party by a full conference with Mr. Roosevelt, and reasonable concessions with reference to platform and candidates.

The thing of all others that ought to be avoided is a controversy in the convention. I am told by Mr. Griscom that such a conference with Mr. Roosevelt might conveniently be had and would be welcomed by him before the state committee meets on Tuesday. Hope you will be able to report satisfactory solution when you come on Wednesday.

William H. Taft.

On the afternoon of Monday, August 15, Mr. Sherman telephoned me from New York, and for the first time apprised me of the fact that there was a proposal to oppose Mr. Roosevelt for the temporary chairmanship, and that with Mr. Root's name. No other name than Mr. Root's was mentioned. I protested against the idea of a contest on such a matter, peremptorily declined to be drawn into a fight against Mr. Roosevelt and again renewed my urgent advice that there be prompt and full personal conference with Mr. Roosevelt before the committee meeting, with a view to securing harmony and victory for the party.

Mr. Sherman called upon me here on the 17th instant to meet an engagement of a week's standing made with him and Mr. Loudenslager, to discuss the Congressional campaign textbook. Mr. Loudenslager was prevented from coming by an illness. During the conference with Mr. Sherman I told him that I deplored the result of the meeting of the New York state committee, because, unless the break were repaired, it meant division between New York Republicans, and probable defeat. Upon leaving me, Mr. Sherman agreed to go into a conference with Mr. Roosevelt, provided he were invited to do so, with a view to adjusting the situation if possible, even at that late date. Mr. Nicholas Longworth was present and said he would send a telegram to bring about a conference. What the result has been I do not know.

Finally, in your telegram received this morning you state that efforts have been made to create the impression that I favor a particular candidate for election as state chairman. This is absolutely untrue. I have expressed no opinion on the subject since an effort was made last winter by the New York Congressional delegation to secure Mr. Woodruff's retirement, which failed.

I am very sorry indeed to observe columns of unfounded assertions in the newspapers concerning my attitude in respect to the New York situation. You know, however, as well as other New York leaders, that whenever my advice or assistance in reaching a satisfactory adjustment of the difficulties arising has been sought I have urged the necessity for the fullest conference with Mr. Roosevelt by the members of the organization, and, with due deference to honest difference of opinion, have expressed the view, which I still entertain, that the solution of the direct primary issue can be found in provisions similar to those of the Cobb bill, as amended by Mr. Seth Low, Mr. Joseph Choate and other prominent Republicans of New York City.

Sincerely yours,
William H. Taft.

LIFE'S UNCERTAINTIES

The uncertainties of life are strikingly illustrated by the death of President Montt of Chile. The Chilean Executive was a witness of the apparently fatal shooting of Mayor Gaynor on board the Kaiser Wilhelm and was greatly shocked by the occurrence. On the same day that he landed on the other side President Montt died suddenly of heart disease, while the Mayor is rapidly recovering from the wound of his assailant.

Coffee county, Ga., has taken a decided stand against near-beer. Doubtless Coffee county had good grounds for taking this step.

FAIR STUPENDOUS SUCCESS

The Fair which closed on Friday night was a stupendous success from every viewpoint. The only drawback which was encountered was the rain storm on Thursday which kept down the attendance and also prevented some of the racing events being pulled off. These were taken up on Friday and it was not until darkness prevented further sport that the happy crowd dispersed to their homes and the Fair of 1910 became a matter of history.

The racing entries were so numerous that it was demonstrated on Wednesday that the track was not wide enough, a collision in which several narrow escapes were made occurring at the first turn when eleven horses, evenly matched, tried for position.

Secretary Allen and President Kingsbury may well feel repaid for the efforts toward this annual event, and the members of the Fair Association will feel greatly encouraged to go forward next year and provide for an even bigger Fair than the one just closed.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The following platform was adopted at the Republican County convention held in Pulaski last week:

The Republicans of Oswego County in convention assembled, do heartily endorse the National administration and work of that great American statesman, President Taft.

We believe the whole country and the world realize that at the time he was seated as the Nation's Chief Executive, and ever since then, his administration has been confronted with the most perplexing and troublesome public problems that have sought solution at the hands of any National executive since the days of Abraham Lincoln.

We have the greatest faith and confidence in his integrity, his motives and his ability. We believe that his broad experience and his sound statesmanship constitute the safest guaranty of the survival of Republican principles, and the fulfillment of American hope for National success and greatness.

We reaffirm our faith in the doctrines and principles persistently followed by the Republican party from its origin down to this date. Its marvelous growth and development has been the accepted history of the most progressive and powerful nation on the globe. The unparalleled rise and development of the United States are so interwoven with the policies and achievements of the Republican party, that the history of the one is the history of the other.

We most earnestly commend the tireless work and the aggressive administration of New York's great Governor, Charles E. Hughes.

During the period he has occupied the Executive Chamber at Albany there has been more constructive legislation than during any other like period in the history of the State. Coming into state prominence through his relentless prosecution of insurance frauds, he was called by the people of our State to the highest place within their gift.

His rare ability, his force of character, his unflinching determination to do right, in four short years have made him a national reputation, which has won him, with undisputed right, a seat upon the bench of the highest court on earth. He has stood firm and voiced the sentiment of the people for a more liberal electorate, and we regret that he is to withdraw from his executive position.

We cannot too vigorously express our appreciation of the well directed efforts of Congressman Charles L. Knapp during the period he has served our Congressional district in Washington. He has been most attentive to the interests of Oswego County as well as to those of his whole district, and he has rendered our county most valuable and effective service. He has performed a public work and made a record that will be pointed to as an example for succeeding Congressmen to follow.

Now that Mr. Knapp is no longer a candidate, we believe that Oswego County should receive the Congressional nomination. Our great commercial interests entitle us to it.

We are presenting a candidate for that position who is in the prime of life, who is active, energetic and able; a man who can be most useful to the district.

Equity, justice and right appeal for the success of our claim, and we most urgently and respectfully ask the other counties in our Congressional district to assist us in the nomination of Luther W. Mott for Member of Congress.

We commend the official work of Senator George H. Cobb and duly appreciate his tireless efforts in the Senate to serve the interests of Oswego county. At all times he has been courteous to our people and responsive to all just demands, and with him we have pride and satisfaction in his well earned distinction of being the leader of the Senate.

We are proud of the work of Thaddeus C. Sweet, our Member of Assembly. While he has been in Albany only one year, by his constant activity and energy and good judgment he has made an enviable reputation as conservative and useful legislator. His advice on public matters of importance is sought and valued, and his frankness and reliability have made an impression upon the members of the Legislature and the public that will not be eradicated. He has been faithful and loyal to his trust and ever watchful and alert for the interests of our country and his services are highly commended by all.

The marked achievements of the Republican administrations in this State for many years past, meeting the constantly increasing demands of our tremendous growth in population and business, and the ability with which the State's affairs have been conducted, entitle the Republican party to an endorsement by the people at the coming election and to a further continuance in power.

Phoenix Register: Saturday papers were served on M. C. Murgittroyd and T. C. Sweet in an action to recover damages for the death of Mrs. Cooper who was killed in a runaway accident at Baldwinsville a few months ago. The horse which Mrs. Cooper was driving became frightened at an automobile and ran away and Mrs. Cooper was thrown out and fatally injured. It is alleged that Mr. Murgittroyd's auto was the one that frightened the horse causing the runaway. The damages are placed at $25,000. Mrs. Joseph Glines of this village was an occupant of the wagon and was thrown out and severely injured. Mr. Murgittroyd states that he has no recollection of a runaway at the alleged time, and he certainly would have known it had one occurred. From Mr. Murgittroyd's reputation as a careful driver it is very probable that a mistake has been made in the matter. Work is well under way on the flume for the Sweet Brothers new paper mill. ## THADDEUS C. SWEET

The Republicans throughout Oswego county paid high tribute to the Hon. T. C. Sweet when it became impossible to find a candidate to oppose his renomination. Mr. Sweet made one pledge when he received his first nomination for the office and he redeemed it—to represent this whole district in such a manner that each fraction and all parties would feel that he was also its representative. He mapped out a straight, consistent course and unwaveringly followed it. His vote was always recorded right and he established a place in the esteem of the legislators for himself not often vouchsafed a new man. Mr. Sweet was too valuable a representative to become a one term man and his renomination was gratifying to every Republican in the county. That he will bring strength to the entire ticket and secure an unprecedented majority for himself is believed.

LUTHER WRIGHT MOTT

Oswego County has unmistakably voiced her choice of a candidate for the exalted and responsible office of congressman to succeed the Hon. Charles L. Knapp, whose superior service to this district has established a high mark for efficiency and wholehearted activity in the interests of his constituency, regardless of county boundaries. Oswego county has called Mr. Luther W. Mott to assume this grave responsibility, and justice and equity demand that Oswego County's claim be not ignored. Not in years has an Oswego county man held the office of Congressman but so well was she represented by Congressman Knapp that it was not noticed. Now that Congressman Knapp voluntarily retires to private but active life Oswego will press her claim with untiring energy until her choice becomes the choice of the other two counties comprising this 28th District.

PHOENIX WINS FIRST PRIZE

On a track at places almost ankle deep in a sticky clay mud, the Enterprise Hose Company's running team of Phoenix won first money at the horse races conducted in connection with the State Firemen's convention in Watertown last week. The long-legged sprinters covered the 200 yards in 38 3/4 seconds, which included a coupling. Six companies competed. For their fast work the winners carried off $150.

Phoenix residents descended on the men of Enterprise Hose Company, who won the running race at the state convention in Watertown as they got off the train and gave them a reception such as the village has seldom seen. Red fire lighted all of the streets, the band played whistles screamed and men, women and children cheered the returned victors to the last echoes.

The firemen were then taken to the Phoenix Hotel, where a big dinner was spread, and the conquerors were lauded in speeches by officials of the village, including President J. A. Hawkes and prominent citizens.

The same Phoenix team captured the first prize at the Oswego County Firemen's convention held in this city recently.

TO EVADE THE LAW

Cleveland.—A jury of twelve good men and true came to the rescue of the Ohio free lunch brigade in the police court here. They held Patrick H. Gallagher, charged with breaking the Schaefer anti-free lunch law, enacted at the last session of the legislature, not guilty.

Gallagher was arrested last May by a policeman, who found a lunch counter laden with appetizing eatables in full operation at the rear of his barroom. In court to-day Gallagher proved that in order to partake of the pig's feet, roast beef, cheese, crackers and pickles displayed on the counter customers were compelled to deposit a penny at the bar in return for which they were provided with ten tickets each good for a luncheon.

The jury decided that such luncheons are not free.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION

For September
Women are planning their fall wardrobes now and rejuvenating their houses, and the beautiful September issue of the Woman's Home Companion comes to us in the nick of time. Miss Gould, the Fashion Editor, shows all the points of the autumn styles, and a new department, "Home Decoration and Handicraft," will serve as an inspiration for the home lover.

In this issue begins an unusually thrilling story of the stage by Hubert Footner, entitled "True Love." Short stories by Mary Hastings, Annie Hamilton Donnell, and Grace Keon, together with another installment of "Brother's Four," which is drawing to a close, complete an assortment of fiction rarely found in a magazine.

There is also a large reproduction in full color of Jessie Wilcox Smith's painting, "Little Drops of Water," which is another of her charming series illustrating familiar verses of childhood.

Mrs. Burton Harrison relates, in a charming manner, her reminiscences of the famous men and women who have gathered in her drawing-room. "Taking Royalty by Storm," by Amy Sutton Reynier, is a fascinating and vivid account of the Roosevelt's tour in Europe.

WON'T NEED A CRUTCH

When Editor J. P. Soesman, of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for ulcers, boils, burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, pimples, eczema or piles. 25c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

PRESIDENT DECLINES

Will Not Come to the State Fair Next Month
Lieutenant Governor Horace White of Syracuse has received a telegram from Charles D. Norton, secretary to President Taft, stating definitely that the President declines that it will not be possible for him to attend the State fair. Mr. Norton was under the impression that the commission had accepted the President's declination, but wired last night that the acceptance was from Governor Hughes, who, in a letter to the President, said that while the President's declination would be a severe disappointment, he thought that the matter should not be urged upon the President.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

MR. SMITH WILL RESIGN
Announcement is made at Pulaski that Nathan B. Smith recently appointed Deputy Attorney General will resign as referee in bankruptcy about September 1. Mr. Smith will probably be succeeded by Attorney Avery S. Wright of Oswego, who has been warmly endorsed for the position.

LET US HELP YOU

SURROGATE MILLER

APPOINTED RECEIVER

Utica, Aug. 18.—Clayton I. Miller, of Mexico, has been appointed by Judge Ray, of the United States District Court, as the receiver of Frank F. Wiley, the Mexico merchant, who has disappeared, leaving his financial affairs in bad shape. The receiver's bond was fixed at $3,000 and H. A. Landgroff, George Johnson and Frank Ludington have been appointed appraisers.

The receiver has been authorized to continue Wiley's business for the present, but he has been directed not to sell on credit. All creditors are also restrained from suing on their claims.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

Nervous Prostration

"I suffered so with Nervous Prostration that I thought there was no use trying to get well. A friend recommended Dr. Miles' Nerve, and although skeptical at first, I soon found myself recovering, and am to-day well."

MRS. D. I. JONES,
5800 Broadway, Cleveland, O.

Much sickness is of nervous origin. It's the nerves that make the heart force the blood through the veins, the lungs take in oxygen, the stomach digest food, the liver secrete bile and the kidneys filter the blood. If any of these organs are weak, it is the fault of the nerves through which they get their strength. Dr. Miles' Nerve is a specific for the nerves. It soothes the irritation and assists in the generation of nerve force. Therefore you can hardly miss it if you take Dr. Miles' Nerve when sick. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

A recent photograph of the Roosevelt residence, Sagamore Hill, shows a cannon in the foreground. But whether this is a mark of respect for the tariff views of the Speaker of the House or a shooting iron loaded for Col. George Harvey is not explained.

MR. L. W. MOTT'S SPEECH

Mr. L. W. Mott's speech made at the convention held in Pulaski last week, is reproduced below. It is worthy the man of high party deals who made it and was most favorably received.

Mr. Mott said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen—I cannot thank you enough for the honor you have paid me. Whether I am nominated or elected or not, I shall always remember that you Republicans of Oswego County have unambiguously put me forward as your candidate for Congress and I know of no greater honor in your power to confer. I am not ashamed to say that I have worked and sought for this for I believe an office is not worth giving to a man who is not willing to go out and ask for it. I asked the Republicans of this county to endorse my candidacy for this important office of representative in Congress because I stood for certain things, and I believe you have selected me not for personal worth but because you and I believe alike on matters and principles.

I have no aspirations to be a "boss" of any sort, and I much prefer to be a follower of what my fellow Republicans want and believe than to try to be a leader and force my individual views upon them. I believe that a representative in state or national legislatures should represent and not dictate.

Oswego Entitled to Place
Justice and fair play entitle Oswego County to name the candidate for Congress in this district this year. Lewis County men have filled the office with high credit to themselves for many years, and Oswego has year after year voted for them. Jefferson County, associated with us in a senatorial district has the present senator and demands his re-nomination this year. Should not Jefferson County, when we present a unanimous choice of our county for the nomination, turn in and support us? I think so. Oswego County is not seeking a favor, but asking for just and fair recognition, which I believe the other counties will agree is due us.

The County of Oswego has great and material interests at Washington, which demand constant attention. The national government is spending more money every year at Oswego than it costs to maintain the city government. Our harbor is the most important on Lake Ontario, and it must be maintained and improved to take care of a commerce which with the completion of the barge canal will be largely increased. The great hope of Oswego is in the construction of the Niagara Ship Canal, and Oswego should take the lead in a movement to build one. If we do we should and will command the help of the great North-West and of the City of New York which would share in the certain benefits of such a waterway. Our military post at Oswego should be enlarged, and a regiment should be stationed there. The great paper industries at Fulton and along the Oswego River are always vitally interested in tariff legislation, and protection for them with those of a similar character, though greater in value, of the Black River should be cared for at Washington. Oswego like the other two counties of this district has millions of dollars invested in its farms, and a man at Washington must be on constant guard to see that our farmers share in the benefits conferred by the National government.

If I am elected to Congress, I shall consider it my first duty to look after the interests of this county and those of Jefferson and Lewis Counties. I shall try to be the loyal and faithful servant of every man, Republican and Democrat, who lives in the district. No work will be too hard, and no proposition too complex for me to endeavor to accomplish. I shall always try to do my duty first of all to the people who send me to Washington for them.

I owe allegiance to this great Republican party of ours, and its principles I shall loyally support. I shall be proud to have a part, however humble it may be, in the success of the administration of that great President, William H. Taft. I believe it will go down in history as an administration of justice and fairness.

eyond and above duty to party is duty to the country. I believe that on certain great questions, we must sink party differences and unite and be Americans. I have no use for the man who places party above country, for example, the reform of our currency system is a matter of such importance that all parties should unite in attempting a speedy, safe and sound solution. In the past, when war has threatened and has been inevitable, the great men of both parties have stood together and presented a solid front to the foe.

Wants Party Unity
The Republican party of this county should be united. I want to say right here that there is not and never has been a "Mott faction" in this county. We all have our friends and our enemies. If I have had the latter I have forgotten them. In securing your support I have made no pledge and no promise, and no man has a claim on me. The men who call themselves my friends will do the greatest favor in their power to me if they will bury the hatchet, and fight shoulder to shoulder with those who have been opposed to us. If we do this, and do it honestly, we will have a Republican party in Oswego County we can all be proud of. We must not exult in victories over fellow Republicans but regret that they have had to happen.

You know where I stand in regard to the national administration. You well know where I stand with the State administration headed by that man we all admire and respect, Charles E. Hughes. You know what my views are on harmony in the Republican party of this county. I want you to know and believe that I shall always try to be honest and fearless and faithful. Knowing these things, you have seen fit to give me this great honor, and have asked me to be your standard bearer and to fight for this place in Congress which rightly belongs to Oswego county.

You ask me to do what I can to succeed that splendidly efficient representative of ours, Hon. Charles L. Knapp. I accept the trust and ask for your loyal support.

STATE FAIR EXHIBITS

Last Week for Making Entries in the Dairy Products Department of State Fair—Entries in Milk Classes Already Exceed Total Last Year—Many New Features and Classes This Year—Some of the Prizes.

Indications at the beginning of the last week before the entries close in the Dairy Products Department of the State Fair point to the largest exhibit in the history of this Department. The number of entries made in the certified and market milk classes already exceed the total number last year. Many more entries are expected in these classes this week and also in the classes for butter and cheese and there is little doubt in the minds of the officials of the department but that the number of exhibits this year will be greater than ever before.

The reasons why the Dairy Products Department has been so successful in the past and promises to have the largest exhibit in its history this year are not hard to find. Prizes for butter and cheese are offered amounting to $2280.00 and there are twenty-five different classes for butter and cheese. Prizes for certified milk, market milk and cream amount to $250.00. In addition to these money prizes, gold and silver medals are provided for best butter, cheese, milk and cream, and also diplomas of merit for all exhibits scoring 85 or higher. The score obtained on all exhibits of butter and cheese will be sent the exhibitors together with judges' criticisms. A chemical and bacteriological examination will be given each sample of milk and cream, and a report of the findings sent to each exhibitor. It is to be noticed that the certified milk and market milk classes are separate and in the latter every dairy farmer has an opportunity to exhibit.

The new features this year will be the payment at market rates prevailing on date of sale for exhibits of butter of good enough quality to receive a pro rata prize. Exhibits are to be judged before the fair opens and the name, address and county of each point winner together with score will be displayed upon each exhibit during the fair. Of particular interest are the following new classes: Butter Judging Competition, Cheese Judging Competition, and for the Best Prepared Starter. The prize money for these three classes amounts to $175.00. The classes in Butter and Cheese Judging are upon a pro rata basis and prize money will be distributed in proportion to the number of points scored above 85. An excellent opportunity is therefore provided for many in a new field of competition. The Butter Making Competitions are continued this year with $120.00 prize money in the class open to men as compared to $75.00 last year. In the class open to women the prize money has been increased from $75.00 to $100. The Butter Making Competition this year has been placed upon a pro rata basis so anyone scoring above 90 will receive a share of the prize money. There is no doubt but that those who enter these competitions will succeed in winning points and if not will feel themselves well repaid by what they are able to learn.

There is still time for those who have not entered some of the classes to do so. Entries close in the Dairy Products Department of the State Fair on August 27th. Every person who is engaged in making dairy products in New York should consider whether he can afford not to exhibit in one or more classes, thus making an effort to win some of the many awards any one of which it would be an honor to hold.

STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

This exhibit made for the first time at our Fair is worthy of special mention. It came from Canton Experimental grounds, a department of the St. Lawrence University, and supported by the State of New York. Dr. A. G. Hall of the Canton faculty was in charge of the exhibit assisted by two of Volney's young men, Mr. John Gillespie and Mr. David Jewett, who are taking a course of study at this institution. Many samples of grain in the stalk were seen, showing the difference in growth with and without fertilizers. Samples of commercial fertilizers were shown and commented upon but it was recommended that farmers make their own fertilizer thereby saving much expense. A good article is made of nitrate of soda, muriate of potash and acid rock, in differing proportion best adapted to particular soils. A line addressed to the department of Agriculture at Canton will receive prompt attention giving full information concerning the cost of plant food or fertilizer with the simple manner of manufacture.

A sample of the third cutting of alfalfa was shown and much interest was manifested concerning the more general introduction and raising of this prolific crop of feed for milk cows and other animals, which contains so much protein and other nitrogenous substance; also a fresh cutting of buckwheat was shown and recommended as good feed to increase the flow of milk.

A model of the Canton Stock barn was exhibited, the work of ten students, one of which went from Volney. Dr. Hall called attention to the manner of building the floor to guard against heat and cold. Four inches of cement grout; over this three layers of heavy tared paper and covered with two inches more of Portland cement well trowelled down. This exhibit as shown, with the intelligent answers to all questions was of great interest to the Grangers and farmers present and it is hoped can be repeated each annual Fair.

A. B. BLODGETT DEAD

The passing away of Andrew Burr Blodgett, Superintendent of Syracuse Schools and educator and executive well known throughout the State, which occurred at a hospital on Friday morning following an operation for appendicitis from the effects of which he appeared to be steadily gaining, came as a great shock to the friends of education in all sections of the State. The deceased had no peer in his particular line of work and had written many books on educational work which were considered authority on the subjects presented.

OLD MEXICO

September Will Be a Continual Fiesta—Centennial of Independence.

Washington — September will be one continuous holiday throughout the republic of Mexico, as the swarthy inhabitants of that rising little country have set aside the time to celebrate the centennial of their independence.

It will be just 100 years ago that Father Miguel Hidalgo, Mexico's first and greatest champion of liberty, organized the revolt against the mother country which ultimately resulted in Mexico's freedom and the death of that brave patriot, and the promoters of the centennial have planned some event for every day in the month to honor the brave men who died in the cause of liberty.

Monuments will be unveiled, new public buildings will be dedicated; there will be parades and bull fights, literary and athletic contests as well as banquets and receptions.

Every civilized country in the world with which Mexico maintains diplomatic relations will be represented at the centennial, and foreign warships will lie at anchor in the harbors of both coasts.

The United States will be represented by a special ambassador, former Governor Curtis Guild of Massachusetts and a commission composed of Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles, Alexander Rook of Pittsburgh and Justice Gerard of the Supreme Court of New York.

France, Germany and China have signified their intention of presenting a lasting memorial to Mexico on the occasion of the centennial. The first will return the silver keys to Mexico City given to the French on the entry into the capital, Germany will erect a monument to Humboldt and China is preparing a surprise.

The celebration will be formally opened on September 1 by President Diaz with the dedication of a new general insane asylum at Mexico.

On the following day a hygiene exposition will be opened under the auspices of the Superior Board of Health, which will remain open during the entire month.

One of the biggest days in the celebration will be September 16. It was on this day in the year 1810 that Aldama, a Mexican patriot, arrived at the home of Father Hidalgo in Dolores and informed the priest and his friend Allende that the conspiracy against the Spanish government had been discovered.

The fighting priest immediately arose and exclaimed: "Gentlemen, we are lost; there is no recourse, but to attack the Spaniards." This was the beginning of the revolution, which resulted in the execution of the brave priest on July 31, 1811.

This patriot's memory will be fittingly celebrated on the sixteenth by the dedication of a monument to independence on the Paseo de la Reforma by President Diaz, at which time the proclamation of independence will be read.

WINS FIGHT FOR LIFE

Carl Coit Goes to Adirondacks After Two Years' Fight to Recuperate

Oswego Times

Many Oswego friends will be pleased to know that Carl Coit, son of the Rev. Olin B. Coit, formerly pastor of Trinity M. E. church, of this city, who was so severely injured in the Adirondacks two years ago, is on his way to recovery. Mr. Coit went into the woods again on Saturday.

Two years ago one of those "deer hunters," who go into the woods every Fall and shoot at any and every twig that snaps without seeing their quarry, sent a load of heavy buckshot into Mr. Coit's hip, shattering the socket and tearing the flesh and muscles into shreds. Coit was carried out of the woods on an improvised stretcher to Potsdam, from where he was rushed on a special train to the hospital at Ogdensburg, where Doctor Madill set to work to save the limb. Success crowned his efforts, and, after many weeks, Mr. Coit was removed to a hospital in New York, where the family now resides. For nearly two years he was confined to a hospital cot, but he is now able to walk with the aid of a cane. Although the bone was shattered, the leg was so stitched together that he is able to use it remarkably well and he is in the woods to recuperate. (Mr. Coit is a relative of Mrs. Coit of this city.)

OSWEGO DEFEATS FULTON

On Monday evening the Oswego whist club took the Fulton contingent into camp by a score that we will not publish. It would be too harrowing to the feelings of the Fultonians to have posterity read the record achieved at the games played in the Citizens club rooms upon this occasion.

Suffice it to say that it is the first defeat the Fulton men have met at the hands of the windy city opponents in many years and it is generally believed that the game was given the visitors out of courtesy and to put new enthusiasm into the players. At the conclusion of the contest the players repaired to the Clark House where a supper was enjoyed alike by victors and vanquished.

Those who participated in the games were: C. A. Tanner, H. J. Peables, H. M. Wallace, O. F. Gaylord, W. H. Pulver, George Wilcox and George Davis of Oswego, C. M. Allen, J. R. Fairgrieve, G. G. Chauncey, G. C. Webb, F. D. Van Wagenen and B. W. Bennett of Fulton.

BARGE CANAL CONTRACTS

Albany—The Superintendent of Public Works will receive bids on September 7th for three additional contracts for large canal work, namely, contracts Nos. 22, 37 and 50. Contract No. 22 is for the construction of highway bridges over the Oswego river between Cold Spring and Free Bridge; contract No. 37, for improving the Oswego canal between Fulton and Oswego, and contract No. 50 for the construction of a reservoir and dam on West Canada Creek at Hinchley.

At 8 o'clock last Saturday night Wells & Beckwith closed their guessing contest on the large bottle of pennies which was exhibited in their window the past week. The pennies created a great deal of comment there being quite a diversity of opinion regarding the amount. The guesses ranged from 340 to 10,000,000. No one guessed the exact amount. There were 1387 pennies in the jar. Mr. Chas. Theibauer of Hastings guessed 1876, which was the nearest guess.

TWO KILLED BY CARS

Two prominent society people of Syracuse dead, a Syracuse University Professor lying injured in a Geneva hospital, the chauffeur partially injured and the 7-passenger touring car a wreck is the total result of a collision between a flyer on the Lehigh Valley railroad and an automobile at 4:45 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at a point near Caywood.

The party was composed of Prof. Edgar A. Emens, his wife, his sister, Miss Martha Emens of Fayetteville and the chauffeur.

Mrs. Emens, who was prominent in Syracuse society, left Syracuse with her husband and the chauffeur in the automobile Wednesday for a tour in the Kenka lake district, planning to spend some time at Prof. Emens' former home at Kenka.

Thursday they left the summer home of Prof. Emens' brother, Olin E. Emens, at Varick, for a trip to Penn Yan, Keuka lake, Watkins and intermediate points. They left Watkins Sunday and arranged to take supper with another brother, Frederick Emens, of Fayette. They had been enjoying a pleasant afternoon ride and were in the best of spirits as they traveled along the smooth road parallel to the Lehigh Valley tracks for a considerable distance.

There is a long stretch where the highway and railroad tracks are only a short distance apart, and at the crossing where the catastrophe occurred the highway goes over the railroad at a slant. None in the car knew that the flyer, known as No. 1, was tearing along over the rails at a speed estimated at seventy miles an hour, with the speed of the auto estimated at fifty. As the crossing was approached Mr. Klines slowed down the car and turned to cross the tracks. The forward wheels and middle section of the machine got over safely and in another instant the car would have cleared the rails.

Then, with a terrific crash, the track train of the Lehigh Valley system smashed into the rear right wheel of the auto. In a twinkling the four persons were hurled into the air. The automobile was as nothing in the path of the heavy train and locomotive, and was landed many feet from the rails. The occupants of the machine were scattered in all directions.

The women struck on their heads and their skulls were fractured. Mrs. Emens' neck was broken, and Miss Emens also had her nose and both legs broken. Her face was terribly bruised and lacerated. The train was stopped as quickly as possible and the crew and passengers rushed to the assistance of the injured. Medical aid was summoned. Mrs. Emens, Miss Emens and Prof. Emens were placed aboard the train, and on its arrival at Lodi, Dr. James S. Carman of Interlaken was taken aboard, and they were started with all possible speed for Geneva. The two women lived but a few minutes, and Dr. Carman turned his attention to Prof. Emens, who had been picked up unconscious. A hasty examination failed to reveal any serious injuries, but he suffered greatly from the shock, and although his wife and sister were in the same car he did not revive sufficiently on the 30-mile ride to Geneva to realize they were dead, and Dr. Knickerbocker, at the Geneva City Hospital, did not deem it wise to inform him of their death until he was past all danger from the shock of the collision.

Mrs. Emens was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Suydam of Oswego street, Baldwinsville, and since her first marriage to Dr. C. P. Clarke, she had been prominent socially in Syracuse. She was also well known to many of our residents.

For a number of years Prof. Emens has spent part of each summer at his old home at Fayette. His sister, Miss Martha Emens, was about 28 years old and resided at that place. She leaves, besides Prof. Emens, three brothers, Supervisor Olin E. Emens of Seneca Falls, Frederick Emens of Fayette, Superintendent of the Cayuga and Seneca canals, and Albert Emens of Victor, Col.

EXPENSES FOR CANDIDATES

Whether Nominated or Not They Must File Statements Under New Law

A letter has been issued by Republican State Chairman Woodruff, calling attention to the new election law that requires candidates for nomination to file expense accounts in the same manner that candidates for election have been filing them for the past few years. The letter says:

Your attention is respectfully called to chapter 429 of the laws of 1910, entitled "an act to amend the election law" in relation to the expenditure of money in connection with primary elections.

Under its provisions a candidate for nomination, or a committee formed to aid or to take part in the election or defeat of a candidate for nomination at a primary election or convention must file a statement of all expenses for such purposes.

These statements must be filed within 20 days after the primary or convention, and the place of filing is the same as for filing statements of candidates at the election, viz.:

Candidates for nomination for office to be filled by the electors of the entire State, or any division or district thereof greater than a county shall file their statements in the office of the secretary of the state.

Candidates for nomination for town, village, and city offices, excepting the city of New York, shall file their statements in the office of the town, village or city clerk respectively, and in cities where there is no city clerk, with the clerk of the Common Council. Candidates for nomination for all other offices, including all offices in the city and county of New York, shall file their statements in the office of the clerk of the county wherein the election occurs unless the county has a commissioner of elections, in which case candidates shall file their statements in the office of such commissioner of elections.

This law applies to all candidates for nominations, whether successful or otherwise, and the candidate failing to file such statement is guilty of a misdemeanor. I hope that no candidate for nomination at any Republican primary or convention will fail to comply with this requirement, and as chairman of the Republican State Committee, earnestly request your co-operation in securing its enforcement.

BARGE CANAL WORK

PROGRESSING

Contractor McDermott has been doing considerable preparatory work toward commencing the real barge canal construction work from Rochester street corner to the electric light station and now the work has commenced in earnest. Two large electric pumps have been placed at the rear of the Waldhorn block to pump the water from the canal at the point where the coffer dam collapsed last Fall. As soon as the water can be pumped out work will be resumed at this point.

At Rochester street and toward the upper bridge, the work is progressing in a satisfactory manner and unless some unforeseen accident occurs a considerable amount of progress will be made before severe winter weather puts a stop to the work.

AVERY S. WRIGHT SELECTED

Attorney Avery S. Wright of Oswego, junior member of the firm of M. L. and A. S. Wright of Oswego has received a letter from George W. Ray, United States District Judge for the district which appoints him to his position as Referee in Bankruptcy for this county.

In this letter Judge Ray states that he has received the resignation of N. B. Smith of Pulaski, to take effect on the 12th of September and that he has directed that an appointment be made out naming Mr. Wright as Mr. Smith's successor. This appointment however is not to take effect until the 12th of September.

Mr. Wright is one of the best known of the younger members of the Oswego County Bar and to which he was admitted seven years ago. His appointment to this position is a very popular one.

HAS ERECTED FLAG POLE

Sidney Shepherd, who is said to be the wealthiest man in Oswego County, has just erected in his grounds in New Haven a steel liberty pole, being in two sections, two and one half feet in diameter at the base and one hundred and fifty feet tall with a gilded ball weighing eighty pounds on top, and just below it a weather vane with the points of compass. Pulleys and hal-yards for hoisting the star spangled banner. A basket can be attached to hoist a sailor up to regulate things skywards. It is said the expense was two thousand dollars.

S. D. G.

For the past two years the center of attraction in the main building at the Oswego County Fair was the barrel of ice water furnished by Wells & Beckwith, the Cash Shoe dealers of this city. A great many people have expressed their appreciation for this boon by patronizing the firm. When you need shoes in the future, think of the cup of cold water they gave you at the fair and show your appreciation by giving them your patronage.

OSWEGO COUNTY EXCITEMENT

Oswego County has had its full share of excitement during the past week in the shape of an over-bold horse thief and elopement.

Deputy Sheriff Byron Curtis of Central Square early on Sunday morning received a telephone message to the effect that a strangely behaving man had driven into a barn belonging to Frederick Hastings near Hastings and it was believed that he was the man wanted in Oswego and Jefferson counties for horse stealing. The deputy sheriff drove hurriedly to the scene, surrounded the barn with a posse of farmers and then started in to locate the stranger. He found his man asleep in the hay and a lively scrap was about to commence when the deputy told his prisoner that he was under arrest charged with horse thieving.

The hand cuffs were brought into play and the man who gave his name as Frederick Daniels of Mexico, but who is also known as Fred Thomas, has been held to await the action of the Grand Jury, being lodged in the jail at Oswego pending the decision of that body. The horse which Daniel's was driving had been stolen from the barn of a farmer named C. F. Streeter in New Haven last Thursday.

The 16-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mowrey of Pulaski and Glade Rosenkrantz, a 2-year old employee in the Pulaski Table Works mysteriously disappeared from that village on Saturday and the parents of the girl, who is very pretty and quite popular with her schoolmates, have secured information to the effect that they left on Sunday for Canada for the purpose of getting married. The girls parents did not look with favor upon the acquaintance which had existed between the couple for the past year, owing to the age of the girl, and they are nearly prostrated with grief at the elopement although it is probable that they will forgive the pair upon their return to their home.

PRISON EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

Asylums Also to Be Represented at Syracuse Event.

Department of Health Will Give the Public Information as to "Fight Against Contagious Diseases—Tuberculosis Campaign to Be a Feature of the Display."

The State institutions building furnished one of the very strong features of the state fair last year, and Commissioner of Agriculture Jaymond A. Pearson, who is in charge of this department, has secured another interesting line of exhibits for the exposition next month to let the public know what the state departments and institutions are doing.

Samples of work accomplished, photographs, drawings and pamphlets will be used in enlightening thousands of visitors to the fair in regard to institutions about which little is known by the general public. These exhibits will be quartered in one of the magnificent new fair buildings completed last year.

An exhibit by the lunacy commission will illustrate in a forcible way how the feeble minded are given useful employment. Attendants will describe the methods employed in interesting the patients, who finally take pride in doing work well. This kind of treatment of the insane carries out the principle that the patient must be made to forget himself or herself by becoming interested in a useful occupation.

The Craig colony for epileptics at Sonoma, Livingston county, will have an exhibit, including needlework and agricultural products, to show what these more or less helpless people are doing. There will be an interesting exhibit from the Thomas Indian school at Iroquois, Erie county, showing the handicraft of the Indian boys and girls at that institution.

The forest, fish and game commission, which has for years contributed an interesting feature of the fair, promises an exhibit on a more elaborate scale. There will be a number of aquariums, containing the different varieties of game fish propagated at state hatcheries for the restocking of lakes and streams, and glass cases will contain mounted specimens of the game birds of the state. The different kinds of wood in state forests will be shown, and pamphlets will tell of the state's riches over which this commission has control.

The department of health will let the public know more about its fight against contagious diseases, and advantage will be taken of the fair crowds in extending the campaign for checking the spread of tuberculosis.

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH Ely's Cream Balm

It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in atomizers 75 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

There will be an exhibit by the prison commission of a line of articles manufactured at the prisons, showing the efficiency of the system under which convict labor is directed. The department of education, the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University and the State Veterinary college will be represented. Many of the institutions will have new features which are sure to catch the interest of the crowds.

NEW JUVENILE BOOK

Mrs. Minnie Seamans Peck of Pultusk, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Seamans of Oneida street, has just completed a volume of fairy stories for children entitled, "Jack Frost and the Shriners," the manuscript of which has recently been completed and placed in the hands of the printer by the authors.

The proposed volume will contain upward of 150 pages and will be profusely illustrated, the drawings being executed by Mrs. Peck, who is an artist of note. Included in the volume will be a true story, "A Bird's Eye View," which will be profusely illustrated.

A few years ago Mrs. Peck issued a neat little book, handsomely illustrated and entitled "The Doings of the Pansy Family," which had a large sale. The new book will make its appearance in a few weeks and will doubtless meet with a large sale. Mrs. Peck, in addition to being an authoress is a gifted artist, a number of her paintings in oil and water colors being among the exhibits at the Saday Creek fair. She is also an educator and this year will be a member of the faculty of the Sandy Creek High school.

PARKER'S AEROPLANE

Parker's aeroplane that failed to aero, was the big noise at the Onondaga county fair last week and the tent which contained the flightless monster was surrounded by a curious throng during every day of the fair. It seems that the reason why the machine did not fill the birds with envy was that the propellers were too heavy, some of the parts of the machine must be made from aluminum and there are other things the matter, but Mr. Parker expresses the highest belief that his machine may yet navigate the air and bring its inventor much of the coin of the realm.

DAN DARLEIGH'S INVENTION

Dan Darleigh, the former theatrical star, has left the ranks of the Theatricals and taken up the profitable and congenial occupation of an inventor. His latest idea is an automatic door opener for double doors. The new Hippodrome theatre doors have been equipped with the device. It is a long iron rod about six inches wide and extends across the middle panel. In order to open the doors all one has to do is to give the rod a slight push. It is a good idea and will undoubtedly prove very profitable. Mr. Darleigh has just been granted a patent on the device and will install them in several theatres.

START OF AN AUTOMOBILE RACE AT THE STATE FAIR AND SOME OF THE FAMOUS DRIVERS WHO WILL COMPETE IN THIS YEAR'S RACES.

SPEED CARNIVAL LASTS SIX DAYS

Turf Kings and Queens Meet at Fair.

Famous Drivers of Country Sign Contracts to Appear—Car Which Established World's Record Will Be Seen, Intercity Matinee an Unusual Feature.

Opening with the grand circuit race meeting which will bring together the fastest harness horses of the year and ending with automobile races in which some of the world's most daring and famous drivers will compete, the "carnival of speed" arranged for the state fair, Syracuse, Sept. 12-17, will eclipse anything of its kind ever seen in this country. The state fair commission has crowded into six days enough variety to the speed line to satisfy all tastes.

It is recognized that the state fair mile track—one of the fastest circular tracks in the world—forms the important link of the famous "big ring," which extends from the western states to New England and furnishes racing between the greatest equine kings and queens that wear harness. This year, with one $10,000 stake—the established Empire State—and another the value of which is likely to exceed $10,000 and an entry promising the hottest kind of competition, the meet, backed by the state of New York, is very likely to prove the banner meeting of the grand circuit.

For the week of racing the state offers over $50,000, the largest sum ever hung up, but this does not mean that it will cost the state that much, as the entrance money, always large at a grand circuit meeting, will go a long way toward paying the purses.

The grand circuit program will open with the Ka-noo-ne stake for three-year-old trotters eligible to the 2:25 class, and there will be the Syracuse stake for 2:12 pacers, the 2:38 pace and the 2:18 trot.

On Tuesday will be seen the first futurity ever trotted at the state fair. It will be the trotting division of the Horse World Stallion Representative stake for foals of 1901, and it will bring out the greatest three-year-olds in the country. The pacing division will form one of the feature attractions on Wednesday. In addition to the Horse World stake on Tuesday, there will be the rich Empire State stake, for which there were thirty-two nominations and which is sure to have a big field of starters; the Onondaga stake for 2:30 pacers and the 2:18 pace.

The grand circuit program on Wednesday

nesday will include, besides the Horse World stake, the Chamber of Commerce stake for 2:00 trotters, the 2:15 pace and the 2:21 trot. On Thursday there will be the 2:38 trot, the 2:04 pace and the 2:06 trot and on Friday the 2:11 trot, the 2:11 pace and the 2:15 trot.

And there will be more racing for horse lovers who visit the fair. For a second time Syracuse has been designated for the intercity matinee, the one event of the year, which brings together the amateur reinmen of the large cities included in the League of Amateur Driving Clubs, and these races, which are to four wheeled speed wagons as light as skis, will be sandwiched in with the grand circuit races. Many prominent men in the horse world will be present, including C. K. G. Billings of Chicago, owner of Uhlan, which placed the world's trotting record to wagon at 1:58 1/2, at the recent Cleveland meeting; Lieutenant Governor Horace White and Ernest I. White of Syracuse, the latter the owner of Baron Alcyon, winner last year of the $35,000 American Derby; Frank Jones of Memphis, owner of Doodle Archdale, the best stake trotter, and The Abbe, the best stake pacer in the grand circuit this year, and Harry K. Devereux of Cleveland, president of the League of Amateur Driving Clubs and owner of many stars of the trotting track. It is considered likely that during the meeting Uhlan will be driven by Mr. Billings in an effort to lower the world's trotting record to wagon.

Lovers of the thoroughbred will find something in the race program arranged for their special entertainment. On each of the first five days of the week there will be a running race, and the jockeys, in gay riding jackets and caps, will be required to parade their mounts in the stretch before the start.

Saturday will be given up entirely to automobile and motorcycle races. Barney Oldfield, George Robertson, Benjamin Kercher and Ralph De Palma, world famed drivers of powerful motorcars, will participate in the meet, and it is promised by C. Arthur Benjamin of Syracuse, who has the races in charge, that the sport will be the most sensational ever seen at the fair. Oldfield will give an exhibition, with the $15,000 racing car in which he set a world's record of a mile in 27.23 seconds.

One of the most thrilling events of the day will be a three cornered race for ten miles between Oldfield, Robertson and De Palma. There will be a score of other events, trials against time, in which miles will be negotiated in fifty seconds, and two big races for motorcycles.

Robertson, Oldfield and De Palma are recognized as the leading racing men of recent years. All are Vanderbilt cup winners, and all have had scores of hairbreadth escapes from death. The state fair management will take every precaution in the preparation of the track and the handling of the crowd to guard against a repetition of the accident of 1903, when the machine driven by Berpin, the Frenchman, jumped the course in the stretch and plowed through fifty feet of fence. Vermin would have made the mile in 51 seconds but for the accident, the officials said.

To negotiate a circular mile track in one minute is a thrilling and a dangerous performance. There will be many faster miles at the state fair. The ranks of motorcar drivers have been thinned in recent years by accidents. It does not lie in the power of the management to prevent the bursting of a tire or the breaking of a part of the machine, which might hurt the driver and his mechanician to instant death. But it can provide a hard, firm track, free from the blinding dust which has been responsible for many accidents.

And all the while this racing is going on Glenn H. Curtiss' aeroplane will be flying overhead. It will be a great week for lovers of speed.

Jalousie of His Game.

Philip II. of Spain could play chess amiably enough as long as he won. Like so many of us, but woe to the indiscreet player who checkmated his majesty. Banishment from court was the least penalty he might expect. One of the most powerful grandees of Spain after playing with the king returned home and thus greeted his family: "My children, we have nothing more to do at court. There we must henceforth expect no favor. The king is offended because I have won every game of chess."

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health.

Where constipation, liver derangement, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help.

They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and diarrhea. ## LIFE

The great "IF" in Life.

The most pathetic thing in life is that fatal "IF" which seems to stand between so many folk and their happiness.

Fortunately for YOU there is no "IF" in your life-work.

Interviews with carefully selected prospects ALWAYS HAVE produced commissions and ALWAYS WILL.

THE MORE THE INTERVIEWS THE MORE THE COMMISSIONS. This is no theory or hypothesis but is a positive, conclusive, changeless REALITY in our business.

"IF" is happily eliminated from YOUR life-problem.

Delays are Dang rous. Don't put off taking that policy to some future date or you may leave an "IF" before your memory instead of a substantial support for your family.

KINGSFORDS GIVE RIGHT OF WAY

The last necessary link to complete the right of way for the Syracuse, Lakeshore & Northern Railroad company, was secured from the Kingsford estate last week and it is now a certainty that the trolley will be completed and in operation between this city and Oswego before the holidays.

On all the easements and rights of way which have been given the railway through the Country Club the width is specified at fifty feet. Across the Kingsford property the road will have just room enough to build two tracks.

Some time ago the contractors for the railroad company started in grading for the right of way through the Kingsford farm, but work was abandoned when Mr. Kingsford made an objection. Now that the matter has been amicably adjusted it is said that the work there will be resumed and pushed to completion. This means, the railroad officials say, that cars will be running between Oswego and Syracuse by the 16th of November. Through this city the line will cross the lower bridge.

The overhead construction on the Kingsford farm will be an ornamental arch of monolithic concrete.

HAS FULTON A HIGHWAYMAN?

An employee of the Bradley Contracting company named Larkin claims to have been felled in North First street late on Friday night and his pocket picked of $25 which he had at the time. Larkin upon becoming conscious asked two acquaintances to accompany him to his boarding place in North First street as he was too frightened by the occurrence to go alone. He could give no description of his assailants. So far the alleged assault and robbery have not been reported to the police.

Nine of the forty-one received the rank of hospital apprentice, first class. Mr. Lewis thus gets the rank of petty officer and is commended in the August issue of the "Fleet Review," a naval publication, for his rapid advancement. He enlisted at Syracuse, July 28th, 1909. START OF A MOTORCYCLE RACE AT THE STATE FAIR.

EQUINE ARISTOCRATS.

Big Show Horse Stables Will Be Represented at Fair.

New York state is the only state in the Union holding a real up to date horse show. Ten thousand dollars are appropriated for premiums for breeders and owners of every type of horse and pony. New York, like other states, encourages the breeding of good farm and draft horses, but is the only state conducting a horse show along the lines of the great shows of the world, like the National of America at Madison Square Garden and the International at Olympia, London.

The exhibition at the fair in September will bring out many of the show horse stables which are represented each year at Newport, Long Branch and other big shows of the east. Members of the equine aristocracy will be seen in competition for ribbons and premiums in heavy harness and under saddle. As in past years, the jumping and hunter classes have filled well and will again furnish a spectacular feature of the exhibition. The horse show ring is located within the mile race track directly in front of the great grand stand, with a seating capacity of 10,000, and the judging of the show horses will go on while the races are in progress.

STORK FROM GERMANY.

New Exhibit Planned For Poultry Department of Fair.

Commissioner Charles A. Wiering has planned a novel and an interesting exhibit for the poultry department of the state fair. In an artificial pond in the center of the Poultry building will be seen a great many varieties of wild fowl, including canvasbacks, black mallards and wood ducks and several kinds of geese and swans, the desire being to give the public a chance to see how these birds appear in the wild state; also there will be a family of storks, birds seldom exhibited in this country. The storks are now on the way from Germany, being brought to this country expressly for the state fair exhibit.

Not far from the wild fowl will be a phantasmagoria with all the varieties of pheasants that have been imported from several countries. Several inclosures will be arranged about the building for some of the smaller wild animals. A den will be provided for red foxes, and a family of opossums will have a temporary home in an old hollow tree. There will be many wild animals as they appear in their native haunts.

VETERANS TO MEET.

Annual Reunion of Iron Brigade to Be Held at Fair.

Veterans from all parts of the state will be at the state fair this year to attend the annual reunion of the "Iron brigade" of the civil war. This famous regiment, which engaged in some of the hardest fighting of the civil war, had about 1,400 men, and a good percentage of those living will join the reunion, it is stated by G. A. R. men.

The event has been fixed for Thursday of fair week, which has been designated Greater New York and mill-tary day. The "Iron brigade" was composed of the Brooklyn Fourteenth, the Second U. S. sharpshooters and the Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth and Thirtieth New York volunteers, but the attendance will not be limited to members of these companies. A general invitation has been extended to all veterans of the state to take part in the services, which will be held in the new garage building completed last year.

The Roman Tribunes.

The tribunes in ancient Rome represented the people in much the same way that the house of commons does in England and the house of representatives in this country. For a long time the patricians or aristocrats of Rome had everything their own way. But when the plebeians (or, as we would say, the "plain people") got their tribunes the reckless tyranny of the patricians ceased. The tribunes had great power. He could veto almost any act and nullify almost any law passed by the Romans. Liberty among the Romans dates from the time they first secured their tribunes.—New York American.

"The villain! He told me he would never take another trip."—Houston Post.

BAD AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

While enroute from Redfield to Sandy Creek Fair on Thursday an automobile driven by a man named Hallenbeck of Redfield and containing four young people, turned turtle as it pulled to the roadside to pass a team and the occupants were all quite painfully injured. One young lady suffered a fractured leg, her sister a sprained ankle, one of the young men a sprained ankle and the other received a cut on the cheek which laid the face open to the bone.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. George E. Stockwell, Ph. D., will preach at the First Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday morning on "Christian Citizenship." At noon the Brotherhood Class have a Rally and Reunion in their rooms with a special program of music and other features. In the evening the monthly Brotherhood Public will be held in the auditorium. Special music will be furnished by the men of the Brotherhood and the pastor will deliver an address to men on "A Man Hunt."

LONDON THEATERS.

They Charge From a Penny to Sixpence For a Bill of the Play.

At the London theaters when the young woman shows you to a seat she asks if you wish a program. If you do you pay sixpence in the orchestra or dress circle for a program hand-some printed on fine paper. The price ranges down through "Whisper" and "Tuppence" as the galleries ascend to a penny in the cockpit. The quality of paper and the general artistic merit of the program decline with the price, but exactly the same information is conveyed for a penny as for sixpence. The fastidious theater goer might prefer to pay a dime for a neat and simple program rather than to have a bulky bunch of advertisements gratis, as in New York, but these London programs, although not so thick as those of New York, are not devoid of advertisements. This gives the purchaser the feeling that he is being worked at both ends. A lady reminds me, however, that a program in a New York theater costs her 10 cents, as the smelly printing runs off on her white gloves, the cleaning of which costs a dime.

The quality of the performance at the better London theaters certainly averages no higher than that at similar theaters in New York. The music halls are the resort of the great middle class. These are great auditoriums with tier on tier of galleries, the seating capacity ranging perhaps from 3,000 to 5,000.—London Letter in New York Sun.

A Bluffer.

"How does that young man impress you?"
"Not at all. I never take kindly to a young man who wraps a twenty dollar bill around a couple of ones and then insists upon displaying the bank roll."—Exchange.

BAND CONCERTS A FEATURE.

American Band of Forty Pieces Will Be Heard at Fair.

Music lovers who plan to attend the state fair will be interested in the announcement from commission headquarters at Syracuse that Pryor's famous American band of forty pieces, recognized as one of the leading musical organizations in the country, will be heard at the fair in band concerts daily.

Arthur Pryor, a leader of exceptional ability, has appeared before the critical audiences of all the large cities of the country. He has surrounded himself with artists of the highest class, as will be appreciated by the solos which will form features of the program.

A good part of the entertainment will be on an operatic scale never surpassed at an open air concert, it is promised. The program will also include many extremely popular numbers by the modern day composers. The first concert will be given in the court between the new buildings, beginning at 10 a. m., and in the afternoon the organization will be heard in the race paddock.

TRICKY ART DEALERS.

Artists Parolan Scheme For Booming a "New Master."

For the booming of a new artist an astute dealer is necessary. He catches his artist as young as possible, preferably as an exhibitor of crazy canvases at the autumn salon of the independents' exhibition, and commissions him to paint 100 pictures a year.

One by one, occasionally in twos and threes, at fabulous intervals the dealer sends the pictures to the Hotel Drouot for sale by public auction. There he has confederates, who raise the price at each sale, and he buys them in himself.

After a few months the young artist's canvases have a certain market value, and the next step is taken to turn their painter into a modern master. The critics are attacked. One of them is asked to look at some dumb, and when he cries out with horror the dealer says:

"What? You don't like it? Take it home with you as a favor to me, live with it six months and then!"

In due course an art amateur calls upon the critic and cannot contain his admiration for the new artist's picture.

"What a masterpiece! The most modern thing in art I have seen for a long time!" he exclaims.

Doubt begins to invade the critic's mind, and when one or two more enthusiastic amateurs have visited him he is worked up to writing a column of panegyric on the new master. The amateurs are, of course, sent by the dealer.

One or two articles and the boom is in full swing. Wealthy and simple minded collectors, remembering how other painters have been decried in their early days and how their works later have commanded fancy prices, rush in.

The new master makes about 10 per cent of the profit, and the dealer the other 90 per cent. The new master is at the mercy of the dealer. If he grumbles the dealer floods the auction rooms with a hundred or so of his masterpieces, and orders his agents not to bid, the result being that the canvases sell at rubbish prices, and the boom is burst.—C. H. Rice.

The Mississippi of Streets.
A street is like a river, with its human current carrying all manner of drift between its banks of residences or shops on either side. And if this simile be appropriate then New York's Broadway is the Mississippi of streets. Probably no other avenue in the world presents so many contrasts in the human and human life as this thoroughfare to the Battery. Every type of humanity—uprooted saplings from farms and orchards, proud bulled craft in silks and satins—may be described in the surging mass. Banker and boot-black, the swaggering swell and the draggled derelict, walk shoulder to shoulder—rush, rather, for Broadway is a maelstrom, the embodiment of New York's bustle and hurry, the place where nothing can stand still. Richard Harding Davis once said that everybody "seems to be trying to reach the bank to have a check cashed before 3 o'clock."—George Seibel in Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Customs and Habits.
Our customs and habits are like the rats in roads. The wheels of life set into them, and we jog along through the mire because it is too much trouble to get out of them.

Why She Didn't.
New Employer—But why did you leave your last mistress? New Maid—Evidently. Did you expect me to bring her along with me?—Cleveland Leader.

FALSE AND UNFAIR

The Saturday Liberal News of Watertown which has just survived the pangs of parturition has taken upon itself the burden of attacking most everybody in the public eye at present in this Congressional district, if the person be a Republican, so the supposition naturally arises that the "Liberal" (?) News is a Democratic sheet. In its Saturday edition the News took occasion to pay very particularly untrue and unfair attention to Mr.
L. W. Mott, Oswego County's candidate for the Congressional nomination, and in the article it made many statements entirely at variance with the truth regarding Oswego county, showing an ignorance most lamentable on the part of its aspiring editors.

It is not believed that the paper will long survive the close of the present political campaign, its existence purpose so evidently being political and nothing else. Such papers rarely find a permanent niche for themselves in the realms of journalism. They may do a little harm to an honest cause for a little time but their influence is soon spent, except as the vile deeds they do and the untruths they tell return as boomerangs in the shape of libel suits, etc., to the speeders.

Not at All Ghy.

"And does your dolly cry 'mammy' when she is squeezed?" asked the visitor.
"No, indeed," responded little Bea etc. "My dolly is not so slow as that Why, she has been to the seashore three seasons."—Chicago News.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

Friendship's Tribute.

Gladys—Did you see what the society column of the Daily Bread said about Nin Gillard the other morning? "She moves with ease and grace in our most exclusive circles." May-helle—Yea, I read it. It's dead certain that the editor who wrote that had never seen her on roller skates.—
Chicago Tribune.

The Exception.

Attorney—Ignorance of the law excuses no one.
Client—Except, of course, a lawyer.

GRANULATED SORE EYES CURED

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky.
"In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by all dealers

Queer Collateral.

"Here is a fact as strange as it is true," said an Egyptologist. "Mummies in ancient Egypt were used chiefly as collateral."

"When an Egyptian wanted to borrow he gave his father's or grandfather's mummy as security. Sometimes, if he required a large sum, he gave his father and both grandfathers, and he would even throw in the mummy of his mother-in-law if she fortunately happened to be in a mummified
state."

"Joking aside," the Egyptologist continued, "what I tell you is the truth.
An Egyptian was not permitted to borrow without pledging the mummy of some near relative. It was deemed in Egypt both impious and infamous not to redeem so sacred a pledge as that, and he who died with a family mummy still in pawn was himself buried in unconsecrated ground."—Chaster's Englishman

PRESIDENT HELPS ORPHANS

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female com-
Pharmacy.

Not That Kind.

"Now, Jim, I want you to go to Mrs.
Gadsby's bridge party this evening and play with her as long as she wants you to."

"But I detest Mrs. Gadsby and her chatter. Besides, she cheats."

"No matter. You stay."

"That's hard. Isn't it to be a case of can't-leave-her-bridge?"—Baltimore American.

TOOK ALL HIS MONEY

Often all a man earns goes to doctors or for medicines, to cure a Stomach, Liver or Kidney trouble that Dr. King's New Life Pills would quickly cure at slight cost. Best for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Jaundice, Malaria and Debility. 25c at the Red Cross
Pharmacy.

Another Matter.

"I tell you, my boy, I stand on my rights. I believe a man should be the master in his own house."

"Of course; that's all right. But what I want to know is if you are allowed to smoke in the parlor?"—Baltimore American.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Oranges.

Oranges are a most valuable fruit.
Orange juice allays thirst and with few exceptions is well borne by the weakest stomach. It is also a laxative, and if taken at night or before breakfast it will be found most beneficial.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.
They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all dealers.

Against His Convictions.

"Have some of this Welsh rabbit Bjornson," asked Bjornes as he stirred the golden concoction in the chafing dish.
"No, thanks. Bjornesey," returned Bjornson, patting his stomach tenderly.
"I am unalterably opposed to all corporation taxes."—Harper's Weekly.

The Main Reason.

"What is their main reason for wanting a divorce?" "Because they are married."—Houston Post.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

He Didn't Go Up Head.

"If the whale swallowed Jonah, why didn't the lions devour Daniel?" asked the teacher.

The red headed boy spoke up:
"Mebbe Daniel was in the circus business as the lions knowed him."— Atlanta Constitution.

Phoenix Register: There is a lamentable lack of interest and enterprise shown by the leading men and merchants of our town, as well as the private citizens, which is in sharp contrast to our neighboring city of Fulton, where the merchants stand together with the fair management in an earnest endeavor to make the exhibition an honest and worthy success. If we will not be alert and progressive the fault must lie at our own door. Are we dead or only sleeping? The officers of the association have striven hard to bring an exhibition of merit right to our very door and they deserve a better recognition from us as a village. Someone should organize a boost club.

It is announced that M. J. Daley, the Democratic nominee for Member of Assembly, has decided not to make any contest for the office as against the Hon. T. C. Sweet as he does not think the effort would be productive of fruit for himself and he has already been called upon for many years for liberal assessments to aid the forlorn cause, his compensation being a place on the never successful ticket. Mr. Daley has made a wise decision. Mr. Sweet is a sure winner.

Then he brought the accephalous reptile to this city and will make a rug out of the "peeler." The serpent was an old settler of that locality, possessing fourteen rattles and a button-hook.

FOR SEPTEMBER
Copyright 1910 by C. H. Rieth

Now softened suns a mellow luster shed,
The laden orchards glow with tempting red;
On hazel boughs the clusters hang embrowned,
And with the hunting horn the fields resound.

—Old September Poem.

Well we should say so, and the mellow horn of Mr. Morgan will wake the morn, bidding us garner for the bins and cribs in which we labor for his royal nibs. The summer ended and the blower on, the respite over and the money gone, and Rockefeller as we drill along, bowing and hoping we are well and strong.

The seaside sojourner will quit the shore, and the summer girl will line up three or four conquests in puppy love she has around, and choose the one that is to go undrowned. The which selection from the litter born of summer madness she will then suborn with things sufficient to unlock its eyes, and hurry homeward with the gasping prize.

The busted tourist will return from France with hotel stickers stuck upon his pants, and tarred and postcarded by his friends, will reap the penalty of what he sends. They'll wait him up and down upon a rail, and alternately turn him head and tail, or howsoever they may best enjoy the views in Venice or the site of Troy.

The festive calf will blithely snuff and snort, and deftly dip up where the hair is short, and in the quiet even afterglow the quail will pipe his dulcet piccolo. The bold insurgent will insurge the more, and fill the planet with his dreadful roar, and each one betting he will not be last, the autumn candidates will gallop past.

The new progressive and the Democrat, the unisurging that are standing pat, and in the midst of them, unfaint of heart, our Mr. Bryan on the water cart. A maze of issues, and a mass of men, and lo, a gallus busting now and then, and not especially alarmed by it, the trusts desisting 'till the swarn has lit.

But howsoever and be it as may, the dread mosquito will have had its day, and joining Satan in its spectral growth, have made it real hell there for them both. The while the earthly remnant of it swings upon the window screen, and crying clings to that post which, though wanting mortal fire, it still holds with its face against the wire.

The sad first day of school will come to pass,
And the barefoot boy will hide out in the grass,
And by the time we're caught these malcontents,
The Crippen trial will look like thirty cents.

Milady Fashion in her hobble skirt will stride the pavement with the men alert to set her right side up again in case she should in time turn turtle any place. It does beat thunder what the women wear, and how they stick on other people's hair, constrict their middles and constrain their toes and what importance they attach to clothes. But bless us, are they after all to blame, or had they been in these things quite the same if Mother Eve's first thought, as we suppose, had not been necessarily of clothes? Was it to be expected in her case that with a man somewhere upon the place she ever thought of anything at all but gowns, slippers, or perhaps a shawl?

But anyhow, the crawfish will have holed,
And the pumpkin shown the faintest trace of gold.
The sassafras will don a redder dress,
And the gods will crowd around the elder press.

On prohibition or whatever will here is a fountain that shall serve as a still, a place of resting and a steal away out of the desert and the heat of day. A place of quiet and the shade of palms, of irrigation and the soothing balms that no reformer 'till the pots embrace shall ever capture for a bathing place.

The hosts of labor will parade the street, which will remind us of a happy feat in arbitration from the olden days when Julius Caesar was a sort of craze. It is related of that ancient time that sweet September in the Roman climate was not as blazes, and the union file could only march about a half a mile.

It wasn't anything at all, hey say to watch the mighty pageant get away, the music playing and the flags displayed, and see it suddenly duck for the shade. The gasping drummer with his sounding drum, the bronzed mechanician who perhaps had come a dozen squares, and in the frantic rout, age and apprentice with its tongue stuck out.

The faint impression the procession made on Roman capital for long dismayed the union leaders, when the sordid ranks at times not even passed the Roman banks. And so it was when mighty Caesar came, and having found the populace aflame, he showed September from the seventh place along to ninth, which has remained the case. He merely interchanged it with July, but when he asked them how was that for high, they fairly inundated him with smiles, and have since been doing about twenty miles.

The autumn equinox will come around, And Roosevelt, by that time eastward bound, Will aid it in the making of such storms As they may find necessary to a few reforms. And then the sun will turn still softer yet, And the bold October, having duly set His planes, and carefully put on his brake, Will see what sort of landing he can make.

Intoxicated by Tobacco. Giving evidence against a man on a charge of disorderly conduct at Bow street police court, a constable said that the accused behaved in a very violent and disorderly manner in Leicester square on Tuesday evening. He quarreled with a cabman, and eventually the witness took him into custody, believing him to be drunk. At the police station the prisoner denied that he had been drinking, and the doctor who examined him reported that he had chewed tobacco to such an extent that it had had the same effect upon him as alcohol.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE PONY EXPRESS.

Fearless Riders and the Dangers and Hardships They Face.

Perhaps the most picturesque figure on the old trail was the pony express rider. The overland stage proved too slow for mail and express to its flight from the Missouri and the Pacific. True, it had cut down the months of the old ox team to twenty-five days, and still there was a clamor that the east and west be brought closer together, and it was done. The pony cut the time to ten days.

Those who were personally acquainted with the famous pony express of those days could never forget the intrepid rider who braved all peril, for the sake of self, intent only on the speedy delivery of his precious moccasins to the next hardy horseman. Hard and fast he rode over mountains and plain, across scorching desert and icy snow, through sunshine and rain, past friend, away from foe, to the final achievement—the safe delivery of his charge.

Forty fearless horsemen in saddle riding west, as many more riding east—and this novel but useful enterprise was in motion. For two years the pony express carried messages of business and love across 2,000 miles of western mountains and plains, over a country peopled with a hostile race, destitute of cultivation or development, through a region wild, desolate and little known.

It was in 1859 that the pony express was established. The route, briefly stated, was due west from St. Joseph to Fort Kearney, up the Platte to Julesburg, thence, by Fort Laramie and Fort Bridger, to Salt Lake City, thence to Camp Floyd, Ruby valley, the Humboldt, Carson City, Placerville and Polson, to Sacramento and San Francisco by boat.

The intention of the pony express was to carry letters only and not more than ten pounds at a trip. It was decided that the safest and easiest mode of carrying the mail was to make four packets, one in each corner of the moccasin, a covering made of heavy leather for the saddles and generally used by the expert Mexican and Spanish riders. The moccasin was transferred from pony to pony and went through from St. Joseph to San Francisco, the packets containing the mail being locked and opened only at military posts en route and at Salt Lake City. These precious letters were wrapped in oiled silk to protect them, but even this precaution sometimes failed. Rivers had to be crossed; horse and rider swam together.—W. C. Jenkins in National Magazine.

Grew Too Tall. "I recall a case of genuine bone-headedness, mixed with enthusiasm, that cost a great many people a bunch of money," said an oil operator. "It was during the time when a big strike meant a drop in the price of oil. The foreman of a drill crew had been instructed by the employers to use a code in the event of oil being found. If it was a big flow he was to wire, 'Pine trees grow tall.' If on the other hand, the flow was small, 'Pine trees grow small' was to be the code message. The drill struck a gusher, and the following message was sent by the ivory topped individual: 'Pine trees grow tall as hell, and she is flowing all over the derrick.' Of course there were a number of men about the exchange who could understand telegraphy, and the consequence was that the price of oil dropped about $2 a barrel in a few minutes."—Louisville Times.

Not Worth While. "I notice that you usually tell the truth." "Yes; I found that telling lies gets you into almost as much trouble."—Kansas City Journal.

20 Years With Heart Trouble

"Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has cured me of heart disease of over 20 years' standing. I was so bad that I could not do my work, and could scarcely draw a full breath without fainting or smothering. The doctor told me he could do no more for me; then I commenced taking the Heart Remedy. I shall never forget that night. I slept better than I had before in months. I kept right on getting better, until I was perfectly well." MRS. LAURA RUSSELL, Logan, Iowa.

When the heart action is weak, it fails to pump the blood through the lungs with sufficient rapidity. Then the lungs do not absorb the proper amount of oxygen, although they may be taking in a normal amount of air. The result is shortness of breath, smothering spells, difficult breathing, oppressed feeling in chest. Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and in this way increases the circulation.

Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

Real Laxatives.

The Little Russians—those of the south—are said to be cleverer than the Russians of the north, but they are lazy—just how lazy may be gathered from this quotation from Mr. Maurice Baring's book, "Russian Essays and Stories":

"The Little Russian," said a Little Russian gentleman to me, "is so lazy that he will say to his wife, 'Little wife, say whom to my horse. I have a pain in my tongue.'"

Remorse.

A legal journal tells of a trial in which the following remorseful letter appeared in evidence:

Did Well Considering.
A leading doctor in a big western city has a dash of Indian blood in him and is very proud of it. While walking with a friend one day he said: "I have just found a book about a chief who was one of my ancestors. He was a great man. He was a warrior, a man of mighty prowess in battle. Why, I learn from that book that he personally killed scores of his foes. He killed nearly a hundred persons himself."

"Well," said the friend, "he hasn't got anything on you."

"Perhaps not," replied the doctor thoughtfully, "but we must give him credit just the same. You see, he never had any opportunities."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

REUNION OF DISTIN FAMILY

The Distin and Rowlee families held a joint reunion at E. Delos Distin's home on the Whitaker road, Friday, Aug. 26, 1910. It was Delos Distin's 60th birthday. There were present two of his sisters: Mrs. Hannah Austin of South Granby and Mrs. Jasper N. Rowlee of Mt. Pleasant; five cousins, John W. Distin of Fulton, Lamont Distin, Oriskany Falls; Mrs. Adaline Treat, New Haven, Ct.; Mrs. Dora Mayo, Augusta; Mrs. Adella Stockbridge, Augusta Center, and Mrs. Eunice Root of Volney. Tables were spread in Mr. Distin's large barn and a good dinner was served to over one hundred. The Mt. Pleasant Band entertained the company with music and interesting talks were given by Rev. Mr. Jones, pastor of the Mt. Pleasant church; E. Delos Distin, John W. Distin and Willard W. Rowlee. Mr. Ovid Taft of Mt. Pleasant read the following poem written for the occasion:

For the Rowlee-Distin Reunion, 1910
By Ovid Taft
When strangers meet, on lonely mountain trail,
Or pathless way, along some flow'ry vale,
And each reach out a willing hand,
We say the act is worthy, grand.
When old friends meet, in unexpected time,
Pleasure is theirs, by every sign.
They linger long each by the other,
As though each to the other was a brother.
When courting o'er the oceans tide
Brother meets sister, by his side,
The path of each, to the other all unknown,
How soon they feel—the touch of home.
When father meets his long gone son,
Who left his home when his days were young,
What welcome sight to us appears,
Their joy begets both smiles and tears.
But when kindred meet from far and near,
Though this be done but once a year,
When children's kiss meets bearded cheek,
Hearts swell with joy, though dumb for speech.
The aged sire, with bleached hair,
Perchance with eye that's dim,
Sees the children play, as in lively way they spin;
Speaks low, in tender way to his faithful wife,

Beloved, see how we thus protect our life.

Like a planted tree, in a mellow soil
On which branches grew, both great and small.
Our lives have grown, for you and me,
A welcome sight for us to see.

A family reunion, most pleasant visit made,
For toddling youngsters yearly added plates be laid,
All married sons and daughters, are
the rising leaven,
To make these yearly meetings a
dear, domestic heaven.

Joseph Distin, Sr., the progenitor of the family was born in 1746 in England. He was a sailor and came to New Haven, Conn., on a British Man of War in 1777. The sailors were quartered among the Connecticut farmers during the winter, and Distin with others were assigned to Bethuel-Parker of Parker Farms, Wallingford. During the winter Distin and Beard married daughters of their host and gave up forever their allegiance to England. The patriots of Wallingford protected them against being captured as deserters.

Joseph Distin and Olive Parker,
his wife, lived and died in Wallingford.
One of their sons, David, was killed in the war of 1812. Another son, Joseph, married Hannah Hall of a prominent Wallingford family. They emigrated to New York State, first living in Greene county, thence moving to Oneida county and finally to Volney when they died, he in 1865, she in 1875. They were the grandparents of E. Delos Distin and J. W.
Distin.

The family is justly proud of its lineage and will long preserve its traditions.

HE LOST THE RACE

Mark Twain's Futile Chase After a Tallyho Coach.

MISSED A BIG CELEBRATION.

The Way the Famous Humorist in Company With W. D. Howells Did Not Attend the Centennial of the Battle of the Minutemen at Concord.

In his reminiscences of Mark Twain in Harper's Magazine W. D. Howells tells amusingly of the time when he and Mr. Clemens missed the anniversary of the battle of Concord.

"Mark Twain came on to Cambridge in April, 1875, to go with me to the centennial ceremonies at Concord in celebration of the battle of the minutemen with the British troops a hundred years before. We both had special invitations, including passage from Boston, but I said why bother to go to Boston when we could just as well take the train for Concord at the Cambridge station. He equally decided that it would be absurd, so we breakfasted deliberately and then walked to the station, reasoning of many things, as usual.

"When the train stopped we found it packed inside and out. People stood dense on the platforms of the cars. To our startled eyes they seemed to project from the windows, and unless memory betrays me they lay strewn upon the roofs like brakemen slain at the post of duty. We remounted the same worn steps of Porter's station and began exploring North Cambridge for some means of transportation overland to Concord, for we were that far on the road by which the British went and came on the day of the battle. The hiversmen whom we appealed to received us, some with compassion, some with derision, but in either mood convinced us that we could not have hired a cat to attempt our conveyance, much less a horse or vehicle of any description.

"It was a raw, windy day, very unlike the exceptionally hot April day when the routed redcoats, pursued by the Colonials, fled panting back to Boston, with their tongues hanging out like dogs, but we could not take due comfort in the vision of their discomfort. We could almost envy them for they had at least got to Concord. A swift procession of coaches, carriages and buggies, all going to Concord, passed us, inert and helpless, on the sidewalk in the peculiarly cold mud of North Cambridge. We began to wonder if we might not stop one of them and bribe it to take us.

"I felt keenly the shame of defeat and the guilt of responsibility for our failure, and when a gay party of students came toward us on the top of a tallyho, luxuriantly empty inside, we felt that our chance had come and our last chance. He said that if I would stop them and tell them who I was they would gladly, perhaps proudly, give us passage. I contended that if with his far vaster renown he would approach them our success would be assured.

"While we stood, lost in this contest of civilities, the coach passed us, with gay notes blown from the horns of the students, and then Clemens started in pursuit, encouraged with shouts from the merry party, who could not imagine who was trying to run them down, to a rivalry of speed. The unequal match could end only in one way, and I am glad I cannot recall what he said when he came back to me. Since then I have often wondered at the grief which would have wrung those blithe young hearts if they could have known that they might have had the company of Mark Twain to Concord that day and did not.

"We hung about unavailingly in the bitter wind awhile longer and then slowly, very slowly, made our way home. We wished to pass as much time as possible in order to give probability to the deceit we intended to practice, for we could not bear to own ourselves baffled in our boasted wisdom of taking the train at Porter's station and had agreed to say that we had been to Concord and got back.

Even after coming home to my house we felt that our statement would be wanting in verisimilitude without further delay, and we crept quietly into my library and made up a roaring fire on the hearth and thawed ourselves out in the heat of it before we regained our courage for the undertaking. With all these precautions we failed, for when our statement was imparted to the proposed victim she instantly pronounced it unreliable, and we were left with it on our hands intact. I think the humor of this situation was finally a greater pleasure to Clemens than an actual visit to Concord would have been. Only a few weeks before his death he laughed our defeat over with one of my family in Bermuda and exulted in our prompt detection."

Water Colors.

Water color painting was gradually raised from the hard, dry style of the eighteenth century to its present brilliancy by the efforts of Nicholson, Copkey, Sanley and others. The Water Color society's exhibitions began in 1805 and may be said to mark the real beginning of modern water color painting. The great master, if not creator, of the art was the celebrated Turner, of whom we read so much in the works of John Ruskin.—Exchange.

JEFFERSON EN-DORSES COBB

The Jefferson county primaries were held on Saturday and by a stupendous majority Senator Cobb and the policies which have been advocated by Governor Hughes and defended by Senator Cobb, were endorsed by the electors. The result was so decisive as to show clearly the temper of Jefferson's majority and to establish Senator Cobb's leadership more impressively.

The fight in the neighboring county has been for principle and for leadership. On the one hand was Senator Cobb and the people; on the other the politicians lead by ex-Senator Elton R. Brown who aspires to the position of Congressman and who proposes to make at least some trouble for Mr. L. W. Mott who stands for much that Mr. Brown refuses to endorse. Personality cut some figure in the contest but not enough to turn the scale. For and against the direct primaries proposition was a leading factor in the result.

Fourteen towns passed resolutions favoring the direct primaries and against Brown, two took no action and only four took action adverse to the Cobb leadership and direct primaries. In the city of Watertown five out of six wards supported Senator Cobb and the direct primary movement.

In the First Ward there was a resolution presented endorsing Senator Cobb for renomination and Mr. Brown for Member of Congress. This was defeated on the ground that the endorsements should be separated. Senator Cobb was then given a hearty endorsement while the endorsement of the candidacy of Mr. Brown to Congress was given a bad defeat.

In the second ward where Senator Cobb lives, there was another interesting contest. A square fight was brought up on the question of endorsing either Brown or L. W. Mott of Oswego for Congress. Mr. Mott had not made any canvass in this ward but he was only defeated by a vote of 39 to 79. It was then proposed to vote on a resolution endorsing Mr. Brown as the candidate for Congress on the ground that Mr. Mott had made no effort to make a fight in Senator Brown's own county. The resolution was then put for and against Brown for Congress and the resolution to endorse was defeated.

In the Third Ward, the home of Mr. Brown, Virgil K. Kellogg, who has been leading the fight for Senator Cobb, presented a resolution endorsing Senator Cobb and containing the highest praise for Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Brown opposed the resolution. There was a division of the house and Mr. Brown was found to have some six or eight friends supporting him while Mr. Kellogg's Roosevelt resolution was supported by everyone else and was carried by a big majority.

In a statement Senator Brown says it elected to public office he will abide by the wishes of the people he serves. It is claimed here that Mr. Brown did not always do this while serving the people of Jefferson as State Senator.

The Republican county convention was held in Watertown on Tuesday and Senator Cobb was given the privilege of naming the Senatorial delegates and Mr. Elton R. Brown was given the privilege of naming the Congressional delegates. The convention seems hopelessly deadlocked over the nomination for district attorney.

A scene was created in the First Assembly District convention when an attempt was made to stifle strong direct primary resolution. This is the Assembly District of former Senator Brown, candidate for member of Congress, and he is one of the logg introduced the primary resolution and it was carried despite the opposition of Dan W. Cahill, State Superintendent of Public Buildings.

The Kellogg direct primary resolution was carried by an overwhelming vote with the Brown anti-direct primary followers voting against it. Virgil Kellogg then introduced a resolution instructing the State delegates to vote for Roosevelt for temporary chairman and it was carried by acclamation and cheers. Dan W. Cahill opposed this resolution on the ground that Vice President Sherman had been good to Jefferson county for securing the location of Pine ty. He gave Mr. Sherman the credit Camp. Elton R. Brown sat in the back of the hall but made no remarks.

The State delegates were named as follows: First district—L. F. Pitkin, D. W. Cahill, Dr. H. B. Potter, A. C. Ryder, Elton R. Brown, V. K. Kellogg.

LICENSE QUESTION PERPLEXING

All of the saloon men of Oswego county, who expect to renew their present liquor licenses for another year, must make application to County Treasurer Moore on or before September 15th, according to the new law, and together with their application must file their bond and application fee.

The new liquor licenses are issued on October 1st, and all dealers in liquor, who fail to receive their license by that time will be obliged to close their places of business until such time as the certificate is received. For this reason it is important that all applications should be made by the 15th of September to insure the receiving of the new liquor license by October 1st. The license fee in the third class cities is $525; in the villages $300 and in the several towns $150 for first class certificates.

There is considerable speculation among saloon men as to the amount they will be taxed for their bonds this year. The local agents have not yet been advised. On account of the stricter Excise law now in vogue it is believed that the price of the bonds may be increased.

VOLUNTEERS TO ORGANIZE

The Oneida County Volunteer Firemen's association, which adjourned from Taberg on July 4th, to meet in the climatic conditions. The house in Oneida, was called to order in the Common Council chamber in the City Hall at Oneida on Monday, by the president of the association, George Baer of Oriskany, who introduced Mayor Albert R. Kessinger, who welcomed the members of the association to Rome. Treasurer A. L. Eastingwood of Camden made the response.

Mayor Kessinger stated that one of the objects of this meeting was to talk over the advisability of organizing a larger volunteer firemen's association and to make it a tri-county affair, with Oneida, Onondaga and Oswego counties, but that the delegates from the other counties had not arrived. P. F. Quinlan of Utica, Mayor Kessinger and S. K. Sweeting of Oneida, M. R. Burke of Waterville and President Baer of Oriskany were appointed a committee on entertainment of the Onondaga and Oswego county delegations, and an adjournment was taken till 2:30 p. m.

At the afternoon session C. R. Sperry of Boonville, the secretary of the county organization, made an address, raising Rome as a convention city. Mayor Kessinger suggested that a committee be appointed from each county to form a plan of a four county convention and ask that the correspondence could be carried on through the secretary of the Rome. The Mayor suggested that the first convention of the four county organization be held in Rome. Mr. Eastingwood moved that the committee be appointed from each county and that the next meeting be held in Rome. The motion was carried.

Oswego county—Charles W. Taft, Oswego; William Kellogg, M. Inett, H. K. Burdick, Fulton.

Onondaga county—W. H. Palmer, Syracuse; Smith Soule, Cicero; F. J. Porter, Delphi Flats.

Oneida county—George Baer, Oriskany, president of the county association; H. C. Midlam and Mayor A. R. Kessinger, of Rome.

President Baer is to arrange with Madison county for a committee from that county.

All the officers were re-elected by acclamation as follows: President, George Baer, Oriskany; First vice president, W. Williams, New Hartford; second vice president, W. J. Abbott, Rome; third vice president, A. L. Eastingwood, Camden; secretary, C. R. Sperry, Boonville; delegate to the State convention, to be held in Rochester in 1911, William Flemming of Waterville.

After the meeting of the county association a meeting of the committees from the counties on a tri-county organization was held in Mayor Kessinger's office in the City Hall. The following sub-committee was appointed to draft a tentative constitution and by-laws, to be submitted at a meeting of the committee of the whole to be called at some future time: Mayor Kessinger, Rome, representing Oneida county; H. K. Burdick, of Fulton, representing Oswego county; Smith Soule, Cicero, representing Onondaga county. Mayor Kessinger was named as secretary of the committee, which will hold the next meeting in Syracuse.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

CLAM BAKE A SUCCESS

Despite the unpropitious weather, the annual clam bake at the Pathfinder club house on Wednesday was a decided success. 110 tickets were sold but there were only eighty in attendance, owing undoubtedly to the climatic conditions. The house in Oneida, was called to order in the Common Council chamber in the City Hall at Oneida on Monday, by the president of the association, George Baer of Oriskany, who introduced Mayor Albert R. Kessinger, who welcomed the members of the association to Rome. Treasurer A. L. Eastingwood of Camden made the response.

There were a number of out-of-town guests present at the event among the number being Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mott of Oswego, Mr. and Mrs. David Paige and their family of Minerva, Mrs. Clarence Ware of Mt. Vernon and her daughter, Miss Marie Ware, George Flaxington, Kenneth Hunter of Auburn, Ida Andrews of Tonawanda, Mr. Reader, Mr. Kirkland and Morris Andrews of New York, and Mrs. Newt of St. Louis, Mo.

Dancing was enjoyed in the evening.

TREMENDOUS DAMAGES ASKED

Four negligence actions, in which $10,000 damages are demanded, have been brought as the result of the runaway at Baldwinsville on May 22 last when Mrs. Betty Cooper was killed. The defendants are Asseman Thaddeus Sweet and Menzo Murgittroyd, a paper manufacturer of Phoenix. The horse driven by Mrs. Cooper, it is charged, was frightened by the defendants' automobile and the fatal accident followed.

The defendants deny that they were in Baldwinsville at the time of the accident and claim that it was not their automobile that caused the runaway. Asseman Sweet says he does not own an automobile, and that the one alleged to have frightened Mrs. Cooper's horse was not in his control. The answers have not been served, but Attorneys White, Cheney, Shuman and O'Neil of Syracuse have been retained by the defendants.

WILL BE GOVERNOR WHITE

When Governor Hughes lays down the reins of office early in October to take his seat on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States Lieutenant Governor Horace White of Syracuse will then become governor of the Empire State to hold that office until his successor takes his seat in January.

This is the first time a Syracusean has ever occupied the executive mansion at Albany. Mr. and Mrs. White will remove to the State House as soon as Governor Hughes and family vacate it.

There will be no session of the Legislature during the three months he is in office and what matters there are at hand Governor Hughes will take care of before he departs. Governor White was asked if he had heard discussed who was likely to head the Republican State ticket this Fall. He replied:

"The regular organization appears not to have any candidate and I don't believe Roosevelt has either. He appears to be more concerned over the temporary chairmanship."

NOVEL PROCEDURE

Winsted, Conn.—A. E. Knox, editor of the Woodbury Reporter, a weekly publication, believes in vacations, even if the community has to go without its newspaper. Here is his announcement in this week's issue: "For a number of years it has been the custom of the management of the Reporter to suspend publication of the paper one issue in the year. By so doing our office forces have an opportunity to take a well earned vacation and at the same time it gives the editor an opportunity to take two or three days off."

H. Roger Jones, Jr., editor of the New Hartford Tribune, another county weekly, announced today that, despite the fact that his part of the state is in the midst of a hot campaign, the Tribune will close up shop as usual for one week in September, the issue of September 9, being omitted this year.

CATHOLIC PICNIC HELD

Saturdays rain interfered very materially with the Catholic picnic plans and the festival was postponed until Monday with but little better success. All day the weather was threatening—it was hot, muggy and far removed from being ideal field day weather but a goodly number of young folks, headed by the Citizens Band, marched to the Fair grounds at 9:30 o'clock and did not return until 5 o'clock.

Many sports were enjoyed, baseball was played and the dinner was paid due respect by the youngsters and their elders.

Those directly responsible for the success of the undertaking were:

President, Joseph H. Murphy; vice president, Miss Nellie Bray; secretaries, James Carroll and Miss Viola Craban; treasurer, George White; general committee, Mayor Connors, Harry Platt, John Chapman, C. M. Caffrey, John Keenan, Fred Schneider, Otto Malone, Al Crouse and George Moore. ## WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

The inactivity of the Boost club during the past few months has been freely commented upon and many slurs and smiles have been indulged in regarding the rocket like manner in which the opposition to the Chamber of Commerce was launched and the stick like manner in which it conducted itself during its brief period of activity and then died.

Full credit should be given the Boost club for the additional lighting some of our streets have received as the result of its agitation but aside from that, what?

A ring of officers and near-officers with backward turning thumbs, all pointing in one and the same direction, answers the question at the head of this item.

AUBURN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Auburn Theological Seminary begins its ninety-first year on Wednesday, September 21, with an address at 8 p. m. in Wilbur Chapel by Professor Arthur S. Hoyt, D. D., on "A Humanist Preacher." There are eight professors and two assistant professors in the Faculty, and three instructors, all of whom expect to be in their places at the opening of the semester.

In view of the frequent criticism that the seminaries are too scholastic and are not sufficiently practical, it is gratifying to note that Auburn Seminary, while teaching all the subjects traditionally regarded as necessary for an adequate and thorough preparation for the ministry, gives large attention to the study of such practical subjects as the English Bible, Missions, Preaching, Sociology, Elocution, Music, Sunday-School, modern methods of teaching, so that the student through the elective system may specialize, come into the closest personal touch with the professors and obtain the benefit of individual teaching.

A unique feature of Auburn Seminary work is its Social Service Scholarships, the proceeds of which enable their recipients to spend three months in Settlement work in some large city. Instead of trying to carry on their studies in the Seminary and to do Settlement work at the same time, as would be the case if the Seminary were in a large city, the students at Auburn can devote eight months' undivided attention to their seminary studies, three months to Settlement work and have one month for vacation. The practical out-working of the plan is seen in the fact that many of the leading Settlement workers in the country are Auburn men. During this summer Auburn Seminary students on the foundation of these Scholarships are at work in Boston, New York and Chicago.

Of the class that was graduated in May last, seven go to the foreign field, six to the mission field in the cities or country in the United States, six to self-sustaining churches, and one becomes a pastor's assistant, everyone settled before graduation. The demand for men was so great that if the class had been twice as large there would have been more than enough places for them. One reason for this popularity of the young men is doubtless due to the fact that no one is admitted for the diploma of the Seminary unless he is a college graduate or has passed a rigid entrance examination in all of the preparatory studies. Thorough preparation for the theological studies and thorough drill in them ought to produce men who are well qualified for the work of the ministry and whom the churches desire.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

FREIGHT CLERKS ORGANIZE

E. S. Sherwood, who is organizing branches of the National Freight Clerks' Union throughout the country, has made arrangements for locating a branch of the national organization in Oswego. The clerks of the D. L. & W. and New York Central railroads will meet on September 15th to organize a local Freight Clerks' Union and officers will be elected at that time. At present the freight clerks are less benefited by the general increase in wages than any other department in the railroad service.

Played Them Both Ways.

The French comedian Perlet was extraordinarily this. A physician recommended him to try some bath in the Pyrenees, so he betook himself to the mineral springs, where he bathed unremotely, but all in vain; he did not increase in size. "Patience," urged the doctor. "There is nothing like our baths for making people fat." One day while Perlet was waiting philosophically in his bath for an embolus which never came he heard a conversation in the next room, from which his own was divided by only a thin partition and which was occupied by an enormous woman, fat as the Hottentot Venus. "Doctor," said she, "I am getting tired of this." "Why?" asked the Asclepiades. "I have been here two months." "Well?" "Well, I am as enormous as I was when I came." "A little patience, madame," urged the doctor. "There is nothing like our baths for making people fat." Perlet, hearing these words, sprang out of his bath, dressed, rushed home to his hotel, ordered his bill and left for Paris by the next train.—Argonaut.

A Simple Life.

"And what," inquired the visitor, who was "being nice" to little Bobbie, "are you going to do when you grow up?"

"Be a business man," responded Robert, "like father. He took me down to his office last week, and I'm going to work like him and have a good time."

"And what are you going to do in business?" pursued the visitor.

"Going to do just like dad," repeated the youngster—"catch the train every morning and when I get to the office light a big cigar and sit down at my desk and say there's so much work to do it's no use beginning till after lunch, and then go out with another big man and eat and eat till I can't eat any more, and then go back to business and ask everybody else why the work ain't done, and then get so mad because nobody does anything that I'll go home early and be so tired I can't do a thing except read the paper and smoke more big cigars and swear."—Pearson's.

Florist's Jargon.

The florists have a trade jargon of their own. When a man who grows flowers for a living rattles off something like "paper whites, valleys and Romans" the confused layman has to stop to think what the jumble of words means. It is only the trade way of saying paper white narcissus, lily of the valley and Roman hyacinth. Likewise "mum" is their word for chrysanthemum, and time and space are likewise saved by saying "cyp" instead of cypripedium. So bridemaids roses are "maids." American Beauties are "beauties." Perle du Jardin becomes "perle" and is pronounced pearl, while Souvenir du President Carnot is reduced to its last word, just as those other illustrious French rose names, General Jacquemont and Marechal Niel, where shortened to "Jack" and "Niel" in the heyday of their glory.—New York Press.

A Locomotive's Breathing.

The "breathing" of a locomotive—that is to say, the number of puffs given during a journey—depends upon the circumstances of its driving wheels and their speed. No matter what the rate of speed may be, for every one round of the driving wheels—two out of each cylinder, the cylinders being double. If the average circumference of the driving wheel is twenty feet and the speed per hour fifty miles, a locomotive will give, going at express speed, 850 puffs per minute, 52,500 puffs per hour and 1,055 puffs per mile.—London Standard.

Suitable Game.

Uncle Jack came to visit the family just after Johnny had recovered from an attack of the whooping cough. "How did you amuse yourself while you had it?" he asked.

"Me and another boy who had it played Indians and gave warwhoops," answered the little fellow.—Chicago News.

Plenty in Reserve.

A man who had been fighting got two black eyes. Next morning he met a friend, who exclaimed: "Why, Jack, where have you been? You've got two black eyes!" "That's nothing," he replied. "I could have got plenty more, only I had no place to put them."

Pleasant.

Strange Guest—I don't know half the people in the room. Just look at that woman over there—the cross eyed, red headed one. And some one told me she was married. Don't you think the fellow was a fool? Other Guest (merrily)—I know he was. I'm him.—Baltimore American.

Talked Too Much.

Wife (reproachfully)—You forget how you once breathed your love in my ear and promised that my every wish should be gratified. Hub—No, I don't, but I wish now I'd followed the hygienic rule of keeping my mouth shut while breathing.—Boston Transcript.

Billiards.

"Have you heard the billiard conundrum? Well, here it is: "What made the red ball blush?" "Why, when it saw the two whites kins in the corner."

Consistency.

SAVED A SOLDIER'S LIFE

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough and lung trouble, its supreme. 50c., 1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DRAGON BRAND. Laxative and Blood Purifier. This is the only medicine which cures constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, skin eruptions, etc. Sold by druggists everywhere.

SUES FOR SERVICES

J. H. Orth, of the Syracuse Detective Agency, is suing J. H. Dustin to collect $22.50, which he alleges is due him for services in shadowing Dustin's wife.

The defense claims that the services rendered were of no value in the matter of securing evidence against his wife. The case was heard before Acting City Judge George M. Fanning on Monday and at the conclusion of the evidence the Court announced that a statutory time would be taken for rendering a decision.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have, yellow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve constipation, indigestion, nervousness and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, so thousands have testified.

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE

It is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

No false pretense has marked the career of Ely's Cream Balm. Being entirely harmless, it is not responsible like the catarrh snuffs and powders, for minds shattered by cocaine. The great virtue of Ely's Cream Balm is that it speedily and completely overcomes nasal catarrh and hay fever. Back of this statement is the testimony of thousands and a reputation of many years' success. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

OLD FASHIONED LIFE INSURANCE

LIKE old fashioned religion—is what is needed to-day in this age of "isms" in theology—and fads and schemes in life insurance—Just the plain, old, reliable, old-fashioned life insurance—a policy for the protection of the wife and children—so that, three meals each day will be forthcoming—and clothes to keep them warm—and a place to sleep at night—just as you give them all these things now. Would you want someone else to provide for them while you are here? Certainly not. Would you want someone else—or the aggregate "someone else" called the State—to provide for them when you will not be here? Of course not. So why not join an association of others who are determined to look out for their own—and who collectively are known as THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY—and see to it, possibly at the cost of a little self-denial, that your family shares in the benefits provided by the Equitable in their hour of greatest need. That is to say, maybe you can join. Maybe not. Already it may be too late for you. See THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE man and find out.

First: Whether you can become a member of the Equitable Society.
Second: How little it will cost to put an Equitable policy between your family—not just for you, but for you will not be here to pay the price of neglect and delay—and the thousand and one things which can happen to a man's family when he is not here to look out for them.

SOUTH GRANBY

It is beginning to look like Fall, very cool nights and cloudy weather. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Timbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Adsit and Mr. and Mrs. Will Rumsey are occupying Sidney Kelly's cottage at High Banks. Our school house is being improved by being painted white. Mr. Isaac Whipple is doing the work; it looks very nice. Mrs. Losey went to New Hampshire Tuesday to visit her sister. Auntie McKashin is visiting in Fulton.

Miss Ethel Sperbeck is suffering from blood poisoning in her hand. Elmer Fisher is spending a few days at home.

Mrs. Grove Dutton visited Mrs. L. T. Austin Saturday and Sunday.

Among the Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Decaire at Charles Fuller's; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Terpening at Floyd Dickenson's; Mr. and Mrs. Neal Andrews at Fred Andrews; Mr. Leonard Adsit and Miss Grace Huntington at Elmer Fisher's, also Mr. and Mrs. Post and Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Fisher of Oswego made a call in their auto at Elmer Fisher's.

Mrs. Rose Dunsmore spent Sunday at L. T. Austin's.

Miss Mary Stege was home over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Lamson visited in this place Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd and daughter of Rochester are guests of Charles Fuller.

Mrs. Myra Summerville visited at George Blakeman's last week.

Elmer Cook, Charles Cook, Leo Wybron and Floyd Wilcox went to John Wybron's in Marcellus Saturday.

Our school will begin Tuesday.

The picnic at High Banks held last Wednesday was a success in spite of the dark and rainy morning and the most of the farmers from far and near, as well as those that were not farmers were there. There was a speech from Mr. Norris and another gentleman we did not learn his name. Mr. Floyd VanWie and wife served ice cream and peanuts to all who wished to buy while Mr. Ray Darling popped corn for the crowds that came to buy. The sack race prize was taken by Chester Hammond which was a sweater. Levi Stenor and Lansing Hammond got the prize in the three-legged race. There was a number of other races, but the baby show was the most interesting, there being two classes from 1 to 3 and 3 to 5. Mr. George Adams, Mr. Clarence Palmer and Mr. Frank Sharpe were the judges. The judges were very much afraid of displeasing the mothers as they were all nice looking babies. Mrs. Moyer's baby took the first prize in the first class and Mrs. Ray Darling's the second, while in the next class Mrs. Dor Morris took first and Mrs. Doty's second prize. Then the ladies' ball driving contest was very laughable there were 5 contestants and they had to see which could drive 5 balls straight through a stick. The one who drove them first won the prize which was a nice salad bowl. It was won by Mrs. Bertha Happeney Walts. Everyone was good natured and all together it was a very enjoyable time. The Lyander band furnished nice music.

STUBBORN AS MULES are liver and bowels sometimes seem to balk without cause. Then there's trouble. Loss of appetite. Indigestion, nervousness, despondency headache. But such troubles fly before Dr. King's New Life Pills, the world's best Stomach and Liver remedy. So easy. 25c. at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Paraphrasing. Territorial (his first experience as ventriloquist, going over his instructions)—If any one comes along I say: "Hail! Who goes there?" Then he says: "Friend," and I say, "Pass, friend; all's well." But some silly saw'll say, "Enemy," and then I shan't know what to do. Rotten job, I call it. Punch.

Aaron Burr died at Fort Richmond, Staten Island, Sept. 14, 1836. His remains were conveyed to Princeton, N. J., where, according to his request, he was interred at the feet of his father and grandfather. Both his father and grandfather were presidents of Princeton college.

Concerning the tombstone which marks his burial place, we quote from the history of his life by Parton: "Some efforts were made and some money subscribed soon after his death to procure a suitable monument, but the project failed. For nearly two years the spot where he lay was unmarked when one morning it was discovered that a small, very substantial and not inexpensive monument of granite and marble had been placed during the night over his remains. No one in the town saw the monument erected or knew anything whatever respecting it. There was no stonecutter in the vicinity capable of executing the work. The stone bears the inscription: 'Aaron Burr. Born February 6, 1756. Died, September 14, 1836.'"—Philadelphia Press.

The Presidential Salute.

One explanation of the reason for adopting twenty-one guns as the presidential salute is that there might be maintained a uniformity in national salutes. Great Britain having in the distant past adopted twenty-one as the number for the royal salute. Of the many surmises as to why the number twenty-one was settled upon we mention two—first, that twenty-one was the number of years fixed by English law as the age of majority; second, that seven was the original salute and three times seven would signify one seven for each of the divisions, England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland. It is asserted that the United States adopted this salute to signify to the mother country that her child had reached his majority and was prepared in law to inherit the land and to this end fired the "gun of 1776," the figures of which year, 14-7+7+6, equal 21.—Philadelphia Press.

Underground Hotels.

An extraordinary hotel is that in the sewers of Paris, immediately below the Church of St. Madeleine. It was built and is conducted solely for the benefit of the sewer workers. Nearly a hundred men are provided every day, and for the sum of $2.40 a man can be comfortably housed and fed for a week in this gigantic drain-pipe.

Very similar is the hotel which caters for visitors to the coal mine of St. Pierre at Mons. It is to be found at the bottom of the mine, 600 feet below the earth, and is carved out of solid coal. The electric light on the glittering black walls, which have been left unpapered, is extremely effective. Large reception and bed rooms splendidly fitted up are provided, and the hotel even boasts the luxury of a swimming bath.

Mark Twain as "Attraction."

A girl who was a stranger to Mark Twain once found her way into his Bermuda home with the hope of getting a sight of the author. She came suddenly in contact with him and frankly explained her errand.

"Have you seen the crystal cave yet," he asked, "or the aquarium?" "No; I came to see you first," she answered.

"Well, you shouldn't have seen me first," he answered. "I ran in opposition to the crystal and the aquarium. But they're not shocks to me. I'm lots better. I give them their money's worth. But you should see them. Then you'll appreciate me."

"This was said to his most earnest drawl and with only a sparkle of humor in his keen blue eyes.—Chicago Tribune.

Striking It Rich.

"Did you ever strike it rich prospecting?"

"Only once," replied the westerner. "I was going along a trail in the mountains late one afternoon when I saw the gleam of metal. Hastening to it, I found—"

"Silver or gold?"

"Tin. It was a matchbox, full too. And I had been out of matches since my early morning smoke."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Benefits of Music.

"Do you believe that music prevents crime?"

"To a certain extent," replied Mr. Stanek. "When a man keeps both hands and his breath busy with a concert you know he can't be picking pockets, attempting homicide or slandering his neighbors."—Washington Star.

A Comparison.

In a school at Washington a boy was asked to compare the word "nick."

The little fellow arose in his place, looked around him for a moment, his face a picture of deep thought, and then he said:

"Sick, worse, dead."—Los Angeles Times.

Easily Managed.

First Girl—I mean to be engaged when I'm nineteen. Second Girl—But supposing you can't manage it? First Girl—Then I shall remain nineteen until I am engaged.

Change.

Old Lady (in drug store)—Boy, can you change a dollar bill? Boy—Yes, ma'am. How'll you have it—in quinine pills or cough drops?—Exchange.

To be wise we must first learn to be happy.—Maeterlinck.

DEATHS

The death of Mrs. Lewis Johnson aged 75, occurred at her home to this city on Tuesday. The funeral services will be held from the home of her son, Mr. Newton Johnson, on Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

After a residence of over 50 years in this city, Ellen C. Fitzgerald, aged 77, passed to rest at her home in West First street on Monday morning. The funeral services were held from the late home and the Catholic church this Wednesday morning, Rev. J. L. Lindeman officiating. Interment was made in St. Mary's.

The immediate survivors are two sons, Michael and Edward, and three daughters, Mrs. Michael Scanlon and the Misses Bridget and Mary Fitzgerald, all of this city.

The many friends and former patients of Dr. Stephen A. Russell, aged 61, were grieved and shocked to learn of his death which occurred at the Lee Memorial hospital at noon on Monday after a critical illness of six weeks, following a long period of ill health. The deceased was a graduate of McGill University and who stood high in his profession in this city, had been a resident of Fulton for 18 years. In politics he was an ardent Democrat and had served as alderman from the Fifth Ward; as member of the Board of Health; been the party nominee for Member of Assembly from this district and he was at the time of his death a representative of the State Board of Health, a physician for the Ontario & Western railroad company.

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR

Some incidents of the Colonel's Visit to the West.
Those of us who have never seen Colonel Roosevelt longing that he is always smiling, the photographers usually snapping him when in a happy mood. But of late he has been showing us his "fighting face," and when in this mood he looks to be a mighty hard man to handle.
The colonel is thoroughly aroused over the Sherman incident and prom-

© 1910, by American Press Association.

Colonel Roosevelt's "fighting face" has been making things warm at the New York state Republican convention. For the present he has dropped his literary work for a tour of the west, on which he is making many speeches. On one occasion the constant noise of a steaming locomotive made speaking very difficult. Finally he gave it up, telling the crowd that an engine was the only thing he could not talk against.

In Wyoming Colonel Roosevelt mingled with the cowboys as he did in the old days when the lure of the west took him there. And just to show that he is as strenuous as ever he rode thirty miles on cow ponies, declaring after the trip that he felt no fatigue whatever.

ENTERTAINED FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Helen Marvin on Saturday afternoon gave a linen shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Marvin in Broadway for Miss Rina Mead, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. S. B. Mead, whose marriage to Mr. Floyd Marvin will take place this month.

The home had been prettily decorated for the occasion and after the guests had assembled the bride-elect was blindfolded and seated upon a mound of pillows and directly under a large Japanese umbrella suspended from the chandelier. At a signal the umbrella was tipped over and Miss Mead was literally showered with exquisite gifts which will prove very useful in the new home. Luncheon was served at 6 o'clock.

The guests present were the Misses Marie and Elinor Achilles, Miss Dorothy Gage, Miss Dorothy Webb, Miss Ruth Adams, Miss May Brooker, Miss Hazel Hunter, Miss Florence Hunter, Miss Anita Hunter, Miss Katherine Gilbert, Miss Gertrude Whitaker, Miss Antoinette Hill, Miss Verna Hunter, Miss Fannie Forsyth, Miss Rachel Lake, Miss Louise Van Wagenen, her guest, Miss Andrews of Yonkers, and Miss Havens of New York, who is visiting her parents here.

OPPOSITION EXPRESSED TO PLAN

Considerable opposition has developed to the use by the Syracuse, Lake Shore & Northern trolley people of our lower bridge for trolley purposes. It is true that their franchise gives them the use of the bridge and the doubtful manner in which this franchise was procured from the city fathers does not furnish any lever by which the outrage can be prevented. The bridge is too narrow to permit of double tracking and the company does not favor it on that account, preferring rather to build a bridge of their own at a point just north of the bridge under discussion. The hitch in this project is caused by the refusal of the property owners at this point to give a right of way over or to sell the necessary land for trolley terminal purposes.

The suggestion has been made that the city purchase the necessary land for the purpose and donate it to the company rather than that tracks should be laid on the only bridge we possess leading to the other side of the river that has not been adjudged unsafe for traffic.

HOLDING THE FORT

Two years ago when in New York I saw a worthless horse car, which preserves a valuable New York franchise and which is a facsimile of our old Fulton car. This weather beaten old car stands night and day in exactly the same spot on Church street, New York city. The railroad company no longer operates a transit line on the street, but it is feared that a halt in occupancy might forfeit the franchise, therefore the presence of the old car, driver, conductor and changes shift at given periods. The vehicle never leaves the street.

GRANULATED SORE EYES CURED

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by all dealers.

EVERYBODY HAD A GRIEVANCE

The Board of Assessors met in the city hall on Tuesday to listen to taxation grievances of property owners and they hearkened to many. As one business man remarked, "count the hairs of your head and you will then have a faint idea of the number who filed protests."

The Board of Assessors at their last session felt that Fulton was not paying her just share and that some other locality must pay it. Consequently they slapped between $50,000 and $60,000 additional taxation upon the city. To raise this additional sum every parcel of land, improved or otherwise, has been raised, and that was why the number and fluency of the complaints.

Every penny of the increase must be expended in public improvements and it is certainly true that without expenditure we cannot have better streets, new bridges and all the many things demanded by a progressive public.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

NOTED SURGEON DEAD

Dr. Ely Van de Warker, for many years one of the most prominent physicians in Syracuse, died at 7 o'clock Monday morning at the home of Mrs. E. J. Lynch, Onondaga Hill, where he had been stopping for several months for the benefit of his health. A few days ago Dr. Van de Warker relapsed into a state of coma from which he never rallied. He had been in feeble health for a long time.

For many years Dr. Van de Warker conducted a private hospital at Cedar and Montgomery streets which was highly regarded by his brother physicians, many of whom sent their patients there in preference to taking advantage of the public institutions.

In 1903 Dr. Van de Warker published a book on co-education which created a decided sensation and had a comparatively large sale. In this volume and in subsequent papers written for Harper's Weekly and other periodicals he defended his position that young men and young women should not be educated together.

A pet project of the doctor's and one which he always hoped to see accomplished was the establishment of a summer sanatorium for infants at Onondaga Hill.

Dr. Van de Warker was born in West Troy, N. Y., November 6, 1841. He was prepared for college at a private school for boys, conducted by Mr. Arthur, the father of ex-President Chester A. Arthur. He attended the Troy Polytechnic and later was graduated in medicine at the Albany Medical college. Directly upon

In 1865 he began to practice in Troy. In the same year he married Louise Gardner of Hancock, Mass., whose death occurred the following year. About 1870 he moved to Syracuse and in 1872 he married Helen A. Adams whose death occurred in 1907.

Dr. Van de Warker was a Mason, and at the time of his death was an honorary member of the Syracuse Academy of Medicine, the Onondaga County Medical society and the American Gynecological society.

The deceased was well known to Fultonians, physicians and laymen. His funeral services will be held this Wednesday.

A MIGHTY PROJECT

Features of the Pennsylvania Railroad Terminal Just Opened.

The opening recently of the new Pennsylvania railroad terminal, occupying four city blocks in New York, calls attention again to this mighty project. The station has sixteen miles of railway lines, which are sunk forty feet below the ground. The building is 774 feet long, 333 feet wide and sixty-nine feet above the ground, which figures give one some slight idea of its magnitude. The trains run in a tunnel under the Hudson river and the East river, while the daily capacity will be about 2,000,000.

According to the company's official statement, the Pennsylvania station covers more territory than any other building ever constructed at one time in the history of the world. The Yachats, the Tuller, the St. Petersburg Winter palace are larger buildings, but they have been centuries in their construction. The Pennsylvania station is unique, covering as it does eight acres of ground, with exterior walls extending approximately one-half of a mile all told.

Through the exploding of a dynamite cap which had been placed in the sand bed east of the city but had not been exploded by the workmen who placed it there, Iren Jones, a 9-year old boy suffered a badly mangled left hand on Friday and Dr. F. He left his wheel standing at the side of the road while he watched the blaze and when he was ready to mount again the wheel was gone. On Saturday he spied the wheel standing in front of a foreigners home in West First street with name plate, number etc., all intact. An officer was called who took possession of the wheel, the foreigner protesting that he never saw the machine before.

Floyd, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, knows now why parents forbid their sons to climb on moving wagons. The lad narrowly escaped a broken leg and other serious injuries last week when the wagon on which he was standing started to move on and the boys leg was caught in the revolving spokes. He was thrown bodily to the pavement and one wheel passed over his leg. Mr. T. C. Giroux picked the boy up and took him into his barber shop where an inventory of his injuries revealed one badly bruised and one badly sprained member.

STATE FAIR

This year the State Fair will have the largest heavy horse exhibit in its history. Over two hundred entries have been received in Horse Department A, Farm, Breeding and Draft Horses. The interest which this department has aroused promises well for the improvement of breeding horses on the farms of the State. Draft horses are in great demand and can be produced with large profit by the farmers of the State.

The exhibit in Horse Department A will prove instructive to all who visit it as well as those who are expert horsemen. Arrangements are being made so that the different breeds exhibited will be easily distinguished and compared.

The two hundred entries which have been received include pure breeds, grades, stallions, mares, stallions with three of get, mares with foal at foot, draft teams, four horse teams, six horse teams, colts, fillies and foals. The following are the entries by breed:

90 entries in Percheron class.
28 entries in Belgian class.
18 entries in German Coach class.
8 entries in French Coach class.
35 entries in Trotters, Thoroughbreds and Morgans.

WILL BE POPULAR

Postal savings banks will be popular among postmasters and bankers. Since the bill was signed by President Taft up to the first of August, 390 postmasters had made applications for the opening of postal savings banks in their offices and 923 banks asked to be named as depositories. There will be no trouble in finding places to establish the savings banks. The rush of bankers to have their institutions named as depositories is in interesting contrast with the statements of some critics of the law, that it would be hard to find banks that would be willing to take the funds on the terms provided in the act.

The Postage Stamp.

Consider the postage stamp. It says nothing regarding the difficulty of the task assigned to it, but by dint of close application it usually gets there; also it delivers the goods.

Again, if one isn't tough to carry the thing through, two or more by working harmoniously together see the thing to a finish. No matter if the (small matter be weighty, it puts a good face of Washington on it and goes directly to the point. It gets ticked and stamped upon, and men besmear its fair features and oftentimes give it more to carry than the postal union allows. But, in spite of all this, it sticks unflinchingly to the matter in hand by virtue of the fact that it knows that it has good backing.

Its stick-to-it-ivity is worthy of emulation by you.—Judge's Library.

Always Answered.

Children often are highly logical, though not quite to the adult manner. They attain conclusions by those processes of "pure reason" which, being quite unbiased by the opinions of others, sometimes result in startling truths.

Almost everybody, for instance, has heard of the little lad who, listening to the questions of an irreligious friend of the family as to what would happen supposing that one good Christian should pray for an east and another for a west wind at sea, innocently answered that of course there'd be an awful tempest, but not every one has heard of the equally pertinent and naïve solution recently offered by a thoughtful youngster for the ever perplexing problem of "Are prayers answered?"

The child was talking with another, who asked the vexed and puzzling question, expiring at the same time that he didn't believe that prayers were answered, because he never got anything he asked for.

"You don't pray for the right things," answered little Mr. Wiseman. "Of course all prayers are answered, but sometimes the answer is 'Yes' and sometimes it's 'No.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Leaving a Man Helpless.

"That statement made me think," said a veteran newspaper man to the Cincinnati Times-Star, "of the celebrated row between President Cleveland's colored man and Secretary Hoke Smith's colored man. The two were exercising their masters' horses out on a country road and got into a dispute as to what is the best thing in the world. Finally they made a bet of a dollar on it.

"Well, what is the best thing in the world?" asked Cleveland's man.

"Roses possum and sweet taters," said Hoke Smith's man.

"Whose?" says Cleveland's man, dragging at the bride. He jumped to the ground, seized Hoke Smith's man by the leg and dragged him to the dust.

"Take that," says he, lamming him on the neck, "you miserable black rascal! You ain't leave me nuffin' to guess at!"

Bitten.

Standing by the entrance of a large estate in the suburbs of Glasgow are two huge dogs carved out of granite. An Englishman, going by in a hack, thought he would have some fun with the Scotch driver.

"How often, Jock, do you feed those two big dogs?"

"Whenever they bark, sir," was the straight faced reply.

TINLEY CONSTRUCTION STOPPED

Last week it was announced that all opposition to the Syracuse, Lake Erie & Northern railroad company crossing the Kingsford estate with their tracks, had been withdrawn and the construction work would go speedily forward. This week conditions for some reason are changed and the work is halted at the property lines of the Kingsford estate. No one seems to understand the cause for the hold-up.

Pniak has raised the funds and erected two churches in Utica and is also determined to erect one on the west side, this city, in the near future; possibly as soon as he can complete the Oswego church and make plans for the local one. He has a large number of parishioners on the west side here.

LOCAL EXCISE CASE.

James Trowbridge who has been employed in the Hotel, corner of Second and Seneca streets, was on Thursday arrested charged with violating the excise law by selling liquor on Sunday, Aug. 28. The arrest is the culmination of many trials and tribulations which have recently come to the proprietor and several of the employees and in which a local policeman has been interested in securing evidence. It is freely predicted that the end is not yet.

A PLEA FOR OUR PARK

Many thanks are due to whomsoever caused the removal of the ugly roots in the walk going through the park, which have caused pedestrians to stumble and fall in the darkness of night. It is true our City Fathers have provided a gravel walk which has never been generously patronized. Most people preferring the grass walk along the side to walking over the sharp broken stone. It has been suggested that the walks through our otherwise fine park, be treated with generous covering of cement or concrete thoroughly rolled down, compact and smooth, similar to the work being done on our best streets, but for far less cost of treatment as no teams are expected to go into the park. There is a general desire expressed to have better walks through our park and it is hoped a way can be found to bring this about at an early day.

MARRIED

Schenck-Powers

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. John E. Hamill, in Phoenix, N. Y., Tuesday, September 6 at eleven a. m. was celebrated the wedding of Mr. Martin Bryant Schenck, a former resident of Fulton, now of Meriden, Conn., and Mrs. Joanne Elizabeth Powers, of Dubuque, Iowa. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Hamill, brother of the bride, Marcus P. Schenck and wife, twin brother of the groom, of Springfield, Mass.; Miss Alice Schenck of Fulton and Mrs. Elizabeth L. Brackett of Hannibal Center, sisters of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Justin J. Morrill of Fulton, and Mrs. Jane A. Redfield of Des Moines, Iowa. It is an interesting fact that the bride and groom together with three persons who witnessed the ceremony, namely Marcus P. Schenck, Dr. J. E. Hamill, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brackett, were school boys and girls together sixty years ago in a little red school house at Jacksonville, near Lyander, N. Y. Mr. Schenck was for fifteen years in the hardware business in Fulton, and was an official member of the First Methodist Episcopal church. He is now engaged in the cigar manufacturing business extensively in Meriden, Conn. Mrs. Schenck was from erly the wife of Judge J. B. Powers, for years an honored statesman of Iowa, who died some years ago. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles L. Peck, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city.

At the Congregational church next Sunday the pastor will speak in the morning on "The Divine choice of inferior men." The theme in the evening will be, "Are the churches of today making progress?"

Comrades Norm G. Cooper, A. B. Kellogg and Reuben Terpening of Ia visited L. C. Day and wife at Lyander last Thursday and had a royal time. All were ex-members of Co. E 24th New York Infantry (which put down the war) and it was a picnic to hear the Old Boys tell stories of their experience under Uncle Sam. May they all live to enjoy a Home Coming in Fulton on May 6, 1911, to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of leaving Fulton to be soldiers for Uncle Abe.

Just why Lieutenant Foulis should want permission to fly across the Rio Grande when at this season of the year he could walk across without wetting the soles of his shoes is a mystery.

DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED CHURCH OFFICIALS

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Farley and Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter on Monday evening delightfully entertained the officials of the Presbyterian church and their wives at 6 o'clock dinner at Pathfinder club house. The tables had been artistically decorated with pink astors and roses, while the porch and ball room was elaborately decorated with pink hydrangea blossoms. Several delectable courses were served, one of the features being broiled Pathfinder chicken.

Beside the hosts and hostesses those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Benedict, Arthur Gilbert and daughter, Lucy, A. Bristol, William Loveloy and Miss Georgia Loveloy, Mr. and Mrs. George True, Mr. and Mrs. Putnam Allen and Mrs. John Hunter of Sterling.

DEMOCRATIC STATE POLITICS

If any one surmises that peace is doing the brooding angel act around the camp wherein Democratic State politics are sizzling, he is mistaken. It is true that the Republicans have been occupying the lime light for a few weeks but in the mean while the democrats are preparing many snares and political pitfalls for themselves. The Republicans are ceasing their war fare and the Democrats are coming into the forefront with their battle axes all sharpened and a weather eye wide open for the jugular of the fellows on the other side. While always over the shoulder of Democratic hope peers Hearst as the ever present menace to party success.

The latest Democratic news from the Metropolis is that Mayor William J. Gaynor will accept the nomination for Governor of New York if the Democratic convention at Rochester this month names him. The Mayor will not be an active candidate and will take no steps toward getting the nomination, but if there is a genuine demand for him expressed at the convention and he is the popular choice of the delegates he will accept the honor. The Mayor is said to have reached his decision after talk with some of his friends, who strongly urged him to become the party's candidate, and particularly after the same view was expressed by his secretary, Robert Adamson.

The Mayor's decision as outlined to his close friends has sifted during the past few days through various Democratic channels until it has reached the leaders, and the feeling now is general that he will be the first choice of the delegates from every section of the State at the convention. The Mayor, according to his friends, has no compunction about leaving the City Hall before his four-year term is up, as he is said to regard his election as a sort of contract to serve the people of New York. If the people desire to change the form of that contract, and have him serve the whole State rather than the city alone, he will accept their wishes, and not consider it a violation of his pledge. If the New York City delegates vote unanimously for his nomination, the Mayor will look upon it as an expression of the will of the majority of the people of the city.

Before his conference with his political advisors the Mayor is said to have taken the position that the office of the Mayor of New York is as important as that of the Governor of the State, and that if he should be called upon to lead the Democratic party in the Presidential campaign of 1912 the fact that he had not been elected Governor would not necessarily keep him from being a candidate. His advisors, however, pointed out that there is a strong unwritten law on the subject, and that the people of the United States will insist upon the precedent of a Presidential nominee having held higher office than that of a Mayor. Mr. Gaynor is said to have accepted this view of the subject and that he will now leave his fate entirely in the hands of his advisors.

"There is every reason why the Mayor should accept the Governorship," declared one of the Mayor's recent visitors, to a New York Times representative, "and I am convinced that he will, provided it is made quite clear that the people want him for Governor more than they do for Mayor. The question of his health is the only one that will interfere with his accepting the nomination. Even that should not be a serious impediment, it was pointed out to him. Albany is a better place for him if he doesn't get back his old time vigor."

"In the City Hall he has to labor fourteen and fifteen hours a day. As Governor his duties would be particularly arduous only during the legislative session. He is practically through with his work in New York City, for in one year he has revolutionized municipal affairs."

"In Albany he will speedily become a National figure. There is urgent need there for just such an Executive, and he would find much to do to his liking. As for the Mayor's pledge to the people, it is no different than the pledges other officials have made and been forced to change. Gaynor has more than fulfilled his promise and made good. If the people want him for something higher, it is not for him to refuse. It is his duty to accept and carry out the will of the people."

"I am positive that the Mayor has made up his mind to move on to Albany if the people unmistakably show that this is their desire. Of course, much will depend upon what happens at the Republican convention and what Hearst is going to do. If the Republicans nominate one of the Old Guard or a compromise candidate without great personal strength the Democrats of Rochester may be willing to risk a campaign with a candidate who does not possess the political strength of Gaynor. But if there is perfect harmony at Saratoga

KING MANUEL.

Portuguese Monarch is Having Trouble With Revolutionists.

and the delegates select a candidate, who can command the full strength of the Republican party, then we must have a man of great vote-getting ability in order to win.

"Of instance if Roosevelt is nominated I believe that no other man than Gaynor can beat him. It would be a close fight, but Gaynor would unquestionably win. Hearst is also an important factor. If he is willing to fuse with the Democrats and the Democrats are willing to fuse with him, then Mr. Gaynor would be out of it entirely, for nothing could induce him to accept the support of Hearst."

"Charles F. Murphy will be perfectly satisfied with the Gaynor nomination. With Gaynor out of the City Hall the Tammany chief will have another opportunity to get city patronage. Tammany would be willing to take its chances with John Purroy Mitchell in the Mayor's chair. He is an enrolled Democrat, and Murphy couldn't fare any worse at his hands than he did at Mr. Gaynor's. A plan has been evolved by an up-State leaders for bringing all the warring and disgruntled factions of the party together."

It is that Hearst is to be taken entirely out of the New York situation, this year at least, by holding out to him the promise of a Senatorial seat as a successor to Chauncey M. Dew. It is suggested that Mr. Hearst might not be averse to an election to the Senate. His father was a Senator from California.

New Cure For a Cold.

And now comes a brand new remedy for a cold. The French aviator Anbrun began an airship race recently while suffering from a heavy cold, but in a short time found, to his great surprise, that the cold had vanished. Two tonic elements the airship has that other vehicles lack. The strained attention needed in flying takes a man's mind off his physical ills. For this reason bicycling and automobile driving have been recommended for some forms of disease. But flying is better yet. You can bother with a cold when you are busy with hands, feet, knees and elbows and trying to look all at once at map, road book and the reeling earth beneath? How long will it be before enterprise prompts the advertisement: "Why sneeze? Take one trip in the Albatross to guaranteed altitude of 5,500 feet and—cure—that cold!"

DR. FENNER'S GOLDEN RELIEF will soothe any pain, inside or out, in from 5 to 6 minutes.

THIRD SHOCK- ING FATALITY

Child Killed by Horse, Family Well Known in Oswego

Three times within three months has tragedy visited a family in Oswego and husband, mother and grandchild have been suddenly taken.

The boarders at Twice Told, near as Point, on Friday thought it would be a feature to take to their homes after vacation a picture of the hotel, its inmates and especially of little Irving Fasholz, son of the manager.

In speaking of the fatality the Oswego Times says: The sudden and tragic death of little Irving Fasholz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fasholz and grandson of Mrs. Patrick H. McMahon by being kicked by a horse, is the third of a series of tragedies in the family of P. H. McMahon within three months. Captain McMahon himself was stricken at Twice Told on June 24 and Mrs. Daniel Hayes, mother of Mrs. McMahon died on August 10 in the Fulton hospital, as the result of injuries received by falling down a flight of stairs. The crowning affliction was the death of the little boy yesterday and this has almost prostrated the afflicted members of the family.

Little Irving was the pet of the household and of the summer colony at Twice Told. Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock several of the young women, living at the Point, decided that it would be a fine thing to take a picture of the family and others in a group on the hotel steps. One of the girls who owned a camera agreed to take the picture and the family was arranged on the steps. Little Irving sitting on the second step. It was suggested by one of the party that the horse grazing in the yard nearby also be taken with the group and the equine was led over to the porch.

In some manner as yet unexplained the little fellow lost his balance and rolled down the steps to the ground, almost directly under the horse's hoofs. The animal became frightened and before the boy could be removed from his dangerous position the horse kicked him in the abdomen inflicting serious internal injuries. The dangerous condition of the child was noted and word was immediately despatched to Doctor Mowry of Mexico. Though he hurried to the place with all possible speed, the child was dead before his arrival, having passed away about half an hour after the accident.

Coroner Vowinkel was summoned, and after an investigation of the circumstances decided that death was caused by ruptured intestines caused by the kick from the horse. An inquest was considered unnecessary. The mother of the child was almost unharmed for a time and was on the verge of collapse. The little fellow was a favorite in the neighborhood of No. 36 Mitchell street, Oswego, where he lived with his parents and grandmother. The young women who were the innocent, indirect cause of the said fatality were grief-stricken over the affair.

PRESIDENT DESIRES ECONOMY

A force of experts will shortly be put to work in the big departments of the government at Washington to locate the leaks. President Taft wants to know how much of the $300,000,000 that Senator Aldrich says he could save the government by conducting it on business lines can be saved. If it is possible to conduct the government on a well defined business basis President Taft wants it.

It is the President's idea now to carry out his campaign for economy along scientific lines. Secretary Norton, acting under the instruction of Mr. Taft has taken hold of the matter and is hard at work on the perfection of the details for the great task. So far as is possible it is desired to get some capable and efficient official in each of the departments to offer a comprehensive plan of reform in his particular department. It is not intended that this man shall be a spy.

WATERTOWN PAPER SUED

Another Place Portrayed As Scene of Recent Murder

Watertown, Sept. 12.—The Saturday Liberal News, a new paper recently established in Watertown, has a libel suit on its hands as a result of a picture of what purported to be the bar-room of the hotel at Great Bend, which was the scene of the recent double murder in which the Camp soldiers figured. The article which the paper printed with the picture described the scene of the killing as a place of ill repute. Now it appears that the picture which the paper published was not that of the Great Bend place but of another not in any way connected with the affair and it is said that it bears a good reputation so far as saloons go. People here who saw the picture of the barroom in the paper and who have been in the Great Bend place at once noticed the error.

BOARD OF HEALTH

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held on Wednesday evening at which time Health Officer Cusack reported one case of diphtheria and three cases of scarlet fever in the city. He reported the sanitary condition of the city to be very good and stated that the greatest menace to health at present came from the burning of soft coal by the large canal people and the manufacturers.

Meat and Milk Inspector Kennedy reported the slaughter houses in the city in an excellent condition; no milk was condemned during August and not one diseased carcass came to his attention.

A communication from State Health Commissioner Dr. Eugene M. Porter stated that a tuberculosis exhibit was being sent gratis throughout the State and that Fulton's Board of Health might avail itself of the opportunity to have this exhibit if they wished. Consequently it was arranged to have the exhibit given here. A stereoscopic lecture will be given in connection with the exhibit. The city would be expected to defray the expense of advertising the local lecture and exhibit.

NEW OUTFITTING FIRM

A new firm, Barker & Prevost, has been organized in this city to carry on a ladies ready-to-wear business. They are located in the Boardman block in Second street and propose to cater to just the need in this section — high class ready-to-wear goods of wide variety of choice and price. Mrs. Barker is at present in New York city purchasing a fine line of coats, suits, waists, silk skirts, dresses, etc.

Mrs. Lott will be associated with the new firm which will also conduct dressmaking parlors and she will be pleased to see all of her former patrons and to become acquainted with many new ones.

WHERE DO THEY GET IT?

There seems not to be any difficulty experienced by black-listed men in this city in securing intoxicating liquors, and the problem is puzzling the guardians of the law although the layman it would seem a simple problem to discover where the fiery beverage is procured. Officer Hardigan last week had occasion to interview one of these ever-soaks who was the worse for drink but he failed to find where the drink had been procured. Very evidently there is wholesale disregard for the law in this respect but the guilty ones are cuts enough to escape detection.

FALL STRAWBERRIES IN PLENTY

Residents in Pulaski were last week enjoying strawberries of as fine flavor as ever were eaten in June. 25c per quart being the price asked for them. L. J. Farmer, the Pulaski fruit man, was the wizard who achieved the signal success in the realm of berry culture and he expects to make a permanent feature of strawberries in the market from June to November.

Mr. Farmer expects to realize $1,000 from his berry acreage this Fall.

The idea of guiding an airship across the Atlantic is encouragement, inasmuch as it may substitute a splash for the disastrous impact with terra firma.

RAISED RUCTION GENERALLY

Barge Canal Employees Were Dynamiting a Sunkern Canalboat Near the Guard Lock—Plastered Ceilings Came Down and Window Glass Was Broken in Many Homes.

[Oswego Times]

People living in the vicinity of McWhorter and Cochran streets rushed from their homes early Thursday evening panic stricken and firm in the belief that an earthquake had struck Oswego. The trouble was all caused by the dynamiting of the Pierce Sand Company's canalboat which was abandoned in the guard lock after it had sunk Monday.

The barge canal employees were left to raise it and the water has been drawn from the Hydraulic canal for several days while the preparations were under way. It was discovered that the only thing that could be done was to dynamite it, as the boat was broken in two in the middle.

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon the blasting was started and shortly after six the charge was set off that shook the houses in the neighborhood. The little water level in the canal was thrown in every direction, window panes were broken and gas mantles shaken off the fixtures. The plaster was knocked off the ceilings at the homes of Michael Griffin and Bart Shufelt and several members of the families had narrow escapes from injury.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN FIELD

Mr. Thomas Wilson, a prominent Democrat of the Fifth ward, and an employe in the Hunter Arms factory, was found semi-unconscious in a field on the Owen road at 10:30 a. m. Monday morning by a number of his fellow workmen who had organized a searching party in his behalf when his family became anxious over his absence of twenty-four hours and started in search of him. He was taken to his home in Sixth street in Mr. William Hunter's automobile where he lies in a critical condition from apoplexy, the stroke coming upon him as he was climbing over a fence in search of elder berries.

Sunday morning Messrs. Clands Vickery and Mr. Wilson had planned to take a little trip into the country after berries. Mr. Wilson was to meet Mr. Vickery at Stop 28 on the first trolley. He missed this car but took the next one and upon reaching Mr. Vickery's home found that he and another friend had gone on, thinking Mr. Wilson would not join them.

Mr. Wilson immediately started in search of the rest of the party and that was the last known of his whereabouts until he was found twenty-four hours later unconscious in the field where he had fallen when stricken. The result of the stroke cannot be foretold as yet as he is still a very sick man.

MARRIED

Sweet—LaPierre

Sunday afternoon, September 11, at three o'clock at 823 Emory street occurred the wedding of Mr. Fred L. Sweet of the city fire department, and Miss Louise Jane LaPierre, of Fulton. The ceremony was witnessed by Miss Ella McKoon, Miss Sabra Wells and Harlow Rice, and was performed by Rev. Charles L. Peck of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

SHOWED DISCRIMINATION

The petition presented the Common Council on Tuesday evening of last week relative to the abating of the soft coal smoke nuisance showed discrimination in that it asked that the McDermott Contracting company only should be restrained from using soft coal, no mention being made of the manufacturers using the same commodity. The matter was referred to the Ordinance Committee and Mr. McDermott has been called upon by the aldermen. Mr. McDermott agreed to do all within his power to improve matters but pointed to the injustice of the petition in that it was aimed directly at him and did not include others using as much soft coal as he within the business section.

Mr. McDermott is desirous of installing electric motors to drive his machinery and proposes to do so as soon as he can secure the service. In the mean while he will see to the changing over of his grates, etc.

It is rumored that a petition is to be presented the Common Council asking that all users of soft coal within the city limits be compelled to install automatic stokers or to burn hard coal.

YOUTHFUL HORSE THIEVES

Sixteen year old Jason Miller of this city and eleven year old Orris Dimont of Granby were arrested near North Syracuse on Thursday and brought to this city where after remaining in jail over night they were taken to Oswego to await the action of the Grand Jury. The boys on Wednesday entered Mr. E. E. Moorehouse's pasture in Volner, took therefrom a valuable four year old bay colt and mounting its back rode away. A short distance away and the boys stole a wagon and harness from Henry Mace, harnessed the colt into the buggy and drove on. When apprehended they were accompanied by two tramps and the colt was completely exhausted.

Mr. Moorehouse did clever detective work in finding the young rascals.

AFTER YEARS BROTHERS MEET

After a separation of twenty years a scar upon the face of a man who applied to Barber T. C. Giroux on Saturday revealed kinship which was hastily admitted and greatly enjoyed. Mr. Giroux and his brother Albert parted, the one to travel and prospect, the other to lead an uneventful life in Fulton. Albert had made and lost fortunes but is now successful in South American enterprises and the brothers are very happy in each others society. The scar upon the strangers face was made by a dog when the boy was very young and the elder brother had sewed up the wound.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS

Most Important Catholic Meeting Held in Years. Thousands Attend Ceremonies.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—One hundred thousand people heard mass at the special altar, erected at a cost of $65,000 at the foot of a mountain in the park known as Pletch's field, when the Eucharistic Congress resumed its session here today.

Archbishop Farley, of New York, celebrated Pontifical mass. Cardinal Vanutelli, Papal Legate, and Cardinal Logue occupied the thrones. Sermons were delivered by Father Hage in French and Mgr. O'Connell, of Boston, in English.

The altar was 150 feet high surmounted by a huge gold cross about which were groups of angels with crystal trumpets. The decorations, Montreal clericals say, surpass anything ever before seen here.

Thirty thousand children received the Papal blessing this afternoon as they filed past the Archbishop's palace. The scene was an impressive one. The thousands of little ones from the Catholic schools, with their faces turned toward the Cardinals as they marched, touched the hearts of the watching throng.

The various sectional meetings were continued today.

In his sermon Archbishop O'Connell exhorted Catholics to fully realize the enormous treasury of grace contained in the central act of the Church's worship. The inventions of men, he said, can never take the place of the priesthood of Christ.

"The Roman Catholic church alone enforced obedience to the law of God governing racial suicide. From what I hear of conditions in the United States the Catholics will soon control that country through force of numbers," today said Father Bernard Vaughan, most famous of England's Roman Catholic prelates, who is a delegate to the Eucharistic Congress.

"Christian fecundity is fighting sterile paganism. The battle for the possession of the world," he continued, "will soon be narrowed to the Roman Catholic church and the destructive forces of agnosticism. Protestantism is disappearing. To me nothing can be more contemptible than those married women who shake their little fists in the fact of God, saying: 'We ignore you and despise your laws.'"

The fever rush for pleasure is leading them to paganism and the destruction of Carthage, of Phœnicia, of Greece and Rome. Women no longer want the trouble of rearing children. Children interfere too much with their pleasures, their figures.

"The empty cradle and the empty church are the great problems of modern life. Racial suicide and religious suicide act and react upon each other. The Roman Catholic church stands alone in its enforcement of the law of God concerning marriages, and the Roman Catholic church alone has no complaint to make of empty pews."

"I can understand the unmarried woman who feels that she does not want to be left out of public affairs and who wants her share of the prizes of life. I find no fault with her ambitions, but I think it is a grand thing to see a woman taking in washing. She is far better than her richer sisters, who spend their time taking in men. I think it is unfortunate that women have to work outside the home, but it seems to be a necessary economic condition of the day."

"We must all aim toward ideals we can never reach, but neither the nations nor their peoples are striving toward a Christian ideal. Our age has no sense of proportion, of the fitness of things, for it has lost sight of God and his laws."

The final meetings of the Eucharistic Congress were begun at ten o'clock this morning. This afternoon the various church societies celebrated with meetings followed by a street parade of the Catholic, Young Men which was reviewed by the Papal delegate and the other distinguished churchmen.

Three big religious services will conclude the Congress tomorrow. There will also take place the great procession the big outdoor feature of the week, which will be participated in by three cardinals, 125 Archbishops and Bishops and thousands of clergy of lesser degree.

Yesterday when Archbishop Ireland arose to speak he was cheered for ten minutes by French Canadians, who shouted that he was the best Catholic in the world. The demonstration to the St. Paul prelate pleased Cardinal Vanutelli. Several times he turned to the bishops and nodded and smiled his gratification.

FULTON'S CENSUS

DISAPPOINTING

A dispatch from Washington, D. C., on Tuesday gives Fulton's population according to the last Federal census as 10,460. Over one thousand less than was expected. The census of 1900 gave Fulton 8,206; of 1905 gave her 8,347, showing a gain in ten years of 1,512.

The census returns give Oswego a population of 23,288, a gain in ten years of 1,169.

Fulton's increase in population will raise her saloon licenses from $450 to $525.

HEARING BEFORE JUDGE ROWE

Warren Troupe of Fulton was given a hearing before Judge Rowe in County Court Tuesday on the charge of being a disorderly person in that he was not properly supporting his wife and three children. The charge is the result of an arrest made in Fulton some time ago. The hearing has been adjourned until September 26th when it will be continued in the County Court chambers.

SHORT OF FUNDS

The Department of Education in Oswego is in a sad way financially. The State money is withheld on account of the wretched condition of the school buildings and their failure to conform to the State laws. At a meeting of the Board of Education held on Friday, evening it was found that the Department would be short $7,453.01 unless the $11,000 coming from the State was made available.

D. A. R. MEET

A special meeting of Kayendatzena Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Sept. 8 at the home of the Misses Osgood. Mrs. R. S. McKinstry was elected delegate and Miss Alice Schenck alternate to the State conference which meets in Cooperstown on Sept. 28-29.

WILL PREVENT CRIME

Officials of the Post Office Department and Congressmen believe that the establishment of postal savings banks will decrease crime in rural sections. Senator Dewey who has traveled extensively, and has observed closely on these questions, is strongly of this opinion:

"Nearly every day in the newspapers are accounts of crimes of murder and arson committed upon isolated farms, at coal mines, mining camps, and lumber camps, and all of them for robbery," he said. "The fact that farmers too distant to avail themselves of savings bank hide their money in the house, and that this is true among the thrifty in coal and iron mines and with the men who are working upon the construction of railways or in the digging of canals, has created a class of criminals whose specialty is ascertaining the thrifty and preying upon them either by threats or violence."

"With savings banks at Post Offices the farmers will deposit their money in them and thus reduce robberies and crimes consequent thereon."

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel impregnated with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

THE REED STATUE

Memorial Erected in Portland to Former Speaker of House.

A national figure of a few years ago and one whose reputation was not confined to his own country was honored in his home city, Portland, Me., recently when a bronze statue of the late Thomas B. Reed, for many years speaker of the house of representatives, was unveiled. The memorial stands on the western promenade overlooking Casco bay. It is eight feet high and represents Reed in an attitude of repose, with a scroll in the left hand.

The pedestal is of Maine granite, nine feet high. The memorial was modeled in Paris by Burr C. Miller, who not only worked from accurate photographs, but who had the advantage of having seen Mr. Reed many times during his congressional career and who met him frequently after his retirement from public life. It gives a fine idea of the statesman as he looked up to about two years before his death. The cost was about $40,000.

Didn't Wait the Attack.

At Boulogne during a royal reception some years ago a number of English ladies in their anxiety to see everything pressed with such force against the soldiers who were keeping the line that the soldiers were forced to give way and generally were, as policemen say, "hindered in the execution of their duty." The officer in command, observing the state of affairs, called out: "One roll of the drum! If they don't stand back kiss them all!" After the first sound of the drum the ladies took to flight.

"If they had been French," said a Parisian journal, "they would have remained to a woman."

of Heart Trouble Cured by Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had pains in my left side, and under my shoulder blade, could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath the least exertion would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. When I had taken six bottles I was cured."

MRS. C. C. GORKEY,
Northfield, Va.

If there is fluttering or palpitation it is an indication of a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the heart. It is not necessarily diseased—just weak from over-work. The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. You can make a weak heart strong by taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy. Get a bottle from your druggist, take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

New Offerings

Some of the Great Productions Promised

ONCE more our attention turns from mountains, lake and sea-side pleasures to matters theatrical, and we are eager again to applaud the hero and heroine, his villain and enjoy a hearty laugh at comedy and comic opera. As to the season now beginning, of one thing we may be sure—that it will be a year of unexampled energy and activity. The control of many of our theaters is split between hostile factions. On each side furious efforts are making to secure the best plays and the most popular actors, an activity from which the public should profit. The rivalry will result in a large number of high class productions.

Among the importations are two big things. "The Blue Bird," one of the most delicate and beautiful of Maeterlinck's symbolic fantasies, has made a popular success in London and is expected to create no end of interest in America. "Chautauque," also a charming poetic fantasy, may or may not be successful here in English, depending somewhat upon the effect of casting a woman for its central figure. For the rest the names of successful dramatists figure freely in the announcements. Barrie, Pinero, Maugham, Lavedan, Bernstein, Bialistic, Sutro, Davies and others are to be represented.

In the field of grand opera we shall have the first productions of three operas by composers of note. These are "The Girl of the Golden West," by Puccini; "The King's Children," by Humperdink, and "Ysobel," by Mascagni. For the first nights of which these composers will visit America. Many new comedies, dramas and comic operas have already appeared or are promised for the near future, so that the quantity of our stage novelties is sure to be ample.

One of the new plays that promise to have long runs is Winchell Smith's "Bobby Burnit," with Wallace Eddinger in the title role. The story has to do with a young man who up to the time of his father's death had displayed no business acumen, but concerned himself only with the usual pursuits of the idle young rich. Immediately upon the demise of his parent he was placed in control of $250,000 in cash and a large department store. To demonstrate his business shrewdness he becomes involved in speculation, which results in his losing not alone this fortune, but the control of a great business institution. Burnit perishes before his death, anticipating all this and in order to conserve the balance of his large estate, by his last will and testament placed in the hands of a trustee the authority and power to restrain the young man from sinking deeper in the mire of financial embarrassment and disaster. This trustee is the fiancée of young Burnit, but her testamentary powers are concealed from him. Finally, having made himself an easy victim for financial tricksters, which involves him to the verge of bankruptcy, and almost causes the girl he loves to turn against him, he outwits his enemies and recovers the money he had lost. Here for the first time he displays those characteristics of his father which made him a noted financier, thereby satisfying the trustee that he can ably take care of the rest of his enormous fortune. Of course he marries the girl, who has delayed setting the date for their wedding until Bobby has shown that he can make good. Another of the new offerings attracting attention is called "The Commuters," a farcical comedy by James Forbes. As the title suggests, the play deals with a phase of American life familiar to every resident of a city or its environs. The story of "The Commuters" centers about Larry and Betty Brice, a devoted young couple, residents of Auburn Manor, a suburb of New York. Larry's particular charm, Sammy Fletcher, is a typical New York bachelor, with the usual urban dweller's distaste for life in the country. Known only by name and reputation to Betty, he is the object of her pronounced dislike, as she holds him responsible for her husband's occasional innocent but none the less annoying discrepancies from the straight and narrow path. Larry invites Sammy to spend a day in Auburn Manor in order that he may reveal in the real joys of a commuter. His unexpected advent in the Brice household causes a temporary breach between the devoted young people. Sammy, in his attempt to repair the damage, only succeeds in bringing down upon his head the wrath of both husband and wife. After a series of convolutions, in which a number of typical suburbanites participate, Sammy succeeds in straightening out the tangle. The leading feminine role is taken by May De Souza.

"The Country Boy" is the title of a new play by Edgar Selwyn. The story is that of a young man bailing from a small town in northern New York, who goes to New York city to win fame and fortune in that large metropolis. His lack of success on his native death he attributes to the limitations of his birthplace. In his native village he has a charming home, a good mother and a sensible sweetheart, and all of these he leaves behind in establishing his new home. Here he is soon caught in the maelstrom of a busy world, and loses sight of the stimulus for his ambition by attaching himself to a chorus girl. On her he wastes his time and money and at last comes to the end of his rope in the realization that failure has stamped him as her own. Disappointed and defeated, despair overtakes him.

He is about to make away with himself when he is caught in the firm grip of a man with a healthy and optimistic view of life, who labors hard and succeeds in restoring the boy to his original self respect and enthusiasm. The youth returns to his home town to fight anew the great struggle of life. He succeeds by first winning the esteem and confidence of his fellow townsmen and the girl, who has never lost her love for him abate in the least. The play teems with character studies of typical natives of the "great white light," and as a contrast we also see the healthy, sturdy Americans particularly indigenous to the small country towns.

A new play by Margaret Mayo, entitled "Baby Mine," is another production that is winning much success. This is a farce in three acts, in which all sorts of funny complications follow the borrowing of a baby by a young wife. Later on in the season we are to have a new play by George Ade.

"A Certain Party" is the title of a new political farce comedy in which Mabel Hite is starring this season. It tells the story of a progressive citizen who enters politics with the very laudable purpose of instituting some necessary reforms. His campaign fares very badly until his niece's Irish maid, who knows all "the boys," steps to his rescue and teaches him the necessity of the human element in politics. With her assistance the reform candidate finds his course easy sailing. Miss Hite is supported in the play by her husband, Mike Donlin, the former baseball player.

Fanny Aymer Matthews has written a play called "The Red Swan," which has for its theme a grand opera prima donna's career. It is to be produced under the management of John B. Doris, and it is expected a real grand opera singer will take the leading role, which is rather melodramatic.

JAIL FARM PAYS

Considerable discussion in opposition to the establishment of a jail farm was indulged in prior to the purchase of the farm, by the Paladium. It is very refreshing to notice the following item in its edition of Thursday:

The jail farm, which cost the county considerable money in view of the fact that it had to be stocked and the ground was pretty nearly played out, will more than make expenses this year. The farm is now well cultivated; fences have been built and all the trees trimmed. Between seven and ten men from the jail work daily on the farm under the supervision of Carl Chiler, who is in charge. As most of the assistants picked are farmers, considerable work is being accomplished.

The farm is stocked with seven cows and two horses. The milk is sold to dealers and to Sheriff Taft who uses about twenty-five quarts a day at the jail. All told, the farm contains ninety-two acres and a large part of it is under cultivation. A portion of it is planted with wheat and five acres are planted with corn, which has been sold to the Oswego Preserving Company. A threshing machine was at work there Wednesday and about 300 bushels of oats were secured. There will also be between 400 and 500 bushels of potatoes harvested.

RETURNED TO FULTON

Charlie Monta Came to Town With a "Skate" and then Filed Up [Oswego Palladium]

The fact that Charlie Monta came to town from Fulton Thursday with a "blamed, worthless horse" resulted in his getting a suspended sentence in Police Court on the charge of public intoxication, Judge Gill figuring out that if he was sent up the city would have to pay for the keep of the horse. Monta was picked up after his horse had fallen at the corner of East First and Bridge streets last night. All he had with him was a bottle of alcohol about three-quarters gone. On his promise to leave town and take the horse with him, he was allowed to go. He borrowed half a dollar to pay for the board of the horse last night and departed Fulton-ward.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

The season at the Pleasant Point Club is practically over and nearly all of the boarders have departed and much of the help has been let go. The season has been the most prosperous that the club has enjoyed and already plans are being made for next season. At the annual meeting to be held shortly it is said that the old officers will be re-elected if they can be induced to again fill the positions. The club, under their direction, has prospered and become very popular.

While the season is over the clubhouse will not close, the superintendent and his wife remaining there all winter. Members will be welcomed at all times and arrangements can be made by those desiring dinners by notifying the Superintendent by telephone. The clubhouse is a popular over-Sunday retreat for many during the pleasant months of September and October.

STORES NOT PROTECTED BY PROPRIETORS

Chief Ross again calls attention to the failure on the part of store proprietors to provide interior lighting for their stores at night after closing time. Without this light it is utterly impossible for the patrolmen to tell whether or not thieves are at work within, as the outside lights do not throw a gleam to that section of the store wherein the valuables are usually kept.

A small incandescent light in each store would facilitate the work of capturing the rascals and would also act as a preventative of the crime of stealing and be of invaluable assistance to the watchmen in their night work. The expense to the business man would be too trifling to be taken into consideration in comparison with the protection it would afford.

SKENE DECLARED NOT GUILTY

Former State Engineer Skene was acquitted of the charge of grand larceny in the raising of the Good Roads bids while he was in office, it was proven that the bid was raised some $9,000 in his office but the jury believed that it was done without either the knowledge or consent of Skene.

Charles H. O'Neill of New York, who was confidential assistant to former State Engineer Frederick Skene, was arrested on a warrant charging perjury. He was the State's principal witness against Skene.

DEATHS

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Orman died at their home on Sunday.

Mrs. Andrus G. Morse, aged 68, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson, 625 Broadway. The deceased had been a resident of Fulton for about five years, since the death of her husband.

Blanche, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shautell died on Sunday at the family home in Second street from diphtheria, after an illness of twenty-four hours. A son is suffering from the same disease and the house is under quarantine.

John M. Alexander, aged 66, a native of Oswego county and for 20 years a resident of Hannibal, died at the Lee Memorial hospital on Saturday night after a serious operation performed as the one possible means of prolonging the sufferer's life. He apparently improved in condition for a while but the halt in the approach of death was only temporary and he passed away after intense suffering. The funeral services were held from the late home on Tuesday and interment was made in the South Scriba cemetery. Beside the widow the deceased is survived by one son, H. J. Alexander of this city, and one brother, Emory Alexander of Volney.

Ella M., aged 54, wife of ex-County Treasurer Thomas Moore, died on Friday at the family home in Oswego after an illness of a week. She was a member of Grace Presbyterian church, of the Order of the Eastern Star and for a dozen years or more was Treasurer of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. She was one of the most charitable and benevolent women in Oswego and was foremost in many movements for the relief of the poor, suffering and needy, although she refused to take a public part. The immediate survivors are the husband, one daughter, Blanche, a sister and a brother. The funeral services were held from the late home on Monday afternoon.

The death of Mrs. C. G. Ives, aged 73, occurred at the home of her son, John L. Ives, at Mt. Pleasant, on Wednesday after a long illness. The deceased had been a resident of Volney for over 40 years and her death is deplored by a large circle of acquaintances who were devotedly attached to her. The deceased was a consistent member of the Methodist church and took keen interest in church and charitable work. The funeral services were held from the late home and from the Mt. Pleasant church on Saturday, the Rev. R. E. Jones officiating. Interment was made in the family lot in Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Beside the son at whose home she died the deceased was survived by a daughter, Mrs. E. B. Bartlett of Mt. Pleasant.

After an illness of several months following a stroke of paralysis, James T. Pratt, aged 54, died in the Lee Memorial hospital on Tuesday morning. Rev. Hiram D. Weston Editor Times: Through the columns of Zion's Herald I learn that the above named clergyman, a former pupil in Fallay Seminary, passed away August 1st. Another paper gives the date Sept. 1st, but I am inclined to believe the earlier date the correct one. He was at the time of his death, pastor of the Sheephead Bay Methodist Church, a part of Brooklyn within whose borders he died. When in 1875, I came to this city to reside, Mr. Weston was the pastor of a local church, as he had been for several years and he thus continued several years longer, but my acquaintance went back to boyhood's days when, in the spring of 1861, I first remember meeting him in the dining room of Fallay. He was a large, fine looking young man of twenty years, just back from a winter of school teaching. Several years older than myself, he was a sort of model in deportment where all of us younger boys admired, though we did not always imitate. He was constant and thorough in his work and was exceedingly well liked by all of his associates. Though he was in the preparatory course for college, he did not enter, though he may have attended the Biblical institute then in Concord, N. H., now one of the Theological features of Boston. He was a speaker in all of the Seminary's public exercises and a faithful member of the Aethion Debating Society. As a minister he was appointed to some of the best churches in the New England, Newark (N. J.), and New York East Conference, and every church he ever had was better for his pastorate. His illness is said to have been heart disease and his age seventy years. He was born in Sandy Creek, Oswego county. I write these lines, thinking that some former pupil of those far off days, like myself, may remember the deceased and be pleased to see this brief tribute to his memory. Alfred S. Roe, Worcester, Mass.

The Sting of a Bee.
An eastern fable tells of a potentate who demanded that there should be brought to him the stings of a thousand bees killed because one of their colony had dared commit lese majesty by stinging the hand of royalty. When they were brought in a tiny golden thimble the king was so amazed to find that a thousand of the hypodermic points made such a little mass that he issued a manifesto to the effect that thereafter no person within the bounds of the kingdom should complain at the sting of a bee. The lesson of the fable is that petty annoyances hurt because they are exaggerated in the mind; that when they are seen in their actual proportions they are so slight as to merit only contempt. How much comfort would come to the majority of persons if they could but see the tiny size of the bee stings that lead them to acts of petulance, words of anger, expressions of reproach. The bee sting annoyances have caused lifelong breaches of friendship. They have broken up families and caused anger and resentment to take the place of love and fealty.—Baltimore American.

A Tale of Heroism.
"I went for a bath yesterday," said an Aufkruut. "I had need to in the water some time when I suddenly perceived an enormous shark advancing toward me with its jaws open. What was I to do? When he was a yard off I dived, took out my pocketknife and tipped up the monster."
"What? Then you are in the habit of bathing with your clothes on," said one of the listeners.—From the French.

Putting It Too Strong.
She—So many men nowadays marry for money? You wouldn't marry me for money, would you, dearest? He (absently)—No, darling, I wouldn't marry you for all the money in the world. She—Oh, you horrid, horrid wretch!—Boston Transcript.

Trouble For the Tourists.

There is a story on record of three Irishmen rushing away from the race meeting at Punchestown to catch a train back to Dublin. At the moment a train from a long distance pulled up at the station, and the three men scrambled in. In the carriage was seated the other passenger. As soon as they had regained their breath one said:

"Pat, have you got th' tickets?"
"What tickets? I've got me tollef I thought I'd have lost that gettin' in th' thrain. Have you got 'em, Molke?"
"Oh! Begorrah, I haven't!"
"Oh, we're all done for, that!" said the third. They'll charge us right from th' other side of Oireland."
The old gentleman looked over his newspaper and said:
"You are qdlie safe, gentlemen. Wait till we get to th' next station."
As soon as the train pulled up the little gentleman jumped out and came back with three first class tickets. Handing them to the astonished stranger, he said: "What! I'll tell you how I did it! I wint along th' thrain. Tickets, please; tickets, please!" I called, and there before us three Saxon tourists in another carriage.

PASTOR APPRECIATED

BY PEOPLE

CHURCH DIRECTORY

Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Taft and family who have been spending a month in this city have returned to their home in Binghamton and Mr. Taft has sent the Times a program of the fifth anniversary exercises being held in his church, the East Side Congregational church, commencing on Monday evening and continuing throughout the week. Mr. Taft has been most zealously interested in every phase of his church work during his pastorate and the result is that the new church and society have achieved a success in every particular that might well be envied by larger and older societies.

During the Summer just closed nearly $2,000 has been expended in church improvements, a most beautiful auditorium being the result. Mr. Taft has full cause to feel gratified with the auspicious opening of his sixth year of pastorate of the prosperous little church. His many friends in this city congratulate him and also his parishioners upon the very friendly relationship existing between pastor and people.

The improvements made to the church during the Summer include the installation of new pews and a pipe organ, the recarpeting of the auditorium, the enlargement of the pulpit platform, the carpeting and seating of the gallery, the re-decoration of the interior, and the painting of the outside of the church.

Love and a Shining Mark.

Percy—I came to ask you for the hand of your daughter.

Goldrox—Which one?

"Why, Ethel?"

"Oh, she's in school yet! She wouldn't think of such a thing."

"Well, Ethel then."

"Oh, Ethel is too young!"

"Then give me Mary in marriage. She's old enough."

"Oh, yes; Mary is old enough to know better!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Practical View.

"So you believe in marrying for love?" asked the innocent maid.

"Yes, to a certain extent," replied the fair widow, "but marrying for love without a side issue of bread and butter is like sipping the froth from a glass of soda water."—Chicago News.

Literary.

Mistress—Do you clean rooms with alacrity? Applicant—I generally prefer patent sweepers, mum.—Baltimore American.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eyes, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, yellow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that you hardly realize that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

THE WESTWARD. Venus de Milo. I think the Westward should have been called the White Knight, for she comes to us like a knight errant. Across the Atlantic she came, not in fair weather, but with an ugly sea running and half a gale blowing. Herreshoff was inspired with a masterpiece. Every line of her was a stroke of genius.

It is no surprise that a Herreshoff has built such a vessel as the Westward. Nat and his blind brother, John D., are known the world over as the greatest yacht designers and builders of our time. The Columbia, Constitution and other famous cup defenders were their creations.

Passing of The Hermit Kingdom

A JIU JITSU hold is a hard thing to break. We may squirm and protest, but down we go. If you don't believe it ask the Koreans. Japan got a jiu jitsu grip on Korea, and what has been the result? That country has been laid on its back, so to speak—in fact, wiped off the map. Korea is no longer Korea, the Hermit Kingdom, but She-Sun, the Land of the Morning Calm. It is part of Japan, having just been annexed by that country. The emperor becomes Prince Gi and will rank lower than the Japanese crown prince. The civil list will not be curtailed, and there will be more money for the court to spend, as there will be fewer retainers. Morning calm will be succeeded by evening calm where once Korea was, and another ancient nation has been smothered out of existence.

Japan by the formal annexation of the Hermit Kingdom has at last really grasped the rich prize toward which all her efforts have been directed for twenty years, to gain which she fought China and dared to measure arms with the mighty empire of the czar, extending in the long struggle hundreds of millions of dollars and the lives of countless thousands of her subjects. Slowly, but with grim relentlessness, the arts of the drama have been evoked, succeeding one another with the inevitableness of the scenes in a Greek tragedy. The minds at Tokyo which conceived the plot two decades ago knew what the denouement was to be.

When Japan first cast covetous eyes on Korea—valuable on account of its intrinsic natural wealth, but still more on account of its strategic position on the mainland of Asia—China was regarded as possessing suzerainty over that kingdom. Japan soon found a pretext for alleging that China was causing an unfriendly feeling in Korea against the mikado's government.

PRINCE GI AND SON, FORMERLY EMPEROR AND CROWN PRINCE OF KOREA.

The usual negotiations were but a prelude to war, the first act in the modern drama of the far east.

China as a result of the war lost all right of interference in the affairs of Korea. But the exit of China proved to be merely the entry of Russia on the stage. Japan saw clearly that Russia's line of expansion would lie toward the Pacific through Manchuria. She saw that Russia's eyes were bent on Korea, and she resolved to be first in the field and place herself as guardian at the Pacific gateway of Manchuria.

Japan's plan seemed to have succeeded when the intervention of the powers in 1905 barred her progress and installed Russia in Liaoning. Thenceforward Japan had but one idea—Russia must be dislodged from Korea.

Masters came to a head toward the close of the year 1903. Japan demanded that Russia withdraw her troops from Manchuria. Russia declined, and long negotiations followed. In the course of which Japan offered to cede herself entirely in Manchuria if Russia would do the same in Korea. An ultimatum from Tokyo having failed to bring a reply from the St. Petersburg government, the mikado's naval forces entered the harbor of Chemulpo and fired on and disabled two of the czar's warships. The war was on, and the result is history.

On Nov. 17, 1905, the emperor of Korea was practically forced by Prince Ito Marquis Ito, the mikado's special envoy at Seoul, to agree to a new pact. Korea's independence then became practically nonexistent. Nothing but a shadow of her national sovereignty remained. The emperor became practically a vassal of the mikado. Marquis Ito was installed as resident general at Seoul, and his subordinates ruled the destinies of the old kingdom. The following year, by a new agreement, the emperor recognized the residency general. Within a year he abdicated in favor of his son, who was sent to Tokyo to be educated in Japanese surroundings. By an agreement signed July 31, 1907, all administrative measures and the appointment of all high officials became subject to the resident general. Finally in July, 1909, Japan seized control of the administration of justice, and, of course, the national government of Korea was no more.

Esperanto and the Police.

We may poke fun at Esperanto, but have you heard the latest? So many, it is said, are using the language that the police in many cities are now to be taught it in order that they may reply intelligently to the Esperantist who is in need of their services. As it now stands, what would happen to a man who walked up to a "cop" on the corner and said aggressively: "Lau nia pro?" Why, he would immediately be battered into insensibility. In Washington, during the meeting of the Esperanto congress, one of the members from a foreign country asked a bluecoat in Esperanto to be directed to the capitol. How that visitor would have praised our police abroad if he could have been sent on his way rejoicing! Instead, believing himself insulted, the indignant officer shook his club and shouted: "Put an egg in your shoe and beat it!" While the police are struggling with the new language, however, it would be just as well for us to find our own way about.

SAVED A SOLDIER'S LIFE

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds. ## HARD LUCK

The pulp-wood problem in Oswego received another setback when a big clumsy scow loaded with sand got caught in the guard lock on Thursday and sank. In going through the lock the scow hit the wall and was badly damaged. Not a boat has passed through the lock and none will be able to go through there until the scow is removed. The barge canal engineers are now figuring some way to get her out but it is thought that it will be a huge task and that the boat will have to be removed in pieces. The pulp-wood which arrives here from Haha bay and is sent up to Battle Island via canal will have to either wait here or be sent up via train. This will effect their boats only as they are practically the only ones that use the canal.

Meeting of The Irrigation Congress

A COMING event that is attracting a large share of the country's attention just now is the meeting of the national irrigation congress, which will be held in Pueblo, Colo. from Sept. 26 to 30. This will be the eighteenth session of the organization, and that its work is being followed all over the world is shown by the fact that from thirty to forty foreign representatives will be present on this occasion. Several thousand delegates will attend from the various states in this country, including practical agriculturists and irrigationists, heads of the various governmental departments, capitalists and engineers. As Colorado has a larger acreage under canal and ditches than any of the western states, those present will have an excellent opportunity to study the various plans.

If you have paid little or no attention to irrigation it will open your eyes to learn what is being done in this direction. The law less than nine years in existence has given the country twenty-five projects, representing the reclamation of more than 3,198,000 acres of land, at a cost to date of approximately $50,000,000, while thirteen projects held in abeyance until the completion of the foregoing will add 8,270,000 acres to the crop producing area of the United States.

This total of 6,468,000 acres will furnish homes for more than 3,500,000 men, women and children and add several hundred million dollars to the taxable property of the various states. Irrigation canals representing an investment of $150,000,000 are in operation in sixteen arid states and territories, and a harvest valued at $250,000,000 is the deserts' response annually to the intelligent application of water to the sun scorched valleys.

ALPACA ON IRRIGATED LAND.

vestment of $150,000,000 are in operation in sixteen arid states and territories, and a harvest valued at $250,000,000 is the deserts' response annually to the intelligent application of water to the sun scorched valleys.

In the states from the Pacific ocean to the Missouri river, including Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, there are fully 3,000,000 acres under irrigation or to be watered in the not distant future. Allowing an average of twenty acres to a family and five persons to a family, this acreage will support 750,000 persons. It is not unfair to add to this number 750,000 more, representing the number of persons needed to supply the wants of these tillers of the soil and to transport their products.

Many irrigationists claim that an average of ten acres to the family is high enough, but to be conservative an average of twenty is used. On that basis the 3,000,000 acres in the north-western states would furnish a living directly or indirectly to at least 1,500,000 people, or one person to each two acres.

The possibilities of reclamation and its bearing on the future welfare of the nation can be better realized when we consider that it is possible to reclaim fully 35,000,000 acres of arid or semiarid land by irrigation in addition to that now irrigated and approximately 75,000,000 acres of swamp land by drainage. Between 10,000,000 and 11,000,000 persons are engaged in agriculture in the United States. Practically all the arable land in the world regions is embraced in the 6,000,000 farms now under cultivation. The average size of these farms is 148 acres.

Under irrigation the tendency is to greatly restrict the size of the farm unit. Experience teaches that in most irrigated districts it is impracticable for a farmer to cultivate a large holding. As a consequence the average farm under ditch is much smaller than in the humid regions. Thus provision is made for a greatly increased farming population, with a corresponding increase in the production of farm products, thereby adding immensely to the country's wealth.

OLD FASHIONED LIFE INSURANCE

LIKE old fashioned religion—is what is needed to-day in this age of "isms" in theology—and fads and schemes in life insurance—just the plain, old style theology in life insurance—a policy for the protection of the wife and children—so that three meals each day will be forthcoming—and clothes to keep them warm—and a place to sleep at night—to say nothing of the little pleasures of life—will be assured to them—just as you give them all these things now. Would you want someone else to provide for them while you are here? Certainly not. Would you want someone else—or the aggregate "someone else" called the State—to provide for them when you will not be here? Of course not. So why not join an association of others who are determined to look out for their own—and who collectively are known as THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY—and see to it, possibly at the cost of a little self-denial, that your family shares in the benefits provided by the Equitable in their hour of greatest need. That is to say, maybe you can join. Maybe not. Already it may be too late for you. See THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE man and find out.

First: Whether you can become a member of the Equitable Society.
Second: How little it will cost to put an Equitable policy between your family—and you, for you will not be here to pay the price of neglect and delay—and the thousand and one things which can happen to a man's family when he is not here to look out for them.

A mischievous boy, having got possession of his grandfather's spectacles, privately took out the glasses. When the old gentleman put them on, finding he could not see, he exclaimed: "Mercy on me! I've lost my sight!" I've lost my feeling too!"—London Ideas.

Oswego County People Can Size Him up September 28

Great interest in being taken in the ten round bout of Con. O'Kelly at the Armory in Oswego on Monday evening, September 26 and it is expected that the Armory will be filled.

Negotiations are now in progress for a match with either a Chicago or a San Francisco man and O'Kelly's friends throughout the State are deeply interested in the outcome. Syracuse admirers are so anxious over the result that arrangements are being made for a special train to and from Syracuse. Arrangements will be made to stop the train in Phoenix and Fulton to take care of the people desiring to see O'Kelly in the ring. It is expected that Sandy Creek, Pulaski, Mexico, Hannibal, Wolcott and Red Creek will also be represented by large delegations.

The final arrangements for O'Kelly's appearance there were made in Syracuse on Monday. He would open a class under a guarantee of $1,000.

OSWEGO COUNTY JAIL A MODEL

Inspector Clifford M. Young has submitted the following reports on the conditions of Oswego county jails to the State Commission of Prisons:

The jail at Oswego with its ninety-six cells on three floors, is a model in every respect. The turnkey's wife acts as matron and a jail physician is regularly employed. Prisoners receive three meals a day and are provided with clothing when necessary. This is the finest and most adequate county jail I have yet visited, and in every respect a credit to the county of Oswego.

At Phoenix the lock-up is far from modern, but is kept in a commendable condition.

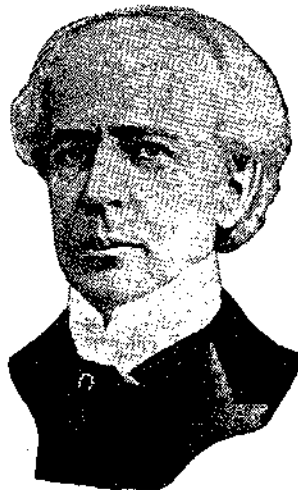

The lock-up at Mexico is located in the basement of the town hall, a one-story and basement building of brick and stone construction. The basement has no floor other than the ground. The present quarters are unfit for the detention of persons under arrest. I would respectfully recommend that this lock-up be abandoned. An annex to the fire station fitted up with steel cages would meet the requirements.

The jail at Pulaski is a very poorly contrived affair being dark, poorly ventilated and facilities inadequate for the proper housing of prisoners. Station at Fulton is in good condition, light and well ventilated. At Parish a steel cage placed upon a cement floor in the engine-room would be a decided improvement over the present quarters, and would be about all that is required in this village, considering the small number of arrests made.

The Fond of Them.
"Is he fond of outdoor sports?"
"Yes. His wife complains that he even invites them home to dinner."

OSWEGO COUNTY POMONA

The Oswego County Pomona Grange was held at Central Square, September 7, 1910. The day was all that could be desired and the attendance was large.

With Worthy Master F. E. Alexander in the chair we were called to order. After singing by the choir all questions of interest to farmers were ably discussed. Crop reports were read also resolutions by S. C. Huntington regarding R. F. D. and Parcels Post which were adopted.

Adjournment for dinner. After a social time we were called to order by the Worthy Master. A class of thirteen took the fifth degree, six of this number were from South Richland Grange. The meeting was placed in the hands of our Worthy Lecturer Mrs. Hopper.

Song of Welcome by Central Square choir. The address of welcome by Miss Inez G. Moon deserves much credit. The response by our Worthy Master was in his own apt way and covered the ground thoroughly.

Recitation by Miss Algerose Gridley. (In negro dialect). The Reading by Mr. Hayden on the R. F. D. excited great interest on this question.

Duett by Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Clements. Recitation by Miss Agnes Clarke. (Original). She received an encore and gave another original poem.

Song by Central Square choir. Reports from the different granges showed good work which is being done all over our county.

County Deputy W. H. Pollard gave us some good thoughts on his work.

A rising vote of thanks was given Central Square Grange for the loyal entertainment.

Song by the choir. With this fine program and the cordial welcome received from Central Square Grange it was a day greatly enjoyed by all present.

Jenny Lind and the Trill.

Jenny Lind after years of steady practice believed that the much coveted trill was for her an impossibility. She practiced hours a day, but was unable to accomplish the feat. One day, thoroughly discouraged, she was sitting in her garden when all at once she looked up into a tree. Above her a bird was trilling. She at once went to her piano and through some magic or power of imitation began the trill and from that day never had any further difficulty.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE HELD

President and Ex-President Meet.
State Politics Discussed; Conference Production of Good.

President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt met in conference at New Haven, Conn., on Monday, this being their second meeting since the return of Col. Roosevelt from Africa. The meeting was at the solicitation of Col. Roosevelt and will undoubtedly result in a better understanding in Republican State politics. The informal conversation was of half an hour's duration and was strictly confidential, neither party giving out anything for publication relative to its tenor other than that State, not National, politics had been discussed. It was plain from all that took place before and after the meeting that the colonel and his close political advisers are deeply concerned over the situation in New York State, and came to the President for further evidence of his moral support.

This the President was glad to give. He declared his position in the New York State fight had been clear from the very first. He said he sympathized heartily with the fight against "bossism" being waged by the people of the state. Mr. Taft reiterated the statements he made in his letter to Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York County Republican Committee, at the time of the Sherman-Roosevelt controversy over the temporary chairmanship. This letter, he added, stated his position fully and accurately and he was standing on it absolutely. He favored direct primaries for the nomination of Congressmen and state legislators. He understood this to be the purport of the Cobb bill as amended in line with the Seth Low and Joseph H. Choate memorial. He said he hoped that a declaration for such a primary law would be written into the Republican state platform and that a candidate for Governor in sympathy with this movement would be nominated.

President Taft is not ready as yet to admit the advisability of doing away with conventions for the nomination of state officers from Governor down. He understands that both Governor Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt are now practically in accord with his own position, although the Governor fought at first for direct primaries for all offices.

It can be stated that Monday's meeting at New Haven, while it has been of advantage to the Progressive leaders in New York State, did not touch upon the personal relations of the President and Colonel Roosevelt. Mr. Taft is letting 1912 look out for itself. He declares he has other matters of concern at the moment. It came out at the conference, which, in addition to the President and Colonel Roosevelt, included Lloyd C. Griscom, Otto Barnard and Secretary Norton, that the Taft administration is to be endorsed at Saratoga. No mention of Mr. Taft as a candidate in 1912 will be made.

"It is not the province of a state convention to nominate any man for President two years ahead," said Mr. Barnard after the conference. "Connecticut didn't do it; why should New York?"

In this connection it became known that President Taft represented the action of the Ohio Republicans in declining for him in 1912. He did not think he should be made an issue. The Ohio leaders were anxious, however, that the Taft administration and the legislative record should be made a part of the state campaign and took this means of bringing it about. If the Taft endorsement for 1912 had been left out of the Ohio platform it would have been in compliance with the President's desire.

The conference, it is believed, was

REUNION OF IRON BRIGADE

Veterans Held Interesting Session—Officers Elected—Gold Awarded

One of the many interesting features of the State Fair was the reunion of the Iron Brigade of Civil War veterans held on September 16. Sixty-five bearded boys in blue answered to their names at roll call for the eighth annual assembly, members being present from New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Colorado, Connecticut and Michigan, and many were the yarns spun and old acquaintances renewed. Some had not met since peace was declared and all gave the glad hand of good fellowship to the other fellow.

At 1 o'clock Major W. D. Ferguson, of Fulton, president of the brigade, called the assembly to order. Seated on the platform with Major

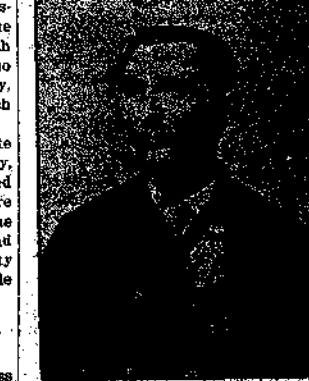

MAJOR W. D. FERGUSON

Ferguson were Rev. R. E. Burton, pastor of Delaware Street Baptist church and chaplain of the Department of New York C. A. R.; Rev. Ernest Lynn Waldorf, pastor of Centenary M. E. church; R. H. Searing and several other prominent veterans. Rev. Mr. Waldorf offered prayer and the report of the secretary was read and adopted. Dr. Burton delivered a stirring address on the Iron Brigade and the part it played in the war.

The feature of the reunion was a contest for a twenty-dollar gold piece offered by Major Ferguson for the best preserved and most active member of the brigade over 75 years of age. A call was issued by the secretary, ordering all over 75 to line up in front of the platform while a committee passed judgment upon them. The work of the committee was soon concluded and H. O. Candee of Syracuse was announced as winner.

"I didn't think they could beat me," said Mr. Candee, as the gold piece was handed to him. "I may not look to be 75, but I am and I can prove it."

The winner was proclaimed by his comrades to be a remarkably youthful

THOMAS COLES

man for one more than 75 years of age and was heartily congratulated. On June 22 last he celebrated his 76th birthday, during the State encampment of the C. A. R.

The following officers were elected by the brigade to serve until the next reunion, which will be held Thursday of State Fair week, 1911: President, Major W. D. Ferguson, Fulton; secretary, Harrison Stafford, Schenectady; second vice-president, Fred B. Drimmer, Malone; third vice-president, Abraham Colyer, Perryville; fourth vice-president, Samuel P. Murray, Wilton, N. H.; fifth vice-president, Jacob Raab, Jersey City, N. J.; chaplain, Rev. Dr. R. E. Burton, Syracuse; executive committee, Thomas Coles, Fulton; Peter Wallard, Gunnison, Col.; Robert Hamilton, Greenwich; Jacob MacKenzie, Watervliet; Jonathan Smith, Orster Bay; Gilbert Hart, Detroit; committee on entertainment for the next reunion, H. C. Candee, Syracuse.

Resolutions were adopted in which thanks were extended to the State Fair Commission, the New York State Grange and the press of the State.

PLANS FOR POSTAL BANK

The committee of postal experts has completed its work of formulating plans for the establishment of the postal savings banks system throughout the country, and the perfected plans were placed before Theodore Weed, secretary of the board of trustees, today. They will be turned over to Postmaster General Hitchcock for approval when he returns to Washington next week.

The plan of the committee, is to establish one postoffice depository in each state. Representative towns to the number of forty-seven have been chosen, and everything is in readiness to put the system in operation on the approval of the trustees. The selection of banks as depositories is provided for by the law so that the deposits will be prorated between the eligible banks, without any selection by the postal authorities. It is probable that the system will be put into operation in October, unless the trustees desire to extend the time. From the first ideas chosen the system will be extended rapidly to other post-offices.

Hardly a day passes that we do not note the increase of wages granted by some industrial enterprise, and it is estimated that the advance in wages which will be granted this year, says Leslie's Weekly, "will equal the stupendous sum of $500,000,000. While this splendid result has come to the wage earners, and it is a fair assumption that it must have come first to the employing classes, it has also come to the equal measure to our farmers. One of the reasons for the decrease in exports of food-stuffs is because the farmers can market almost their entire output at home and at the highest prices ever received for them."

HOSPITAL BAZAR TO BE GIVEN

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Hospital association is planning to hold a big bazar for the benefit of the Albert Lindley Lee Memorial Hospital in Church's hall on November 4-5 and all citizens are respectfully requested to contribute fancy work or anything they may feel able or willing to contribute toward the worthy cause. The committee have decided not to do any personal soliciting, as they would not be able to reach everyone and they do not wish any to feel slighted or overlooked in the matter. The hospital is an institution in which all have a common interest and all should feel it a privilege and a pleasure to do everything possible toward the success of the bazar.

Mrs. T. H. Webb is chairman of the bazar committee and all who desire may leave contributions with her or signify their intentions in the matter. Later some convenient store will be designated at which contributions for the cause may be left.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. PAUL

Nearly one hundred delegates attended the Oswego County Local Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which was held in Oswego on Wednesday. The Oswego and Fulton chapters were well represented, and the boys gained much pleasure and profit from their deliberations.

President Cedric N. Bentley presided over the business meeting at 5 p. m. in the Church of the Evangelists. The chaplain, the Rev. George C. Wadsworth, opened the session with prayer. The subjects treated followed: "How can chapter corporate communion be made a success?" Mr. Wadsworth, Christ Church senior chapter; "How can personal work best be done?" John Oles, Christ Church junior chapter; "How may chapters fulfill the rule of service?" James Brooks of this city.

One of the most important acts of the assembly was the changing of its name so as to include the junior as well as the senior chapters. The inclusion of the younger boys in the organization will increase its membership to 150.

The next meeting of the assembly will probably be held during the latter part of December in Zion Church in this city.

FOR PURCHASE OF FALLEY SEMINARY

Preliminary Action Toward Purchase of Falley Seminary Property—Board of Education Passes Resolutions Submitting Matter to the Common Council.

An important meeting of the Board of Education was held on Monday evening at which there were present President Hunter (member-at-large), John Brannan, member from the First ward; J. R. Sullivan, Second ward; H. A. Gilbert, Third ward; George P. Wells, Fifth ward, and M. C. Freeman, Sixth ward. The only member absent was Hon. N. N. Stranahan, the member from the Fourth ward, who is in Europe.

This meeting was the culmination of many conferences and meetings of the Board to reach a conclusion as to the proper and best method of placing the opportunity of purchasing the Falley Seminary property before the people of Fulton.

At the meeting the following resolutions were duly adopted by the affirmative vote of all the members present:

"Resolved, That it is necessary to purchase a site for school and athletic purposes; that the ward within which said site is to be purchased is the Fourth ward of the city of Fulton and said site is known as the Falley Seminary property; that the particular sum required for the same is sixteen thousand ($16,000) dollars.

"Resolved, That the Clerk of this board be and he is hereby authorized and directed to deliver a certified copy of the foregoing resolution to the Common Council."

The result of the above act of the Board is that the taxpayers of Fulton will have an opportunity to vote—probably at the general election in November—on securing this valuable property by the city for school purposes.

The city at the present time has fitted up and is renting four rooms in the building at an annual rental of $400. A demand for more room in the building is already seen, as four of the five primary rooms in the city schools have part of the pupils attending but half a day and the commercial course just introduced into the high school will soon need more room, to be successfully carried on. The additional rental from tenants in the Falley Seminary building makes it very desirable property for the city to secure when the future need for school purposes is considered.

The proposition will receive, as it should, careful consideration at the hands of the people of Fulton and will doubtless be submitted for their vote at an early date by the Common Council.

CHILDREN'S FLORAL SHOW

One of the most interesting exhibits at the State Fair was that of the school children's floral show under the auspices of the Herald's Gardening Club and under the superintendency of Miss Anna Rogers. Over 3,000 entries were made on Monday, Children's Day, when the school children were admitted free through the generosity of the Herald. Four school prizes were won, respectively by Lincoln, Porter, Franklin and Salina schools. Two hundred prizes for individual bouquets and twelve for floral designs were awarded. H. N. G.

We will have ready for your inspection the choicest of the seasons offerings and are desirous of showing you our hats and millinery goods.

STATE WILL BENEFIT

As the result of the increased population of three cities and eighteen villages in the State as shown by the federal census, the State excise department will be able to collect over $1,000,000 more from excise certificates on October 1 than in previous years. As the amount of the excise license is graded according to the population the department will be able to collect the additional revenue this year which will go a great way toward making up the deficiency in the State treasury which threatens a return to direct taxation next year.

By increasing its population the heaviest blow falls on Brooklyn. At present the liquor dealers enjoy a $975 rate and this will be boosted to $1,200. The department by this increase expects to bring nearly $1,000,000 to the State. Two other cities are boosted, Johnstown and Fulton. The rate in both places is increased from $450 to $525.

At present no new licenses can be issued, it being the proposition to reduce them down until a ratio of one saloon to every 750 population is reached. "This means," said H. A. Gilbert, who has charge of the enumeration bureau of the Excise Department, "that the State will collect more than $20,000,000 for liquor tax certificates for the coming year."

FULTON MAN WRITES EXCELLENT PAPER

The American Gas Light Journal for September 19 contains an excellent paper read before the 19th annual meeting of the Michigan Gas Association on "New Business Methods Practical for Small Gas Plants," which was written by Mr. Joseph A. Sloan, former manager of the Fulton gas plant and at present general manager of gas plants for the Detroit company. The paper was the subject of favorable comment on the part of the paper.

Mr. B. O. Tippey is president of the Michigan association, but he was unable to attend the meeting of the association owing to a serious explosion in their Grand Rapids, Mich., plant a few days previous to the session, in which several men were injured.

AMERICAN APPLES IN ENGLAND

American Apples Bring Highest Price Ever Paid in the English Market.

American apples tempt the English buyer. In proof of this statement, Albert W. Swalm, American consul at Southampton, reports that a shipment of apples from the Wenatchee section of the State of Washington commanded a higher price than any other American apple ever offered in the open English market, much of the shipment being sold at from 8 to 12 cents a pound and eagerly taken at that price.

The secret of success, he says, is for the American shipper to send good fruit, well packed, and kept out of an auction, where a combination may control prices.

bringing to the attention of the citizens of our county the prevalence of tuberculosis. The exhibit will consist of charts, mottoes, models, showing the extent, the cause, and how to prevent tuberculosis. One of the most interesting charts will be one giving the death-rate in each town in the county from tuberculosis for the past ten years. Many persons will be astonished to learn for the first time how many of their friends and neighbors have been stricken down by the white plague.

During the exhibit lectures will be trained demonstrators will be in charge, given by the local physicians and a to explain the details to all persons visiting the exhibit.

The campaign as at present laid out, will cover sixteen counties and will take up three months time.

The Legislature in 1909 passed a law permitting Boards of Supervisors to build County Hospital-Sanatoriums for the care of tuberculous patients. Eight counties have already either appropriated money for such hospitals or have definitely authorized their construction. Fourteen counties have appointed committees to investigate the need for such an institution. The hospital-sanatorium is regarded by the world's most eminent authorities as being the most important step for the control and final eradication of tuberculosis.

A special demonstration of the exhibit will be made during the annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors. Dr. Eugene H. Porter, State Commissioner of Health and Hon. Homer Folke, Secretary of the State Charities Aid Association, have sent a letter to the Hospital Committee of the Board of Supervisors offering to display the exhibit for the exclusive benefit of the Board. It is expected that if this offer is accepted it will do away with a great deal of work now facing the Investigating Committee as nearly all the information needed by them to make an intelligent report is contained in the exhibit.

Albert and Gye.

The story of Mme. Albani's London engagement is as follows: Colonel Mapleson heard of her singing at a theater at Malta, and, thinking that she would be successful, he induced her to offer through an agent of a contract to sing in Her Majesty's theater. She agreed to it and went to London, but on arriving there she told the captain to drive her to the Italian opera house. He, instead of going to Her Majesty's, took her to Covent Garden, which was also devoted to Italian opera. She was shown up to the manager's office and stated that she had come to sign the contract which Mr. Mapleson had offered her. Mr. Gye, thinking to play a joke on his rival, Mapleson, made out a contract, and Albert signed it. Mr. Gye then told her that he was not Colonel Mapleson, but that he could do much better by her. He offered to tear up the contract which she had signed, and she would, brook no rival. Albert decided to let the contract stand and thus became one of the stars of Covent Garden, eventually marrying the son of Mr. Gye.

His Final Plea.

A Chicago man appeared at the White House one day during the McKinley administration with a petition containing 7,000 names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister. He was a picture framer, and when he was canvassing for orders he took along his petition and asked everybody in the picture frame business to sign it. Almost everybody did. The man was insistent and finally reached the president. Always gentle and considerate, President McKinley explained to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senators and representatives about the matter before making the appointment. "You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places."

"Well," asked the picture framer, "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

The Lost Umbrella.

"I have been coming here for my lunch for years, but never again," said a man to the head waiter of a downtown restaurant recently. "Sorry," began the waiter. "Sorry nothing. I left the umbrella here not five minutes ago, there was no one near our table, and the waiter must have seen it." "If we find it?" "Find it? It is found, I tell you, and I'll have it now or you'll never see me here again." The man, flushed with excitement, was walking away when he was halted by a man who had entered by the rear door. "Say, Frank, is this your umbrella? I picked it up when we finished lunch. Glad you were still here." "Here, but not still," the head waiter whispered. "The umbrella has been found, but our customer has been lost for a few days. He'll be ashamed to come in for a little while."—New York Tribune.

Gone For Good.

Some folks in foreign lands have their own way of determining whether their relatives who have migrated to this land of ours have become hopelessly Americanized. One old lady in Germany reached her conclusion in a way that can be appreciated only by those who know the type of the German butter dish, deep as a bowl, and the German reverence therefor. Last week her granddaughter in New York received this lament: "You will never come back. You are lost to us. Hans (a cousin) arrived here from New York on Monday and reports that you have even given up our deep German butter dishes and are using those shallow little plates that Americans like."—New York Times.

Modern Kids.

"So you love your new little brother?" asked the visitor. "Well, dearie, will you sell him to me? I'll give you $1 for every ounce he weighs." "No, I won't," answered the angel child. "Dear, loyal little sister!" beamed the visitor. "And why not?" "Because," answered the tiny tot, with a quivering lip—"because he only weighs six pounds. Come back next month and I'll see if we can't make a deal."—Cleveland Leader.

His Weak Point.

A man who takes a business view of things when recently asked his opinion of a person of quite a poetic temperament, replied: "Oh, he's one of those men who have margins after the infinite and dives after the unapproachable, but who never pay cash."

The Case Altered.

Brown: "Is it correct to speak of a man as 'of the male persuasion'?" Jones: "Yes, if the subject is not married."

"What has that to do with the matter?" "Why, when he is married his wife persuades him."

Recipe For Longevity.

People live longer in North Carolina than anywhere else in the world, chiefly because they lead the simple life, drink buttermilk and eat blackberries fresh in summer and dried by winter. Raleigh News and Observer.

No Profit in It.

"What are you looking about?" She returned all your presents didn't she?" "Yes, but the expressions amounted to more than the presents were worth!"

There Was No Other Course.

The New England boiled dinner and other dishes like pork and beans, baked codfish and pumpkin, first appeared to the appetite of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller. It was said in Washington that the Fuller Saturday night dinner was baked beans and nothing else, and this story is told: "One evening the chief justice, possibly forgetting that it was Saturday, asked a distinguished English jurist to dine with him. When the beans came on the Englishman promptly declined them. Mrs. Fuller showed some embarrassment, whereupon the Englishman amiably said: 'Never mind. I'll make it up in the next course.' 'But, good Lord,' exclaimed the chief justice, 'there isn't any other course!' And there wasn't. In addition to being a very small eater the chief justice was a moderate smoker of modestly priced cigars. He was said to smoke the same kind of cigars as far as they were obtainable, that he smoked when he was struggling hard to establish a living law business in Chicago in the old days. He said he was attached to these cheap cigars by ties of sentiment and tender recollection and that nothing else would taste so good to him."—Springfield Republican.

"Pins and Needles."

After being for a long time in a constrained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking are often felt in the arm, leg or foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation and can usually be removed by rubbing or exercise. The reason of the sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable while it lasts, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed, as straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body, sensibility gradually returns to the nerve, and as each nerve fiber composing the trunk regulates its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt, and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not inaptly been called "pins and needles."

The Prayer That Hurt.

A member of a certain Massachusetts parish prominent for his thrift and personal consequence was also notorious for his overbearing assumptions and pompous airs. Under the distress and fright of a dangerous illness he "put up notes" on several successive Sundays, and after his recovery, according to usage, he offered a note to be read by the minister expressive of his thanks. The minister was somewhat "large" in this part of his prayer, recalling the danger and the previous petitions of the "squire" and returning his grateful acknowledgments with the prayer that the experience might be blessed to the spiritual welfare of the restored man. He closed with these words: "And we pray, O Lord, that thy servant may be cured of that ungodly strut, so offensive in the sanctuary."

Law and Geography.

From the half timers' papers written at a recent term examination: "Some of the chief inventions of the last 150 years are having no act so that no person under fourteen years must go into the public house. Another act was so that no person under the age of sixteen years must smoke cigars, pipes and cigarettes, and no person under that age can be served with any. My brother Bill is now all right for this invention. He was sixteen last week." Here is a geography answer: "The river system of Canada is what you might call very good, but sometimes they shoot the rapids, and unless you are a real Indian this is very troublesome at times, especially when you get sucked under like Captain Webb."—Manchester Guardian.

The Earliest Cigars.

The earliest mention of cigars in English occurs in a book dated 1735. A traveler in Spanish America named Cockburn, whose narrative was published in that year, describes how he met three friars at Nicaragua, who, he says, "gave us some cigars to smoke; these are leaves of tobacco rolled up in such manner that they serve both for a pipe and tobacco itself; they know no other way here, for there is no such thing as a Tobacco Pipe throughout New Spain."

Sure Sign.

"What is the sign when a man parts his hair in the middle?" said the old fellow in the front row of the orchestra to a friend loud enough to be heard by the young man behind them. "It's a sign that he's not baldheaded," replied the young man, leaning forward.—Yonkers Statesman.

Hard Luck.

"Poor man, your life must be full of hardships!" "Oh, true yer words are, lidy! Only t'other day I picked up a ticket for a ball and couldn't use it cos I hadn't got a sevenpenny suit."—London Ideas.

A Tragical Celeb.

Cholly had put on his necktie and was looking over his supply of hosiery. "I wonder, now," he said, turning pale, "whether the socks have to match the tie or whether the tie has to match the socks."—Chicago Tribune.

Cholly: "May I have the next waltz?" Widow: "Yes, but dance slowly, as I only recently have gone into mourning."—Club Fellow.

SARATOGA CONVENTION

It might seem to an observer of ordinary intelligence that the very life of the Republican party depends upon the outcome of the conflict for leadership between the alleged "regular" and "insurgent" forces next week at the Saratoga convention.
Prompt and courageous action is demanded which ever side wins, and after the smoke of battle is cleared the exchange of compliments between the leaders must give place to an understanding of the needs and aspirations of the people and the courage and intensity to fight for them.
If party success is to be met with this Fall. Evidently a national progressive movement has begun, and history proves that no cause other than the people's cause is worth fighting for; that a political party or a public man is useful to his country in proportion to his success in fighting for better conditions of daily life for the whole people—that is why the names of Theodore Roosevelt and Governor Hughes have become a synonym of strength throughout the nation. They are the leaders of the progressive movement which is spreading like wild fire throughout our Republic.

The will of the people should be the jealous god of our institutions, and the most extraordinary hold which Theodore Roosevelt has upon the people of the United States has been due to their deep conviction that he is with them, heart and soul, in the great human task of social improvement.

The future of the grand old Republican party now seems to depend on leadership that the people will trust and follow—leadership that they will not be obliged to drag forcibly up the hill of progress.

SHOULD BE STOPPED

Urgent measures should be taken to break up the habit on the part of young girls, mere children, who might make a practice of hanging around the trolley station in First street, conversing and flirting with the men and boys who pass on their way to the station. On Sunday evening no less than seven girls of apparently twelve to sixteen years were noticed making themselves very complicitous by their actions at 9 o'clock.

These seem to be a serious apathy on the part of many parents in this city toward the present conduct and future welfare of their children.
Should a few parents be called by the law to a realization of their responsibility toward their children, the police records would be cleaner and the number of "good citizens" increased.

THE PERNICIOUS SUGAR MAPLE BORER

Editor Times:—Enclosed you will find a brief notice of the sugar maple borer, an insect which at the present time is quite destructive to maples in your village. You may wish to supplement it by inserting the following paragraph relative to local conditions.

The writer, during a recent visit, was able to locate the following centers of infestation which will doubtless prove of service to those interested in checking this pest. At the northwest corner of the park there is a nearly dead maple tree having a trunk diameter of about 18 inches and showing approximately fifty of the characteristic exit holes, some of them being a year old. This is the center of an infestation which has spread upon either side and threatens the existence of adjacent trees unless something is done to check the pest.
There is a similar center of infestation beside the church on Cayuga and South Third streets. One or two of the worst affected trees should be removed and burned. Similarly, at Cayuga and Fourth streets there are dying trees on opposite corners.
There are four magnificent maples in a row, dead or dying on Cayuga street between Second and Third streets.
The above probably represent only a portion of the maples seriously affected by this pest.

This insidious and deadly enemy of the sugar maple has been unusually abundant and injurious in the last few years, judging from observations and also from reports which have come to this office. The work of this pest in large maples is, as a rule, brought to notice through the dying of individual limbs or portions of the affected trees, usually near the center. An examination of such maples should result in finding near the base of the larger limbs or on the trunks, oval exit holes having a diameter of about threeeighths by five-eighths of an inch, permitting the stout, black beetles with conspicuous golden yellow markings to escape from the usually downward slanting burrow. One badly infested tree in the village of Fulton, N. Y., showed about fifty of these characteristic exit holes, indicating that as many of these beetles had left the tree and undoubtedly deposited eggs in the near vicinity. These latter are placed during midsummer and early fall in narrow, slit-like gashes in the bark, frequently near the base of the larger limbs. The boring of the young grubs is accompanied by more or less "bleeding" or flowing of sap, and usually with sawdust-like particles hanging by threads from the orifice. The young grubs pass the winter just under the bark and commence their operations the following spring. When nearly full grown they mad run an oblique gallery some half an inch in diameter, obliquely and nearly around a large limb or half girdling a trunk eighteen inches in diameter. This oblique gallery in living wood practically means the destruction of the limb or portion of the tree above the injury, since the normal flow of sap is interrupted and we virtually have a girdling of that part of the tree.

The characteristic oval exits described above are conclusive evidence as to the cause of the trouble. This insect is somewhat local, frequently destroying one tree and then spreading therefrom to those adjacent. Consequently, it is important first to locate the badly infested trees. The dead and dying portions should be cut away and the remainder, together with adjacent, apparently uninjured trees should be carefully examined. It is comparatively easy to detect the operations of the young borers during this month and next, and we would earnestly advise all parties having badly infested trees to go over them carefully and cut out the small, white, rather stout grubs some one-fourth to half an inch long, since by so doing a large amount of injury may be prevented. The little cutting necessary to destroy these pernicious grubs at the present time is as nothing compared to the injury which may follow neglect of this precaution. Recent girdlings of limbs or trunks, indicated by a slight ridge in the bark, frequently obliquely transverse, should be carefully examined and if the inner bark has been destroyed we would suggest bridge grafting, since experience has repeatedly demonstrated that portions of a tree above a long, oblique gallery made by this borer are doomed unless circulation can be re-established by the above mentioned means.

These measures should be supplemented by watching for and destroying the parent beetles next summer and in the early fall. This beetle is about an inch long, black, brilliantly marked by golden yellow, this color forming a conspicuous W-shaped mark near the base of the wings and being the prevailing tint at the tip. These beetles are similar to, though very different from the more slender, black, golden marked beetles frequently seen upon goldenrod in the fall. These pernicious beetles are readily captured on infested maples. Last season the writer took eight or ten in about fifteen or twenty minutes. They are most likely to be abundant about the middle of August. Cutting out the grubs and capturing the beetles is thoroughly practical, since a comparatively small amount of work means protection to our splendid maples, especially if efforts are concentrated upon badly infested trees and those standing in their immediate vicinity.

E. P. Felt,

State Entomologist.

DUPLICATE OF CLARMONT

The duplicate of Fulton's original
"Clarmont" was handed over to the Hudson River Day Line for safe keeping. This company which virtually began its existence with the start of Fulton's "Clarmont" (see page 129, "Life of Robert Fulton") by his granddaughter, Mrs. Sutcliffe) will be the best possible caretaker of this precious relic of the Hudson-Fulton celebration and will afford the means of the boat being made available for the use and instruction of the greatest possible number. During the winter, it will be tied up at Desbrosses Street Pier where it will be open to inspection for a moderate entrance fee, and during the summer it will probably be tied up or run from Poughkeepsie, the half-way point on the river, so that all who desire to see its curious outfit or the interesting mementoes which will be exhibited, can have easy access to them.

It will make a striking contrast between the present magnificent Day Line steamers and the original prototype. The first and last word in steamboat construction.

DEATHS

Mrs. Helen Havens, aged 78, died on Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Sitzer, in State street, after a long period of ill health. The body was taken to Corning for interment, after prayer service at the late home.

After a brave fight for life in the face of tremendous odds, Mildred, aged 16, daughter of Mr. Albert Lalonde of Seventh street, died with tuberculosis on Sunday. The funeral services were held from the late home on Monday evening and the body was shipped by Undertaker E. S. Brown to Canton for burial. Beside the father one sister, Gladys, survives.

The death of Mrs. Hepzibah Hill, aged 75, occurred at her home in Cayuga street on Wednesday from heart disease, from which she had long suffered. The deceased was born in Lincolnshire, England, but she had been a long time resident of this city and vicinity. The funeral services were held from the late home on Friday morning and burial was made in Mt.
Adnah. The immediate survivors are three daughters, Miss Jessie Hill of this city, Mrs. V. V. Vant of Volney and Mrs. Violet Rinder of Madison, Wis., and three sons, Messrs. Starr F. of this city, Cassius of Volney and Arthur of Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. C. J. Welch, 54 years old, died at her home, No. 331 Townsend street, Syracuse, on Saturday morning after an illness covering a period of several months. Mrs. Welch is well-known on the North Side where, in company with her husband, C. J. Welch, she conducted a millinery store. Prior to conducting the store Mrs. Welch was associated with a number of well-known firms in various parts of the country.
She has been a resident of Syracuse for the last fifteen years but lately on account of failing health has been unable to have any active share in the business. Beside her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Eva Miller, and one sister, Mrs. J. H. Hollingworth of Fulton, and two brothers, Herbert Miller of Dansville and Charles Miller of Canandaigua. The funeral was held privately at the late home on Monday afternoon, the Rev.
W. G. Hull officiating. Burial was made in the family lot at Oakwood.

CUT DOWN THE BILLS

How Local Bankers and Cashiers
Take the New Proposition

The reduction in the size of currency notes as proposed by Secretary of the Treasury McVeigh, is looked upon in a different light by bankers and cashiers. Some think that the move would be a wise one in every respect and others say that the change would make little difference to bank employees or to the public at large. All agree, however, that the reduction in size would be more economical from the standpoint of the Government.

The present bank notes are 7.29 by 3.04 and it is planned to reduce their size to 6x2.5 inches. The proposed change is suggested on the ground of economy. Secretary McVeigh claims that not only would the Government be saved $612,000 a year by the saving in paper, but he believes that the smaller bills would wear longer and would be more popular with the public.

The Symbolism Didn't Appeal.

"Charlie," sorrowfully sighed the young lady in the parlor of the concrete house on Washington avenue. "It is nearly 12 o'clock."

"Yes, Belinda," was the breathing response of her poetical companion, who was sitting on the sofa beside her. "The minute hand is drawing closer to the hour hand, and when the time of midnight is chimed the two hands will be even as one. Oh, darling Belinda," he continued as he literally stimulated the action of the minute hand, "may not the coming together of those two hands be symbolical of us?"

She broke away and stood firmly on her feet. "No, Charles Henry Smith," she retorted angrily, "those two hands will remain as one but a single second, and then the minute hand will divorce itself and go on its way alone. No, Mr. Smith, a minute hand that doesn't stick isn't the kind of symbolism I want!"—Chicago News.

Dividing a Long Sermon.

Dr. Samuel Bnell of the last half of the eighteenth century, who used to preach two or three hours, like Isaac Barrows, was ingenious in detaching his congregation. On one occasion, after preaching nearly two hours—as long as he could feel secure in the presence of all his hearers—he remarked that he was done preaching to sinners and that they were at liberty to go; the rest of his discourse would be addressed to good people.

A gentleman who once went to hear him stated that when the hourglass was nearly ready to be turned a second time from the commencement of his sermon he said, much to the relief of the person who related it, "Once more." After going on some eight or ten minutes longer he said, "To conclude," and after another about equal interval he said, "Lastly."

The gentleman added that he expected every moment to hear him say "Everlastingly."

Economical.

Why—Brownie is very economical. Isn't he? Black—Brownie? Well, I'll tell you. Brownie is the sort of man who, when he wants an awl and hasn't any, instead of buying one will go to work to make one by straightening out a corkscrew.

Headache For Years

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills on hand all the time, and would not think of taking a journey without them, no matter how short a distance I am going. I have a sister that has had terrible headaches for years, and I coaxed her to try them and they helped her so much, she now keeps them by her all the time. From my own experience I cannot praise them enough."

MRS. LOU M. CHURCHILL,
63 High st., Penacook, N. H.

Many persons have headache after any little excitement or exertion. They cannot attend church, lectures, entertainments, or ride on trains without suffering. Those who suffer in this way should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They give almost instant relief without leaving any disagreeable after-effects, as they do not derange the stomach or bowels; just a pleasurable sense of relief follows their use. Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

Drugs and Sickness.

It is not too much to say that the medical profession today no longer believes that any drug (with a few exceptions, like quinine for malaria, mercury and the antitoxins will cure a disease as such. All that it will do is to modify conditions as to help the body in its fight against disease.

We are no longer content, in the biting phrase of Voltaire, to "pour drugs of which we know little into bodies of which we know less." What will help one patient will harm another, and what may be beneficial in the early stage of a disease will be useless or even injurious in a later stage.

In the language of Captain Cuttle, the effect of a drug, like "the bearing of an observation," "depends on the application on it." It is neither rational nor safe blindly to swallow down a drug which is highly recommended in a certain disease and expect it to "do the rest." There is no such thing as a universal cure for a disease nor even a remedy which can be relied upon as "a good thing to take" at any and all stages of it.—Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Delinquent.

Gagadig Giggadab.

There was a quaint old man in Manchester, England, who for many years went by the unique name of Gagadig Giggadab. His original name was John Smith, and for many years he brooded over the possibilities of mistaken identity involved in it. The name figured frequently in criminal records, and he became abnormally apprehensive lest he might be confused with some of the bad John Smiths. At last what he feared so much actually happened. One morning the papers reported the arrest of an accountant in a bank for embezzlement, and through some blunder of the reporter the identity of the embezzler was confused with the subject of this article, who was also a bank accountant. Then and there he determined to assume a name like unto no other ever borne by mortal man. And in Gagadig Giggadab most people will agree that he succeeded to no doing.—New York Tribune.

Legally Better Off.

The creditors of the ancient king had become so unpleasantly insistent that he resolved to put them where they could trouble him no more. So he invited them to a great banquet, and when they had feasted and drunk of his prepared wine he instructed his servants to convey them to his deepest dungeons. And the next morning when he went down to learn whether his servants had done his bidding his creditors raised their voices and entreated to be set free. But he remonstrated with them, saying:

"My friends, you have no just cause for complaint. Are you not better off in the eye of the law than ever before? Any lawyer will tell you that a secured creditor has an exceptional claim." Then he left them and went on his gladsome way, happy in the knowledge that he could at last go through his dominions without being dunned.—Chicago News.

Firearms in Russia.

As an illustration of how closely everything is watched in Russia, take the system of registering firearms. When a weapon of any kind is purchased a permit must be secured from the local authorities. The name of the man who makes the purchase, with the number of the weapon, is recorded. If the purchaser ever wants to dispose of the weapon he must notify the authorities and cause the transfer to be recorded on the books of the firm which sold it.

The Earth.

Tommy—Pop, does the earth go round? Tommy's Pop—Yes, my son. But it wouldn't if it was divided among all the people who want it.—Philadelphia Record.

No man has yet discovered the means of giving successfully friendly advice to women—not even his own.—Baltimore.

Mr. Franklin at the Bar.

Among the state papers for the year 1536 may be read a letter from John Barlet to Henry VIII's minister, Thomas Cromwell, stating that in accordance with the recent act the mayor and aldermen had chosen Mr. Phryseley to attend the English parliament as the representative of Calais and that he had made certain arrangements about his passage into England.

One Thomas Boyd was elected as his colleague, and Calais continued to send M. P.'s to Westminster until, in the reign of Mary, we lost the stronghold we had held for over two centuries. This is the only instance in England's history of anything like colonial representation at Westminster unless indeed we reckon one or two exceptional occasions when colonial grievances have been voiced at the bar of the house of commons, as they were so brilliantly by Benjamin Franklin, when Burke said the scene reminded him of "a master examined by a parcel of schoolboys."—London News.

Learn to Laugh.

Laughter is the best of all tonics. Bacilli are humorless folk and hate the physical constitution that is always vibrating with the shocks of fun. This is a truism, but serviceable and likewise worth repeating are the platitudes on laughter as the great ascription of the soul. It is true there are different kinds of laughter, and some of them need formaldehyde. There is a kind, too, that needs bicarbonate of soda as an antidote—another that calls for lithia tablets. But the right sort of laughter was stolen from the gods by some wiser Prometheus, and nothing can prevail against it. In America there is plenty of laughter, good, bad and indifferent, but mostly good, and much that is very good. It is one of our greatest national resources. May we conserve it at all ways. A people that laugh kindly and often have not much to fear; a people that laugh wisely, nothing.—Chicago Tribune.

Fanny Dickens.

Fanny, the sister of Charles Dickens, was one of the first students entered at the old Royal Academy of Music when it opened its doors at Tottenham street in 1823, and at that time the students lived at the academy, only going home for the week end. "Every Sunday," Dickens told Foster, "I was at the academy at 9 o'clock in the morning to fetch her (Fanny), and we walked back there together at night. And the Sunday itself the two spent in the Marshalsea prison, where their father and mother then resided, owing to Mr. Dickens having 'failed to prosecute his creditors.' While her father was still in prison Fanny won a prize at the academy, and the future novelist, then engaged in pasting labels on blacking pots at 7 shillings a week, was present to see her receive it.—Westminster Gazette.

Twain and the Rivermen.

Mark Twain once told to a party of friends the following story on himself. On one occasion when he started on a trip down the Mississippi river on a flatboat he was advised never to answer the questions asked by rivermen on other boats and never to bandy words with them, as he would be sure always to come out second best. He followed the advice religiously for a time, but one day he thought he saw a chance to get the better of a riverman who called out:

"Hey, thar, what yer loaded with?"

"Jackassess. Don't you want to come aboard?" yelled back Twain.

"That's what I reckoned seel' as how they let their biggest donkey berther run of the deck!" came back.

Twain made a dive below as all the rivermen in the neighborhood set up a derisive laugh at his expense.

"Niggering" Logs.

The question was asked me as a native of Maine if I could find out what "niggering" logs meant in the statement "We niggered the logs." I found that to "nigger" logs was to save the labor of chopping them into lengths by piling them up crossed at points where it was desired to separate them. By building fires under these crossings several logs could be burned into sections at once. Because "a nigger" was supposed to be lazy this lazy man's way of cutting logs into lengths was, naturally enough, called "niggering."—Appleton Morgan in New Shakespeareana.

The Inexpensive Policeman.

Mr. Walter Seymour, who writes "Ups and Downs of a Wandering Life," had Thorold Rogers for a tutor while at Oxford. Rogers was as amusing as he was heterodox. "I remember asking him one day, 'Mr. Rogers, what do you consider the origin of the idea of the devil?' 'Cheapest policeman they could find!'"

A Mistake.

Applicant For Situation—I've come about that job you advertised, Employer—Well, can you do the work? Applicant tip great alarm—Work! I thought it was a foreman you wanted!—Punch.

His Penalty.

Geraldine—What did he say when you asked him for my hand? Gerald—He said that he wouldn't stand in the way of my unhappiness if I needed the money badly.—New York Press.

No Escape.

Bella—I understand your sister married a struggling young man? Gus—Yes; he struggled hard, but he couldn't get away from her.

There are many religions, but there is only one morality.—Ruskin.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eyes, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

SAVED A SOLDIER'S LIFE

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 175 pounds. For coughs, colds, grippe, asthma, hemorrhage, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough and lung trouble, its supreme. 50c., 1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy."

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

The meeting of the Board of Public Works held on Sept. 15, was a busy session, considerable more than routine business being transacted.

Bids were opened for the sale of $8,866.38 in bonds of the city to pay the indebtedness of the property owners of Oneida street. There were three bids, that of the Fulton Savings Bank for $8,897, the Citizens National Bank at par and of Isaac W. Sherrill of Poughkeepsie, for a premium of $10. The council awarded the bonds to the Fulton Savings Bank.

The council assessed against property owners of East Broadway, between First and Second streets, for the brick pavement. The council also assessed the cost of macadam pavement of Broadway, between Second and Seventh streets, against the owners of property abutting on that street.

Harry Halstead filed a claim against the city for $5,000 for injuries sustained in West First street in stepping into a hole.

BEST TREATMENT FOR A BURN

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It always the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and disease of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by all dealers.

An Anachronism. When some celebrated pictures of Adam and Eve were seen on exhibition Mr. McNab was taken to see them. "I think no great things of the painter," said the gardener. "Why, man, tempting Adam with a pipkin of a variety that wasn't known until about twenty years ago!"

HOW GOOD NEWS SPREADS

"I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson, of Elizabethtown, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They effect a cure every time." They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak, run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's a daily joy. Try them. Only 60c. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Because her "hobble" skirt would not permit her to struggle, a Cleveland woman was easily rescued from drowning recently. It is true to say what one may to the contrary, that nothing in this world is absolutely without its good points.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

Hindering the Process.

Banks on the Lookout

A merchant in a large city allowed his name to be posted in his club three times for nonpayment of dues. A few days after the last posting he applied to his bank for a loan. When the application came up to the bank's credit man—that newest of a bank's important officials—he pulled out the customer's history card.

The latest entry was one typewritten sentence. "Does not pay his club dues three times delinquent." The loan was refused. The merchant was either careless, near broke or unappreciative of his credit standing. Any of these reasons looked bad to the banker.

Business men do not realize how closely their banks watch them—how much the banks are bound to know about their affairs, how much seemingly small things in their daily lives affect credit, and big things that they sometimes want to conceal too.—System Magazine.

Eddystone Island.

The smallest inhabited island in the world is that on which the Eddystone lighthouse stands. At low water it is thirty feet in diameter. At high water the lighthouse, whose diameter at the base is eight and three-fourths feet, completely covers it. It is uninhabited by three persons. It lies nine miles off the Cornish coast and fourteen miles southeast of Plymouth breakwater. Flattholme, an island in the British channel, is only a mile and a half in circumference, but, consisting mostly of rich pasture lands, supports a farmhouse besides the lighthouse, with a revolving light 156 feet above the sea. There are about 100,000 islands, large and small, scattered over the oceans. America alone has 5,500 around its coasts. There are 305 in the bay of Rio Janeiro, 16,000 between Madagascar and India and some 1,200 off the eastern coast of Australia between its mainland and New Guinea.

Masculine Music.

The musical doctor stepped into the shop.

His hair stuck out like stiff straws, and his joy of life was under his arm; also two buttons on his waistcoat were undone. So there was no doubt about his being a genius.

"Aha, aha, aha!" purred the musical doctor. "E string for a violin, please."

The man behind the counter looked flustered. He went to the shelf, took off a small packet, examined it carefully, examined it again and then hesitatingly returned to the customer.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he began diffidently. "But this 'appears to be my first day in the shop, and yet you might give me a little 'elp. The fact is these 'ere strings look all alike to me, an' I can't tell the 'es from the shes!"—London Globe.

The Blind Man's Lantern.

A blind man in Khoots in Caucasian village came back from the river one night bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one meeting him said: "You're blind. It's all the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," replied the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

A Varnishing Tip.

When varnishing wood the work must be done in a warm room at a temperature of at least 75 degrees F. At a lower temperature the moisture in the air will give a milky and cloudy appearance to the varnish. On the other hand, at the higher temperature the moisture is not precipitated until the alcohol of the varnish has sufficiently evaporated to leave a thin smooth film of shellac. The durability and gloss are dependent on this.

His Peers.

"Pa, what does it mean to be tried by a jury of one's peers?" "It means, my son, that a man is to be tried by a jury composed of men who are his equals or on an equality with him, so that they will have no prejudice against him."

"Then, pa, I s'pose you'd have to be tried by a jury of half-headed men?"

Painfully Frank.

Wedderly—They say that a man and his wife grow to look alike after they have been married a few years. Now, my wife and I have been married ten years. Do you think we look alike? Singleton—Yes, indeed. You both seem to have the same sad expression.

The Widow.

"In a town," said a life insurance official, "where life insurance was a rare thing a schoolteacher said to a little boy Rudolph: 'Tommy, define the word widow.' 'A widow,' Tommy answered, 'is a poor woman with a large family of children who takes boarders.'"

No Was Willin'.

"You are granted a divorce," said the lawyer to a colored client, "but you'll have to give her alimony." "All right, suh," was the eager reply. "She kin have Alimony of she wants him, but Lawd help him w'en he gits her!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Relatively Speaking.

"He must be put out of the way," said the feudal king. "But, your majesty," protested the lord high executioner, "he is your first cousin." "I know, but I prefer to have him my cousin once removed."—Philadelphia Record.

PULLEY WORKS BRANCH OUT

Big Pittsburgh Plant Purchased

Oneida Steel Pulley Company Has Acquired the Business of the Pennsylvania Steel Pulley Company, a $50,000 Concern.

(Oneida Dispatch) The Oneida Steel Pulley company made an important purchase last week, when it took over the plant and good will of the Pennsylvania Steel Pulley company of Pittsburgh, Pa.

President R. B. Downing, General Manager E. T. Shepard and Attorney Thomas A. Devereux returned from Pittsburgh on Sunday, having completed the details which consolidated the Pennsylvania concern with the Oneida company. The deal represents about $50,000, and gives the Oneida Steel Pulley company a steel pulley which will enable it to reach out after the big textile mill trade.

For the present the Pittsburgh plant will continue operations in its city under the management of G. L. Wells of Ballston Spa, who for some time has been a travelling salesman for the Oneida company. Eventually it is intended to move the plant to Oneida, and consolidate it with the local factory, making the plant one of the largest manufacturing establishments in the city and one of the largest pulley factories in the world.

The company has the cement floor in its new addition completed and the side walls and roof frame up ready for the roof.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

There are times when the title of "king" in Spain, does not seem much more significant than that of Colonel in Kentucky.

The absence of swear words from Esperanto sometimes makes the language seem particularly discouraging to a struggling novice.

Mayor Gaynor's vitality is remarkable. He survived an assassin's bullet and an indorsement by Tammany Hall all within one year.

AN AWFUL ERUPTION

of a volcano excites brief interest, and your interest in skin eruptions will be as short, if you use Bucklen's Arnica Salve, their quickest cure. Even the worst boils, ulcers, or fever sores are soon healed by it. Best for burns, cuts, bruises, sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains and piles. It gives instant relief. 25c. at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

SENATOR COBB RENOMINATED

Rousing Demonstration in Convention When His Name Was Mentioned—
J. W. Stevenson, Chairman of the Convention.

Without a dissenting voice, Senator George H. Cobb of Watertown, President Pro Tem of the New York State Senate, was renominated at Watertown on Tuesday by Jefferson and Oswego counties to succeed himself. Mayor Hugo of Watertown presented Mr. Cobb's name to the convention and it was greeted with tremendous applause. The seconding speech was made by Attorney F. D. Calkin of Oswego.

Agent John W. Stevenson of this city was elected chairman of the convention and he referred to the harmonious relations existing between the two counties. Mr. Stevenson also expressed the hope that the district would be united in its support of Mr. J. W. Mott for Congressman.

In his speech seconding the nomination of Senator Cobb, Attorney Calkin took occasion to bespeak the support of Jefferson county for Mr. J. W. Mott in the coming Congressional convention. Mr. Calkin said: "Oswego's interests are commercial. We are vitally concerned in the construction of the Niagara ship canal. We have two miles of water front to develop and improve. These matters can best be advanced by the presence in Washington of a man from Oswego county. Oswego county will present at the coming Congressional convention the name of Luther W. Mott. We give you our guarantee that Mr. Mott is especially fitted both by temperament and experience to represent this district in Congress. We guarantee that the interests of this entire district will be ably promoted and protected."

When Senator Cobb was brought before the convention he was given an ovation that must have been most gratifying to him after his earnest effort for his district and his party during his term just about to close. Mr. Cobb made a magnificent speech, replete with sound logic and a sense of the responsibility that rests upon the State, the nation and the party this day.

The delegates and alternates from Oswego County were:

John W. Stevenson, Fulton; J. D. Calkin, Oswego; J. B. Eurt, Hamilton; M. C. Worts, Oswego; Delos Wilks, Sandy Creek; Frank E. Sayer, Oswego; D. C. Whitney, Albion; George Jackson, Palermo; George H. Edick, Richmond; and D. C. Pickens, Mexico.

The following were appointed a Senatorial committee: Oswego county—J. W. Stevenson, F. D. Calkin and M. C. Worts; Jefferson county—Frank S. Kenyon, Mayor F. M. Hugo and C. H. Wood.

Mayor Hugo of Watertown is being named for Secretary of State. A great deal of sentiment in favor of Mr. Mott for Congress was noticed.

FIGURED BUT DID NOT BID

It is a significant fact that no bids were offered upon Contract No. 37, which covers the Barge Canal work between Fulton and Oswego.

Under the Act authorizing the building of a $101,000,000 canal, no work can be let for more than 10 per cent above the Engineers estimates for the building of same, and it is evident that no responsible contractor would take the work as planned within that limit of the estimated cost.

The plans previously designed for this section of work were abandoned and new designs were made making it possible for the Minetto-Meriden interest to secure their aim, which is plainly the absorption of all of the water power now used by the Battle Island Paper Company.

There is an old saying to the effect that while you can lead a horse to water you cannot make him drink, which well applies to this situation. The contractors figured but did not bid.

The plans favored by the Minetto-Meriden Company are not only unusual but are without parallel in design in the entire canal system, and it is believed by many experienced men that if these designs are followed the canal at that point during high water can only be used with great difficulty. In the failure to receive any bids within the 10 per cent the extravagance in the cost of this plan has its demonstration.

There is a secret history of this whole affair. The activity of one official in pressing the adoption of the plan favored by the Minetto-Meriden Company is difficult to explain.

It is believed to be owing to his urgency and representations that other State Officials have given approval to these plans. It must have been without a thorough personal investigation on the part of each.

MEXICAN BREWERS' MONOPOLY

Concession Granted in State of Sonora to Arizona Company.

Washington, Sept. 15.—In its policy to encourage the brewing of beer, the Mexican government has granted an exclusive concession to a brewery in the State of Sonora, the company being exempted from taxes for 15 years. The concession was acquired by a company organized under the laws of Arizona. An ice plant will be built in connection with the brewery on account of the increasing demand for ice.

O'KELLY-SMITH BOUT

Great interest is being taken in Big Program, Monday, Sept. 26. Con O'Kelly the heavy weight pugilist who is to go against Buck Smith at the Armory, in Oswego on Monday evening, Sept. 26, is according to Syracuse reports training hard for the match. He seems to realize that he is up against a hard proposition and will do his utmost to get into the best possible shape to trim the dusky pugilist from Philadelphia. He is being watched carefully by Tom Ryan to see that he goes at his training right as the big Irishman has a great deal at stake and cannot afford to be in poor condition for any of his matches. The go will be pulled off at the Armory and the new seating arrangement will be used for the first time.

The seats will be so arranged that all can get a fine view of the ring.

BUCK SMITH

The match will be under the auspices of the Oswego Athletic Association.

Kid Julian, the clever Syracuse fighter, has been secured to go against a clever boy from Rochester. This will be one of the chief preliminaries and is bound to be a strong card. Kid Julian is one of the cleverest men in the business around this section and will put on a high class exhibition. He and his opponent will weigh at 124 pounds.

Burt Pittsley, a clever 128 pounder, who has appeared in Oswego before, will put on a bout with a Buffalo boy who has shown considerable class and is rapidly forging his way to the top-notchers. Billy Allen, the champion Canadian light-weight, will act as timekeeper. Membership cards may be secured at the Hotel Danlo, or from other places which may be announced by the committee this week.

Over two hundred people will come down from Syracuse by special train with Tommy Ryan and other well known sporting personages. It is expected that an even larger number will board the train at Fulton. The club has put up a guarantee of $1,000 to get O'Kelly and it promises to be the biggest athletic club event in the history of Northern New York.

FULTON WILL GET

MORE MONEY

County Treasurer Moore Receives Word from Excise Department

County Treasurer Fred M. Moore received a notification from the State Excise Department last week that the City of Fulton according to the recent census had passed up one class in the excise ruling and that beginning at once liquor licenses would cost $525 instead of $450 as in the past.

According to the books there were 32 first-class licenses taken out in Fulton last year and if the same number are taken out this year it will mean an increase in revenue to the State of $2400. Of this amount one half is the percentage given to the city for school purposes so that the City of Fulton will be the richer by $1200 during the present year.

While this is an increased expense to the saloon keepers of Fulton yet the city is to be congratulated in finding $1200 extra to be used for its public schools during the present year. This same rate of license is now in force in all cities from 10,000 to 50,000 inhabitants.

PRIZE WINNERS

Leslie R. Wells, of Hannibal, carried off the honors in the cheese department at the State Fair by winning the gold medal in the competition for the best export or home trade cheese, scoring the remarkably high percentage of 99.97. Another Oswego County prize winner in this department was G. S. Cole, of Oswego, 98.82, on export cheddar style and 99.18 on white or colored cheddar style.

W. J. Peach of the firm of Peach & Trimble of Pulaski, was one of the judges in the cheese department.

Rally day will be observed at the Congregation church next Sunday with special services. Rev. F. A. Miller will speak at the Sunday school hour and there will be a harvest concert at 7:00 P. M.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION HELD

The Prohibition county convention held in Oswego last week did not develop the fight on the county treasurer'ship which was expected and ex-Supervisor George Rogers of Hannibal became the choice of the convention for that office. He was placed in nomination by Raymond Cooper of Hannibal in a lengthy speech. Fred D. Snell of Parish was nominated for Member of Assembly, and Dr. Clayton Davis of Pulaski was named for Coroner. All the nominations were unanimous. No nomination was made for Special Surrogate.

Seventy-nine delegates were named to the State convention which will be held at Cortland, October 4, 5, 6. The delegates were instructed to present the name of George R. Blount of Sandy Creek for Lieutenant-governor. The Senatorial delegates were unopposed. An appeal for the usual funds was made by Mr. Pitts, but with little result until Mr. Pitts stated in a loud and clear tone, "Put Clarence Elwyn Pitts of Oswego, N. Y., down for a hundred." E. B. Pitts, brother of Clarence Elwyn and chief assistant to C. E. also contributed $100. George R. Blount of Sandy Creek, who is after the nomination of Lieutenant-Governor, who it is said is receiving about $60 per month as county chairman, also contributed $100 to the cause. Several smaller contributions were made and after considerable hard work by Clarence about $500 was raised to keep the "college boys" in the field. The delegates were pretty tired when the convention was over and undoubtedly the voice of Clarence Elwyn Pitts, which was going all day, echoed in their ears even after they got back home.

PROGRESSIVES IN CONTROL AT SARATOGA COLONEL ROOSEVELT ELECTED TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

Root Becomes Permanent Chairman -- Roosevelt Names
Members of Important Committees -- Bitter Speeches
Mark Opening of Session.

Worn, but determined, the "old guard" and the "Progressive" forces met in convention hall at Saratoga on Tuesday and from that hour until Ex-President Roosevelt became the choice of the majority for the position of temporary chairman, the situation was most strained. It was only by the most adept manipulating that actual fights between delegates upon the convention floor were prevented, so intense was the feeling as between the factions.

For hours bitter denunciation was heard from the platforms and for the first time in his life, Colonel Roosevelt was denounced to his face by the men who successfully elected him member of Assembly, Governor, vice president and president.

Timothy L. Woodruff, the man Roosevelt while president, made chairman of the State Committee by the sheer weight of federal patronage, read a letter from Roosevelt in which he claimed he showed Roosevelt tactfully endorsed the selection of Vice President Sherman as temporary chairman. Abe Gruber, facing Roosevelt, poured forth streams of denunciation the like of which has seldom been heard before even in a ward convention and Roosevelt had to personally appeal to the crowd to let Gruber be heard and "give him a square deal."

Roosevelt was eloquently defended by Comptroller Pendergast of New York who repudiated the suggestion that Roosevelt is playing for the presidential nomination in 1912.

State Chairman Timothy Woodruff, in a speech which clearly set forth the fact that the State Committee was well within its province in selecting the temporary chairman for the convention, and which also paid a high tribute to Vice President Sherman, placed his name in nomination for the temporary chairmanship. His speech was greeted with mingled cheers and hisses.

When Woodruff ended his speech he recognized Delegate Hicks of Nassau county who named Col. Roosevelt. As he mentioned Roosevelt's name the first spontaneous enthusiasm of the convention developed.

There was wild cheering on the part of New York County delegates and about one quarter of the gallery. The cheering lasted a minute and a half.

Hicks said: "In the spirit of noble sentiment of Abraham Lincoln, with charity for all and malice toward none, I nominate Col. Theodore Roosevelt." Members of the Nassau delegation endeavored to get Roosevelt to rise to his feet to acknowledge the cheer but the Colonel sat immovable throughout.

It was at this point that Attorney Abe Gruber made his bitter attack upon Roosevelt. His bitter eloquence being greeted with hisses and cat-calls which were unparalled in any convention of the party.

Comptroller Pendergast of New York followed Gruber making an impassioned speech in defense of Roosevelt, saying in conclusion:

"This is a square fight. I can simply say that there is need at this time of the Republican party standing still now and looking which side of the road it is on. They say we face defeat this fall. Our party can afford to be defeated but it cannot afford to be wrong."

"We have heard Col. Roosevelt compared to Col. Bryan to day. The difference is Col. Bryan attracts great crowds and can never be elected while Col. Roosevelt attracts great crowds and is always elected."

The roll call on chairman came at 2:22 o'clock and for an hour the delegates by votes registered their choice. At 3:30 o'clock the verdict was rendered: Roosevelt, 563; Sherman 442. It was then that the convention broke loose and it was with difficulty that the ushers and the one available policeman restored order so that the business of selecting the other officers of the convention might proceed.

On Tuesday night Hon. Elihu Root was selected as the permanent chairman of the convention and he will today make an address which will it is believed, go far in the work of re-establishing the Republican party in the confidence and favor of the electors of the Empire State.

Col. Roosevelt spoke with deepest regard for President Taft and the efforts of his co-laborers in both houses for the interest of the nation. In his key note speech while presiding as temporary chairman, he also declared himself firmly in favor of "primary" and has been giving considerable attention to the boom started by the friends of Senator Green, of the Green-Hinman direct primaries bill, as a candidate for the governorship nomination.

J. Sloat Fassett may succeed Hon. C. M. Depew in the United States Senate.

Vice President James Sherman was last evening presented with a handsome loving cup by 300 business men of Utica.

Lloyd C. Griscom may succeed Timothy Woodruff as chairman of the State Committee.

The Committee on Resolutions is composed of William Barnes, jr., Speaker Wadsworth, George W. Aldridge, Senator Cobb, Seth Low, Jacob Gould Schurman, Senator Brackett, Representative S. E. Payne and Representative J. Sloat Fassett.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS

Trolley and Bridge Question Discussed—Committee Appointed to Arbitrate

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the City Hall on Monday evening at which there was a goodly attendance of members. The meeting had been called for the purpose of discussing the lower bridge and trolley proposition and there was free interchange of thought on the subject on the part of the trolley promoters, the owners of the property necessary for the approaches on either side of the river, and the members of the Chamber who desired nothing other than the best arrangement for Fulton.

It transpired at the meeting that the price asked by the Fulton Light, Heat & Power company for its property was $15,000; by the Granby Paper company, $5,000 and that these prices were deemed prohibitive by the trolley company.

After a full understanding relative to the matter had been reached, Mr. E. R. Redhead moved that a committee be appointed to confer with the property owners and the trolley people with the view of effecting some compromise whereby our lower bridge might be saved from trolley usage and the trolley project not be hampered by needless delay. Mr. Penfield appointed as such a committee, Mr. Redhead, Mr. E. B. Mead and Mr. A. W. Wiltse, giving them full power to act.

Manager L. W. Emerick, for the Light, Heat & Power company, stated that he would be willing to abide by the compensation fixed by a competent committee.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that the Common Council permit the question of the purchase of Falley Seminary for high school purposes to be submitted to the electors this fall.

The extension of the G. & W. R. R. tracks in the southern section of the city was touched upon but no action was taken, no one being sufficiently conversant with the pros and cons to take definite steps in the matter.

NEW TITLES

After Saturday it will be Governor Horace White and Lieutenant Governor George Cobb. Senator Cobb will succeed himself at Albany this winter but it is still doubtful who will succeed Governor White.

Gold Seal Rubbers to fit all styles of shoes of Morton & Shattuck's.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SUCCESSFUL

The Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of President E. J. Penfield neither slumbers nor sleeps when Fulton's interests are to be protected or advanced. At present the soliciting committee has been very successful in securing funds which practically assure the location of an aluminum manufacturing plant in our midst. This company will employ about 100 hands, many skilled workmen being among the number, and its location here will bring many new families to our city. The building decided upon for the housing of the industry is the old plant of the American Tobacco company on the west side.

The new company has a first-class rating in the commercial world; they have an established and rapidly increasing business, their reason for removing to Fulton being the necessity for extending their scope and enlarging their present quarters. The excellent shipping facilities of this city appealed strongly to them, too, in seeking admission here.

The Chamber of Commerce also have several other desirable inquiries on hand which they are investigating, and may have other important announcements to make in the near future relative to business propositions for the municipality.

PROHIBIT DUMPING ON STATE PROPERTY

Health Officer Cusack and Chief Ross recently looked over several of the nuisances along the canal bank so frequently referred to by residents and as a result they compelled one property owner to make his property sanitary and to place proper conveniences therein or to close it as a rooming place.

Strict orders have been issued and they will be rigidly enforced against throwing anything on the canal banks. For some time garbage, slops and other offensive things have been deposited from upper windows until it has been almost unbearable for workmen or business people located in the vicinity of the nuisances thus created.

The irresponsibles who commit these acts never suffer, apparently, from the condition they create and they would refuse to take any responsibility even in the event of an epidemic following such disregard for life, health and decency.

FALLEY SEMINARY PROPERTY

The Property Includes Nearly Two Acres of Land

From an action recently taken by the Board of Education it is quite probable that the tax payers will soon have an opportunity of voting on the question as to whether or not the Falley Seminary property shall be purchased by the city for school purposes.

Many may not realize the amount of land which the property contains. It comprises the greater half of the block bounded by Fourth, Academy, Fifth and Buffalo streets—over 200 feet on Fourth street, 385 feet on Academy street, 170 feet on Fifth street, then 198 feet west, then 90 feet south, then 198 feet west to Fourth street. This valuable property comprises nearly two acres of land and is situated in a very desirable residential part of the city.

The Board of Education should have this property surveyed and a diagram of the same printed in the city papers that the people may know the extent of the land which they will have an opportunity to acquire.

EXPOLITATION POLITICS, ETC.

Severe Arrangement of Clarence E. Pitts, Prohibition State Chairman.

The Palladium of Friday contains the following article of interest:

Sir—A clipping from your issue of September 12th is before me and therein it is stated that I am the Secretary of the Westchester Prohibition County Committee. Permit me to say that such is not now the fact. The Prohibition Union of Westchester county is the only organization with which I have any official connection and this position I held when I was made Secretary of the Prohibition party County Committee, and for three or four years I was Secretary of both organizations. But soon after the Prohibition party machinery of this State came under the control of Clarence E. Pitts I sent notice to the members of our county executive that my official position as Secretary would be terminated at a certain time, the reason given being that I would not consent to be officially affiliated with the man who got into office by the methods Pitts used to get the State Chairmanship. At that time I was also the State Committee member for this county. For the same reason I declined re-election to this position. Hence, while I am Secretary of the Prohibition Union of Westchester county, and in this way officially affiliated with party Prohibitionists only, neither the union nor myself have any kind of official relationship to the party in this county or State, and this will be my attitude and the attitude of some others so long as Clarence E. Pitts is State Chairman.

And in this action and attitude we have the example of such stalwart Prohibitionists as William T. Wardwell, Captain Henry M. Randall, John McKee, the Rev. C. Henry Mead, John F. Stanley, Professor Alphonso A. Hopkins and others of lesser note in the party alignment. Wardwell has long been one of the largest contributors to party funds in the nation. For the support of our State party papers Wardwell has contributed probably not less than $15,000. And but for the support given by Wardwell to such papers they could not have existed. And but for the use made of such papers to bring himself into prominence, Pitts would have scarcely been known outside of his own county.

Randall is the president of two banks, and a most liberal contributor to the financial support of the party. Pitts has tried to read Randall out of the party, but has not succeeded in doing so.

McKee is a very wealthy resident of the city of Brooklyn, and has given liberally for the support of the party for twenty years or more.

Mead was a party Prohibitionist as early as 1876, almost before Pitts was born, and is one of the most popular platform men in the State.

Stanley is a wealthy resident of New York city and a liberal supporter of the party.

Hopkins has been a Prohibitionist for a third of a century and is known as an author and a most scholarly platform orator.

Not a dollar are these men of larger means giving for the support of any kind of party State work at the present time. Neither will they do so, so long as Pitts is State Chairman.

These are all men of intelligence and of the highest standing, not only as Prohibitionists, but also in civic life. These are the opponents who confront Mr. Pitts, and, while they are in no sense or way responsible for what the writer has been saying in the columns of the Westchester News, concerning Mr. Pitts' doings, ways and methods, no one of them will hesitate to say that they are glad to have this exposure made by an experienced newspaper man. It is the belief of these men and others, that when the Prohibitionists of the State are as familiar with the facts presented in "Exploitation Politics, etc." as is the writer, Mr. Pitts' career as a political exploiter within the Prohibition party will be ended.

SALE OF INDIAN LAND

Rich Resources, Land in the State of Oklahoma, Formerly Known as the Indian Territory to be Sold to Highest Bidder.

Docie Sam, as a land auctioneer, is attracting considerable attention in Oklahoma by a unique method of selling the red man's heritage, in the form of good tillable land. That the farmer and investor appreciate the plan and have confidence in it is demonstrated by the fact that within the past twelve months approximately one million dollars have been paid for Indian land to the United States Government through the United States Indian Superintendent at Muskogee, Oklahoma.

For several years the question of land titles in that part of Oklahoma, formerly Indian Territory, has not been looked upon favorably by those desiring investments. Lands that will raise one bale of cotton to the acre, sixty bushels of corn, season after season, better than one hundred bushels of oats, two crops of potatoes in one season, averaging one hundred bushels to the acre, and adaptable to raising a corresponding crop of any of the staples, has gone begging and remained idle on account of the title bugaboo. The same grade of land in Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and the other agricultural states, was bringing from $65.00 to $150.00 per acre, while the Indian lands in Oklahoma were taken by the acre for the lack of purchasers at ten and fifteen dollars.

Within the past year, however, things have greatly changed. The Government decided to sell the restricted lands for the Indian and superintendence from the sale of such lands. The Indian is, as a rule, inexperienced, and in any business pertaining to his land, such as leasing or selling, only succeeded in getting the title clouded, hence the means of poor titles.

The plan of the Government officials is to clear the land of such clouds, appraise the land and improvements, and offer the same to the highest bidder, thereby insuring perfect title, the deed being prepared in the office of the United States Indian Superintendent.

From the beginning the plan proved an excellent one and before the third month the lists of land were sought by people in all the states. The United States Indian Superintendent has today on his mailing list of monthly land sale notices some five thousand names of interested persons in other states, who are desirous of purchasing the Indian land.

The average acreage offered monthly by the United States Indian Superintendent is 20,000, and some months the list more than doubles that amount. The October sales now being advertised show fifty thousand acres, a majority of which is susceptible to the highest state of cultivation and will raise in abundance all the crops of the temperate zone.

These tracts are appraised by two competent land men, one a regular land appraiser and the other the District Agent in the locality where the land is situated, and who is familiar with the conditions in this locality. The land is advertised for thirty days in the newspapers of the state and by printed posters distributed by the mailing list system. The bids are opened on the day specified in the advertisement and the highest bid, if it exceeds the amount stated in the appraisal, gets the land.

At the time of sale ten per cent of the amount offered must accompany the bid and the balance to be paid on receipt of notice from the Indian Superintendent to the effect that the deed has been executed and is ready for delivery.

There is no doubt as to a clear title to land purchased in this manner, as the records are carefully examined by the representatives of the Indian Superintendent and if no cloud affecting title is found, the land is advertised. When an Indian makes application for the removal of restrictions upon the sale of his land the same is submitted to an appraiser for an investigation as to its quality, improvements and value—consideration being taken as to the distance from market, kind of market and the roads. At the same time the District Agent is given a description of the land and he checks the county records wherein the land is located to ascertain whether there are any illegal instruments of record. If such instruments appear of record the Superintendent will not advertise the land until the title can be cleared.

The land advertised through the office of the United States Indian Superintendent is of every quality, found in any state, there being open prairie, timber, first class agricultural land, and large tracts of rough land suitable only for grazing purposes. The better grades during the past year have sold at prices ranging from $10 to $20 acre, while grazing land has brought from $1 to $5 per acre.

In the Southern part of the State and along streams the land is covered to some extent with merchantable timber, and in the Eastern part of the State the land is underlaid with vast beds of mineral—lead, zinc, iron and coal. The central portion of the State from North to South has the famous oil pools—probably the largest in the world—and the land offered for sale is from every portion of that part of Oklahoma, formerly known as the Indian Territory, so rich in these resources.

Professor Charles N. Gould, State Geologist, has made a careful investigation of this part of the country and in his report, recently submitted to the State Officials, stated that, in his estimation, there are many undeveloped pools of oil—in fact, that this product may extend to many parts of the Eastern half of the State.

The United States Indian Superintendent is now sending out the lists showing lands advertised for sale during the month of October, which lists describe every tract offered, give its location, and price at which sale will be made. It is expected that the October sales will bring the Indians a total of approximately $225,000.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

While it may be conceded that the result of the vote yesterday on temporary chairman of the Republican State Convention has bred some animosity, it is hoped that in the campaign which is about to follow there will be no despairing call to party loyalty.

The Republican party should not be on the defensive—there is so much to be done and so little time to do it. The party principles should be dedicated to the perpetuation of government by the people.

It has been charged by the Regulars that the Insurgents had no constructive program and were merely out to destroy everything within reach, giving nothing in return. This feeling is not shared by the public. We believe the result of the agitation will be the perpetuation of government by the people and a new lease of life extended to the Republican party.

The electors are eager to follow leaders who are advancing, and who represent ideas springing from the upward evolution of the nation, changing the character of the measures hitherto presented to State and National Legislatures from that which might benefit the trusts and railroads to decent and equitable laws. History proves that the intelligent American electorate will refuse to follow leaders whose political consciences are less acute than their own. This the Republican party should interpret and progress will be the rapid and sound.

MR. MOTT PROMINENT

AT CONVENTION

Mr. Luther W. Mott, Oswego county's choice for the Congressional nomination, is a very conspicuous figure at the Saratoga Convention, being in close and frequent conference with Col. Roosevelt and his friends and advisors. Mr. Mott is fairly listed with the Progressives and he is regarded as one of Col. Roosevelt's able lieutenants. His intimacy with the new leaders in the State will make him a still stronger factor in the politics of his district and make it all the more imperative that Jefferson and Lewis counties accord to Oswego county her just dues and nominate Mr. Mott for Congress to succeed the Hon. G. L. Knapp.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

The Democratic State convention is called for Thursday in Rochester. That the smaller of the two great parties has troubles of its own is more and more apparent as the convention date nears and the adherents of Mayor Gaynor, Congressman Havens, Sulzer, Hearst and a dozen or more lesser lights become strenuous in their insistence upon recognition.

Late advices would indicate that Mayor Gaynor would refuse to accept the nomination and that Havens might become the choice of a divided party for the governorship.

NEW STATE COMMITTEEMAN

Col. John T. Mott Retires—High Tribute Paid to His Efficiency and Zeal.

Col. John T. Mott, at a meeting of the State Committee on Monday evening resigned from the committee and the Hon. P. W. Cullinan, Oswego County's representative, made a motion nominating Editor McGregor A. Phillips of Lowville, Lewis county, to be his successor. In making the nomination Mr. Cullinan paid a high tribute to Col. Mott's service in this trying position and spoke admirably of his tact and helpfulness whenever a vital point was at stake. He had made himself and his district a power in State and National political life and he had reflected credit upon the district he had served so long and so well.

Mr. Cullinan, in nominating Mr. Phillips stated that the candidate was a man who commanded the highest respect throughout the district and who would continue to make his district have the same power in the State that it had had in the past. At the conclusion of Mr. Cullinan's remarks, Mr. Phillips was unanimously elected State Committeeman.

The motion to make Mr. Phillips the State Committeeman was seconded by Senator Cobb. In referring to the retirement of Col. John T. Mott from the State committee, former Senator Elton R. Brown paid a high tribute to the services of Col. Mott during the past sixteen years. At this meeting Senator George H. Cobb made important remarks relative to water-storage and conservation and he placed himself on record as in favor of Legislative rather than the "New York" plan.

OSWEGO COUNTY WITH ROOSEVELT

The Oswego County delegation to the State convention occupy cottage No. 10, and they were in the fore front of all deliberations. At a meeting of the delegates, held on Monday evening, a resolution was introduced by the Hon. T. C. Sweet that Oswego county would endorse and stand by Col. Roosevelt for the chairmanship and that they would stand as a unit for his policies throughout the convention. Our new State Committeeman M. A. Phillips of Lowville, was also one of the Colonel's staunchest supporters and was called into conference with Mr. Roosevelt last week.

At the informal meeting of the Oswego delegation, Surrogate Clayton L. Miller voiced the regret of the contingent and the county at large, that Col. Mott had decided to retire from active political life, and he spoke of his splendid service to his district.

Oswego fared very well in the distribution of convention places. Senator George H. Cobb of Jefferson, has been selected to represent the direct primary issue in the committee, he being considered one of the leading exponents of this reform by reason of the bill which bore his name. Mr. P. W. Cullinan is to be a member of the committee on permanent organization, Clayton L. Miller on credentials, C. Fred Boshart of Lowville, vice president and F. S. Kenyon of Adams, assistant secretary.

ASSESSMENT ON INDUSTRIES RAISED

A perusal of the books of the local Board of Assessors reveals that the householder is not alone in having the assessment on his property raised. The local industries have all come in for their share of the increase, the most substantial rates having been made at the instigation of the Board of Supervisors who determined that Fulton was not paying within many thousands of her just ratio. Some of the plants and their assessment follow together with a comparative table for 1908: Oswego Falls Pulp and Paper company plant, power and other property and special franchise, 1909, $263,250; 1910, $288,950.

Fulton Fuel and Light company, 1908, $21,687; 1910, $21,750.

LAWYER DROPPED DEAD

While standing in the hall of the Mexico House conversing with a party of friends on Thursday evening George W. Bradner, a prominent member of the Oswego county bar and for many years a resident of Mexico, dropped to the floor unconscious and expired before the arrival of a physician. Mr. Bradner had displayed no symptoms of serious illness although he had not been in the best of health for the past month. Wednesday he went to Oswego, where he appeared in a matter before Judge Rowe at Chambers and appeared to be in good health. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

The deceased was a member of the Mexico Lodge, F. and A. M., Lake Ontario Chapter, No. 165, R. A. M., Lake Ontario Commandery, No. 32, K. T.; Media Temple, Mystic Shrine, and of the Mexico Lodge of Odd Fellows.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Susan Davis and Mrs. Clara Graves, of Oswego; one brother, F. J. Bradner, of Seattle, and ten nieces and nephews.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

After hours of deliberation relative to a fair rate to charge local water consumers and which should also be fair to the city, it has been stated by a member of the Board of Public Works that in all probability the rate determined upon will not be far from the following figures, with a rate of $5 per year per family for the flat rate.

Five hundred gallons or less per day, 25c per 1,000 gallons, 18½¢ per 100 cubic feet; 500 to 1,000 gallons per day, 22c per 1,000 gallons, 16½¢ per 100 cubic feet; 1000 to 2,000 gallons per day, 19c per 1,000 gallons, 14½¢ per 100 cubic feet; 2,000 to 3,000 gallons per day, 16c per 1,000 gallons, 12c per 100 cubic feet; 3,000 to 4,000 gallons per day, 14c per 1,000 gallons, 10½¢ per 100 cubic feet; 4,000 to 5,000 gallons per day, 12c per 1,000 gallons, 9c per 100 cubic feet; 5,000 to 10,000 gallons per day, 10c per 1,000 gallons, 7½¢ per 100 cubic feet; more than 10,000 gallons per day, 9c per 1,000 gallons, 6½¢ per 100 cubic feet.

October

O. T. Roosevelt has come back to the West!
Of all the Rough Riders his luck was the best.
He rode from Dakota to San Juan Hill,
And he found him the Spaniards he wanted to kill.
Shouting, "Into 'em, Teddy,
An' into 'em deep!"
And the men of Granada
Went down in a heap.

He rested his broncho and fed him his fill, and then he rode yelling up Capitol Hill. He wasn't expecting or asking a thing, but he landed right in the political ring, shouting "Into 'em, Teddy, and into 'em plump!" and the poor politicians went down in a lump.

He watered his pino and fed him some oats, and then he remounted and hunted for goats. He found him some people who didn't agree With all of his notions, and gave a whoop-pee, Yelling, "Into 'em, Teddy,
An' into 'em hot!"
And he knocked them all into The pitiless pot.

He hubbed his charger and gave him some grass, and then he went after someone in his class. He put up a lion with blood in its eye, and he clapped on the spurs with a terrible cry, saying "Into 'em, Teddy.

After which the rooters, who reached a very high state of profanity in the latter days of Numa, re-cite, or whatever the name of the school is, as you may hear them doing any time this month by following the riot wagon when it passes.

Until the 23d of the month, October will be under the influence of Libra, the Balance, which is the seventh sign of the zodiac. This will enable everybody running for office to keep on the fence pretty well as to the real issues of the campaign, but when the sun passes out of that constellation on the following day they will begin dropping on one side or the other, and it will be easier to make out who the true friends of the people are. After the 22 we will be influenced by Scorpio, the Scorpion, which is almost meaningless now, but in early times typified the manner in which the north wind stung the old Greeks, who were in the habit of going until very late in the season without having on any wear to speak of, either over or under.

A bit of Fall is as nice as anything As I know anything about— When the pumpkin pie is ripening, And the time is opportune for kraut. When the hunter gets his trappings out, Awakened by the time of year, And the farmer, furious without, And not within begins to shout, "Get ou-u-u-u-t of here!"

"Get ou-u-u-u-t of here—dabbling your skin!"
Ah, that's the proper time to sigh— When the squirrel gets his goodies in Against the winter by-and-by. When the bending reaches of the sky Are very soft and very near, And the farmer, with a watchful eye, Begins to hop around and cry, "Get ou-u-u-u-t of here!"

"Get ou-u-u-u-t of here—you blanky-blank!"
Ah, that's the season of them all— When winter hangs upon the flank Of the wild goose passing in the fall. When the plaintive quail begins to call Across the golden fields and sere, And the farmer, bursting from the tall With leaps and bounds, begins to bawl, "Get ou-u-u-u-t of here!"

The melancholy days will come, and the pheasant will intone his drum upon the sad and drowsy wind in the solemn manner of his kind. The booming frog will sniff the breeze and fail to digging on his knees, and the buckwheat cake will take a crack at this fool thing of coming back.
It may be Jeffries and his strain are never quite themselves again, but the pickled pig's foot and the rest are always equal to the test. They never dissipate a bit, but spend the summer prime and fit, and let the frost succeed the dew, and they're there, you bet, as good as new.

The doughty oyster on his shell, the chitlin looking strong and well, and clear and resolute of eye, the hardy brands of winter pie. The apple butter, juice and flake, the same that mother used to make, and the crackling of our youthful lot the cock and captain of the pot.

The football season will revert and the center rush will paw the dirt. He'll wake the natives with his roar, and bawl for victory and gore. The piled-up dying and dead will mass against his butting head, and he'll spin the planet in his rage just like a squirrel in his cage. Alas for those who calmly sit devising to denature it, and all the college reneades who think to tear it for moids. The students and the teachers howl, and the rooters and the bleachers yowl and damn'd be he who does not rise and kill somebody twice his size.

The geophanes will cruise the air above the old-time county fair, and the lucky winner will be he who wins the best two falls in three. The farmer in his limousine will tool around upon the green, and the hired man will seize the chance to wear his other pair of pants.

If you are worried because it cost so much more to live now than it did twenty years ago, just remember how much better it is to live now—a days.

The softer weather will defy The blandishments of June, And the month will give us by and by

The officehunter's moon. A chop will cost four bits a pound, And beef a buck a bite, And the wolf will wear a groove around The cabin every night.

The 418th anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus will be celebrated on the night of the 14th by the seven Gugenheim brothers.

Mr. Roosevelt will be stage manager again this month. The villain will be the Demon Rum. Mr. Bryan will be the father of the stolen child, and Mr. Cannon, who made the password Hell last month, will change it to read Hellip!

And then November will return With cold and chilly draft, And the wild goose going down the line With Winter biting aft.

Ladies—We have an unusually attractive chance for a bright, energetic woman, well and favorably known in this community. For details address, enclosing stamped self-addressed envelope to Manager, Lock Box 750, St. Louis, Mo.

A WEIRD INCIDENT.

Chopin's Funeral March Was Inspired by a Skeleton.

Late one summer's afternoon, said Ziem, Chopin and I sat talking in my studio. In one corner of the room stood a piano and in another the complete skeleton of a man with a large white cloth thrown, ghostlike, about it. I noticed that now and again Chopin's gaze would wander, and from my knowledge of the man I knew that his thoughts were far away from me and his surroundings. More than that, I knew that he was composing.

Presently he rose from his seat without a word, walked over to the skeleton and removed the cloth. He then carried it to the piano and, seating himself, took the hideous object upon his knees—a strange picture of life and death.

Then, drawing the white cloth round himself and the skeleton, he laid the latter's fingers over his own and began to play. There was no hesitation in the slow, measured flow of sound which he and the skeleton conjured up. As the music swelled in a louder strain I closed my eyes, for there was something weird in that picture of man and skeleton seated at the piano, with the shadows of evening deepening around them and the ever swelling and ever softening music filling the air with mystery. And I knew I was listening to a composition which would live forever.

The music ceased, and when I looked up the piano chair was empty, and on the floor lay Chopin's unconscious form, and beside him, smashed all to pieces, was the skeleton I, prized so much. The great composer had swooned, but his march was found.

AMBASSADORS.

They Enjoy Some Curious Privileges at European Courts.

In the popular mind—the American mind at least—there is very little difference between an ambassador and a minister, but the former is entitled to very many privileges abroad that are denied to a mere envoy.

For instance, one curious privilege of an ambassador is that he, and he alone, when dismissed, may turn his back to the sovereign to whose court he is accredited. The mode of procedure, generally speaking, is as follows:

When the audience is at an end the ambassador waits to be dismissed by the sovereign. When dismissed the ambassador bows, retires three paces, bows again, retires three paces, bows a third time, turns on his heels and walks to the folding door. But when the reigning sovereign is a woman, still poorer methods obtain. To turn his back would be discourteous; to walk backward would be to resign a privilege; therefore the ambassador retires sideways like a crab. He keeps one eye on the sovereign and with the other he endeavors to find the door. By this unique means he contrives tovince all politeness to the sovereign and at the same time retain one of his privileges.

Another privilege of ambassadors is the right of being ushered into the royal presence through folding doors, both of which must be swung wide for him. No one save an ambassador can claim this privilege, the most any non-ambassadorial individual can expect is that one of the doors shall be opened to him.

One privilege appertaining to the ambassador, one capable of causing great inconvenience to the ruler, is the right of demanding admission to the sovereign at any hour of day or night. This was one of the reasons why Abdul Hamid, when sultan of Turkey, opposed the raising of our mission at Constantinople to an embassy. It was decidedly inconvenient at times to see the American representative at all.

To the European the most important feature of the ambassador's makeup is his sword. There the blade of the sword is a rapier blade with the point blunted. It has been facetiously observed abroad that the use of the sword is put to in addition to its trick of tripping up its wearer is usually the harmless one of poking fires. One diplomatist was said to file his bills on his sword, when it was not otherwise engaged, and for a long while it was a standing witticism of the corps diplomatique in Europe that the Russian ambassadors used their swords to file broken treaties, a circumstance that was held to account for the inordinate length of their weapons.—Harper's Weekly.

Emmett's Presence of Mind.

A story is told of Robert Emmet which proves his secretive power and resolution. He was fond of studying chemistry, and one night late, after the family had gone to bed, he swallowed a large quantity of corrosive sublimate in mistake for some acid cooling powder. He immediately discovered his mistake and knew that death must shortly ensue unless he instantly swallowed the only antidote, chalk. Timid men would have torn at the bell, roused all the family and sent for a stomach pump. Emmet called no one, made no noise, but, stealing down stairs and unlocking the front door, went into the stable, scraped some chalk which he knew to be there and took sufficient doses of it to neutralize the poison.

Queen Elizabeth's Amulet.

Queen Elizabeth during her last illness wore around her neck a charm made of gold which had been bequeathed to her by an old woman in Wales, who declared that so long as the queen wore it she would never be ill. The amulet, as was generally the case, proved of no avail, and Elizabeth, notwithstanding her faith in the charm, not only sickened, but died. During the plague in London people wore amulets to keep off the dread destroyer. Amulets of arsenic were worn near the heart. Quills of quicksilver were hung around the neck and also the powder of toads.

No Swelling at All.

"I see not one ripple on the water. All is calmness," said the little German lady, looking out dreamily over the quiet sea. "I had crossed the ocean when it was calm like this all the way over."

"Do you mean that there was no swell even in midocean?" asked her companion, who had never crossed at all.

"No, no swelling at all," was the reply.—New York Press.

A lion in a jungle will jump twenty-five or thirty feet from a standing start.

PRANKS OF CUPID.

Celebrated Men Who Married Their Domestic Servants.

Many celebrated men have married their domestic servants. Sir Henry Parkes, premier of New South Wales, is an example. One night when dining at a friend's house he was struck by the appearance of a servant girl who waited upon the table and persuaded his host to allow her to enter his employ. This she did and for a short time held the position of cook in Sir Henry's household. Then he made her Lady Parkes.

But more illustrious than this is the case of Peter the Great. One day he was dining at the house of Prince Menzikoff. He noticed one of the servant maids particularly, and, though she was not handsome, she caught his fancy. Her name, the prince told the czar, was Martha. She had been a servant in the house of a Lutheran minister of Marienburg, and when that city was captured by the troops of Russia she had been taken prisoner by General Bauer, who had passed her over to the prince, whose servant she was. The count politely made a present of her to the czar, who eventually married her.

William Cobbett, the great writer, when he was only twenty-one years of age, one morning chanced to see a box-room servant girl busily engaged in washing the family linen. The girl was pretty, so Cobbett spoke to her, learned her name and the same evening called upon her parents and said he would like to marry their daughter. The parents of the girl informed the young man that they had no objections to him as their son-in-law, but that he would have to wait until their daughter was of a marriageable age. Five years later Cobbett, true to his early love, married her.

For Body and Soul.

Here is a curious advertisement, republished in the Cornhill Magazine from an eighteenth century paper: "Wanted—For a family who have had health, a sober, steady person, in the capacity of a doctor, surgeon and apothecary. He must occasionally act in the capacity of butler and dress hair and wigs. He will be required to read prayers occasionally, and to preach a sermon every Sunday. The reason of this advertisement is that the family cannot any longer afford the expense of the physical tribe and wish to be at a certain expense for their bodies and souls. A good salary will be given."

Those Little Dishes.

Tommy ate his first meal at a country hotel when he was nine years old, and the experience was an event. He was especially interested in the collection of small, thick dishes containing side orders scattered about his place. When he went home he gave a graphic description of the meal. "And what do you think, mamma," he concluded, "we ate most of the things out of birds' backstubs."—Woman's Home Companion.

DEATHS

Francis Victoria Sankey, aged 73, widow of the famous evangelist, Ira D. Sankey, died at her home in Brooklyn on Saturday.

After a residence of 71 years in Oswego county, Mary Ella Sanford, sister of Mrs. W. S. Crandall, passed to rest on Wednesday evening at the latter's home in Rochester street.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Herman Sanford, at one time a large property owner in Oswego county. The funeral services were held from Mrs. Crandall's home on Friday afternoon, Rev. J. G. York of the Baptist church officiating, and the body was taken to the Sixteenth District cemetery for burial in the family lot. Beside Mrs. Crandall, the deceased is survived by one other sister who resides in Washington, D. C.

Thomas H. Wilson, prominent in fraternal and Democratic political circles, died at his home, in Sixth street on Friday after a two weeks illness following a stroke of paralysis which he sustained while berrying, lying in the field in which he had exposed to the elements for four hours before being found by a group of his associates in the Hunter Arms factory who went in search of him as soon as his absence from home was discovered. A second stroke came a few days after the first and death was inevitable. Mr. Wilson was at one time a member of the Board of Education, he was the Democratic nominee for alderman from the Fifth ward last Fall and he was so very active in Odd Fellow and Maccabee circles that his loss will be severely felt. The funeral services were held from the late home on Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. G. York officiating and interment was made in Mt. Auburn. The services were largely attended by the members of Neeshawanta Lodge, I. O. O. F., Fulton Tent K. O. T. M., and the Rebekahs. The ritual of the Odd Fellows was invoked at the grave. J. H. Alkenbrock acted as noble grand, J. H. Brooks as chaplain and Adelbert Ferguson as marshal of the day.

FOR JUDICIAL HONORS

The many complications in State and National political circles do not prevent the bee from buzzing merrily in the bonnets of many would be aspirants for judicial honors next Fall. Already the friends of Attorney Irving G. Hubbs of Putnam, E. B. Powell and Uddell Bartlett of Oswego are urging their fitness for the high office and are trying to line up the county as for or against their favorites. The friends of the Hon. P. W. Cullinan are also being reckoned with and are casting a weather eye at for hopeful signs in his behalf. This will be another matter to be taken up at the proper time.

HANNIBAL STREET COMPLETED

Friday saw all barricades removed and Hannibal street in all its proud splendor of pavement, sewers, etc., was opened to traffic. The mind of man can hardly revert back to the day when that street was closed to traffic and all of the Hannibal and adjacent trade driven Oswegoward. Now that the street is completed and open it is devoutly to be hoped that trade may be again induced to return to its former channel.

The residents of Hannibal street are certainly delighted to have the street once more opened.

INDEPENDENTS BEAT

WATERTOWN

The Independent baseball team of this city on Saturday defeated Watertown's crack nine at Watertown by a score of 3 to 4. On September 6, the Watertown aggregation defeated the local team by the score of 1 to 0 at Watertown and the rubber between the two teams is eagerly looked forward to by baseball fans in both cities. It has been suggested that the rubber be played on the local diamond and thus give Fulton one more chance this season to see a swift game of ball.

An out of town paper of recent date calls the Phoenix baseball team the champion team of this section of the State. It might not be out of place at this time to insist that the Phoenix team meet and defeat the Fulton Independents before laying claim to the championship. In the two games between the teams under discussion Fulton took the would-be champions in by scores of 15 to 2 and 3 to 0. The Independents are ready to meet the Phoenix men at any time, place or date and to give them the opportunity to establish their claim. Until then The Times claims that the Independents are the champions of Northern New York.

CAPITAL PENALTY

Some Curious Methods of Executing Criminals.

MOROCCO USES THE LASH.

Flogging to Death is Still in Vogue Among the Moors—Strangulation is Employed in Austria, and Spain Clings to the Gallows.

There are many curious methods of inflicting capital punishment in the various countries of the old world. Some of them tinged with the cruelty of the dark ages.

Morocco is perhaps the most medieval country in existence. Flogging to death is still in vogue. It is not so very long ago that Abdul Hamid had the Sheriff Kiltain executed in this horrible fashion.

The ameer of Afghanistan has peculiar methods of making the punishment fit the crime. A baker, for selling short weight, was roasted in his own oven, and a man who had started a scare that the Russians were advancing on Kabul was placed on a stool fastened on top of a tall pole and kept there on sentry go till he died of sleeplessness and exhaustion.

Political crimes are not uncommon in Persia and the revolutionists, when caught, are dealt with summarily. Four conspirators who were recently caught in the act of throwing a bomb in the crowded bazaar at Teheran were hanged and quartered in the same fashion that prevailed in England up to the seventeenth century. The remains of the wretched men were hung at the city gates as a horrible warning.

An Austrian officer convicted of poisoning his superior officers in the attempt to win promotion was sentenced to be strangled.

Austria is the only country which employs this particular method of execution, but Spain's garrote is very similar. The original method of garroting was, in fact, nothing but strangling. The criminal was seated on a chair fixed to a post, a loop of rope was placed encircling his neck and the post, and by means of a stick or cudgel (Spanish "garrote") inserted between the post and the condemned man's neck the cord was tightened until strangulation ensued.

The modern garrote consists of a brass collar containing a sharp pointed screw. The executioner turns the screw, and its point penetrates the spinal marrow, causing instant death.

Every civilized country does its best nowadays to make the dreadful task of execution as rapid and painless as possible. Hanging as at present performed is a very different matter from what it used to be in England.

Till nearly the end of the eighteenth century the condemned man was made to stand in a cart with a rope around his neck, and the cart was then driven away from under him. In 1783 parliament abolished this practice as being too barbarous and a platform was substituted for the cart. In 1874 this method was improved by proportioning the length of the drop to the weight of the body.

The state of New York inaugurated the electric chair many years ago, but its only advantage over hanging is that the man who swishes on the current is out of sight of the death chamber and so escapes the gruesome title of public executioner.

Formerly all criminals in England died by the ax, and undoubtedly the ax in the hands of a skillful headsmen was as merciful an instrument of death as any which exist today. In Prussia decapitation by the ax is still the recognized method of execution, but the rest of Germany follows the example of France and uses the guillotine.

Execution had almost become obsolete in France until public sentiment was so aroused by the ever increasing number of brutal murders that in January, 1906, "the widow" as the French term the instrument, was dragged out of its retirement and four miscreants were publicly executed at Bethmieu, in the north of France.

The guillotine was invented by a doctor named Guillotin more than a century ago, but it is not true that the inventor fell a victim to his own device. He died quietly in his bed. The guillotine consists of two upright posts grooved on the inside. An immensely heavy and sharp steel blade is fixed to slide in these grooves, and the executioner has nothing to do but pull a rope, when the blade drops and decapitates the victim instantly.

There are a few countries where capital punishment has been abolished, notably Switzerland. In Italy also there have been no executions for civil offenses for many years past.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The First Gentleman.

Who was the first gentleman? The Prince of Darkness has been pronounced one, but only mortals can fairly count. According to John Bull's time, there was no gentleman when Adam delved and Eve span. The first of them soon arrived, however, for, according to Dante, Judas, Berners, writing upon coat armor in 1430, "Uzli became a churl from the curse of God and Seth a gentleman through his father's and mother's blessing." That is to say, Seth was the first man who could boast of "family." Cain having been cast out of the pair, while Abel presumably perished too young.—London Chronicle.

REPUBLICANS NAME STIMSON

Edward Schoeneck of Syracuse Second on Ticket—Koenig for Secretary of State.

The Republican state convention at Saratoga at its final session nominated the following ticket:

For governor—Henry L. Stimson of New York.

For lieutenant governor—Edward Schoeneck of Syracuse.

For secretary of state—Samuel S. Koenig of New York.

For comptroller—James Thompson of Valley Falls, Rensselaer county.

For state treasurer—Thomas Penell of Elmira.

For attorney general—Edward R. O'Malley of Buffalo.

For state engineer and surveyor—Frank M. Williams of Oneida.

For associate judge of the court of appeals—Irving G. Vann of Syracuse.

Meigs, Koenig, O'Malley and Williams are renominated to the offices they have occupied for two years.

A successor to the late Edward G. Bartlett, associate judge of the court of appeals, will be selected by a committee comprising one delegate from each judicial district in the state after the nominations for these two places in the court of appeals bench have been made by the Democratic state convention at Rochester.

Elihu Root as permanent chairman of the convention, will also be a member of this important committee.

Final Session Called to Order.

Mr. Root called the final session of the convention to order shortly after 6 o'clock last night. All hands got down to business as a vast majority of the delegates wanted to start for home at 10 o'clock.

The rollcall for nominations for governor brought forth Kingsbury Foster of the 19th assembly district of New York county who nominated Representative William S. Bennett; Mr. Foster extolled Representative Bennett in a brief speech and reviewed his achievements at Albany.

H. B. Fullerton of Orange county also said fine things of Representative Bennett but when Nassau county was called on the roll up stepped Colonel Roosevelt to the platform.

"I have a genuine regard and respect," he said, "for Representative Bennett, but the situation calls for another man at this time. I rise to nominate Henry L. Stimson of New York. He is a very good man. As president of the United States I appointed him United States district attorney of New York. It was necessary to have an honest man in that place; a man of irrefutable integrity. I conferred with Mr. Root at the time and we decided that Mr. Stimson was the man who must act against the most powerful combinations of business interests in the world. I believed that Mr. Stimson as United States district attorney would be called upon to meet the very ablest lawyers the corporations could employ. Stimson made good. He was pitted against the best lawyers of the land.

"It was his business to bring to book the sugar trust which had defrauded the government out of enormous sums, literally a vast fortune. Mr. Stimson convicted man after man in the sugar trust. He proved his case so true that the trust threw up its hands and restored an enormous sum to the government.

"Mr. Stimson is a man of trenchant ability, and I have the very greatest pleasure in nominating him for the high honor of governor of the state of New York."

On the rollcall Allegheny county had yielded to New York, which, through Mr. Foster, Representative Bennett, and Nassau county, through Colonel Roosevelt, had nominated Mr. Stimson. Secretary Gleason after that, continued the rollcall down to Yates county but there were no further candidates for governor. When the rollcall for votes was announced, Albany county, through William Barnes, Jr., announced the disposition of the 25 votes of that county by saying, "Albany county casts 27 votes for Mayor James B. McKean of Albany one delegate not voting."

Mayor McKean was the delegate who did not vote. When Columbia county was reached, Lewis F. Payn cast the seven votes of that county for Mayor McKean. When Livingston county was reached, Frank K. Cook arose and shouted, "We have never seen this man Stimson, but we sling him three votes." There were seven votes in the Livingston county delegation, but the other four were absent.

Stimson Receives 648 Votes.

When Monroe county was reached, George W. Aldridge cast the 38 votes for Thomas B. Dunn, the present state treasurer. The total vote for those named for governor was as follows: Stimson, 648; Bennett, 242; Dunn, 38; McKean, 35.

Early in the day the New York county assembly district leaders held a caucus and 28 were for Bennett and 3 for Stimson.

The Kings county delegation gave 113 votes for Stimson and 23 for Bennett.

Immediately after Permanent Chairman Root announced the result of the ballot, Mr. Foster, Representative Bennett's spokesman, moved to make Mr. Stimson's nomination unanimous. Speaker Wadsworth, head of the Livingston county delegation, who likewise, "And no did William Barnes, Jr., head of the Albany county delegation, Speaker Wadsworth deprecated the exceedingly unfortunate manner in which the announcement of Livingston county's vote was made. The speaker added that while he had his differences in this convention he had no sympathy with any display of bitterness.

There was only one man submitted for lieutenant governor—Mayor Edward Schoeneck of Syracuse. He was put in nomination by Ray B. Smith, who is clerk of the assembly at Albany, and for several years chairman of the Onondaga county Republican committee. Mr. Smith praised Mayor Schoeneck highly. Representative William W. Cooks, Colonel Roosevelt's congressman, seconded Mayor Schoeneck's nomination.

Julius M. Mayer of New York put Secretary of State Koenig in nomination.

Judge M. A. Tierney of Rensselaer did a similar service for James Thompson for comptroller. Assemblyman Harrison C. Gore of the 20th district of Kings put Senator John Kissel of the 9th district of Kings also in nomination for comptroller and Assemblyman Edwin A. Merritt, Jr., of St. Lawrence seconded Mr. Kissel's nomination.

Brackett Nominated Thompson. Senator Brackett then spoke up for Mr. Thompson and he was followed by Representative Herbert Parsons who

Republican Nominee for Governor

HENRY L. STIMSON

OSWEGO'S CLAIMS RECOGNIZED

L. W. Mott Unanimous Choice of Three Counties for Congressman.
Lewis County Squares Alleged With Oswego County.

The Republican congressional convention for the counties of Jefferson, Oswego and Lewis was held in Watertown on Monday and the utmost good feeling abounded. Mr. L. W. Mott of Oswego becoming the choice on the first ballot, Oswego with her twelve and Lewis with her six votes standing for Mr. Mott solidly. Jefferson county then moved that Mr. Mott's nomination be made unanimous.

The convention was called to order at 1:30 o'clock by the Hon. P. W. Cullinan of Oswego, chairman of the Congressional committee. The call of the delegates was read by Virgil K. Kellogg, secretary of the committee. Chairman Cullinan announced that the committee had selected the following officers:

Chairman, Francis M. Hugo, Wa-

LUTHER WRIGHT MOTT

tertown; secretaries, W. W. Spencer, Oswego; Harry M. Cox, Lewis.

On motion of H. E. Chickering of Lewis county the temporary organization was made permanent.

Assemblyman T. C. Sweet of Oswego moved that a committee of three be named on resolutions.

The Chair named T. C. Sweet, Oswego; C. E. Putnam, Lewis; D. F. Anderson, Jefferson.

H. Putnam Allen of Oswego moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of a candidate for Member of Congress.

Jefferson and said that in view of the proposed readjustment of the tariff on paper, Mr. Brown, who is familiar with the matter, should be present in Washington to see that the interests of this industry be protected. The speaker then reviewed the record of Mr. Brown as State Senator and commended him highly, declaring him to be fitted in every way for the office of Congressman.

The name of L. W. Mott of Oswego was then placed before the convention in an eloquent speech by the Hon. P. W. Cullinan of Oswego. Mr. Cullinan was received with enthusiastic applause.

Mr. Cullinan paid high tribute to President Taft, Governor Hughes, Congressman Knapp and to Oswego's choice for his successor, Mr. Cullinan, saying in part: Among the leaders of thought in Oswego county who have been identified with primary reform is the candidate that county presents for your favorable consideration, namely, Luther W. Mott.

He was a pioneer in the movement in this State, sustaining Governor Hughes and from the inception of the movement in this State his record has been one of an unflinching purpose to prosecute the good work until victory was assured.

During the long period that Jefferson and Oswego counties have been in the same senatorial district, Oswego County has had the honor of one of her citizens being chosen senator and Jefferson County has had four. Oswego County suffers without a Supreme Court justice, while Jefferson County has two and Lewis one. Citizens of Lewis County have had the honor of being members of Congress from this district for the entire period of its existence except for the portion of one term and Jefferson County held the office for that period.

Oswego County submits for your favorable consideration the name of Luther W. Mott. After an arduous campaign, the people of Oswego County almost unanimously by a vote in convention of 215 to 15 for his adversary, endorsed his candidacy. Recognized as an enthusiastic supporter of the policies of Taft, Hughes and Roosevelt, with a cultured mind, nurtured in one of the great universities of our country—Harvard—of high character, unblemished reputation, having achieved unusual distinction in business life, he is unusually qualified for the high office for which he is a candidate.

I appeal to you as men believing in a square deal to award to Oswego County the honor of a nomination at your hands. I appeal to you as loyal and progressive Republicans to nominate as a candidate a man whose course when elected will be to sustain the policies of Hughes, Roosevelt and Taft. Let your step be forward and not backward; let this grand congressional district be in the fore front of the new phase of our national life, and then your work here will have been well done.

BAND CONCERTS

Citizen's Band to Give Entertainment—Should Receive Liberal Support

The Citizens Band, in keeping with its plans for the winter, will give one of its semi-monthly concerts and promenades in Churches' Hall on Friday evening of this week, October 7, this being an effort to raise funds with which the organization desires to purchase new uniforms, and other paraphernalia necessary to the maintenance of its so far successful career.

A musical organization in the form of a band is one of the most difficult to maintain by reason of the fact that each year it must provide itself with an almost new library of music, as well as maintain repairs to instruments and occasionally purchase new ones, together with the rental of a proper room for rehearsals, etc. Without an appropriation for concerts from the municipality the revenue of the organization is extremely small, for while the organization plays many times during the summer months yet it is always subject to loss of time on the part of its members from their regular employment and the funds must of necessity go to the individuals to make good their loss, instead of into the treasury.

It has now been a matter of four years since the Citizens Band has enjoyed one dollar of assistance from the city, and the organization finds itself in need of new uniforms, etc., and have determined that rather than wait for assistance from the outside they will set about raising the necessary funds to accomplish their desires.

It is proposed to hold these concerts and promenades twice each month, on the first and third Friday evenings. The band will open each event with a short concert for which no admission will be charged, after which waltzes and two-steps, with an occasional Belvedere, Buffalo glide, and perhaps a quadrille and lancers will be played; the program lasting until 1 o'clock, with no intermission.

The price per couple will be fifty cents, and extra ladies fifteen cents. Proper conduct and decorum will be one of the essentials of the affair, and it is hoped that our townspeople who enjoy music, particularly the young people, may patronize these parties liberally, thus deriving an evening's pleasure for themselves, as well as enabling an organization of which every citizen is proud, to accomplish a worthy object.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Mr. Herbert Fiske, a farmer residing near Ingalls Crossing was painfully burned about the face and head on Saturday by the explosion of some time which he was slacking in a barrel. When he removed the cover to the barrel there was a terrific explosion and Mr. Fiske was drenched with the scalding liquid. At first it was thought that both eyes were destroyed but Dr. Simpson is hopeful that one may be saved.

DEATH ATTENDS RACES

The reasons for the selection of more seriously injured in the Vanderbilt cup race at Mineola, L. I., last week. As a result of this condition the mad races may be prohibited by the Board of Supervisors of the county. Insufficient police protection is alleged to have been the cause for the many accidents in which lives and limbs were sacrificed.

To use an eloquent baseball term, Mr. Ballinger does not evidently approve of the sacrifice hit.

NEW SAVINGS BANK BUILDING

Will Be of Novel Design—
Interior to be Finished in a Soft Grayish Green Effect.

The design which has been accepted for the new home of the Fulton Savings Bank promises something unusual in bank architecture. While it is designed primarily as an individual bank building, and will have the general appearance of one, an office floor has been provided.

The exterior of the building will be of brick, with wide raked out joints and laid up in rustications to the underside of a richly designed entablature.

The pylons on either side of the entrance terminate in a handsome cornice, from which springs a rather flat pediment. The entablature with its frieze of triglyphs and discs, and its cornice with modillions returns on either side, and at the rear the treatment of the front is recalled. The whole will be crowned with a handsome balustrade or cresting, which, together with the roof will be of metal, the latter being accented with ribs and small ventilating dormers.

The front entrance which will be a dignified feature of the building is designed along classical lines, with bold columns and cornice, upon which a bronze inscription is to be placed.

A spacious vestibule will give easy access to the stairs leading to the offices above, and to the banking room.

On entering the latter one will be at once charmed with the general quiet and restful tones which will greet the eye: the predominating color being a soft grayish green. This together with the counter screen, which is to be quartered oak with a base of verd antique marble, will form a combination of color perfect in harmony.

The floor of the public space is of marble terrazzo with a mosaic border. The counter screen is so planned as to be of the greatest possible convenience to customers, and at the same time to those whose duties require their presence behind the screen.

The treasurer's office while being more or less secluded, is in such a position as to have at all time control of both the public space and the working space. The president's private office is also on this floor.

An important and interesting factor is the vault work; the walls being constructed of concrete with five ply laminated steel bars embedded in same. The door to the vault is an innovation in itself, being different from any thing of the kind in this part of the State.

The director's room is placed on the office floor and will be a pleasant room in which to transact business.

The balance of the second story is given up to attorney's offices, and a library with a fire-proof vault, for the storage of important documents.

The building which is being designed, built and equipped under the single contract of Haggson Brothers of New York, promises to be an ornament to the city and to reflect great credit on both the building committee, the designers and the builders. Cross & Cross of New York City are the architects.

The Fall and Winter hats at Young's, noted for its graceful and exclusive designs, are the most beautiful ever exhibited there, at least this was the opinion expressed by the ladies who attended the opening last week. A number have been added this week making a wide range in style and prices.

yet to come; and the beneficence and far-reaching importance of this work done for the whole people measure the credit which is rightly due to the Congress and to our able upright, and distinguished President, William Howard Taft.

Good Work of Governor Hughes.
"Turning from the nation to the state we find that during the term of service of Governor Hughes an extraordinary amount of wise and good legislation in the interest of all the people has been put upon the statute books, and the standard of business integrity and efficiency in the management of the several state departments has been steadily raised. The Legislature has passed, and the Governor has signed, an act establishing the principle of compensation for injuries to working men in extra hazardous occupations, an act which I trust will steadily be widened in its application and in connection with the investigating commission is doing work of extraordinary value; acts requiring sanitary conditions in factories and safeguarding the employees and limiting the hours of employment; acts strengthening the semi-monthly pay law, and providing for the regulation of employment agencies; acts strengthening and extending the provisions of the corrupt practice law;
strengthening the law against race track gambling; providing for the protection of the forests and the creation of Palisades Park; providing for regulating motor traffic; for regulating telegraph and telephone companies for efficiently supervising insurance companies. For these and for many similar laws; and for the executive action which made them effective, more thanks are due to the legislative body and to the unflinching resolution and fidelity to a high standard of duty of Gov. Charles E. Hughes.

"Of course, with a party as long in control of nation and state as ours has been, there have been individual instances of misconduct and corruption.
But there is no need of any other party raising the cry 'ere the rascals out,'

EDWARD R. O'MALLEY.

for we have turned our own rascals out; and wherever, rascality is found to exist in the future, we will be even more prompt to punish any one of our own party adherents than an adherent of another party, because we feel a peculiar responsibility in dealing with the man who not only degrades himself and the public service, but discredits our own party by belonging to it. Any man holding a legislative or executive position who is false to his oath of office, who is guilty of misfeasance or malfeasance, who holds to be a traitor to the whole people;
and we have not permitted and will not permit any such man to remain in office where it is in our power to remove him.

War Against Dishonesty.
"Our first duty is to war against dishonesty. We war against it in public life, and we war against it in business life. Corruption in every form is the arch enemy of this republic, and even more dangerous enemy than the open lawlessness of violence, because it works in hidden and furtive fashion.
We are against corruption in politics;
we are against corruption in business;
and above all, and with all our strength, we are against the degrading alliance of crooked business and crooked politics, the alliance which adds strength to the already powerful corrupt boss and to the already powerful corrupt head of a big business.
"Let no man say that this is an assault upon the honest business man.
That is as foolish as to say that it is an assault upon the upright political leader. The extent of our reverence for the great name of Abraham Lincoln, a true servant of the people, measures also the extent of our abhorrence for the crooked boss who misleads and also misgoverns and corrupts the people; and so the high regard in which we hold the upright and honest business man who reaps a great reward by rendering a great service to the community is the measure of our contempt and abhorrence for that business man, big or little, who wins success by cor-toga Convention.

ruption and fraud, who swindles the public instead of serving the public.
"In short, our attitude is merely that we stand for honesty as well as for progressiveness and for efficiency; that we believe both business man and politician should be just and upright and honest as well as wise, courageous and farsighted. We are against crookedness in the small man, but we are against it just as strongly in the big man. We judge each man by his conduct, and not by his wealth or his social standing.

"The corporation must be protected must be given its rights, but it must be prevented from doing wrong; and its managers must be held in strict accountability when it does wrong; and it must be deprived of all secret influence in our public life.

"We must strive to do away with the social and economic injustice that has come from failing to meet by proper legislation the changed conditions brought about by the gigantic growth of our business industrialism.
"We of this state must make it our business to help the country districts, to shape matters so as to encourage the growth of the farming communities, and to help give the people in those communities the advantages which have come in disproportionate measure to the city rather than to the country during the industrial growth of the last 50 years. We must guard the interests of the wage-worker, the man who works with his hands; we must safeguard the woman who toils and see that the young children do not

"We must see that, by far reaching legislation, the workman who is crippled and the family of the workman who is killed in industry are compensated, so that the loss necessarily incurred to certain industries shall be equitably and fairly distributed instead of being placed upon the shoulders of those not able to bear them. We must make it a matter of obligation by the state to see that the conditions under which workmen and women do their work shall be safe and healthful. So far as by legislation it is possible, we must strive to give to the workmen the power to achieve and maintain a high standard of living. Finally, and as a matter of course, we must do everything possible to promote and conserve the business prosperity of the whole nation.

To Set the Party Standard.
"We who come together to set the standard of our party have a grave responsibility to that party and to the public. Democracy means nothing unless the people rule. The rule of the boss is the negation of Democracy. It is absolutely essential that the people should exercise self-control and self-mastery, and he is a foe to popular government who in any way causes them to lose self-control and self-mastery, whether from without or within. But it must be literally self-control, and not control by outsiders.

"We should at once introduce in this state the system of direct nominations in the primaries, so that the people shall be able themselves to decide who the candidates shall be, instead of being limited merely to choosing between candidates with whose nomination they have had nothing to do.

"Our country offers the most wonderful example of democratic government on a giant scale that the world has ever seen; and the people of the world are watching to see whether we succeed or fail. We believe with all our hearts in democracy; in the capacity of the people to govern themselves; and we are bound to succeed, for our success means not only our own triumph but the triumph of the cause of the rights of the people throughout the world and the uplifting of the banner of hope for all the nations of mankind.

THE PLATFORM

Adopted at Saratoga by the Republican State Convention:

This is the platform, adopted by the committee on resolutions for presentation to the convention:

"The Republicans of the State of New York, in convention represented, resolve as follows:

"We declare relentless warfare upon official and legislative wrongdoing in this state. A Republican Legislature ordered an immediate and searching inquiry into all corrupt practices, and this inquiry is now going forward vigorously.
We pledge its continuance, with additional authority if required, until all such wrongdoing capable of exposure shall have been brought to light, to the end that the guilty shall be punished and the innocent relieved of unjust suspicion.

"Dishonesty in public service is, next to treason, the most flagrant of crimes.
In ridding our institutions of this cancer, we know no party distinction.
The crimes which have been committed have involved members of both parties, and the fact that some of the wrongdoers have masqueraded under the name of Republicans neither has gained nor shall gain them immunity from punishment by Republicans.

"Not only have they wronged the people, but they have betrayed themselves the worst enemies of the party. The crook and grafter and unfaithful man in public service shall be put out and kept out.

Indorse President Taft.

"We enthusiastically indorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft, and declare our pride in the achievements of his first eighteen months as President of the United States. Each succeeding month shows his inauguration has confirmed the action in its high estimate of his greatness of character, intellectual ability, sturdy common sense, extraordinary patience and perseverance, broad and statesmanlike comprehension of public questions and unflinching and unswerving adherence to duty.

"He has strengthened our prestige with foreign nations and treated with vigor and wisdom important internal problems, notably our tariff relations with Germany, France and Canada.

"Under his administration the prosecution of those implicated in the sugar and other customs frauds have been continued and convictions obtained; there have been impartial and energetic enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust act; a substantial reduction of government expenses; the establishment of better business methods, which will result in greater efficiency and real economy; remarkable progress in the construction of the Panama Canal, and the withdrawal from private entry of over 1,000,000 acres of the public domain to preserve for public benefit valuable coal and other mineral deposits, timber land and water-power sites.

"On his recommendation Congress has provided for a commission to investigate and report on the regulation of the issuance of stocks and bonds by public-service corporations engaged in interstate commerce. He has advocated a new system of appropriations for river and harbor improvements, under which each item, after investigation by experts, shall be approved and carried to completion as a separate measure. This recommendation we heartily endorse.

"The Payne tariff law reduces the average rate of all duties eleven per cent. By increasing the duties on some luxuries and articles not of ordinary use, making, however, no increase on any common food product, it turned a national deficit into a surplus. Under its first year of operation the value of imports free of duty was the greatest in our history by $705,000,000, and the average rate of duty was less than under the Wilson law.

"Unlike that Democratic law, its great reductions of duty have not stopped industry nor deprived labor of any part of its hire. It gives free trade with the Philippine Islands and it establishes a quarantine court. Its maximum and minimum rates give us for the first time equality of opportunity with other nations in our foreign trade.

Republican Congress a Necessity.

"In providing upon the suggestion of President Taft, for a tariff board, it affords the means of still more accurately determining the difference, in cost of production at home and abroad. A Republican Congress is necessary to provide needed appropriations for this board and to assure business and labor that changes in rates will be made only to equalize the difference in cost of production and not to reduce rates to the free trade or purely revenue basis favored by the Democratic party.

"To avoid disturbance of business we urge the adoption by Congress of the joint rule of the two houses recommended by the President and leaders in Congress, by which the two houses could consider a single schedule or a single paragraph of the tariff without the necessity for amendment which would lead to a general revision. Advances in the cost of living are only the local reflection of a tendency that is world-wide and cannot be truthfully said to be due to the present tariff.

"The Congress has responded to recommendations of the President by enacting measures of far-reaching importance to the people, including valuable amendments to the interstate commerce law, a postal savings bank law, a law providing for the publicity of campaign expenses, the creation of a bureau of mines, with a view to the better protection of mine-workers, laws extending the regulation of safety appliances and the law providing a method by which the surface of coal lands and other mineral lands is made available for agricultural use, while conserving the minerals under the surface for the public benefit.
The right of the President to withdraw public lands for conservation purposes has been set at rest by legislation, and the completion of irrigation projects is assured by the authorization of $20,000,- 000 of bonds.

Tribute to Governor Hughes.

"The test of civilization is an orderly and efficient government, one of the essentials of which is a judiciary of upright, able, industrious, courageous men promptly administering the law to rich and poor alike without fear or favor and protecting the individual in his rights and liberties against the injustice of the mob as well as against the greed of the powerful. We count it fortunate that the President has secured as a member of our highest tribunal a man with the great intellectual power and the splendid legal attainments of Charles E.
Hughes.

"We congratulate the people on the notable progress of the state under the four-year administration of Governor Hughes, which has been conspicuous for the highest standards of efficiency. He has appealed to the conscience and intelligence of the people and championed legislation demanded by the moral sense of the community.

"Through his wise recommendation and efficient action of a Republican Legislature all public-service corporations in the State of New York have been successfully taken out of politics by being placed under commissions of high character; laws have been passed extending the corrupt practice act to primaries, for a more scientific method of making up the state budget, providing for the licensing and regulation of motor vehicle traffic, strengthening the provisions against race-track gambling, for better protection against forest fires and making the insurance and banking laws more effective.

"The increase in the cost of administering the state reflects the higher stand of care of the infirm, the insane and the dependent; the extension and increased efficiency of the public-school system; the fastenings for the large-capital sinking fund, and the systematic building and maintenance of state highways.

Labor Bills Enacted.

"The record of Republican legislation during the last eighteen years conserving the public interest by improving the condition of labor is unequalled in our history. One hundred and sixty such enactments were written in our statutes, covering the whole range of labor interests in the workshops, factories, mines and quarries, and upon all forms of public work.

"We are proud to record that New York has been the first American state to provide by law for the compulsory compensation of employees sustaining personal injury while following extra-hazardous occupations, and also to legalize voluntary agreements as to compensation between employers and employees in all other occupations.

"We commend the law of last winter which requires that all accidents in building, construction and engineering work be reported to the commissioner of labor. We commend the creator in the department of the bureau of industries and immigration.

"We believe that capital, honestly employed, should be permitted to feel that sense of security essential to stimulate its legitimate investment, and thus safeguard the prosperity which has been so well established under Republican administration.

"We believe that the encouragement of agriculture and the betterment of country life are vital to the future of the state. Great areas of productive land now idle should be brought under cultivation. Knowledge of modern farming methods should be widely disseminated throughout the state. Under Republican legislators large sums have been appropriated for the extension of facilities for agricultural education, for preventing the spread of diseases of animals, and for the eradication of pests.

Increase Number of Farm Owners.
"We pledge ourselves to the continuance of this vital work and to the support of all practical methods for increasing the number of farm-owners and furthering their interests. We believe that an important aid to the agricultural interests of the state is the New York State Fair and in a continuance of the policy which is making this exhibition a means of education for the farmers and productive of the greatest good.

"In the interest of the growth and prosperity of the state we urge the adoption of the joint rule of the two houses recommended by the President and leaders in Congress, by which the two houses could consider a single schedule or a single paragraph of the tariff without the necessity for amendment which would lead to a general revision. Advances in the cost of living are only the local reflection of a tendency that is world-wide and cannot be truthfully said to be due to the present tariff.

SIZE OF THE FALEY SEMINARY LOT

There has been some question in the minds of the citizens of Fulton as to the size of the Faley Seminary lot being sufficient for all the purposes of a modern, up-to-date high school. A fair question surely and hence worthy of serious consideration. The Board of Education have had the lot surveyed and it shows that the ground amounts to almost two acres, with a frontage on Fourth street of two hundred six feet. It has been the earnest desire of the school authorities for years to have a play ground for the children where they could have a chance to engage in all kinds of athletics and do so under the supervision of some one of the school authorities. Time after time the matter has come up and the necessity of the case impressed on the minds of the Board of Education particularly by those living on the Park, as the things that have been said and done by the boys playing there with no one to say yes or no have sometimes been "everything but pleasant."

The Seminary property would give all the room we will ever require for athletic purposes and under ideal conditions as your boy and mine will be under the supervision of an instructor at all times. Boys will play and they should and it seems fair that the conditions under which they develop their physical make up should be looked after with choice of teachers and this proper the same care as is shown in the solution of a problem that has caused the Board of Education no little anxiety.

MRS. SANKEY'S WILL

New York, Sept. 29.—The will of Frances V. Sankey, widow of Ira D. Sankey, the famous evangelist, just filed here, disposes of an estate valued at about $70,000. It expressly provides that none of the property shall go to her sons, John E. Sankey and Ira A. Sankey, stating that they have already received more than their share of their father's estate.

Her grandchildren, Grace and Ira A. Sankey, Jr., are remembered and several friends and charitable institutions will receive bequests.

POLITICAL

Albany Evening Journal.
Mr. Roosevelt's will, his platform and his candidates become those of the Republican party of this State, since there can be no deviation from the cardinal principle of party organization, that the majority rules. It is to be expected, therefore, that the Republicans of this State will unanimously take that view and give their united support to the ticket nominated at Saratoga, and exert energetic effort for its election, confident that in the course of time, which gives opportunity for calm reflection, the fundamental principles of the Republican party will reassert themselves.

Syracuse Herald.
The State ticket, if not superlatively strong, may fairly be called clean and respectable and even attractive. The nominee for Governor, Henry L. Stimson, of New York city, is in the early prime of life—he has just passed his forty-third birthday—man of excellent character and honorable reputation, a lawyer, who has achieved a fine record as United States District attorney for the Southern district of the State. His services as prosecuting officer in various Federal actions against the Sugar Trust and other lawbreakers, individual and corporate, have marked him as a man of courage, ability and loyalty to the public interests.

ADVICE TO THE DEMOCRACY

The New York American.
The Republican party in New York invites you to vote for Henry L. Stimson for governor.

He went after James Gordon Bennett, who devoted to action the hours usually devoted to talk by men in public life.

He went after Morse, the Ice Trust man—Morse is now in jail—Stimson put him there.

He went after the New York Central Railroad when W. R. Hearst had filed complaints against that road for rebating. He prosecuted the Hearst complaint to a successful finish—the New York Central paid a hundred and forty odd thousand dollars in fines.

Bennett, prosecuted against that individual complaint prepared by the Hearst newspapers. He compelled Bennett to come to America and plead guilty to the publishing in his New York Herald of an indecent personal column. Bennett besides pleading guilty, paid about forty thousand dollars in fines.

Stimson prosecuted the weighing thieves of the Sugar Trust, put some of them in jail, showed that not only little men, but the biggest men, were guilty of cheating, got back more than two millions of dollars for the United States.

He is the kind of a man that gets what and whom he attacks. If the Democrats want to beat Stimson they must select some man that stands for something.

NO AWARD MADE

The State Court of Claims has just passed upon the Ontario Knitting company's case of Oswego where a claim against the State was made for $1,019,051. It was a claim that the State Engineer tried to appropriate a large knitting mill on the Oswego river in Oswego for barge canal purposes and the question of his authority to do so, was raised by the Attorney-General. The case originated during the former administration.

The Court of Claims holds that there was no necessity for the appropriation of the mill and that under the constitution and State law no appropriation could be made for the property if it were not necessary for public uses.

THE FAT GODDESS

A Picture That Jested the Nerves of a French Art Patron.

M. Durand, a French picture buyer of a century ago, had little wisdom as a critic, and his ambition compounded equally of childlike vanity and genuine benevolence, was to figure as a patron of youthful genius.

One of the earliest commissions he bestowed was upon a young artist who selected for his subject a scene of classic mythology, in which the assembled gods were depicted upon Mount Olympus. When it was finished M. Durand was invited to the studio to inspect it. His face clouded as he gazed.

"Young man," he declared, "you have not treated me fairly. It is true I do not pretend to know everything about art, but I am not a fool, and I know that gods and goddesses should be no less noble than kings and queens. These people of yours are not even aristocrats. Madame, my wife, does not pretend to be a fine lady, yet when I put my two hands around her waist it is by an inch only that they fail to meet, and as for Juliette, my daughter, she is as slender as a needle. Look now at that big, clumsy woman in a loose gown who you say is queen among the gods! She has no figure at all. She is all the way down the same. Pout! Call her a lady and a goddess—she who is without stays and without waist! Mine and Mlle. Durand would make a mock of her, your Juno! Pout! She is a peasant, a pillow, a pig!"

Nevertheless he was convinced by justly careful explanations that the wisp waist was unknown in classic antiquity, even to goddesses. It was with proud complacency that he finally accepted the picture and the knowledge that the sovereign lady of Mount Olympus had never attained the heroic compression achieved by Mme. and Mlle. Durand.

A GEOLOGIC PHENOMENON.

Raised Beaches and Caves of the Island of Arran.

The island of Arran is one of those pieces on the west of Scotland where the geologic phenomenon known as a "raised beach" is very apparent. All along the coast there are evidences that the land has been considerably elevated at some period of the world's history. One of these proofs is the presence of caves of various sizes formed by the action of the waves in the past, but which are now well above the present high water mark. The farmers use some of the larger caves as shelters for sheep in stormy weather.

In a remote corner of the island one of these caves has been converted into a human habitation, where a family of several persons dwell in absolute seclusion. Their occupation is the gathering of whelks, an employment which is said to afford, but a precarious livelihood. As the gathering of the shellfish can only be done at low water and as the fishers have no boat or other occupation, they have ample leisure to enjoy the pure air and bask in the sunshine.

Except for the drip from the face of the high rocks above, which is slightly dried, the cave is absolutely dry. The interior is shaped like a triangle, the floor forming the base. Save at the sides there is ample room to stand upright and move about inside. Besides the beds and cooking utensils, the cave contains many articles of various kinds, giving the interior quite a homelike appearance. The apology for a fireplace is some way back from the entrance, through which the smoke finds its way outside.—Wide World Magazine.

Obituary Gains.

When John Sherman of New Haven, preacher, mathematician, almanac maker and father of twenty-six children, heard of the death of his good friend, Jonathan Mitchell, a Harvard pastor, he exclaimed after due thought and many poetic pangs:

Here lies the darling of his time,
Mitchell expired in his prime.
Five four years even near lived have I,
Was found full ripe and plucked for heaven.

When Thomas Dudley, father of the first American poetess, Anne Bradstreet, came to his deathbed, says the South Atlantic Quarterly, he showed where his daughter had received her surprising gift by composing such farewell lines as:

Dim eyes, deaf ears, cold stomach shew
My dissolution is in view.
Ere two times seven near lived have I,
And now God calls my living die.

Get It Exact.
"Why is it that the butcher always sends me more meat than I order, never by any chance less?" complained a young housekeeper to her husband.

"Let me give him an order," said he, and, stepping to the telephone, he called up the market.

"Send me two pounds of porterhouse," he ordered, "and, say, if you can't cut two pounds make it a pound and a half."

He got the two pounds by the next delivery.—New York Sun.

A Fearsome Order.
She—Dear me, I hope the man at the next table is not a fighter, but his order sounds like it: He—What was it? She—He told the waiter to bring him a club sandwich and something to drink with a stick in it.—Baltimore American.

True.
An Irishman on applying for relief and being told to work for a living replied, "If I had all the work in the world I couldn't do it."

Chance generally favors the prudent.—Joubert.

MURPHY, HIS CONVENTION

Tammany Hall, in the guise of Murphy, ruled from start to finish the Democratic State convention held in Rochester last week and Tammany will ruin from start to finish all hope of Democratic victory at the polls in November. This was regarded by jealous partisans as Democracy's opportunity, but as usual, private considerations overrope party weal and Tammany again ruled and wrecked.

Toward Mayor Gaynor of New York city the party looked with a reasonable assurance that he would accept, and all conceded that he was the strongest man in the State party. After his declaration Congressman Haven of Rochester was the second best choice. He did not receive even honorable mention from Murphy, John A. Dix of Washington county having been his personal choice all the time for the high office. Mr. Dix has two claims upon the electorate of the Empire State;
he has been thrice defeated for State office and a relative of his once said, "shoot at sight any man who tears down the American flag." If the present Democratic nominee for governor had issued the patriotic order it would have proven that he might possess back bone enough to rise above his friends, but the people today do not care what a man's ancestors were, or did. They ask what the man himself has achieved. From the history of Mr. Dix we learn that his achievement has been the securing of the Democratic nomination for governor from Charles F. Murphy, thus splitting farther in twain his badly disrupted and unhappy party in the State.

REPUBLICAN STATE NOMINEES

The reasons for the selection of the Republican nominees for State officers over those submitted by the Democratic State Convention held last week at Rochester, are many fold, and should appeal to the intelligence of the average elector.
Henry L. Stimson, the leader of the now historic Progressive campaign, conforms to all that might be desired in one who is better qualified by his record and experience to end the relations between corrupt business interests and corrupt politicians, to punish the "big crooks," then the Democratic nominee for the same office. Such an example as he has set forth should inspire confidence among the voters.

Of Mr. Stimson's associates on the ticket three, Samuel S. Koenig, the candidate for Secretary of State; Edwin R. O'Malley, of Buffalo, the candidate for Attorney General, and Frank M. Williams, of Oneida, the candidate for State Engineer and Surveyor, are renominated. All three have been useful officials and deserve re-election. Edward Schoeneck, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, is a new name in state politics. He is Mayor of Syracuse, having been elected last year. James Thompson, the candidate for Comptroller, is a prominent business man of Renessela County. Thomas F. Pennell, of Elmira, the candidate for State Treasurer, is at present First Deputy Secretary of State.

The nomination of Mr. L. W.
Mott for congressman from this district is a signal triumph for decent politics and clean men. Mr.
Mott stands for all that is highest and best in political, civic, social and private life and the selecting of such an one by the electors for political performance is a credit to the party. Mr. Mott's predecessor, Hon.
Charles L. Knapp, was also an exponent of all these desirable things and he was held in the highest esteem by his co-laborers in Washington. Mr. Mott, if elected, will be an inspiration to the young men in this district and he will be a satisfaction to the older electors. He has achieved much in his life of success in the business world, and in his home city his judgment is constantly appealed to. He has ambition to make very good for his district in Washington and that he will prove an able, painstaking, enthusiastic representative no one doubts. His election was made unanimously by the three counties comprising this district and his election is a foregone conclusion, however many independent tickets may be placed in the field by envious politicians. Mr.
Mott's election means advancement of the Hughes-Roosevelt policies; his defeat means a set back to all that is worth striving for in political life.
It is worth striving for with the young fellows—the popular with the young fellows—the first voters—and he can depend on the "old guard" who express themselves as satisfied with the ticket from start to finish.

colds, croup and influenza. Try it ful substance and always gives

At present national statesmanship is likely to have a little time for either golf or tennis.

CHANGES ON LACKAWANNA

On account of ill health, Mr. G.
F. Wilson, who for the past six years has been Purchasing Agent for the Lackawanna Railroad has resigned, effective Oct. 1. Since his connection with the Lackawanna he has demonstrated his ability to the entire satisfaction of his company and is recognized as being one of the best purchasing agents in the country.

FALLEY SEMINARY PROPERTY

By Resolution of the Common Council to be Voted on at the General Election, November 8th.

The Common Council at its meeting last evening took up the question of submitting to vote to the tax payers of Fulton the proposition of purchasing the Falley Seminary property at $16,000. As a result of this meeting the question will go before the people at the general election to be held on November 8.

The contemplated purchase of this property for school purposes has been under consideration for many years but not until September 19, of this year was any definite action taken. On the evening of that date, the Board of Education, by a unanimous vote, passed the following:

Resolved, That it is necessary to purchase site for school and athletic purposes; that the ward within which said site is to be purchased is the Fourth Ward of the City of Fulton and said site is known as the Falley Seminary Property; that the particular sum required for the same is sixteen thousand ($16,000) dollars.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Board be and he is hereby authorized and directed to deliver a certified copy of the foregoing resolution to the Common Council.

On September 26th, the matter was discussed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and that body endorsed the action of the Board of Education.

The following is the action taken by the Common Council last evening.

Resolved, That a special election of the qualified electors of said city to vote for or against such appropriation as the proposed expenditure will impose, be and the same is hereby called to be held on the eighth day of November, 1910, in connection with and at the same places in said city as the general election to be held on that day.

That the following proposition be submitted to such special election:

Shall the sum of Sixteen Thousand ($16,000) Dollars be appropriated and raised by taxation in sixteen annual installments with interest, and the Common Council authorized to issue bonds of the city therefor, for the purpose of paying for a site for school and athletic purposes?

The ward within which said site is to be purchased is the Fourth Ward of the City of Fulton and said site is known as the Falley Seminary Property.

If the people vote to purchase the property, the question of a site for a future high school building will be settled as the location is the best for such a building and an abundance of land will be left for a playground and athletic field for the pupils in the public schools, thus doing away with the present necessity of using the public park for such purposes.

All familiar with the present condition of the high school can readily see the necessity of making provision for the future. The present building used for high school purposes was designed to accommodate 141 pupils—the high school assembly room having seats for that number. There are now in actual attendance 296 high school pupils and five rooms designed and arranged for grade rooms used in addition to the assembly room furnish very unsatisfactory facilities for high school work. The demand for a modern high school building for Fulton is one which will have to be met before many years if Fulton continues to grow. It is wise to take advantage of the opportunity to purchase this property which is most desirable for the purpose. It is particularly advantageous in this case as the income from the property at the present time is sufficient to pay the interest on the investment.

MR. KANDT CONFIDENT

Mr. Herman W. Kandt, Republican nominee for county treasurer, was calling upon Fulton friends on Saturday and made The Times a call.
Mr. Kandt has been touring the county in the interests of his campaign and he feels confident of the election of the entire Republican ticket and that old Oswego county will roll up a tremendous majority for the ticket this Fall.

One feature of Mr. Kandt's campaign especially pleasing to those who are anxious for his election to the office to which he was nominated, is the number of men openly working for his election who were earnestly laboring for the election of the present incumbent of the office and
Mr. Kandt's opponent, Mr. Fred M.
Moore, during the campaign three years ago. Ex-County Treasurer Thomas Moore is one of those who is laboring with all energy for Mr.
Kandt and his desire in the matter is having great weight with the veterans throughout the county. Dozens of others might be named who are doing strenuous work in Mr. Kandt's

TO DELINQUENT TAX PAYERS

The City Chamberlain has no alternative, according to the provisions of the charter, other than to sell the property of delinquent taxpayers who have not settled with the city on or before October 15, 1910. Section 253 of the charter says:

Sale of land for unpaid taxes.—
Whenever any such tax, penalty or interest, or any part of either of them, shall remain unpaid on the fifteenth day of October, the chamberlain shall proceed to advertise and sell the lands upon which the same was imposed, for the payment of such tax, penalty and interest, or the part remaining unpaid, and the expense of such sale, as hereinafter prescribed, shall also be a charge upon such lands.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED

Prompt action on the part of Mr.
C. Earl Foster averted what might have been a serious accident at the east end of the lower canal bridge on Monday morning. As it was the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Matthew Hayes was run over by Mr.
Foster's six cylinder car, and to a vast as far as possible the contact Mr. Foster swung his car so far from the roadway as to break down a six inch iron pipe standing at the corner of the bridge and bent the railing to the bridge badly, bystanders expecting to see him go through the bridge and into the river.

The Hayes boy was riding a bicycle and closely following a truck loaded with stone. As Foster swung around the curve the boy left the shelter of the wagon, on the wrong side, and before Mr. Foster could bring his car to a stop the accident occurred. The boy was taken to Dr. F. E. Fox's office where slight bruises about the hands and face appeared to be all the damage sustained. Mr. Foster's car was slightly damaged.

SHERMAN URGES SUPPORT OF REPUBLICAN TICKET

Utica, Oct. 1. — Vice President
Sherman was the principal speaker at a ratification meeting here to night under direction of the Republican Club. Regarding the Saratoga convention he said:

"There was one little incident quite early in the convention which I would have changed if I had had the power, but that was all. I would not have changed anything else."

Continuing he characterized the platform as "ringing true to decency, honesty and progress and to all the history of the Republican party."

Mr. Sherman stated his regret that there was a declaration in favor of doing away with state conventions, declaring they are necessary to arouse interest in the matters at stake.

Mr. Sherman paid a compliment to Senator Root, President Taft and Governor Hughes but made no reference to Colonel Roosevelt except by saying in closing a unit of action for support of the Republican ticket.

MARRIED

On Wednesday afternoon at Zion Episcopal church, the Rev. C. G.
Wadsworth officiating, occurred the marriage of Miss Mabel North and City Engineer George W. Hackett, who recently moved to this city from Utica. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George North, in Beech street, which was attended by the relatives and a few of the intimate friends of the young couple.

JUDGE FRANK H. HISCOCK RE-NOMINATED

Judge Frank H. Hiscock, now serv-

the Court of Appeals, was renominated as Supreme Court Justice for the term of fourteen years by the Republican Fifth Judicial convention at the Court House in Syracuse on Tuesday afternoon.

The convention was interesting in that the delegates from the six counties vied with each other in pay-nation, and seconding speeches were made by Fred G. Fincke of Oneida county, Senator G. H. Cobb of Jefferson county, Henry D. Coville of Oswego county, Orleigh D. Richardson of Herkimer county and Jay A.

Pease of Lewis county.

The nomination was made unanimously and by acclamation, after which ex-United States Senator Frank Hiscock, uncle of Judge Hiscock, was given the privilege of the floor, and he thanked the delegates for conferring such honor upon a man whom he said was as dear as a son. Judge Hiscock was unable to be present because of his attendance at the session of the Court of Appeals at Albany.

Oswego County delegates were Attorneys Henry D. Coville, Udelle
Bartlett, Irving G. Hubbs, David P.
Morehouse, Henry R. Coville, G. M.
Fanning, Harry M. Stacey, William M.

BLUFFED AND WON

A Dramatic Incident of the Fateful Hundred Days.

ONE OF NAPOLEON'S COUPS.

The Way of the Great Military Genius Overcame the First Opposition He Encountered on the March to Paris After His Return From Elba.

A striking incident in the career of Napoleon is described by Camille Coulaud in his book, "Le Retour de l'île d'Elbe" ("The Return From the Island of Elba"). It describes how he met the first opposition offered to his march to Paris after his escape from Elba.

"Meanwhile Napoleon had traveled by the Alps to Dauphine, advancing into the interior of the country. Having received information on Sunday, the 4th of March, the prefect of the district immediately, in concert with the military authority, taken measures to deal with the startling situation. A detachment composed of a battalion of the Fifth regiment of the line and two companies of engineers was dispatched to prevent the further advance of the emperor.

"The meeting between this detachment and the little troop from the island of Elba took place on the 7th of March near Vizille, but not before the peasants had had time to hasten to inform Napoleon of the antagonistic disposition of the officers commanding the troops which had been sent from Grenoble. In order to avoid the shedding of blood the emperor ordered Cambronne, who was accompanied by a small escort, to enter into treaty with the corades blanches (white cockades). Cambronne found the detachment ranged in order of battle. The commanding officer refused to enter into communication, and the soldiers remained silent and gloomy.

"Napoleon immediately took his share in the proceedings. He gave the order to his grenadiers to put their rifles under their arms, in order to give proof of their pacific dispositions. Then he advanced alone, while some of his friends cried to the soldiers of the line:

"Friends, do not fire! There is the emperor, who wishes to speak to you."

"Napoleon now found himself about thirty meters from the Grenoble detachment. He dismounted and, his arms crossed on his breast, remained standing in the middle of the road.

"Soldiers of the Fifth, do you recognize me?"

"Yes, yes!" they all replied.

"Then Napoleon, throwing open his gray cloak with a dramatic gesture and pointing to his breast with his hands, replied:

"If there is one among you who wishes to kill his general, his emperor, he can do it. Here I am!"

"The response was unanimous, sublime: 'Long live the emperor! Long live the emperor!'

"Breaking the ranks, their shako at the ends of the swords or on the bayonets, the soldiers of the Fifth, to whom were joined the engineers, ran toward Napoleon, surrounded him, embraced him, kissed his hands, called him their president, their father, their general, their emperor. Finally the two detachments mingled together and became consolidated. Napoleon then had 2,000 men with whom to march on to Grenoble.

"They took the road, and it was a triumphal march. The people of the district came to meet the column, acclaiming Napoleon as the liberator of the nation and as the living incarnation of the revolution.

"The peasants wept with joy. At this sight the emperor, turning toward his officers, Brodard and Bertrand, said to them:

"Everything is now in good order. Within ten days we shall be at the Tuilleries!"

Song of the Flame.

Fire can be made to sing. A writer says: "Take a lighted candle and blow gently against the flame. You will hear a peculiar rattling sound. The rattling sound is fire's first attempts at music. Instead of the gusty breath of our lips let us employ the steady blast of a blowpipe. Instead of the pale and flickering light of a candle let us use the bright and ardent glare of a chemist's lamp. When you have a lamp and a blowpipe you can make fire sing in earnest."

An Evident Success.

"So you have a position as stenographer. I hope you will succeed in making yourself indispensable to your employer."

"I think I have, auntie. We are to be married next month."—Pittsburg Post.

Lucky.

"Noah must have felt lucky when he landed after his long sail."

"Yes," replied the New York importer. "Think of a man landing all that cargo without a customs official to say a word!"—Washington Star.

Just What He Wanted.

"Is your return wholesome?"

"No, old chap, it isn't. My wife lost her voice as soon as we moved out here, and—"

"What's the price of the lot next to yours?"—Cleveland Leader.

Concentration is the secret of strength in politics, in war, in trade.—Emerson.

"The Laccoon."

The famous work "The Laccoon" was modeled by the great artist of Rhodes about A. D. 70. It represents the death of the Trojan hero Laccoon, priest of Neptune, and his two sons, as described by Virgil. It was discovered near Rome in 1506 and purchased by Pope Julius II. It is now in the Vatican. "The Laccoon" like "Hamlet," has provoked a world of comment, but all agree that it is one of the masterpieces of artistic expression—New York American.

KILLING THE UMPIRE.

It is an Essential Part of the Great Game of Baseball.

According to baseball law, there are three particularly justifiable motives for doing away with umpires. An umpire may be killed—first, if he sees fit to adhere to the rules and make a decision against the home team at a close point in the game; second, an umpire may be killed if he sends a member of the home team to the bench when the player in question has done absolutely nothing but call the umpire names and attempt to bite his ear off (an umpire has no business to be touchy); third (and this is a perfect defense against the charge of murder), an umpire may be killed if he calls any batter on the home team out on strikes when the player has not even struck at the balls pitched. That the balls go straight over the plate has nothing to do with the case.

There is ample proof at hand to show that killing the umpire is a distinctly American sport. Other countries have tried baseball, but they have not tried killing the umpire. That is probably the reason why they have not waxed enthusiastic over baseball for baseball without umpire killing is like football without girls in the grand stand. It simply can't be done. That foreign countries know nothing about our king of outdoor sports was indicated forcibly when in the fall of 1909 the Detroit team made a trip to Cuba under the management of Outfielder McIntyre. In the entire series of twelve games with the Havana and Almendares nines not one single objection was made by either the Cuban players or the silent Cuban spectators to a decision of the umpires. The Americans did not know what to think of it—until they counted up the gate receipts at the end of the series. Then they realized that in their own country it is the delight in watching the umpire rather than the pleasure in watching the game that draws the tremendous crowds through the turnstiles.—George Jean Nathan in Harper's Weekly.

For Visitors Only.

A young southern woman who moved to Buffalo sent to her mother for a cook who had been brought up in the family. Aunt Venetia's first public trying out was at a luncheon. The first course was to be crabs; hence the necessity of a lecture on poisons and food poisoning. "Now, be sure, Venetia," said the young woman, "see that the crabs are alive and healthy before you put them on the fire."

The day the luncheon came, bringing with it the crabs, which looked all that could be desired as they were brought to table. Planned to one of them was a note from the cook reading:

"Miss Florence—They was all kicking alive except this one. Don't eat it yourself."—Buffalo Express.

MEASURES OF LENGTH.

Light Waves and the Wonderfully Accurate Interferometer.

At the bureau of weights and measures at Sevres, France, the standard meter of metal, which is the standard length of the world, is kept carefully in an underground vault and is inspected only at long intervals. In Great Britain similar care is exercised in guarding the standard yard measurement. As it was possible for these metal standards to be destroyed or damaged in the course of time, it was decided a number of years ago to determine the exact length of the standards in wave lengths of light, which would be a basis of value unalterable and indestructible. For this purpose the instrument known as the interferometer was invented. This instrument represented the highest order of workmanship and the greatest skill of the best opticians of the world. A series of refracting plates were made, the surfaces of which were flat within one-twentieth of a wave length of light, with sides parallel within one second, representing the utmost refinement of optical surfaces ever attempted.

With the interferometer perfected, the attempt was made to make the wave length of some definite light an actual and practical standard of length. For over a year scientists worked to secure this result, and experiments finally showed that there were 1,553,104 1/2 wave lengths of red cadmium light in the French standard meter at 15 degrees centigrade. So great is the accuracy of these experiments that they can be repeated within one part in two millions. So inconceivably small is such a possibility of error that should the material standard of length be damaged or destroyed the standard wave length of light would remain unaltered as a basis from which an exact duplicate of the original standard could be made.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Oswego Times, Sept. 28, 1886:—There was a pleasant musical soiree at the house of S. N. Kenyon, Fulton, on Saturday evening. Edward Charpentier and wife of Paris were present, also several of the leading singers of Fulton. Miss Kate Pond recently from Constantinople, Turkey, gave a very pleasant talk on geology at the parlors of Dr. C. M. Lee in Fulton. She is the daughter of the late H. P. Pond, formerly one of the prominent business men of the village.

Miss Barbara Gilbert on Saturday evening entertained a number of her friends at tea at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Gilbert in Academy street, in observation of her natal anniversary. The dining room was very artistically decorated in the autumn colors and the four course menu was most appetizing. After tea a musical program and dancing filled the evening hours. The invited guests were the Misses Marjorie Fairgrieve, Mary Webb, Emma Crockett, Zulma Allen, Ruth Allen, Gertrude Lake, Sarah Hill, Louise Stranahan, Mary Hunter and Miss Alice Hawkins. The popular hostess was the recipient of many exquisite gifts, although she had endeavored to carefully conceal the fact that the event was an anniversary celebration.

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

The State School of Agriculture at St. Lawrence University began the fourth year of its existence, September 21, 1910, with a registration of 102 students in the two year course.

Every last years freshman who completed the work of the year has returned, a compliment, it seems to me, to the institution, and these students are bringing others with them.

The faculty has been very much strengthened by the addition of Prof. E. P. Walls at the head of the department of economic horticulture, and Dr. A. G. Hall who now has full charge of animal husbandry. The first mentioned is a new creation, while animal husbandry has been given attention; because of lack of live stock, buildings and equipment, the work has been much retarded.

Both of these departments, the last mentioned covering poultry which is provided with an instructor, round out the purely agricultural work of the institution and place us squarely upon our feet. Ground is now broken for more buildings and further equipment is to be provided in the purchase of more live stock and the completion of a bacteriological laboratory.

New students are coming daily and there seems good ground for the belief that at least 50 more names will be added before December 1st.

I feel warranted in saying that the institution is being firmly engrafted upon the country life of Northern New York. While it is the business of the school to train young men and women, it has also a well defined function of molding a new conception of the power of the soil in the minds of those who now own or occupy the farms within the radius of its influence.

The special feature in the student body this year is the attendance of city boys who come ignorant of farm methods and the increase in the percentage of boys who have had High School training.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Drs. H. P. Marsh and E. J. Cusack were called on Thursday evening to the home of Mr. DeForest Bellinger at Mt. Pleasant where the entire family of six persons was violently ill. It did not take the physicians long to discover that arsenic poisoning was the cause for the trouble and relief was administered to the mother, father, grandmother and the three children, who were pronounced out of danger although very weak a few hours later.

It appears that the elder Mrs. Bellinger in preparing hot biscuits for tea had mistaken a can of arsenic for the baking powder and had used a liberal supply of the drug. Her biscuits were not as good as usual but the family ate heartily of them only to be stricken with intense agony while still at the table.

A TRIO FROM FULTON

Two Bad Young Men and a Girl are Involved

(Oswego Palladium)

Grace Moody, sixteen years old, of Fulton, met Walter Carvey and Amos Parker, of that city, on the streets there Monday afternoon and they suggested a trip to Oswego. They went to Minetto on the steam cars and from there took a trolley to Beach Oswego. Then they went out the lake road about two miles and went to sleep in a barn. Yesterday they started back home, but before they left the country, according to Benjamin Place, who lives near Lewis's Bluff, Parker entered his house and got away with a suit of clothes and about $6 in money.

Late yesterday afternoon the police were notified of the case and Officers Mowatt and Longway landed the trio near Minetto. They were brought here and locked up until last night, when Constable Lamb, of Oswego Town, took charge of them. At Police Headquarters the Moody girl made serious charges against Carvey, but did not involve Parker. All she said she knew about the alleged theft was that Parker left them for a time yesterday morning and came back with a new suit of clothes. The Moody girl will probably be sent to Albion on her own confession; Carvey will be charged with rape and Parker with burglary. The Moody girl's mother lives in Minetto, but she has been staying with a sister, Mrs. Rose Cole, of North First street, Fulton.

YOUNG LAW BREAKERS

Albert Levy and James Kane of this city, together with two boys from Oswego were arrested last week on a charge of stealing two watches, some watch chains and $8 in money from the H. Rosenbloom store one Sunday in September. One of the boys engaged Mr. Rosenbloom in discussion over a suit while two others did the stealing, the Levy boy proved that he was not with them when the stealing was done so he was dismissed. The other boys plead guilty to the charge and were fined two of them $10 each and the other $25, besides being committed to the reform school at Indus, the latter sentence being suspended and the boys to report weekly to their police chiefs.

The court imposed fines to the amount of $82 and $69 of this amount was collected.

The Problem of Time

An Advertisement by Elbert Hubbard

TIME has always been a strange and baffling puzzle to philosophers. They could never explain, or account, or trace its beginning and end. While we can calculate the end of worlds and of solar systems, time stretches away illimitable, unfettered and uncontrolled. The principal thing that differentiates man from the animals is his cognizance of time. Animals know when they are hungry, but they never look at the sun or make any sign which shows that they are speculating about time. We divide life up into periods of time, and thus make it endurable. You lend a man money and in a year he pays you back with something additional—or he doesn't. Anyway, he should. Where did the extra money come from? Time produced it. How can time cease? By no leap of mind can one imagine. But all the time that the individual can call his own is while he lives. When will Fate with her scissors clip the thread of time for you? You do not know, and this very uncertainty should make you prize time and work while it is called the day. To limit the shock of your passing, and to ease your affairs over the shallows when your hand and brain can no longer guide them, Life Insurance comes in. Death, for most, comes without warning. By Life Insurance, those dependent upon us are cared for, and the result of our foresight and prudence is the possession of those we love after we are gone. Life Insurance is not a duty; it is more than that—it is a privilege. Life Insurance does not actually insure you against death, but it insures your loved ones against want when you are no longer here. That very fact gives peaceful poise and power to the man who is insured. It makes for length of days. Life Insurance is an extension on time. And being wise, we provide through the Equitable Life against the time when time shall be no longer ours.

also cracked up Mr. Thompson. Kings county stood valiantly by Kissel, giving him 111 votes to 31 for Thompson. The result of the ballot, however, was Thompson, 669; Kissel, 293.

Representative Fassett, nominated Mr. Fennell for state treasurer and Secretary of State Kissel seconded the nomination. Wesley C. Dudley, not Attorney General O'Malley in re-nomination and Representative Vreeland seconded it. Senator Ralph Thomas renominated State Engineer and Surveyor Frank M. Williams, and William Ruben of Onondaga put Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals Vann in re-nomination.

General Stewart L. Woodruff offered the resolution naming Mr. Root, and a committee of nine from the judicial districts of the state to nominate a candidate for associate judge of the court of appeals in the hope that the Democratic-state convention and the Republicans may be able to jointly nominate the same two candidates.

These Republicans here hope that the Democratic state convention at Rochester will nominate Judge Vann and if this is done the special judicial committee appointed will nominate the Democratic candidate for associate judge of the court of appeals to be named at Rochester.

It turns out that State Treasurer Vann had been offered a re-nomination by Colonel Roosevelt's friends but that Mr. Dunn after consultation with George W. Aldridge declined it. It also was learned that Senator Harvey D. Hinman's availability as candidate for lieutenant governor had been shattered by the fact that he had voted at Albany against the 80-cent gas bill.

It was then that Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Hendricks had a talk and while Mr. Hendricks stood by Mr. Sherman as against Colonel Roosevelt for temporary chairman of the convention, he had no desire to continue the bitterness further and least of all had he any intention of personally refusing a request of Colonel Roosevelt in the matter, for it was Colonel Roosevelt as governor of the state who made Mr. Hendricks superintendent of insurance when Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Hendricks were on the very warmest terms.

YOUNG WOMEN FIGHT FLAMES

(Post-Standard, Monday)

Fire which was caused by an overflowing, blazing chafing dish used by two young co-eds in preparing their breakfast in their room at the residence of Attorney Robert Snow at No. 709 Irving avenue, yesterday morning, resulted in the total destruction of the wardrobe of the young women, valued at $500, and several hundred dollars damage to the house and its contents.

The young women were Miss Maria Achilli, daughter of a prominent Fulton business man, and Miss Marian Dickerman of Westfield.

Both girls are students at Syracuse University, and shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning began to prepare a lunch in their room, employing a chafing dish well filled with alcohol. In some manner the fluid became ignited, and instantly the flames set fire to a table on which it stood and several flimsy articles in the room.

The young women were badly frightened and excited and Miss Achilli grabbed the burning dish, and holding it from her ran across the room into an adjoining bathroom.

The fiery alcohol, dripping as the young women hurried from the room, set other articles afire and soon the room was a mass of flames. After reaching the bathroom with the burning dish, Miss Achilli hurled the dish into the bathtub in the endeavor to quench the flames. Instead, the fire from the bathtub leaped across the small room and soon the gowns and other lingerie belonging to the co-eds were ablaze.

The cries from the young women had by this time attracted Mr. Snow, who rushed into the burning room. While the girls were making a hasty departure Mr. Snow threw several pails of water on the fire but with little effect. In the meantime, someone passing the building observed the flames, smoke and excitement and turned in an alarm, summoning the fire department.

When the fire apparatus arrived the girls' room and the bathroom were filled with fire, but a line of hose directed into the building soon extinguished the blaze.

As soon as the young women could get sufficient clothing together they went to the home of Miss Achilli at Fulton. Miss Achilli's father is superintendent and general manager of the Nestle Food plant in that city.

Mr. Snow said later that the young women had their room finely decorated with college flags, bric-a-brac and other ornaments, all of which, would be a total loss. The walls were burned clear of everything but a few pictures. The girls were unable to explain how the alcohol ignited. In addition to their room and the bath room, rooms on each side of those burned were damaged.

OSWEGO'S CLAIMS RECOGNIZED

Before a ballot was taken the report of the committee on resolutions was presented by Mr. Sweet. The administration of President Fair is highly commended and so is the State administration of Governor Hughes whose elevation to the Supreme Court bench is an honor, as well to the State as to the distinguished recipient. The resolutions were adopted unanimously.

Dr. Babcock made a strong speech seconding Mr. Mott's nomination and Y. K. Kellogg seconded that of Mr. Brown.

Immediately after the nomination Mr. Mott was brought before the convention by John S. Parsons, Henry Chickering and Joseph Atwell. His appearance was a signal for a tremendous ovation in which every one joined.

When the enthusiastic reception tendered Mr. Mott had subsided he made a strong speech before the convention outlining his hopes and ambitions for the district which had honored him with the nomination and pledging his best efforts in the interests of all three, regardless of boundary lines, in the event of his election. He was cheered to the echo when he concluded his graceful address.

The Congressional Committee was reappointed without any change.

The delegates to the convention follow: Jefferson, D. F. Anderson, E. J. Tallman, G. H. Ward, Alfred Foster, Michael Gleason, L. G. DeCant, O. G. Breen, F. M. Hugo, E. B. Johnson, Joseph Atwell, William Armott, A. J. Conklin, C. B. Roberts, C. H. Wallace.

LOS ANGELES TIMES DESTROYED

As the result of an explosion believed to have been caused by dynamite, the Los Angeles Times plant was totally destroyed on Saturday morning early and the list of dead numbers twenty three while those seriously or mortally wounded, are two score or more.

Allied labor unions were holding a convention in Los Angeles during the week and the editor of the paper, which has maintained open shop and refused the demands of the unions to unionize the office, charges labor unions with being identified with the wrecking of the plant. This the labor union promptly and emphatically deny and have offered a reward of $7,500 for the apprehension of the miscreant who did the deed. The city of Los Angeles has offered a reward of $100,000 for the same purpose.

FORMER FULTON BOY MARRIED

The following item, clipped from a Syracuse paper of Friday, gives the detail of the marriage of Mr. J. Arthur Draper, son of Mrs. Lena Draper, all of whom were former well known residents of this city. Mr. Draper holds a responsible position in the H. J. Howe jewelry store, Syracuse. His many Fulton friends will extend congratulations to the young couple.

One of the most attractive wedding of this month took place Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Mary J. Chamberlain, when her daughter, Miss Florence Adaline Chamberlain, became the wife of J. Arthur Draper. The rooms of Mrs. Chamberlain's residence, No. 309 Cannon street, were made especially attractive with white asters, spray and ferns, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Murray S. Howland, pastor of the South Presbyterian church, at 6 o'clock.

The bridal party entered the parlor where the immediate relatives and most intimate friends were assembled, the wedding march being played by Harry S. Mason. Mrs. Kendrick A. Luther sang "The Song of the Shunammite," composed by Mr. Mason. The bride was attended by Miss Fannie Draper, a sister of the groom, and her other attendants were Miss Laura E. Hyatt and Mrs. Herbert Boynton, all of whom were gowned in white lingerie dresses and carried white asters and ferns.

The bridal party walked through an aisle of white ribbons held by Miss Nettie Bates, Miss Blanche Parks, Miss Florence Bishop, Miss Mabel Peck, Miss Florence Chaffee, Miss Verne Sutton, Miss Katherine Stalkecht and Miss Ethel Stalkecht, all dressed in white. The ushers were Dr. Charles J. Wells and G. Everett Quick. Mr. Draper was accompanied by George M. Oaks.

The bride was attired in a white embroidered batiste dress and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Her only ornament was a pearl and sapphire brooch given by Mr. Draper.

A reception was given to a large circle of acquaintances of the bride and bridegroom from 8 to 10 o'clock, the guests being received by Mr. and Mrs. Draper, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Lena A. Draper and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Tennant.

Mr. and Mrs. Draper will spend their honeymoon in the Adirondack mountains and they will be at home after November 1, at No. 102 East Kennedy street.

WORSE THAN BULLETS

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than the eczema L. W. Harriman, Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with, for years. ## GOOD ROADS INQUIRY

A. W. Wittale of This City Asks Division Engineer Sarr for Information Relative to Improvement of West First Street in Connection With State Highway Work.

October 5, 1910.

Mr. Fred W. Sarr,
Division Engineer, Dept. of Highways,
Syracuse, N. Y.

Dear Sir: At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of this city held last evening, the matter of good roads in this section was brought up and we were assured by some gentlemen present, who claimed to have information from official sources, that the two roads leading from Fulton, one towards Hannibal and the other towards Oswego on the west side of the river, were both to be improved during 1911. It is generally understood that state highways may be built directly through cities of this class. This being the case, the road to Oswego, if continued on directly south through West First street, would connect with a state road built two years ago leading from Fulton south toward Syracuse.

The writer, being the only member of the good roads committee present, was instructed by the Board of Directors to write you and ascertain what action this Chamber should take in order to bring about the improvement of West First street, in connection with these state highways. Any information you may give us will be appreciated by the members of this body.

Respectfully yours,

A. W. Wittale.

A. W. Wittale,
Fulton, N. Y.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 5th inst. in which you request information relative to the ultimate improvement of West First street in connection with the so-called State Highway Improvement. In reply I would state that the information you have relative to the purpose of this department, together with the Highway Improvement Law, is partly correct and partly incorrect.

It is true that the State Highway Commission propose to improve the so-called Fulton-Hannibal road from the corporation line westerly towards Hannibal, and the Fulton-Oswego River road from the corporation line northerly to the southerly end of the present improved road south of Minetto.

Now, in regard to the Highway

Mayme Boardman has sold property in Oneida street to Harry A. Wall-dorf for $2,025.

Henry King, Jr., has sold two thirty-acre parcels of land in Granby, each for $600 one to George Eish and the other to B. E. Caswell.

Alice Posson has sold sixty-five acres of land in Hannibal to Harvey A. Dennison for $1,000.

Fred W. Stewart has sold property in Fulton to Orson Morgan for $1,700.

SUES RAILROAD

William H. Bronson, of Altmar, has commenced an action in Supreme Court in Syracuse for $15,000 damages against the New York Central Railroad for injuries alleged to have been sustained by falling from a train in that city when about to leave the State Fair grounds for his home. Negligence of a brakeman is the ground on which the action is brought.

See Earl S. Brown for bargains in Parlor Suits.

LICENSES BRING LARGE SUM

Up to the present time County Treasurer Fred M. Moore has taken in $34,900 for liquor licenses. An increase of $713 for the present year before the time for the final balance. It is figured that a portion of this increase comes from the City of Fulton where the price of licenses was boosted from $450 to $525 with the increase of population over the 10,000 mark.

Of this total amount taken by the County Treasurer, Oswego County is entitled to 50 per cent. or $42,450 for this year. Mr. Moore made his official report and turned it in to the State Excise Department on Monday.

REGISTRATION DAYS

Registration days will be October 14-15 and October 21-22. Don't fail to register on the first day; sickness, business, the elements, may prevent you from registering either other day and you may thus disfranchise yourself.

Go to Earl S. Brown's for a Parlor Suit.

REFUSE TO SUPPORT REEVES

Watertown Standard
The Republicans of the district, which is strongly Republican, will regret that Mr. Reeves is a Democrat running on a Democratic ticket and that his nomination has rendered impossible the election of a man, who, all concede, measures fully up to the position and would have made a splendid representative, not only for the district but also for the State and the nation. On the other hand the Republican party in Jefferson County whatever individual members of it may do, will as a whole refuse to support Mr. Reeves because of the construction which would of necessity be placed upon such action.

MR. BREED MUST PAY TEN

Judge Rowe on Monday dismissed the petition of City Engineer Hackett, of Fulton, to compel former City Engineer O. C. Breed, to turn over the books and records of the office. Mr. Breed made affidavit that he had turned over everything. After there had been some delay in the case Judge Rowe granted Mr. Hackett ten dollars costs. City Attorney Fanning appeared for the latter and S. B. Mead for Mr. Breed.

SAVINGS BANK INTERESTED

Melvin L. Young, a Syracuse contractor, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy last week. His total liabilities are more than $77,000 and his assets $18,000. Among the secured creditors is the local savings bank for $3,600.

GOV. WHITE APPOINTS GLYNN.

Governor Horace White last week appointed Mr. George A. Glynn, a former Oswego resident and for twenty years city editor of the Syracuse Herald, to the position of private secretary to himself. The appointment brought pleasure to Mr. Glynn's friends and was a recognition of his ability. Mr. Glynn's wide State acquaintance will be of untold value to him in his new work.

CHAIRMAN TAFT INVITED

Chairman Charles W. Taft of the Republican County Committee received an invitation to attend the meeting of the chairmen of the various Republican County Committees throughout the State which is being held in New York city this week.

RESIGNS COMMISSION

H. W. Kandt Gives up Commission to Enable Him to Devote Time to Canvass for County Treasurer—Misunderstanding Regarding Law in Relation to Matter.

School Commissioner H. W. Kandt the Republican nominee for county treasurer, last week resigned his school commissionership. His resignation to become effective on October 7. His resignation was tendered because he did not feel that he should neglect his duties to devote his time to his canvass this Fall and he therefore decided to give up the position, a most commendable resolution and one which will strengthen him with the electors.

Some controversy has arisen relative to Mr. Kandt's resignation and County Judge L. C. Rowe on Monday appointed Mr. Albert W. Wright of Richland, a prominent Democrat, to fill the vacancy. There seems a misunderstanding as to the law in the matter, attorneys placing different interpretations thereon.

The Educational law provides that when there shall be a vacancy that the appointment shall be made by the county judge or in case there be no county judge by the State Commissioner of Education. It provides that this appointment shall last until the 1st of January following the next general election at which general election a commissioner for the remainder of the unexpired term should be elected.

It is the claim of Mr. Wright's friends that his appointment at the present time will mean that he will hold this office until January 1st, 1912. They say that the certificate of nomination for school commissioner must be filed before Friday, October 14, and that caucuses can not be legally called to make such a nomination in so short a time.

On the other hand it is claimed that the nomination can be made and filed legally before the close of the 14th and the Republican party will hold a convention and make a nomination at Pulaski, on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. This will give plenty of time in which to get the certificate of nomination filed in the County Clerk's office before midnight of that same day.

County Clerk McCarthy asked County Attorney Coville for an opinion on this matter and Mr. Coville stated that a caucus and convention could be held up to October 14.

L. W. MOTT FOR CONGRESS

(Watertown Times)

At the Republican Congressional convention the Lewis county delegates, with whom the responsibility rested of deciding between the merits of the candidates presented by Oswego and Jefferson counties, cast their six votes with the thirteen votes of Oswego and nominated Hon. Luther W. Mott of Oswego against the fourteen votes of Jefferson county for Hon. Elton R. Brown of Watertown.

Good Taste and Grace in the NEW COATS

No wonder women and girls every day are telling us that they have not seen in any other place such RICHNESS and such DISTINGUISHED styles at such LOW PRICES as J. R. Sullivan's new stock of coats offers.

In selecting the styles and colors for this new stock of coats the watchword has been "not to buy the loud patterns," but to select the modest, gentle designs, tailored in styles that produce individuality in each garment and give a rich, dressy appearance.

IN MEMORY OF DR. RUSSELL

Albany, Oct. 7.—State Health Commissioner Eugene H. Porter prints the following testimonial to the memory of the late Dr. S. A. Russell, of Fulton, in the monthly bulletin of the State Health Department just issued:

The Department deeply mourns the necessity to announce the death of Dr. S. A. Russell, which occurred at his late home in Fulton on September 5th, 1910.

Dr. Russell was for many years the efficient Health Officer of Fulton, foremost in safeguarding the health of the people of that city, and one of its leading citizens.

In his death the Department loses a loyal friend and a faithful medical officer, to which position he was appointed in 1909.

Your cough annoys you. Keep on hacking and tearing the delicate membranes of your throat if you want to be annoyed. But if you want relief, want to be cured, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

THE FRIVOLOUS RACE

She's not a bit athletic
She can't swim or row,
While bunkers, tees and things like
At golf she doesn't know.
Of tennis-courts she has no thoughts,
It tires her to bowl;
She never tried a horse to ride,
Nor in a punt to pole.

She'd rather take a trolley
Than walk a block or two;
To talk and talk, and things like that,
Are quite the most she'll do.
And yet she won a Marathon,
Yes, really, for you see,
She twenty miles of ribbon ran
In her dainty lingerie.
—Katharine Perry in Woman's Home Companion for October.

Hoarseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by all dealers.

Epilepsy, Fits

"My son was cured of a very bad case of epilepsy with Dr. Miles' Nerveine."
MRS. D. BAKER, Cleveland, O.
"My little daughter who was afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance is now entirely well after taking Dr. Miles' Nerveine only four months."

MRS. C. G. BENNETT, Alma, Mich.

Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance and Spasms, are all nervous diseases. They have been cured in so many instances with Dr. Miles' Nerveine that it is reasonable to conclude that it is almost sure to cure you. With nervous diseases of a severe type, persistent use has almost invariably resulted in a complete cure or lasting benefits, worth many times the cost of the remedy. The best evidence you can get of its merits is to write to those who have used it. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

JEFFERSON COUNTY PIGGISH

Oswego county has longed for a congressman within her borders for twenty-two years. In that time Lewis and Jefferson county have secured always the coveted boon, and Oswego has helped boost the majority of the Republican nominees and has cheered each year with the victors. This year is different and she means to assert her rights and to demand of Jefferson and Lewis counties, not generosity but simple justice. Lewis county seems inclined to be fair in the matter of the congressional fight but Jefferson keeps up a growling that betokens a disposition far from desirable. It would even seem that Oswego and Lewis might be forced into an alliance offensive and defensive and as against Jefferson county altogether in the future, to possess a better, broader and more just spirit is manifested.

In Mr. L. W. Mott this district has a man well worthy the suffrage of the electors. His wide acquaintance and his high standing in the regard of State and National leaders would make him a powerful influence in behalf of his district at Washington. The outlook for his success at the polls in November is unclouded with doubt and the only regret is the selfish disposition being manifested by some uneasy spirits in Jefferson county.

Stop it, neighbor. Be just.

JUSTICE HUGHES NOW

Governor Hughes is but a memory so far as political life is concerned but his precepts, example and influence will remain for many a week, strong and potent for good. He was promoted to the niche of his highest ambition but he still stands as the strongest factor in recent politics ever presented to a people. He did not care for preferment or glory, he only asked that the deal be square as between man and man; as between the rich and the poor. He was not selfish for himself but for his party and his State. The record that he achieved during his four troubled years of service to the people of the Empire State will stand long after he, his friends and his political foes are gathered to their fathers. And none shall be so brave as to dare pull down the ideal he has established.

Mr. Mott is a comparatively young man bearing a name long honored in Oswego county. His father and grandfather having been powerful factors in its political and business life, and without any taint on their record in any of the activities in which they have been engaged. Luther Mott has been ambitious to follow in their footsteps and Oswego county has rallied to him with an enthusiasm greater than it has ever before given to any candidate it has presented. Mr. Mott early took ground in favor of Gov. Hughes and his policies and became the leader of the movement which overturned the opposing machine in Oswego county and destroyed it.

For the same reason that he stood for Gov. Hughes and direct nominations, and had won his county to that support, Col. Roosevelt endorsed his candidacy. Undoubtedly his work in this direction contributed largely to his nomination. Mr. Mott does not loom large, either physically or by record of accomplishment, except in what he has done in Oswego County, but it must be remembered that he was being measured against no ordinary man but a man of commanding ability and a record of service where he had proved himself the peer of the ablest men in the State. There are few, if any, men in the district who could have stood that comparison. Mr. Mott is also more than an average man in ability, as shown by the position he occupies in Oswego County. He is also young enough to grow and will, without doubt, be found filling the office to which he will be elected with credit to himself and to his constituents. Until Mr. Brown came into the field, Mr. Mott's candidacy was everywhere accepted as most satisfactory. He stands for the right things and for the progressive republicanism which is now in control in this state and which the republican voters have insisted should be the dominating influence in republican policies and conduct. As such Mr. Mott is undoubtedly truly representative of the majority sentiment of his district and as such he can be voted for without reservation by the republican electorate.

Oswego county has long desired the office of congressman and complained bitterly that it had not achieved its desires. It is evidently very happy and enthusiastic over the selection of the candidate, who has been made within its borders.

NOT CORDIALLY RECEIVED

The Reeves petitions to place the Democratic nominee for congressman on an independent ticket made their appearance here last week but they met with scant courtesy at the hands of any and all save and only Democrats. The independent movement seems to have died a borned so far as Oswego county is concerned. This county is keenly alive to its rights and privileges and is determined that Oswego county shall have the next congressman.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. S. D. Keller entertained the 1909 Shakespeare club at her home in Oneida street on Friday evening. A business session preceded the banquet at which Mrs. William Sylvester was elected president; Miss Cherry Bell, secretary; Miss Marie Benson, treasurer and Mrs. Glenn Street, critic. The dining room was elaborately decorated with autumn foliage, leaves and flowers. In the center of the table was a mound of silvery stuff and leading therefrom to the place cards were ribbons. When the guests upon invitation from their hostess pulled the ribbons, tiny bottles came forth from the mound, each containing the name of Dr. E. M. Anderson and Miss Hazel R. Gardner, and the announcement of their betrothal.

Dr. Anderson is a native of Auburn but is a popular practitioner of this city with offices on the west side. Miss Gardner is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Castle H. Gardner of this city and has a host of friends. She is at present engaged as nurse in the Lee Memorial hospital.

The many friends of the young couple are showering them with congratulations. The marriage is to take place in the immediate future.

MARRIED

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, at the Congregational parsonage, the Rev. Charles Olmstead officiating, occurred the marriage of Miss Hazel L. Lamson and Mr. Walter D. Reynolds. The young couple were attended by Miss Lois G. Wellwood as bridesmaid and Mr. Kenneth Locke as best man. After a brief bridal trip Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are at home to their friends at No. 118 Oak street. Mrs. Reynolds was for several years a compositor in The Times office, for the past year holding a similar position in Baldwinsville. The groom is an expert weaver in the Woolen mills. Their friends extend congratulations.

The marriage of Miss Gratia Greenwood Van Patten, daughter of Mrs. Byron Van Patten of No. 24 North Main street, Carthage, New York, and Mr. Alfred Edmond LaPorte, of Plainfield, N. J., took place at the Rectory of St. James R. C. church, Carthage, N. Y., at 9:30 a. m. Monday, October 3, 1910, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father Whalen, O. S. A. The bride is a graduate of the State Normal School at Potsdam, N. Y., and taught school for several terms in Plainfield, N. J. The groom is mailing clerk at the Plainfield, N. J., post office and President of the New Jersey State Post-Office Clerks Association and a former Fultonian. After the ceremony at the Rectory, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother at No. 24 North Main street, Carthage, to the relatives and a few intimate friends. The decorations of the dining-room were purple and white, these being the class colors of the bride. The guests were served by Miss Ora Lombard and Miss Helen Woolworth, intimate friends of the bride. Among those present were relatives and friends from Brooklyn, N. Y., Philadelphia, N. Y., Rochester, N. Y., Atwerp, N. Y., Wabanema, N. Y., and Springfield, Mass. The newly married couple left Carthage on the 1:40 p. m. train south, amid a profusion of rice, confetti and old shoes. They intend spending a week or ten days at Gregg, N. Y., in the Adirondacks. They will reside at 21 Jackson Ave., Plainfield, N. J., where they will be at home to their friends after December 1, 1910.

COUNTY COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Oswego County Republican Committee met in Oswego on Thursday, a large number of the members being present, and the political situation was freely and frankly discussed. The outlook appeared most flattering for success, each town reporting that differences had been buried and that there was practical unanimity for the ticket. State and County, on the part of Republicans, while Democratic votes for several of the nominees had been offered.

Mr. F. G. Hyndora created a great deal of enthusiasm at the session by stating that he should labor unceasingly for the whole ticket and that he would be pleased to drive with his former opponent, Mr. H. W. Kandt, through the town of Sandy Creek and introduce him to all of his friends and urge their support in his behalf. Mr. L. W. Mott was present and talked with the committeemen, all of whom were enthusiastic and determined that a record vote should be rolled up in this county for the congressional nominee.

The recital given by Mr. George Letchworth Patten in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening was worthy of more than passing notice and of a much larger audience than was present, owing undoubtedly to the fact that the advertising campaign preceding the recital had not been effective. Mr. Patten has a magnificent voice and his interpretation of the numbers rendered delighted his audience. He has been requested to repeat his visit to Fulton in the not far distant future when he will be assured of a large audience.

Last Friday evening the semi-annual business meeting of the Brotherhood Class of the First Methodist Episcopal church was held in the Brotherhood rooms. A large attendance of men enjoyed the program and the social hour and refreshments that followed. The solos by Mr. W. C. Hubbard brought ecstasies, photographic selections also added much to the enjoyment of the company. The class teacher, Rev. C. L. Peck, gave an address on "Work." The following officers were elected for the ensuing term of six months. President, Herbert J. Wilson; vice president, George B. Deuel; secretary, H. W. Shipman; Treasurer, Howard Morris; executive committee, the foregoing officers and A. Z. Wolever, G. E. Palmer, F. W. Austin. Announcements were made by committee of a big "Camp Fire" for the Brotherhood Class to be held up the river soon, at Dr. Marsh's cottage. Plans are under way for the Fall and Winter campaign.

Rally day at the First Methodist Episcopal church was enjoyed by a large audience Sunday. The pastor, Rev. C. L. Peck, preached a special sermon in the morning on "The Overflow of Character." The Sunday School hour at noon was the occasion of a general rally of the forces in the auditorium of the church where a fine program was rendered in charge of Superintendent H. L. Padlock. Souvenir button badges were given to each one of the five hundred or more who were present. Musical numbers were rendered by Pooler's Orchestra and a male quartette from the Brotherhood Class. Class exercises, recitations and songs of a very high order were presented by the boys and girls, among which a very pretty Daisy Drill by a class of girls was especially pleasing. In the evening at six o'clock the young people's rally was held in the auditorium, being merged with the public service. Mr. C. D. Wilcox had charge of the service and gave a brief address on the topic, "Forward Steps in Our Society." Pleasing solos were rendered by Misses Flint and Hodges. Miss Jennie M. Bingham of Syracuse gave a very interesting and helpful Bible Reading on "Some of the Duties of Scripture." ## DIAGRAM OF FALLEY SEMINARY GROUNDS

An Investment Self-Supporting From the Start—
To Be Voted on November 8

That the people of Fulton might have a clear conception of the land area included in the Falley Seminary property which has been offered for sale by the Mary J. Gilmore heirs to the City of Fulton for school purposes for the sum of $16,000, the Board of Education has had a survey made of the property by Engineer O. C. Breed of which the above is the diagram. The survey is taken inside of the fences or where fences formerly were. Had it been taken to the middle of the street, the property would include considerably over two acres.

The rear part of the property is a feature which many may not have considered in connection with its purchase but it is important that this should receive careful thought as the playground feature connected with public schools is one that is receiving serious consideration in cities not only in the state but in the nation, and in many cities land has been purchased at excessive prices and expensive buildings removed that such a playground might be secured.

The front part of the property facing on Fourth street and the main building are more familiar to all and there is no question but that the main feature connected with the purchase of the property is to provide for the future.

The present high school building in Fulton is inadequate. Year by year the demand for a modern high school building, built to meet the demands of the city, will increase. The property to be voted on furnishes the site. The question of whether it is better to remodel the present structure or to tear it down and rebuild can be left to the future.

The Fourth street, Phillips street and State street buildings make excellent grammar schools where pupils are prepared for the high school. The Oak street building should also

James Thompson, the choice of the Republican party for the very important position of State Comptroller, is a resident of Valley Falls, in this county, and a prominent and prosperous manufacturer. Mr. Thompson was born in New York city in 1861, and is of Irish-Scottish descent, his mother having been Irish and his father Scotch. The first seventeen years of his life were passed in the city of New York, where he graduated from the city schools and from the College of the City of New York. After graduation he removed to Valley Falls to enter the manufacture of his father, Ames Thompson, a manufacturer of cotton and flax goods. His training there soon made him superintendent of the mills, and on his father's death in 1899 the latter's entire business interest was left to the son. Mr. Thompson has since that time conducted the business under the name of James Thompson & Co. He is the employer of 300 men, and the fairness and amiable character of his relations with his employees may be inferred from the fact that there has never been a strike in the mill, either during the proprietorship of Mr. Thompson or of that of his father. Mr. Thompson spends a portion of the year at Saratoga Springs and occupies a handsome house owned by him on Union Avenue in that village. Mr. Thompson has always been a Republican, as was his father before him. He is a Director and the largest stockholder in the National City Bank of Troy, a Director of the Rensselaer County Bank of Rensselaer and also a Director of The Prexite Comb Company of North Adams, Mass. Mr. Thompson was elected eight years ago to be the first President of Valley Falls, and he served one term in that office. He is one of the most effective members of the Republican County Committee of Rensselaer County. Mr. Thompson is a popular member of Troy Lodge of the Order of Elks, and is one of the best known and best liked men in this part of the state.

The "pure food law" is designed by the Government to protect the public from injurious ingredients in both foods and drugs. It is beneficial both to the public and to the conscientious manufacturer. Ely's Cream Balm, a successful remedy for cold in the head, nasal catarrh, hay fever, etc., containing no injurious drugs meets fully the requirements of the new law, and that fact is prominently stated on every package. It contains none of the injurious drugs which are required by the law to be mentioned on the label. Hence you can use it safely.

The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, eat reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all dealers.

POSTAL BONDS APPROVED

Different from Anything Government Has Ever Issued

Washington, Oct. 2. — Designs of the new postal savings bonds have been approved by Secretary MacVeagh, and by the time the postal bonds begin to receive deposits the Treasury Department will be ready to issue the new securities if any are demanded.

The new bonds are entirely different from anything the government has ever issued. Mr. MacVeagh delegated the work of supervising the preliminary designs to Assistant Secretary A. Platt Andrews, who has spent a great deal of time and study on them. When the new securities come off the presses they will be a surprise.

The new bonds have been designed not alone for artistic beauty but for their utilitarian values and the economy with which they can be produced. An engraving of George Washington is in the center of the $20 bond. The lettering is plain and square, perfectly straight and almost severe. All the work is sharp and clean-cut, but there is enough fine engraving to guard against counterfeiting.

The new bonds are of a size which folds three times and just fits a safe deposit box. The coupon bond, with forty interest coupons attached, is said to be the smallest government security ever issued anywhere and folds up to the size of a $10 banknote. The registered bond is to be a little larger.

Postal bank bonds will pay 2½ per cent interest and come in denominations from $20 up. They can be issued to depositors in the postal banks or by the trustees to replace the government bonds now out standing or about to be issued.

SENDS MESSAGE OF CHEER TO AMERICAN CATHOLICS

New York, Oct. 7.—To the Catholics of America, His Eminence, Vincenzo, Cardinal Vannutelli, personal representative of Pope X., sent this message:

The Holy Father is coming more and more to regard your wonderful United States as the favorite daughter of the Church. Catholicism has here made more wonderful strides than anywhere else in the world.

Your bishops, priests and teachers have built up a magnificent church organization. Under your Government of freedom and personal liberty the Church and its individuals have prospered splendidly.

Your country is amazing to a stranger, but no less amazing is Catholicism. Good Catholics in America, I believe, are good citizens for America. Their church teaches them that I am glad to have the privilege of blessing Catholics of New York and of the United States on behalf of the Holy Father.

GOOD ROADS INQUIRY

Law, I would state that the same provides for the improvement of two classes of highways, viz.:—State Highways and County Highways. State highways are certain designated routes described in the law as extending between principal centers and the cost of the improvement of these highways is to be borne entirely by the State. County Highways are those designated on a legislative map of the county for future improvement and the cost of such improvement is shared by the State, County and Town. Previous to the present year neither State or County Highways could be extended into or through a city, or, in other words, improved within the city limits.

Section 137 of the Laws of 1910 provides that a state highway may be constructed through a city of the third class or a village, and a county highway may be constructed through a village in the same manner as on the outside thereof.

The two roads you mention to be improved next year in the town of Granby are both county roads. The State Route extending north and south along the Oswego River valley is designated by law as extending along the easterly side of the Oswego River.

In view of these facts no relief can be obtained from the state or county highway improvement propositions for the improvement of West First street in the city of Fulton, and in view of the deplorable condition of this street I would strongly recommend some action towards the betterment of the present conditions by the Chamber of Commerce and city officials.

Very Truly yours,
Fred W. Sarr,
Division Engineer.

BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

Miss R. L. Mead Will Be United in Marriage to Mr. Floyd Marvin This Wednesday Evening—Home Beautifully Decorated—Many Choice Gifts.

This Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Attorney and Mrs. E. H. Mead, will occur a beautiful wedding when their only daughter, Miss Rhea Louise Mead, will be united in marriage with Mr. Floyd Marvin, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Marvin. The home has been artistically decorated with autumn foliage, vines and flowers and in one corner of the spacious parlor a bank of ferns, palms and flowers forms the background before which the popular young couple will plight their troth. Throughout the decorations pink and white predominate. The Rev. W. L. Sawtelle of Elmira, a former pastor of the bride and groom, will be the officiating clergyman and the ring service will be used.

The 250 invited guests will be received by the bride party, and piano and violin will be heard in the wedding march as the party enter the parlor, and also during the reception and evening hours.

The ushers will be Mr. Edwin B. Snow of New York city and Attorney Louis Rice of this city. The groom will be attended by his brother, Mr. Warren E. Marvin, of Brooklyn, as best man.

The bride will enter the parlor on the arm of her father and she will be given away by him. She will be becomingly attired in a graceful, girlish gown of white and she will carry a bouquet of bride's roses with shower of smiles. Her maid of honor will be Miss Ruth C. Adams, who will be gowned in pink and carry flowers to match her gown. In that the bridesmaids will be the Misses Frances Forsythe and Louise Van Wagenen. They will be gowned in white over pink tulle and will carry pink flowers.

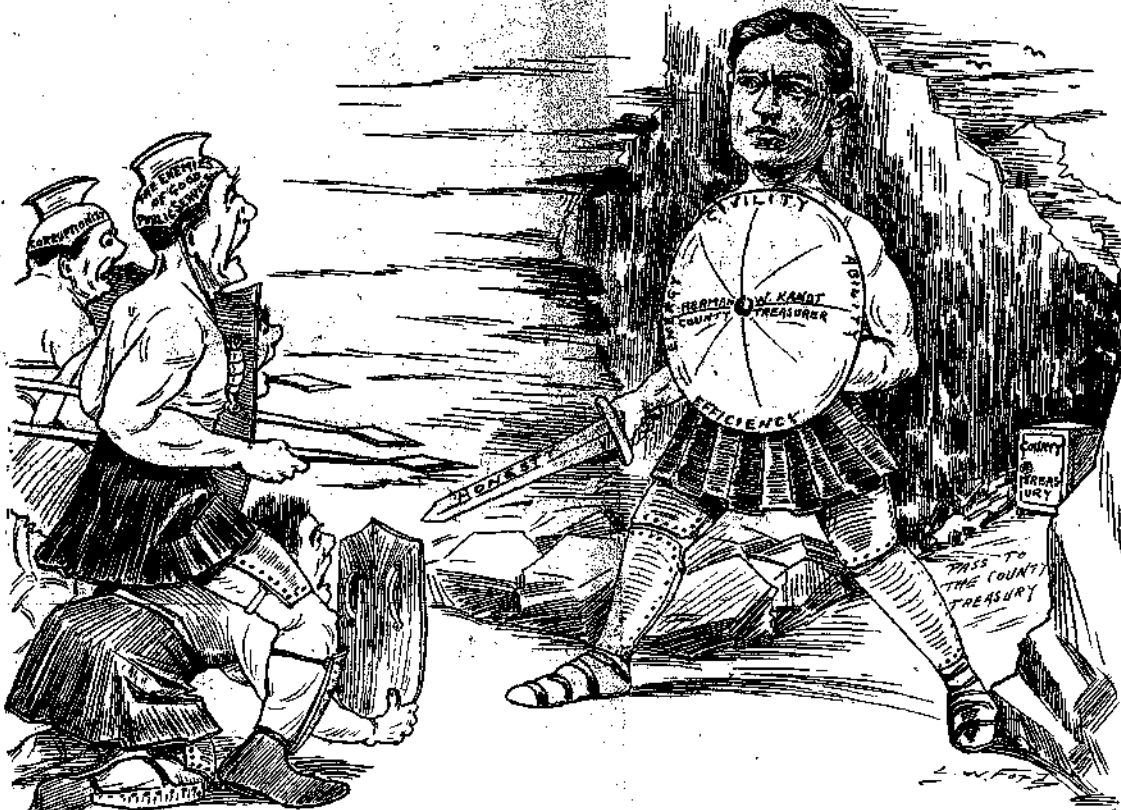

Following the ceremony and congratulations a bridal collation will be served and the young couple will leave for a brief bridal trip, their destination not having been divulged to their friends. After January 1, they will be at home to their friends at No. 1204 Bellevue avenue, Syracuse.

The bride is a graduate of the local High school and she also took a special course of two years at Wellesley college. She is an exceedingly attractive young woman with a host of friends, her home having been a very delightful rallying point for the younger society set in the city.

Mr. Marvin is a clean-cut young business man, holding a responsible position with the Crucible Steel company of Syracuse. He is a former High school student and has always made good in what ever line he has engaged. He has not wasted his time in idleness and advancement has come through merit.

The out-of-town guests present at the function will be Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bibbins and Mr. L. C. Bibbins, Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Marvin, H. H. Marvin, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marvin, Warrens; Mr. Henry Setz, Oneida; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Woodward, Rochester; Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Sawtelle, Elmira; Prof. and Mrs. E. D. Mead, Madison, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. ### PROMINENT LAWYER DEAD

The sudden death of Attorney J. Frank Sargent at his home in Syracuse on Friday noon will bring regret to many in this county of his nativity and where he was so well known. The deceased had risen above the ordinary degree of success in his short life and the future held much of preferment and advancement for him when he was stricken with appendicitis and never rallied, passing away within three days from the hour he was first known to be ill. He leaves a widow, his mother and three sons. The deceased was a graduate of Pulaski Academy, later he collected for the Palladium and finally entered the legal profession rapidly rising to be one of the best known attorneys in negligence cases in the State and securing for his clients the greatest monetary verdicts ever awarded by any jurist.

COMRADE OF KIT CARSON

The death of David L. Hamer, aged 77, an old Indian fighter in California and a veteran holding the proud distinction of being the first soldier to enlist in the Civil War from Oswego County, died at the home of his son-in-law in Utica on Thursday. Of the sixteen children born to him ten survive.

GRANGERS WANT KANDT

Reports received at Republican Headquarters, from every town in the county indicate old-time harmony and an old-fashioned Republican majority. Herman W. Kandt, the Republican candidate for County Treasurer is one of the most popular candidates ever put on a county ticket. The people like to recognize the Kandt type of self-made men. Few young men have ever struggled any harder for success than has Mr. Kandt. He has more than made good in every position of trust and it is safe to predict that he will make a strong, able and faithful County Treasurer. "Honest Tom" Moore, one of the Republican war horses of the county and for years County Treasurer, is one of the leading Kandt supporters.

Members of the different Granges are also particularly interested in his success, as his election of this high and important office means the recognition of this sturdy organization, which worked so hard and successfully to clean house in Oswego County. While the Grange never permits politics to be discussed in meetings, it has been generally felt for several years that the Grange is entitled to a County office. The members have been working hard for others and it is felt that it is now time for one of their own number to be recognized and honored. Mr. Kandt has held many important offices in Pomona Grange, including that of Master.

HEALTH BOARD DESERVES COMMENDATION

The Board of Health at its last meeting passed a resolution to the effect that hereafter no meat from carcasses infected with tubercular trouble shall be sold within the city limits. Heretofore it has been permitted that the infected glands should be removed and the remainder of the carcass disposed of to consumers. This fact being known, Fulton, it is alleged, has been the dumping ground for such infected meats. Meat and Milk Inspector Kennedy has given much time and thought to the matter with the above result, which will be appreciated by the meat eating public. The contemplation of what we have experienced is too nauseating to be long dwelt upon.

HON. C. L. KNAPP WILL SPEAK

Will Visit Different Points in Congressional District. Congressman Knapp will make a number of speeches during the campaign in the Congressional district urging the election of Luther W. Mott. The Congressman announces that he will address the voters of all three counties.

MEMBER OF DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Attorney C. N. Bulger of Oswego has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Democratic State committee and will be one of the five members in charge of the campaign for the next month.

HOSPITAL DONATIONS

The Hospital gratefully acknowledges the following list of donations from September first to October 17, 1910. Mrs. Archambo, flowers, vegetables. Mrs. Munson, flowers, vegetables. Mrs. Hohenbeck, canned fruit. A friend, vegetables. Mrs. Kellogg, apples, cabbages. Mrs. George Webb, jelly. Mrs. Storm, old muslin. Mr. W. A. Baldwin, apples, beans. Dr. Haviland, potatoes. Dr. Wells, magazines.

Mr. F. W. Streeter, cot and mattress. Mr. James Morton, basket of vegetables. Mrs. F. E. Fox, magazines. Dr. Whitaker, magazines. Mr. Victor, watermelons, grapes. A friend, jelly, vegetables. Mrs. Ross, 4 cans fruit. Mrs. McKinstry, can chopped pickles.

VIRGIL KELLOGG TO SPEAK

Chairman Taft announces that the Hon. Virgil Kellogg of Jefferson County will probably make his first speech for the Republican state ticket and L. W. Mott some time next week. Mr. Kellogg will speak in Oswego County.

BAND TO GIVE BENEFIT

Excellent Program to be Presented—Dancing in Church's Hall

The Citizens Band announce the following program for the third of their popular Concerts and Promenades to be held in Church's Hall, Friday evening, October 21, and it is only necessary to take a casual glance at the same to understand that this weeks event will prove most popular from a musical standpoint as the organizations have filled their program with popular song hits of the present day, the scores for which have been donated to the Citizens Band by the publishers as noted below; the publishers having learned of the local organizations effects to raise money and by reason of the fraternal feeling that exists between musicians the most excellent popular program becomes possible without one cent of expenditure on the part of the band.

By reason of the support which the organization have enjoyed thus far they have placed an order for a new bass instrument of the most approved and largest type in existence, and it is hoped that the instrument will reach Fulton in time to be tried out on Friday evening.

The members of the band are selling tickets for the present dance, as well as season ticket, which cover five events, the same selling for $2.25.

WELL KNOWN PHYSICIAN DIES

The sudden although not unexpected death of Dr. T. Dwight Stowe, formerly of this city, occurred at his home in Mexico on Saturday morning after a long period of ill health. When Mrs. Stowe retired at midnight she left her husband seated in his chair where he had been obliged to pass his nights for some time, and he was in his usual health; at 4 o'clock in the morning when she arose to speak to him he was dead, the grim messenger having called him two hours before. The deceased was a prominent Methodist, Grand Army veteran, Nason and he was a prohibitionist in politics. The body was brought to this city on Monday for interment. The widow is the sole survivor.

STAMPS AS CHRISTMAS GIFTS

U. S. to Provide Savings Bank Books for Santa Claus

Washington, Oct. 18.—Uncle Sam, as a source of supply for Santa Claus, has switched from gold pieces to stamps. Up to this year the government mints coined large quantities of $2.50 gold pieces, which were known among the Treasury officials as "Christmas money."

It was decided this year to discontinue the coinage of gold pieces, and now Uncle Sam has placed an order for a large quantity of bright new yellow postal savings stamps. These, together with a postal card upon which they are to be pasted, represent a deposit in Uncle Sam's postal savings bank. In order to stimulate savings among the youngsters of Yankeland, Uncle Sam has gone to great expense to furnish an attractive stamp. It is expected that there will be a great demand for these stamps at Christmas time.

The card upon which the stamps are pasted will cost 10 cents, and will be in fact a "bankbook." It represents the initial deposit of 10 cents. Each card holds nine stamps, which cost 10 cents each. This may be exchanged for a dollar certificate.

With the use of the stamps for Christmas presents will arise the question of whether the postmasters may be required or may lawfully do a mail order business, for the postal savings system will only be installed in one or possibly two points in each State this year.

This question has not yet been decided by the officials. They are of the opinion, however, that if the mail orders for postal savings stamps do not reach a very big amount for any one office, it will be allowable for a postmaster to fill mail orders for more postal savings depositors until more postal savings stamps are obtainable. Generally speaking, however, the postal savings system is not to be a mail order institution, and each man is to be required to deposit his money in his home town in order to keep depositors within the legal limit of $100 a month for postal deposits.

LUTHER W. MOTT

Lowville Journal and Republican (Lewis County)

The nomination of Luther W. Mott of Oswego, is not surprising when the equities of the case are taken into consideration. Oswego County first placed Congressman Knapp in the field and has been a steadfast friend of Lewis County since that time. The judge of the Supreme Court was taken away from that county, the State senatorship was given to Senator Cobb, and now to have taken away the Member of Congress from that great county would not have been a "square deal." The opposing candidate, Senator Elton R. Brown, is an able and experienced man and no doubt would make a first class congressman. But taking all matters into consideration the Lewis County delegates did the right thing uninfluenced by outsiders. They made up their minds after many conferences and came to the conclusion what they would do and did it like men. And they have in the nominee, Luther W. Mott, a splendid young man of culture and refinement. As a graduate of that renowned university, Harvard, he stood high in his classes, and was universally respected for the many traits of his character. Our limited acquaintance with Luther W. Mott leads us into the belief that he will make a Congressman in every way acceptable to the district. His father, Col. John T. Mott, has been a life long Republican of prominence in the State, and the son will follow his noble example.

RURAL CARRIERS

ELECT OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Rural Letter Carriers Association of Oswego county was held in Modern Woodman's hall in this city on Saturday evening when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George B. Hamlin, Altmar; vice president, F. C. Boigee, Fulton; secretary, A. A. Wellington, Oswego; treasurer, J. V. B. Hoyles, Oswego. Mr. Wellington's election to the secretaryship is for the seventh consecutive term.

The rural carriers later in the evening entertained the city carriers from the local office and two Oswego city carriers, the two latter, Messrs. Brown and Ingalls, addressing the assembly.

Miss Hazel Darling at the session read a poem written by Miss Helen Rolfe which touched so cleverly upon the peculiarities of each carrier as to make their identity very apparent. The reading was productive of much merriment.

Rural Carrier Aurie Palmer resigned his membership in the association, he having resigned from the rural service to accept a position on the city carriers force.

STACKHOUSE IS NOW IN JAIL

Syracuse, Oct. 15.—Several department stores, quite a number of grocers, florists and others in Syracuse are interested to know that George Stackhouse, erstwhile of Syracuse, who, it is claimed, could give J. Rufus Wallingford cards and spades in the promoting game and then beat him to a frazzle, is now under arrest in Watertown under a charge of grand larceny in having, it is alleged, swindled a Mrs. Knayon in that city.

About twenty suits of clothes, including fine linen, choice waistcoats, hats and caps of every description, that constituted perhaps only a portion of his notable wardrobe, were found by the Sheriff and have been sent back to Mr. Stackhouse's home in Orange, N. J. When Mr. Stackhouse was in Syracuse he wore a different suit every day and sometimes oftener, according to those who knew him here. He sported glossy silk hats and liked taxicabs.

Stackhouse came to Syracuse early last winter and rented the furnished home of Mrs. L. S. Watkins at No. 123 1/2 Furman street. Mrs. Watkins and her husband had gone South for the winter. Mr. Stackhouse then started in the promoting business at that house. "He had several stenographers and office assistants."

When Mrs. Watkins returned in the spring she found the house in an unpleasant condition. She also, it is said, found that wine glasses had been purchased and charged to her. Various bills came to the house and grocers and department stores and others began to inquire for Mr. Stackhouse. They did not find him, however though they wanted to find him. It is said that he told several of them that he was going away and would write them soon. He was interested in a sand company and his associates in that business began to wonder what had become of him.

The manager of the local office of a telegraph company visited the jail at Watertown yesterday and happened to see Stackhouse. It seems that Mr. Stackhouse sent many telegrams, phoning most of them from the house in Furman street and his bill amounted to about $66. It is said he said at Watertown that he expected that the fraudulent transactions that he would settle.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

STIMSON TALKS ON THE ISSUES

Acceptance Speech a Ringing Declaration.

HAS FAITH IN THE PEOPLE

Republican Nominee Declares That the Coming Campaign is a State Campaign, to Be Decided Upon State Issues—Contrasts the Progressive Policy of the Republican Party With the Obstructive Attitude of Tammany Hall, Which Now Seeks to Lay Hold of the Government of the Whole State.

Henry L. Stimson in accepting the Republican nomination for governor outlined the issues of the campaign and enunciated the principles of the party and himself in the following notable speech:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Nominating Committee—With a high appreciation and with a profound sense of the responsibility assumed I accept the nomination for governor.

I am deeply impressed with the importance of the mission of the Republican party as a leader in progress. As our governments, state and national, confront the successive problems which are raised by the great industrial and social changes of our country the welfare of the people and the security of their material interests will be found to depend in very large measure upon whether or not the leadership in such changes is taken by the Republican party. The giant growth of our commerce and our industries, the absorption of our free land, the gradual change of the American nation from a farming people to one largely living in cities, with needs far more diversified than those of their fathers, have made and are making necessary a constant growth in our system of laws and in their administration.

If the intelligent and prosperous business men of the country continue to participate in this movement the necessary changes will be wise, constructive and permanent. Should they, on the contrary, go into opposition the necessary reforms would, still undoubtedly come eventually, but they would come less wisely and conservatively and with far more likelihood of disturbance to business and to the public.

Faith in the People.

We have faith in the ability of the people through their governments, state and national, to successfully confront these necessary changes and to exercise the powers which such changes involve. They have done so many times in the past. We do not in the least, share the apprehensions of our opponents in this respect. Republics do not become corrupt and inefficient by bravely undertaking their growing duties.

On the contrary, corruption follows in the trail of inaction and inefficiency. Governments which fail to control a recognized evil, which tell themselves with the fallacious hope that the evil will correct itself, always find that the task grows daily more difficult through the pressure of the private interests that are fostered by the evil.

Our party when in control of the government of this state, as of the nation, has not hesitated to face these responsibilities. The past decade is a long record of progressive legislation and of increasingly efficient administration by both federal and state governments.

Federal legislation has freed our interstate railways from the obstruction of rates and discriminations. Federal sanitary laws have made it possible for the citizen to depend upon a far distant food supply with safety and confidence. Federal labor legislation is not merely reducing the appalling list of industrial casualties, which has brought reproach upon our railways and factories, but is daily bettering the conditions of the workman and producing more satisfactory relations between him and his employer and between both and the public.

Not one set of this series has been passed without a frantic outburst of protest from the same interests that are now in the Democratic platform and the same pretended appeal to the constitutional safeguards of the fathers. Yet the legislation, when enacted, has gone into effect without any disturbance of legislative and executive relations. They have gone steadily forward approving its constitutionality, and the business men by whom, as federal jurors and grand jurors, the laws have been enforced have by their attitude given convincing evidence that the honest business man has nothing to fear from and does not fear progressive and well considered legislation.

The coming campaign is a state campaign to the same interests that are now in the Democratic platform and the same pretended appeal to the constitutional safeguards of the fathers. Yet the legislation, when enacted, has gone into effect without any disturbance of legislative and executive relations. They have gone steadily forward approving its constitutionality, and the business men by whom, as federal jurors and grand jurors, the laws have been enforced have by their attitude given convincing evidence that the honest business man has nothing to fear from and does not fear progressive and well considered legislation.

Points to Reform Laws. It is well to bear in mind the long list of such progressive enactments, all of which when challenged have received the approval of the courts. The public service law, with its amendments, including the regulation of telegraph and telephone companies, laws making more effective the supervision of insurance and banking, the pure food and inspection law, acts requiring sanitary conditions in factories, safeguarding the employees and limiting the hours of employment for minors, the act strengthening the semi-monthly payroll and regulating employment agencies, the recent act providing for the regulation of telegraph and telephone companies and finally and of great importance, the act establishing in New York for the first time in the Union the principle of compulsory compensation for industrial accidents and correcting much of the gross injustice of our negligence law.

The opposition which greeted and has followed the public service law has scarcely died away. The president of the largest railroad under the supervision of the New York commission has recently made public his emphatic approval of that law's working and of the high standard of the law and of the public President Brown of the New York Central in its last annual report to its stockholders. The influence and the domination of "corporate interests" have been much beneficial to the road and have done much to improve the service for the public. Such is the record of our party as a progressive party. We propose to use this method of the past in dealing with the problems of the future. We propose to secure our constitutional system, to the successive social conditions that arise, that it will be found adequate for the purpose. We do not propose that our government shall stand still while all else moves forward, and we do not propose to be deterred from such progress by any dishonest cry of innovation. We assert, on the contrary, that this is the method which our fathers employed in meeting their own problems, that it is the only method which a constitutional democracy can employ and that the alternative, inaction, leads to inefficiency and corruption.

Legitimate business has nothing to fear from such a program. Such progress in the past has never been inconsistent with permanent prosperity. On the contrary, it is an insurance against ultimate disaster. When we consider the obstructive attitude toward progress by Tammany Hall, which now seeks to place its hands upon the government of the whole state, we are not likely to swerve in our conviction. It becomes clear that the assumed dread of government corruption is either a mere jingle of words without substance or a cloak to cover the motives of selfish interests to which government inaction would be a source of unjust profit.

A Blap at Tammany. Such is not a new experience with Tammany Hall. Progressive reforms in the public interest in New York city have been frequently throttled by an alliance between that organization and the sinister influences which propped out of a continuance of the abuse of evil. The voters will not be beguiled into surrendering the state government to Tammany by sordid promises of a platform.

I pledge myself, if elected, to the principles of constitutional progress which are outlined and to a vigorous continuance and development of these policies of Governor Hughes.

The Republican platform contains a very first pledge a promise of relentless warfare upon official and legislative corruption in this state and the nation. The inquiry now proceeds, with additional authority if required, until all such wrongdoing shall have been brought to light. I heartily endorse this pledge and promise, if elected, to bring all the power of my office to bear for its fulfillment.

It has been my duty while a federal officer to conduct investigations of similar corruption in the customs service of the port of New York and to prosecute to conviction officers of that service for complicity therein. I regard the thorough and unsparring exposure of all such corruption as the first duty of a responsible government. Aside from all other considerations, no greater service can be rendered to one's party than to use the utmost endeavor to rid it of such a plague spot.

Investigation alone, if more can be accomplished, is not sufficient. Investigation is merely the beginning of the task. Where existing laws are sufficient to reach the men who have been responsible for the abuses, such laws should be rigidly enforced; where they are not, additional legislation must be enacted to render such occurrences in the future forever impossible.

The issue upon which the attention of the state during the past two years has been most closely concentrated has been that of direct nominations. We all recognize and reprobate the evil at which we aimed. Our number of elective officers is so large and the consequent political machinery involved in nominations so complex that the average citizen leaves such matters to the control of more or less professional leaders or bosses.

Upon the nominating convention under such circumstances it is easier for the compact special interests to make the selection, but that for the unorganized public at large. Out of these difficulties arises frequently that corrupt combination of dishonest business and venal politics which is such a serious menace to our modern political life.

It is against this evil that the system of direct nominations is aimed. Its purpose is to bring the candidate into more direct relations with the electors; in this way to perfect the nature of true representative government and to eliminate the boss and the convention, with their opportunities for professionalism and corruption.

Favors the Short Ballot. It may be that the evil cannot be entirely cured until we simplify our elections by diminishing the number of elective offices and concentrating more responsibility upon those whom we do elect and in my judgment one of the great political reforms of the future lies along the lines of the "short ballot" reform. This reform, however, rests in the

Business Insurance

"NUMBERS ELIMINATE CHANCE"

THE business corporation was a device of the Romans. The original idea came from Julius Caesar, and was suggested by the uncertainty of human life. It was an insurance against the dissolution of a project in case of death. The intent was to provide for the continuance and perpetuity of enterprises which probably no man could carry out during his lifetime. The first application of the corporation was for building water-systems and laying out roadways. The corporation provided against stoppage of the work in case of the death of any man connected with it. But the corporate life of a great business is not secure against shock unless the lives of its managers are insured for the benefit of the corporation. Hence we find the big men—the men of initiative and enterprise—allowing their lives to be insured at the expense of the corporation which they serve, for the corporation's benefit. To guard against the blow of the business blizzard when an able leader dies, the Equitable Life Assurance Society now issues a Corporate Policy. The proceeds are made payable to the corporation, which is both Applicant and Beneficiary. Thus the Commercial Craft, haled and made snug and secure when comes the storm. The Equitable Life Assurance Society will exist when every eye that reads this page is closed, forever, when every heart that now throbs is still; when every brain through whose winding bastions thought roams free has turned to dust; The Equitable will live on, a body without death, a mind without decline. Only safe, superior and competent men can secure life-insurance nowadays. Life-insurance adds poise, power and purpose to able men. If you are helping to carry the burdens of the world and making this earth a better place because you are here, perhaps you had better write for further information.

A STRIKING CONTRAST

In striking contrast are the methods of political campaigns as conducted by Mr. L. W. Mott and his Democratic-Independent opponent, Attorney Reeves. Mr. Mott is the gentleman, at all times treating his adversary with courtesy and fairness. On the other hand we hear of Mr. Reeves ranting and tearing at every cross roads where he may speak. Nothing is too mean for him to say about Mr. Mott. He sneers at Mr. Mott's father, than whom there is no more popular man in the State. He calls into contrast with his portly figure the slight physique of Mr. Mott and treats the comparison in such a manner as to cause even the least interested reader to believe that Mr. Reeves thinks that legs and waist-girth are of more value than grey matter; of more benefit to a district than ability and honor.

Mr. Mott is by hereditary environment and inclination better adapted to represent this important district at Washington than Mr. Reeves. All through Congressman Knapp's valuable tenure of the office Mr. Mott has been in closest personal relationship with him and he has all the advantage that such intimacy with his predecessor would bring. In his every day business life he comes in close touch with men and events which give him an insight into the needs of the district. In his banking life he forms State wide acquaintances with men who will be of invaluable aid to him in enlarging his circle of influential friends, to the end that it will be vastly easier for him to know to whom to turn in his legislative plans for his constituency among his probable co-workers in the congressional halls.

But even though Mr. Reeves were all that he might be, and Mr. Mott were all that Mr. Reeves might be, the latter would not be able to represent the district as well as Mr. Mott. We hear a great deal these days about centralization of power and must be loyal Oswego county electors prevent the centralization in greedy Jefferson county of congressman, senator and justice, while Oswego with her interests four fold as diversified and important as Jefferson's, is without representation in legislative halls, only and except as Jefferson may please to remember her existence.

It is gratifying to the Times to know that Mr. Reeves' campaign is not meeting with favor in Oswego county. When he urged a place upon an independent ticket for winning might have existed in Oswego self he lost what ever kindly feeling for him many Democrats declared that from that day forth it would be Oswego county for Oswego county, and consequently for Mr. Mott.

President Taft is now about to discharge one of the heaviest responsibilities that have devolved on him since he became President, that of appointing a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. The great mass of the people are over whelmingly in favor of the appointment of the associate justice John M. Harlan to the Chief Justiceship of that great court.

President Taft is debating this question with himself and it is generally hoped that he will appoint Harlan, who while he is for justice and equality for everyone, corporations included, is nevertheless on the side of the people against the privileged classes.

It is thought that President Taft sincerely desires the Supreme Court to sustain the income tax provision of the last tariff bill and by appointing Judge Harlan to the Chief Justiceship he will further the cause as Judge Harlan is one of the ablest champions of the income tax in the country and a life long republican.

SENATOR COB POPULAR

Senator George H. Cobb, now and until January 1, Lieutenant Governor Cobb, is to be returned to Albany in November without a dissenting voice so far as Republicans in his district are concerned. Mr. Cobb has made an efficient and popular representative, his vote being registered always right on public questions. He stood with Governor Hughes and for his policies and has thus entrenched himself so firmly in the regard of the electors that he has no need to fear opposition. The feeling that Jefferson county is trying to treat Oswego county with studied rudeness does not in any way reflect upon the regard in which Mr. Cobb is held in this county. It is a well known fact that his friends are not a party to the plotting against Oswego County's vigorously expressed choice for congressman.

Great interest centers in the size of the vote to be given Luther W. Mott for Congress. The people of Oswego County feel proud over his nomination and it is expected that he will receive the greatest complimentary vote ever given a candidate in this county. Republicans stand united behind him and Democrats in the cities and towns of the county are also openly declaring that they will support him.

It is needless to predict that Thaddeus C. Sweet will receive a handsome vote for Member of Assembly. His loyalty to Gov. Hughes and his strong stand for Direct Primaries are just a few of the things that made his record in the Assembly one to be proud of.

Senator George H. Cobb, President of the State Senate, who is now acting as Lieutenant Governor is a candidate for re-election in this district. He has a state-wide reputation and Oswego is sure to give him a vote of confidence.

David Page Morehouse, Jr., the Republican candidate for Special Surrogate is a son of D. P. Morehouse, one of the leading Republicans of the county. He has a fine future before him.

REGRETS MR. KANDT'S RESIGNATION

Herman W. Kandt, who recently resigned as School Commissioner to accept the Republican nomination for County Treasurer, has received the following letter from Commissioner of Education Draper.

Albany, Oct. 8, 1910.
Mr. Herman W. Kandt, School Commissioner, Altmar, N. Y.
Dear Sir:—I have your favor of October 6, tendering your resignation as school commissioner of the Third district of Oswego County. Under section 304 of the education law, it will be necessary for you to file your resignation with the county clerk in order to make the same effective. Very likely you are aware of this fact, and write me only to bring actual notice of your resignation to my attention. I am sorry in any event to learn of your purpose, and beg to tender you the assurance of my regard and best wishes.

Very sincerely yours,
A. S. Draper.

FASHIONS FOLLIES AND FOIBLES

Last week was a gala day for the ladies who enjoy inspecting the best offerings from the fashion marts, the occasion being the formal opening of dry goods and millinery in the O'Brien, Patterson and Henderson stores.

J. C. O'Brien

The remodeling of the O'Brien store and the installation of a new plate glass front forbade the arranging of window exhibits but within the store the wealth of beautiful articles on display made up for the exterior absence.

The dress goods, silks, trimmings, linens, silk and wash waists, gloves, etc., on the first floor were extremely desirable and modish and were greatly admired by the ladies. On the second floor the suits, coats, curtains, draperies and millinery were found in variety and all were greeted with approval by the purchasing public thronging the store on the opening days. Worth of special notice were the hats. Original in design, faultless in construction and exquisite in coloring and materials.

On the third floor carpets, rugs, linoleum, matting, etc., were found in wide range of patterns, weave and price.

W. H. Patterson

The formal opening of the Fall and Winter goods at the W. H. Patterson dry goods and millinery store last week attracted a great deal of admiration, the dress goods, silks, novelties, suits, coats, millinery, etc., being unusually beautiful and desirable.

The novelties in curtain stuffs, upholstery goods, linens, etc., shared with the more staple articles in attractiveness and sales were very large in these departments.

The separate silk and wash waists were unusual in pattern and fabric and found many purchasers. Taken in its entirety the opening was a complete success, artistically and financially.

O. Henderson & Company

The O. Henderson & Company store never arranges for formal opening days, but they tastefully arrange the seasonable fabrics and extend a right royal welcome to all who visit their store, and no lady feels that she has seen all nor really completed her round of attending the openings until she has also visited this store, which is fast forging to the front in popularity and prestige.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Chairman Charles W. Taft, Captain Francis D. Culkin and the officers of the Republican County Committee, are now in the midst of plans for the most active campaign in the history of Oswego County. It is announced that many prominent orators will visit Oswego County to discuss the State issue, and the campaign committee is especially pleased to state that these speakers will include former President Theodore Roosevelt and Henry L. Stimson, the Republican candidate for governor, the Stimson and other prominent speakers will invade Oswego County on October 27, with speeches in Fulton, Phoenix and Oswego.

Chairman Taft and his campaign associate, Mr. Culkin, are hoping to arrange an evening meeting in Oswego and also stops on Stimson's way to Watertown, but it will be impossible to give out anything definite except the date fixed, and the stopping places for a few days at least. In addition to the speakers already named, the County Committee is arranging for mass meetings in nearly all of the towns of the county. The list of volunteer speakers contains the names of at least thirty well known Oswego County campaigners, many of whom have not been heard in this county for several years. ## FULTON RESIDENTS INTERESTED

Oswego, Oct. 15.—It was learned this afternoon that the Grand Jury yesterday presented an indictment against Ralph R. Rex of Pittsburgh, head of the Standard Stock Grain Commission company, which had offices in this city and Fulton until a few weeks ago, when the Western Union Telegraph company refused longer to give the concern a wire service. The witnesses before the Grand Jury were former Surrogate S. B. Mead of Fulton, who alleges that he was defrauded out of $1,400, and Edward B. Kimball, head of the Independence League movement in this city, who swore that he lost $510 by fraud.

James E. Carey was the local manager of the company in this city, with which Mr. Kimball did his trading. In both instances it is alleged that the fraudulent transactions grew out of the purchase of stock by the defendant for the complainants. They contend that instead of Rex making bona fide purchases he bucketed the orders. They say that when they went to get the stock or the money they had advanced there was nothing forthcoming. Mr. Rex, they alleged, refused to make a settlement, and they are consequently out the amounts they put up to buy stocks, they alleged.

Rex and his partners, it is said, were conducting houses in nearly all of the principal cities of this and other States. Whether there are any other heavy losers here is not known, but it is believed not.

MORE THAN ENOUGH IS TOO MUCH

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. It troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all dealers.

Gambling has been abolished in Nevada. But it is only gambling with cards that is under the ban. Gambling in divorces continues.

Public Service Commission Asks Pointed Questions — Franchise Prevented Competition.

Hearing before the Public Service Commission, Second District, in the matter of the application of Oswego River Power Transmission Company for permission to begin construction and exercise rights and privileges in Fulton, held at the Capitol, Albany, on Tuesday, October 4, 1910, at 2 p. m.

PRESENT: Frank W. Stevens, (Chairman); Martin S. Decker, James E. Sague, John B. Olmsted, John N. Carlisle, Commissioners.

APPEARANCES: Oswego River Power Transmission Co. represented by Attorney E. M. White.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co. represented by Attorney Wm. D. Gaillard.

Fulton Fuel & Light Co. represented by Attorney Addison D. Merry.

Extract from certified copy of minutes:

MR. WHITE: Counsel has stated that this franchise was prepared by the Counsel for the Transmission Company. That is not so. I did have something to do with it in consultation with the Mayor and the city attorney; but am frank to state to this Commission and to anybody I had drawn that franchise I would have had a good many provisions left out that are in it and some that are in it would have been changed.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: How about that provision which he spoke of with reference to the fact that a person bidding should have Niagara power at the city limits within one week? Was that in it?

MR. WHITE: That was in it; paragraph 11; of the franchise provides the purchaser of this franchise shall deliver Niagara power so-called at the city limits within one week after the sale.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: Within one week?

MR. WHITE: Within one week after the sale and be ready to deliver it.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: Won't you read the paragraph please?

MR. WHITE: I will, yes sir.

"Said grantee, its successors and assigns, shall deliver Niagara power, so-called because of being originally generated at Niagara Falls, at the city line of the city of Fulton (such electric power to be delivered at three phase 25 cycles), within one week after the selling of this franchise and shall supply the same within said city to applicants there for lighting and power purposes within a reasonable time after application therefor shall be made, to the extent of at least 1,000 horse power, within three months after the granting of permission and consent to exercise this franchise by the Public Service Commission of the Second District, State of New York, and the said grantee shall at the time set for the delivery thereof—here is where their trouble was—"shall at the time set for the delivery thereof and payment therefor, deliver to the City of Fulton a bond with sufficient surety to be approved by the City Attorney or Common Council in the penal sum of $10,000, conditioned that such electricity (so called Niagara power) shall be so delivered as hereinbefore in this paragraph provided."

That paragraph 11 was the result of the wishes of the Mayor of the City and of myself. And I want to be frank about this. I was satisfied to have that there, the Mayor of the City wanted it there and the Corporation Counsel wanted it there, because they wanted Niagara power in the city and they wanted it there in a hurry, and they need it there this minute. And the Mayor, as the Mayor of the city, as a public official, the mill owners as power users, and the people of Fulton interested in the manufacturing interests want Niagara power there this minute.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: How many bids were there on this franchise?

MR. WHITE: There was one, but it was not the bid of the petitioner.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: Whose was it?

MR. WHITE: It was the bid of the Oswego River Power Transmission Company. There is no use trying to beat about the bush on that. The petitioner was the Niagara-Oswego Power Company. It was a company organized and petitioned the Common Council for this franchise. At the sale it was required that a certified check for $2,000 be deposited to qualify the bidder to bid, show his good faith. No one opposed to the Niagara power interests deposited any check or made any bid. There was only one bunch of interests—excuse the expression—that could bid on it. I don't claim that there could have been any real competition. There were four companies who could have bid on it but they are all controlled practically by the same people. Now, we could show and prove as a matter of fact that there were four companies qualified to bid on that franchise. That might do before a justice court in the country. It wouldn't do here. Because I am interested in every one of them. But their interests are different; they are just as distinct so far as the stockholders are concerned and the rights of individuals making up the companies; but the management is all in the same class of people.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: What was the reason the time was made one week when it was not possible to get the approval of this Commission within that time?

MR. WHITE: For just this reason. This paragraph right here explains it. The city wanted it and here is a petition.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: That may be a good reason. Why did the city want it that way, one week instead of—in other words, it would look on the face of it as if it was designed to exclude bidders instead of inviting bidders. When they were putting up a franchise for public sale, why did the city want to exclude bidders instead of inviting bidders?

MR. WHITE: There could not possibly be any competition and there could not possibly be any bidders.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: If that were true, Mr. White, what would have been the objection to making it three months or some other time such as would be necessary to get the approval of this Commission? Why was it put one week if there was nobody else except one bidder who could possibly bid on it?

MR. WHITE: There are others who could have bid on it if it had been three months but they never could have carried it out. It was the delay that the city did not want. CHAIRMAN STEVENS: But they had the delay. It is more than three months since the franchise was sold. It was sold in June, wasn't it?

MR. WHITE: Sold the 12th day of August.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: When was the franchise first advertised for sale before this injunction?

MR. WHITE: June 17th.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: It was advertised on June 17th?

MR. WHITE: Yes.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: And would have been sold at that time but for the preliminary injunction?

MR. WHITE: But for the injunction, yes.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: That would have been done.

MR. WHITE: Yes.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: That is more than three months ago, nearly four.

MR. WHITE: If it had been three months the same injunction action would have been brought.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: I know, but I was trying to find out what the reason was. There must have been some good reason for getting it down to one week and I am curious to know what it was.

MR. WHITE: I have told your Honor it was to prevent competition.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: I am asking you why the city wanted it.

MR. WHITE: The city wanted it and we wanted to prevent competition. That is, we wanted to prevent anybody else from putting in a fake bid; we wanted to go there because the people were waiting for us. We have been held up for a year, but if we can get past this point, why we have one more point passed.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: That answers the question why you wanted it in that, of course, is apparent, that anybody who wanted a franchise would not want any competition on the bid, because he would want to get it at his own price.

MR. WHITE: We could not get it at our own price.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: You could at any sum not less than the upset price.

MR. WHITE: Yes.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: I was not asking about your company, why you wanted it there; I was asking why the city wanted it there.

MR. WHITE: The city wanted it there for the same reason.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: They wanted one bidder?

MR. WHITE: They wanted us to have it.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: In other words, they fixed the franchise so there could be one person or one corporation bid on it and that one was to have it, is that the idea?

MR. WHITE: That is the idea. When I say one corporation, I mean there is four of us who could have done it.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: Well, it is all the same thing.

MR. WHITE: It is all the same.

CHAIRMAN STEVENS: You have been very frank about it.

The Commission adjourned the case until the Appellate Division renders its decision next month.

The haughty looking woman upon whose features the dermatologist had been working for more than two hours sneered when she glanced in the mirror. "I certainly thought you knew your business," she snapped, "but you have not even given me fair treatment."

Buttons.

The Elizabethan era gave vogue to the button and buttonhole. Two inventions which may fairly be regarded as important, since they did much to revolutionize dress. The original button was wholly a product of needlework, which was soon improved by the use of a wooden mold. The brass button is said to have been introduced by a Birmingham merchant in 1680. It took 200 years to improve on the method of sewing the cloth upon the covered button. Then an ingenious Dane hit upon the idea of making the button in two parts and clamping them together with the cloth between.

Clearing Houses.

The function of a clearing house is to enable bankers to exchange drafts, bills and securities, thereby saving much labor and trouble and at the same time curtailing the amount of floating cash that would otherwise be required. By means of the transfer system made possible by the clearing house transactions to the amount of millions are settled easily and expeditiously.

Miss Grace M. Touse and Mr. Jesse S. Waldman were united in marriage on Thursday evening at the parochial residence of the Catholic church, the Rev. J. L. Lindsman officiating. A very pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Loomis at Ingalls Crossing when their daughter, Editha E., was united in marriage with Mr. Ernest L. Corey of Pennellville. The home was decorated with running pine, ferns and asters and presented a very attractive appearance. As the bridal party entered the parlors the bridal march was played on the piano by Miss Edna Smith of Syracuse. The ding gown of white chiffon over tulle looked very pretty in her wedding and she carried bride's roses. She was attended by Miss May Brooker as maid of honor, who wore a gown of blue chiffon over blue tulle. The best man was Mr. Eric Boorman. There were a large number of out-of-town guests present at the ceremony. After congratulations a bridal supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Corey left amid a shower of confetti, rice and old shoes, to enjoy a bridal trip in the southland.

The many friends in this city of Miss Hazel Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gardner of Onondaga street, and Dr. Edward M. Anderson of the west side, were surprised to learn that the young couple had given them the slip and that instead of waiting until this Wednesday to be united in marriage as was expected, they had gone to the parochial residence of the Catholic church on Saturday and been united in marriage by the Rev. J. L. Lindsman, and were speeding away on a bridal trip to the Berkshires before it became known that the knot had been tied. Miss Leta Gardner attended her sister as bridesmaid and the groomsmen was his brother, Attorney Anderson of South Dakota. Dr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home on the west side where a comfortable furnished home awaits their return. Dr. Anderson is a popular young member of his profession in this city and Mrs. Anderson has been a nurse in the Lee hospital for the past year.

COL. ROOSEVELT HERE TODAY

Versatile Exponent of Universal Peace Speaks Here At Noon. Favorite of All Nations.

This Wednesday noon at the Cayuga street station, Col. Roosevelt will speak from the rear end of the regular train to all who may greet him at the station. He will be accompanied by Comptroller Prendergast of New York city, Mr. E. W. Mott and others prominent in the party committee. Mr. Roosevelt will have something to say in his five-minute talk to take home with you for reflection. That he will be given a royal welcome is undoubted.

It is a matter of regret that Col. Roosevelt could not have addressed an evening meeting in Fulton when more electors might have heard him, but his already overtaxed schedule to speak in communities where his presence was more needed to straighten out misunderstandings and to bring political light, prevented.

But Fulton is proud to have had even a fleeting word from the greatest man in the public eye in all countries. His popularity is perhaps not among Wall street babblers but rather with the plain people and it is from them that he receives the homage due from friend to friend. A tremendous ovation would have been his could the arrangements have been perfected for his stay in Fulton for an hour.

The total registration in the city this year was 253 less than last year. This is not taken as a depressing fact, however, by the Republicans.

The comparative registration of 1909 and 1910 follows:

First ward	263	314
Second ward	492	442
Third ward	538	314
Fourth ward	282	249
Fifth ward	497	462
Sixth ward	480	368

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The regular monthly meetings of the Chamber of Commerce were resumed on Friday evening of last week and the attendance was quite satisfactory. As the season progresses speakers on different topics of interest will be heard and the meetings will grow even more entertaining and instructive.

The committee appointed to endeavor to secure a satisfactory common ground as between the trolley people and the property owners at the west end of the lower bridge, reported that nothing definite had been arrived at and the committee was given more time to find a solution to the difficulty. It seems that the price asked by the different property holders is not the only difficult proposition to overcome in the arbitration, but the property owners insert so many provisions in their consent that the Public Service Commission would not entertain for a moment, as to render the payment of the price impossible as the right of way under the conditions would be valueless.

The Chamber of Commerce placed itself on record as favorable to the purchase of Falley Seminary for High School purposes at the cost of $16,000.

BENEFIT DANCES NOT WELL ATTENDED

Members Disappointed at lack of Patronage. Proves Organization is Not Appreciated.

The Citizens Band benefit dances are not being as well patronized as they should be and the members are correspondingly disappointed. The band is a public institution; a credit to the city, and yet apparently not appreciated as it should be. The expenses have been pretty heavy always because of uniforms, new music new instruments, rent, etc., and it has become imperative now that some assistance outside of the contributions of individual members should be given.

The party given on Friday evening of last week was a most delightful event but very few tickets were disposed of. It would seem that many of our residents might purchase season tickets, even though they do not dance and would not attend the parties. The support would be most gratefully received and deeply appreciated by every member of the band and by their friends.

CHAIRMAN PRENTICE PLEASED

"The country districts are solidly with Roosevelt," said Chairman Prentice of the Republican State Committee, "and the opposition to him in the cities is much less than I expected to find. If we do fairly well up-state we are absolutely safe, for we are going to get a big vote in New York city. They tell me they are going to do better up-state than they did two years ago."

"Some of the people I talked with up-state," said Mr. Prentice, "said Mr. Roosevelt was a little wild, perhaps, and some of them wished he'd do things in a different way, but on the main propositions they were with him. This anti-Roosevelt sentiment is limited to what is called the 'Wall street crowd,' and as a voting proposition it doesn't amount to much. There are more bricklayers than bankers in the state."

MR. HUNTER DENIES RUMORS

Explains that Falley Seminary Can Be Sold Other Than for School Purposes. Board of Education Desirous of Acquiring Property for City.

In reply to "Taxpayer," who asked a question that certainly was right to the point, would say:

1st. We wish there were more taxpayers in Fulton like you who really are sufficiently interested in our schools and their success to ask for information as to the purchase of the Falley Seminary property. The School Board have no secrets in connection with either this or any other transaction, and all we wish is the opportunity to explain the needs of the case, and we feel then that you or other taxpayers, will see the matter from our viewpoint.

2d. Now as to your inquiries. Your mistake in regard to the title of this property is a very common one, in fact it has been a tradition in this entire community that the Falley Seminary could be used for school purposes only, because of a stipulation to that effect in a deed given years ago. The late Mrs. Gilmour of blessed memory, thinking that perhaps such might be the case and in order to absolutely and positively know just the truth in the matter had an exhaustive and complete search made which settled this question forever. No, Mr. Taxpayer, the title to the Falley Seminary property is absolutely clean and clear, and the heirs of this estate can sell it for whatever purpose they choose and at the same time give a deed without any incumbrance of any name or nature whatsoever.

3d. In regard to Mrs. Gilmour's will making it necessary that this property should be sold for school purposes, we would say that it is a matter of public record that no mention of the Falley Seminary in any way whatever was made in this will, but it is true, Mr. Taxpayer, that I had the privilege (and I always felt it was a privilege to meet this noble woman) to go over the matter of purchasing this property with Mrs. Gilmour only a comparatively short time before her death. She expressed a wish then that the historic building might be retained for school purposes and under the circumstances she would be willing to sell it for $16,000. Mrs. Gilmour considered that she was doing much for Fulton in making a price so low, as she was well aware that a property so large and situated on the park was not only valuable but would be much more so in the future. That we are to have the opportunity to vote on this question, is due solely to the desire of the heirs that the wish of a mother they all loved and honored should be carried out. There is no obligation in the matter in anyway other than this. You will at once appreciate, Mr. Taxpayer, that when the city has had the opportunity of voting on this question, that then the obligation to submit the matter has been discharged and might be lost forever.

4th. Now, Mr. Taxpayer, go up to this property and look it all over. See the size of the lot, the condition of the building, the general makeup of the whole proposition and remember that the income from the buildings will take care of the interest, so that all we will have to pay will be the bare $16,000, and when can you get anything to equal it?

It has been my privilege to serve you and others on the School Board for years and without exception it has always been the expressed hope of every member who of necessity appreciates the needs of our school, that some day we would have this magnificent site on which to expand and grow. We need it bad and we need it now.

The Board of Education.
John Hunter, Pres.

JEFFERSON'S PRESS ENDORSE MOTT

Watertown Times

The one point the opponents of Mr. Mott endeavor to make against him in this congressional campaign is that he is inefficient. This would not be a convincing point, even if it were true, for there are other considerations of a broader nature, the representation of Republicans by a Republican and the giving aid instead of opposition to the Republican administration of President Taft. But the charge is not true. If Mr. Mott were inefficient, he could not have secured the delegates from his own county, and he could not have been nominated. For years Oswego county had been under the control of a dictatorial machine that would move forward a step in the line of progress but held back in interest of its own greed and selfishness. Two years ago it carried the county and made Judge Stowell its candidate for congress against the renomination of Congressman Knapp, and fortunately, failed to force Judge Stowell upon the district. Mr. Mott organized the progressive element of Oswego county to put this old and unrepresentative machine out of business and establish a new order. He espoused the principles of Governor Hughes and worked for the success of progressive policies. He won out overwhelmingly and it was natural that the progressive republicans of Oswego county, after this display of courage, of efficiency, of ability for organization, of honesty of purpose, and of high ideals, should make him their candidate for congress. He proved his right to it by the successful fight he had made for the establishment of these progressive principles. It was no weakling that met the astute and trained politicians of the Stowell machine in open contest and defeated them. It was not the triumph of inefficiency that met an entrenched enemy and carried the breakthrough. No other had arisen in Oswego County during the time the old machine had controlled its policies who had the nerve and courage to make the square issue against it and to overthrow it and to demonstrate that the Hughes policies were supreme with the voters of that county. That one act alone demonstrated Mr. Mott's ability and efficiency. No weakling would have tried it; none but a strong and efficient man, having the confidence of the voters so that they would rally around him, could successfully have accomplished it. Popular leaders are not made out of weak men. When the people come to the standard raised by a man they testify that he is a strong man and that they have confidence in his ability to lead. But Mr. Mott's career is full of refutations of this charge of inefficiency. He has been an accepted leader wherever he was, in college, in his city of Oswego, and among the ranks of business men. He was chairman of the campaign and executive committees of the American Republican college league in 1896. This league was composed of 20,000 students all over the country. Out of that 20,000 he was chosen chairman of the club and of its executive committee. Is it to be supposed that out of that great number to choose from these college men chose a weak and inefficient head for their organization? Business men, with moneyed interests, are pretty careful into whose hands they place their money for investment, but Mr. Mott is practically the head of the First National Bank of Oswego, put there by its stockholders and certainly they believe in his efficiency or they wouldn't keep him there. Then there is the State Bankers' Association, with a membership of 11,000 bankers, all keen business men and good judges of character and efficiency. They made him a member of their executive council. They measured him, they believed in him, and they did not find him wanting. In 1902 he was elected vice president of the National League of Republican Clubs of which John Hays Hammond is now president. He was certainly not chosen for inefficiency, but because of his efficiency.

How many young men of thirty-five years of age are there in this district who can show a record equal to that and can show such a certificate of ability and efficiency from men of the character that compose these organizations? Governor Hughes added his certificate of his efficiency when he appointed Mr. Mott as State Bank Superintendent. The panic coming on at the same time showed a condition that required the most robust physical constitution. Physical inability, and not mental inability, forced Mr. Mott not to take this task of great magnitude, which demanded a physical drudge that he was not prepared to meet.

All this shows, on the testimony of men of power and action, that Mr. Mott is a strong man, but there is more than that involved in this campaign. Mr. Mott stands for the progressive Republicanism of the day. That idea should have no setback by the action of any Republican voter. Mr. Mott is a candidate to represent the Republican party in this district of upwards of 10,000 majority and his whole record shows that he will faithfully represent the Republican principles which that majority has expressed as its will. He will sustain the administration of President Taft. Do you want it nullified? He will ally himself with the other Republicans representatives. Do the Republicans of this district wish to be represented otherwise? There is no moral issue against Mr. Mott, there is no call for a stultification of any moral principle on the part of the voter. It is purely a political issue as to whether the majority of the voters in this congressional district want to be represented in congress by a Republican or a Democrat. It is a question that is a serious one in this campaign for the next congress is likely to be very close. Success Magazine, in carefully gathered statistics of seats and doubtful ones, makes the House of Representatives break even as between the two parties. One vote lost to the Republican side might throw the whole control of the House of Representatives into the hands of the Democratic organization and that would mean a complete check on all the purposes of President Taft's administration. That vote should certainly not come from this Republican congressional district. Judge Reeves is making his canvass as a Democratic candidate purely on personal issues, seeking to create prejudices against his opponent, but is careful not to refer to the main issue, that he is a Democrat, seeking the control of his party in national affairs. His might be the vote to make it a Democratic congress, and he would be proud if such should be the case, and it is the underlying motive of his nomination and of his campaign. There is nothing discreditable in it. As a Democrat that is what he should stand for, but can Republican voters, believing in Republican principles and in the administration of President Taft, afford to contribute to the fulfilling of such Democratic hopes and purposes? They should not be blinded by any little petty issues. Here is the real issue and they want to keep it before them when they cast their votes. Is this congressional district Republican or Democratic? Does it want to take the chance of possibly supplying the vote needed to turn the control of the House of Representatives over to the Democratic organization to nullify the purposes of a Republican administration? If the voter wishes to do this he should vote for Judge Reeves. If he wants to be represented as a Republican he should vote for Mr. Mott. Every man has a perfect right to be a Republican or a Democrat as he chooses, but he should be represented by the principles he holds. There are at times higher principles at stake than those of parties, but they do not appear in this campaign. There is no present issue but that old one between political parties which the voters of this congressional district have decided over and again in favor of the Republican party ever since that party was born.

TAX ON SPECIAL FRANCHISES

A Friendship That Added a Revenue of $9,000,000 a Year to the State.

Few people know that it was two farmers' sons who were responsible for the tax on special franchises in this State, which now amounts to $9,000,000 a year. What is more singular still is that these two men were born within a stone's throw of each other near Medina, N. Y., have been fast friends all their lives and are both Republicans. They are Edward R. O'Malley, present candidate of the Republican Party for re-election as Attorney General, and John Ford, now Justice of the Supreme Court in New York. In 1899, when a State Senator, John Ford introduced the first special franchise tax law, which defined the special franchises of public service corporations as real estate and taxed them as such. After two stormy sessions of the Legislature the Ford bill was passed in an amended form and approved by Governor Roosevelt. Beaten in their attempts to defeat the bill in the Legislature the corporations then began to assail the validity of the law in the courts. Its constitutionality was tested in every Court in the State, but was finally sustained by the highest tribunals in the State and in the country. Then the corporations began a campaign of dilatory litigation to prevent the collection of the taxes which had accrued under the law. They sued out wholesale writs of certiorari to review the assessments placed on their franchises by the State Board of Tax Commissioners. No Attorney General seemed able to collect any of this enormous sum of money until Mr. O'Malley took office. When he entered upon his duties he found there were three thousand proceedings brought by the corporations to review the assessments in Albany

County. All of these were in the hands of referees and dragged from month to month and year to year without result. Realizing that nothing could be accomplished under the referees system, Attorney General O'Malley drafted and had enacted an amendment to the Tax Law, giving him power to take these cases out of the hands of the referees and try them at extraordinary terms of the Supreme Court called at his request in various parts of the State. When this was accomplished corporations found themselves forced to trial for the first time in ten years. Not wishing to try the suit, many of which had no merit, they began to settle up their tax arrears with the result that in eighteen months Attorney General O'Malley had collected $40,000,000 of back taxes, an achievement which for years his predecessors failed to accomplish.

It is a singular coincidence that the two men, by whose efforts the burden of taxation has been equalized in this State, were companions from childhood; both farmers' sons, are practically of the same age and were born next door neighbors near Medina. Parents of both were poor and from birth they had to work hard for a living and obtained their education by studying whenever they had a few hours' leisure. Eventually both entered the same college and managed to complete their courses with honor. Any one who doubts that farmers' sons make good statesmen will find a lesson in the careers of these two men.

THE RIGHT AND WRONG WAY TO BURN COKE

KEEP THE FIRE POT FULL AND THE DRAFTS CLOSED. When all is said and done, that is the simple secret of successfully burning Genuine Gas Coke. It is the general rule for the general run of furnaces. Every man must study the peculiarities of his own furnace to get best results, whether he burns coal or coke.

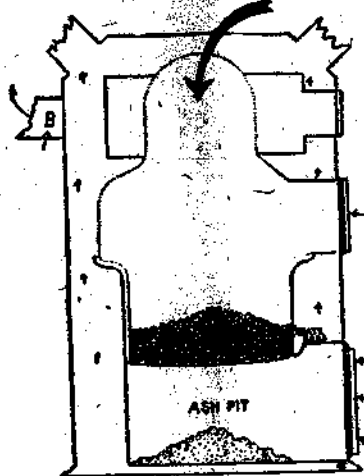

THE RIGHT WAY

The illustrations above give a clear idea of the right and wrong way to burn coke and incidentally, the wrong way to burn coke is the ONLY way in which COAL can be burned, for its weight makes it IMPOSSIBLE to keep the same body of fire that you can with lighter, more bulky coke.

Now, Coke excels just at this point. You can fill up the fire pot with it, and thus the ENTIRE SURFACE OF THE FIRE POT becomes intensely hot, and in turn quickly changes the cold air in the air chamber around the fire pot into hot air, upon which you draw at will from your registers.

Contrast this with the average coal furnace, pictured on the right. Note that only a small part of the surface of the fire pot comes into direct contact with the fuel body. Therefore the only way the sides of the fire pot can be heated is by the hot gases on their way to the chimney, a large portion of which heat goes up the chimney and is wasted.

Some people have burned coke in this way, and have been dissatisfied. There could be no other result. But, let them burn Genuine Gas Coke as per the illustration at the left and we'll guarantee that they will be pleased.

Remember. Our Coke Expert is always at your command, absolutely free of charge, to assist you in every possible way.

Herman W. Kandt Gains Strength Daily—Far in Advance of Opponent—Is Working Hard.

HERMAN W. KANDT

The County ticket in Oswego County is sure of a splendid majority. Herman W. Kandt, nominee for County Treasurer, is one of the strongest candidates ever nominated by the Republican party. Mr. Kandt is visiting the different towns every day and he finds the Republicans united all along the line. His prominence in the Grange appeals to the people, and also his general fitness for the office. One of his strongest supporters is former County Treasurer Thomas Moore, which made an attack on Thomas Moore, has stirred up friends of the veteran former County Treasurer all over Oswego County, and this letter is sure to cost Fred Moore hundreds and hundreds of votes. Mr. Kandt has made good from boyhood and it is predicted that he will receive a record majority.

A NOBLE LIFE ENDED

On October 11, 1918, in Washington, D. C., a life of great beauty and usefulness completed the span of an earthly life and Elena J. Dickinson entered into rest. * Hers was a life of faith and faithfulness and full fruition of altruistic service. Born near Bernards Bay, New York, March 15, 1841, her entire life from her earliest youth was passed in selfless devotion to the good of others. She was educated at the State Normal school at Oswego, New York, and later at Boston, Mass., and in her youth became a teacher in Fulton and Oswego where her influence over pupils was strongly inspirational. Later she worked for temperance, for missions, and for all humanitarian activities. Her belief that character is the only real possession was borne out by ceaseless works of self sacrifice and beneficence.

Funeral services were held in Washington on October 13, the Rev. Doctor Donald C. McLeod officiating and paying high tribute to her memory. Interment was made in Bowling Green, Va., next the grave of her recently deceased cousin, Mrs. O. J. Jeannette.

ROOSEVELT'S WORK FOR THE TICKET.

Splendid Oration Given Former President.

The Democrats, deflected into thinking that ex-President Roosevelt had lost his popularity with the people of this state, have declared that "Roosevelt is the great menace in this campaign, and Stimson should be defeated as a rebuke to Roosevelt."

They got their idea through their alliance with Wall street, where the former president is delighted to be hated and where he undeniably is hated. But the Democrats have discovered their error during the past few days. The popularity of Mr. Roosevelt is not on the wane, on the contrary, it is apparently on the increase, judging from the magnificent ovations that have been given him whenever he has appeared in any part of the state. When he entered the immense auditorium of the Terrace Garden in New York city the other evening he was greeted by a crowd that filled the hall to the point of bursting. But there were thousands on the outside who had been unable to get in. These thousands became so frenzied in their eagerness to hear the speaker that they tore down the partitions separating the auditorium from two adjoining halls, sat on the ruins and cheered and listened.

From this meeting Colonel Roosevelt went to the teeming (seemingly) districts of the east side, where his popularity has almost amounted to idolatry. His coming had been heralded long before, and the streets leading to the hall where he spoke were lined with thousands of wildly cheering men and women. Practically the same scenes of wild enthusiasm were enacted in Brooklyn, where the colonel appeared late at night.

Colonel Roosevelt is working for the election of Henry L. Stimson and for the whole Republican ticket as he has never worked before, and that is saying a lot. He regards the issue in the campaign as a moral issue, and he declares that the defeat of the Republican ticket would mean the delivery of the state to two bands of looters who have recently formed a partnership—Tammany Hall and the gamblers of Wall street. The state treasury is in danger, and the great projects of building good roads and the barge canal. Mr. Roosevelt declares that this is the most critical campaign in the history of the Republican party, and he will work for the victory of his party until the last day of the campaign.

Hoarseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by all dealers.

IS TOO MUCH
To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. ## FULTON RURAL CARRIERS

Duties and Foibles Described By Imaginative Writer

The following clever poem was read before the Rural Carriers at their session held in this city two weeks ago. Miss Hazel Darling read the poem and she brought out the points in very telling manner:

To our brother carriers here assembled,
On this eventful night,
We extend a hearty welcome,
And greet them with delight.

After our business is over,
And election of officers done,
We will fall in line for refreshments,
And a jolly evening of fun.

But first upon our program,
A brief history I would read,
Of the Fulton R. F. D. Carriers,
And then with our work we'll proceed.

Straightway our worthy president,
Looms up before your eyes;
He, like the great Napoleon,
Is small but very wise.

For eight long years he's waited,
For a mail wagon fine and new;
And at last his dreams are realized,
Fate places him with the favored few.

Next in line, our gay vice president,
And a bill collector, erstwhile,
Appears before your vision,
Wearing a perpetual smile.

Not satisfied with present honors,
To greater things he aspires;
His thoughts are ever turning,
To kindling presidential fires.

Six long years in the same office,
Our secretary, tall and straight,
Revered by all who know him,
Is the especial pet of fate.

And as he hath e'er been honored,
In life's journey well begun,
May he continue successful,
Till life's long race is done.

Capt. Boyd, our youthful treasurer,
Is far too sedate, by half,
He has never committed a folly,
Nor has he ever been known to laugh.

Another one of our members,
Whose name I will not speak;
Greatest promoter of organizations,
Ever for higher things will seek.

To be president of United States,
Is his perpetual desire,
Or for partnership with Dan Cupid,
He ever will aspire.

There is one of our worthy brothers,
From our memory never fades;
Expert in horse dealing and paper hanging,
In fact he's a "jack of all trades."

And although with these various callings,
He's strenuously occupied,
Yet, ever he seeks sweet recreation,
From the source of a long joy ride.

There's another who from our meetings

But when it comes to headquarters,
Give them enough to eat and and they're content.

Then we're a get-rich-quick member,
With mail business on the side,
Yet he has another occupation,
His lettuce is his joy and pride.

Now we'll speak of our big happy brother,
Who adds much to a jolly bunch;
He's ever ready for picnic or frolic,

And next comes our popular member,
Ever ready with a helping hand,

There's another one of our brothers,
Large in both size and heart,
With open house for brother carriers,
Ever willing to do his part.

At present he's seeking corn huskers,

To lend a helping hand.

Unwilling to join our association

Of the friendliest reputes.

Nervous Collapse

"I have traveled for thirty years continually. I lost a great deal of sleep, which together with constant worry left me in such a nervous state that finally, after having two collapses of nervous prostration, I was obliged to give up traveling altogether. I doctored continually but with no relief. Dr. Miles' Nervine came to my rescue—I cannot describe the suffering which this Nervine saved me. Whenever I am particularly nervous a few doses relieve me."

A. G. C. LIBBY, Wells, Me.

There are many nervous wrecks. There is nervous prostration of the stomach, of the bowels, and other organs. The brain, the kidneys, the liver, the nerve centers are all exhausted. There is but one thing to do—build up the nervous system by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Its strengthening influence upon the nervous system restores normal action to the organs, and when they all work in harmony, health is assured. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

With Washington in '78,
They all will pull together,
To get the best of fate.

In fact they're so filled with the spirit,
That deep-rooted in the minds of all,
Will ever be found this motto,
"United we stand, divided we fall."

And soon in the refreshment room,
You may behold the fruits of their labors,
For with the good natured rivalry of the fairer sex
They all try to outdo their neighbors.

FULTON PEOPLE

MARRIED BY JUSTICE

(Oswego Times)

The sequel to a little escapade which resulted in Walter Carvey of Fulton being arraigned in Police court on a charge of burglary in the third degree and then being indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge of assault in the second degree occurred last week in the office of City Clerk Hogan, when Carvey and Grace Moody of Fulton secured a marriage license and were married by Justice of the Peace, John J. White. The marriage occurred about four thirty o'clock.

Carvey and the Moody girl who has been detained at the County Jail as a witness in the Carvey case were brought from the Oswego County Jail to the City Hall by Deputy Sheriff Edick. The license was secured and Justice White was telephoned for. Accompanying the couple were their parents who witnessed the ceremony. This marriage will put an end to the Grand Jury indictment. Papers were secured and Carvey and his wife turned over to Probation Officer W. J. Dempsey.

Quick climate changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and sniffing, coughing and difficulty breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest remedy contains no opium, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

PARKER SHRINKS AGAIN

(New York Tribune)

Judge Parker woke up the wrong passenger when he began to explain that Mr. Stimson was a mere fee grabbing lawyer. Mr. Stimson's rejoinder shows how he looks the United States District Attorneyship at a sacrifice of nearly two-thirds of his professional income of $24,000 a year. When he retired from office it was not to get fat fees out of the government by finishing up the cases which as prosecutor he had under way, and that is what Judge Parker charged. He resigned to go back into private practice, where his opportunities to earn money were vastly greater than the opportunities presented in finishing, in a special retainer, the prosecution of Judge Parker's client, the Sugar Trust, and the other important prosecutions begun by him as District Attorney. Moreover, it was against his desire that he was retained by the government in the Morse and customs cases. He never sent in a bill for his very successful services to the government, but accepted the sum fixed by the President and the Attorney General, and that sum, so far as his personal share was concerned, was only $26,000, for work that took a year and a quarter. Now, Judge Parker's attack upon Mr. Stimson might have been excusable in some one who was unfamiliar with Mr. Stimson's services, who knew nothing of his standing at the bar before his appointment or of his professional opportunities after making the reputation he made as federal prosecutor. But Judge Parker, as an active member of the New York bar, and particularly as the opponent of Mr. Stimson in the prosecution of the Sugar Trust, was familiar with all these things. He deliberately sought to represent a conspicuous public service performed at a financial sacrifice as a vulgar piece of money grabbing. Mr. Stimson has made Mr. Parker look smaller and cheaper than he looked before.

FARMERS, GUARD GOOD HIGHWAYS

Great Improvements Are Threatened by Tammany.

MURPHY AFTER BIG CONTRACTS

Good Roads Are Essential to the Prosperity of the Farming Communities of This State, and the $100,000,000 Voted to Construct Them Must Be Safeguarded Against the Greed of Boss Murphy, Now Seeking Control of the State—What Happened Under the Last Democratic Rule May Occur Again.

The farmer must have good roads. The merchant of the small towns and cities must also have good roads. The latter must also have a canal system to keep down his freight bills and enable him to compete with those of the larger towns and with the department stores of the great cities. Good roads are absolutely essential to the prosperity of all farming communities.

The state has appropriated $50,000,000 for building good roads, and the various communities throughout the state have contributed $50,000,000 more for the same purpose. The state by direct vote of the people has appropriated over $100,000,000 for the construction of a great canal system.

These vast enterprises will be carried through by contractors, and the contracts will be let by state officials. The question to be considered by the voters at the coming election, and especially the voters of the farms and the towns, is whether these roads and canals are to be built by Tammany Hall contractors exclusively or by others taking part in competitive bidding. The whole issue of the campaign, so far as Tammany Hall is concerned, is the control of these vast contracts, and they figure that by the election of the Democratic ticket they will control them absolutely.

This is not guesswork. It is proved by the facts of history, for Tammany greed does not change, and what Tammany went after four years ago it is going after now. Four years ago Tammany Hall elected its entire state ticket with the exception of governor. The big contracts are let by the state engineer. Not long ago the former Democratic state engineer was tried on the charge of misappropriating state funds. In his defense William Travers Jerome, former Democratic district attorney, said:

"We don't deny that there was a world of crooked business, and we shall contend that the power of Tammany Hall put him in a clerk there, and put him there to put the screws on the contractors."

"We are going to show you and contend and admit all through this case (that he the clerk) was put there as the collector of Tammany Hall and (Charles) Murphy to squeeze money out of the contractors and that he did so, and how much he squeezed out of them you can judge when out of his own lips he said that about 50 per cent of the bids had been changed. And we shall contend before you, as honest men, knowing human nature, that if Frederick Stene had stood in with the clerk in shaking down contractors for the Lord only knows how much and if 50 per cent of the bids were fixed it could not have been less than half a million of dollars on the money spent. If we can judge by this particular contract."

Throughout his speech Mr. Jerome refers to Tammany Hall as "the quasi criminal conspiracy called a part of the Democratic party, affiliated throughout the state with crooks of the same character, of their own making."

Do the voters want this kind of an administration repeated? Do they want their money wasted? Mr. Murphy nominated Mr. Bessel, a Tammany officeholder, for state engineer and surveyor and William Schorer, treasurer of Tammany Hall, for comptroller. It is the business of the state engineer to let the contracts and of the comptroller to audit the bills.

The way to prevent the waste of the good roads money is to support the Republican state ticket not only by votes, but also by contributions for the legitimate purposes of the campaign. Considerable money is necessary to get these facts before all the voters. Checks, no matter how small, should be sent to Mr. Clarence Whitman, treasurer of the Republican state committee, 48 West Thirty-ninth street, New York City.

Stimson as a Farmer.
Henry L. Stimson, the Republican candidate for governor, is best known for his work in prosecuting the sugar trust and crooked bankers, but he finds his greatest pleasure in life on his farm in Suffolk county. This is a real farm, five miles from the nearest town, and he is said to be almost as good a farmer as he is a lawyer. The farm where his great-grandfather lived, in Greene county, is still in the possession of the family.

"I am," said Theodore Roosevelt to a big audience, "an agent of destruction to the sugar trust and to the big crook generally, but I want to do full justice to Mr. Dix. He will never be an agent of destruction to any powerful interest, because his master, Mr. Murphy, won't let him be."

SECRETARY OF STATE KOENIG

A Man Who Has Made Good in Office. His Record His Strongest Plea for Re-election.

Secretary of State Samuel S. Koenig is daily in receipt of hundreds of letters from independent voters in different parts of the state assuring him of their support and votes. Koenig appeals to this class of voters for he has conducted his office in a way to give offense to no party men. In all of the many election cases which he has decided he has only considered the facts brought to his attention and his opinions have been based upon the facts alone.

Mr. Koenig has the benefit of experience in the State Department. The Legislature added to the duties of the Secretary and it is now the third largest revenue producing department in the state. Mr. Koenig has devoted his full time and attention to the office and has become thoroughly familiar with the workings of the various bureaus under his control.

The Utica Daily Press, one of the best known independent journals in the state, says that Secretary Koenig should be re-elected on his record and that he will not only receive the full support of his own party, but also of the independent voters of the state.

DESERVES RE-ELECTION

Hon. Thomas F. Fennell of Elmira, Republican Candidate for State Treasurer. Mr. Fennell was a Member of the Famous Cornell Crew Which Rowed Oxford at Henley a Few Years Ago.

Deputy Secretary of State Thomas F. Fennell of Elmira, the nominee for State Treasurer on the Republican ticket, is making a splendid canvass of the state. The famous Cornell coach "Charley" Courtney and "Dan" Reed, who is coaching the Cornell football eleven, are taking a deep interest in Fennell's campaign and are soliciting votes for him in every county. Fennell was one of the "star" athletes at Cornell years ago and was a member of the crew which went to England to row Oxford at Henley.

THOMAS F. FENNEL

Fennell is an experienced man in places of responsibility and trust and his record is one of honorable achievement. He was Alderman and City Attorney of Elmira years ago and was also elected County Attorney. In all three positions he made a splendid record and won the approval of the press and public.

As Deputy Secretary of State Koenig, Mr. Fennell has made for himself a name in Albany and many public officials have warmly praised his work. Many independent newspapers have come out for Fennell's election.

district. Many an man aspired to the office but knew that victory could not perch upon their banners in the face of the superb record made by Mr. Sweet at Albany last winter. He was tried out in many situations and always found measuring up to the necessities of the occasion. In Mr. Sweet the governor found a staunch advocate of his policies and it was on account of this attitude in favor of the plain people as opposed to the politicians that Mr. Sweet found his great strength with his constituents this year.

He will be returned to Albany by an even greater majority.

BROTHERHOOD BOYS AT PLAY

Camp Fire at "The Windrow" Made Enjoyable By Games and Substantial Refreshments.

Among the many beautiful places distributed along the historic Oswego river, is the Windrow, with its cottages and grove owned by Doctor H. P. Marsh. Professor Ross Wolfer, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Brotherhood class of the First Methodist church, introduced by President H. J. Wilson and the rest of the committee, decided to hold a camp-fire at the Windrow last Friday evening, and about one hundred men went carrying lanterns, and a glorious time was enjoyed. Some of the distinguished men went in their touring cars. Some of the city fathers, deacons and elders were present. The three celebrated caterers, H. J. Watson, A. Zachariah Wolcott and Frank Porterhouse were there and served up a delicious oyster stew, with trimmings for the crowd.

They went early and had a rousing fire in the fire place in the large cottage. After supper was served all were summoned and seated in the roomy cottage and an entertainment given: "My Country 'tis of thee," was heartily sung by all, then President Wilson introduced the celebrated Oswego Falls bard with poetry bubbling over in his soul, and he recited an original poem entitled, "The Brotherhood Class," which was well received and applauded. Then came another great treat for the audience when President Wilson ushered in the distinguished French Wit and Phrenologist Professor Norton of Leather University. He entered blindfolded; was a tall spare man with dark hair and beautiful black side whiskers and mustache; he was a gentleman of imposing presence and pleasant manner and addressed with a French musical accent. Professor Norton in his lecture was eloquent in his description of the frontal bone of the head with jaw breaking names for the different parts of the head, giving the different kinds of heads. He said there was the blockhead, the bull head, the doughhead, the dull head, the numhead, the logger head, and the dead head. President Wilson then seated alternately five subjects in a chair before him, and blindfolded, Professor Norton proceeded to manipulate their bumps. After digging around among the dry bones and skulls he finally excavated a facsimile of John D. Rockefeller, on the head more hair, and a Robert Burns, a Shakespeare and a Daniel Webster. He then and there deliberately went to work and slaughtered that great orator just for fun and sport for the guests. A round, sound cabbage head on a stick was placed against the chair for him to examine and he brought down the house when he said it belonged to the last subject, Daniel Webster. Everybody seemed happy and when the crowd returned the road was illuminated by a long string of lanterns in Indian file. A vote of thanks was taken before leaving for Doctor Marsh for the use of the Windrow.

HARRY A. ALLEN

111 Cayuga Street

Fulton, N. Y.

Have come to the camp of the Doctor to sup:

More varied assemblages seldom are found.

Tho' searches be made in the neighborhood round:

We're doctors of medicine, and also divinity,

With judges and lawyers to make up a trinity:

We've clerks and professors who gather in taxes,

And men who have labored with shovels and axes,

And those who supply us the food we are eating,

And those who preside at our final retreating:

These last may be mentioned, of all the professions,

For sure they are first at the last of processions:

And tho' we have nothing to ruffle their feelings with,

They're surely the last that we wish to have dealings with.

But whether they doctor your body or soul,

Or plead at the Bar, and your merits extol,

Or serve you with dry goods, or gather your taxes,

Or delve with their shovels, or chop with their axes,

Or sell you the food that your body sustains,

Or see that you're buried with amplest pains,

You'll find deglutition in common to all,

And lower jaws labor for great and for small.

To-night we possess all there is in the camp,

And equal we stand, from professor to tramp;

So let us, (whatever our calling may be),

United in bonds of fraternity, see in all fellow creatures, of God given birth,

Whose destiny is to the dust of the earth,

There, long to repose, 'neath the soil they once trod,

A being brought forth in the image of God.

PROMINENT DEMOCRAT DEAD

David Bennett Hill, ex-United States Senator and ex-Governor of New York, died suddenly at Wolfert Roost, his country home near Albany on Thursday morning. He had been ill nearly three weeks with a cold and a bilious attack, but his condition had not been considered serious. He was sitting up in bed to take a drink of water when he was seized with acute dilatation of the heart. Death quickly followed, with no one but a nurse at his bedside. Mr. Hill had long been a sufferer from Bright's disease, which primarily brought about the condition which caused his death.

With his demise passes away the last of the old school Democrats who made that party stable and progressive. He was a born leader and won many a hard fought battle by his own faith in his party and his cause. His death while not unexpected, brought regret to many who knew and respected the dead party loyalist. Governor White ordered the flags on all public buildings at Albany half-masted in respect to the deceased.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM ARRANGED

Fourth of Series of Popular Promenades and Concerts to be Given by Citizens Band in Church's Hall Friday Evening.

Music makes life worth while. The history of music is the history of the world. It is the history of men, of families, of communities, of nations and of all peoples. Every country and every race has its music. It is the common language of the race. It is the bond of nationhood.

When its music is forgotten the race disintegrates and the nation dissolves.

When music dies out of the home the family scatters.

When music is hushed in the community, whether that community be a busy village, a thriving town or a bustling city, the hum and whirl and pulse of common activity lose their inspiration, their forces wander, and their energies wane.

The Citizens band does not propose to let music be hushed in our own city, and in spite of the fact that it seems to be up to them to work out their own salvation they are going about it manfully, in an effort to replenish some of their worn out equipment, and they are certainly deserving of loyal support from the townspeople.

It is understood that their dances thus far have been well attended, but simply by young people who come perhaps more through a desire to participate in the dances, than with an inspiration to help the organization. On the other hand, it is of course not expected that the younger class of the city will prove the financial support that the organization is looking for, and it has been the hope of the management of the others who would not care to participate that the business men and patriots would at least show their interest in the efforts of the organization by purchasing tickets which the members have been endeavoring to dispose of.

The band is most grateful for the support which has been given their parties thus far by the young people of the city, and shall endeavor as they have in the past, to give value received in good pleasurable music to those attending the same, and it is only necessary to glance at the following program for this week to satisfy ones self that the band will certainly make good their promise.

KNAPP ENDORSES LUTHER W. MOTT

Hon. C. L. Knapp Heartily Endorses Candidacy of L. W. Mott as His Successor. Mr. Mott Pledges His Services to Three Counties. Made Strong Speech at Lowville on Friday Evening.

A rousing mass meeting was held at Lowville on Friday evening at which Hon. C. L. Knapp presided and at which the most eloquent orators in Lewis county made earnest pleas for the nominees on the Republican ticket.

In discussing the Congressional situation Mr. Knapp said in part:

"I am glad that our candidate for member of Congress Luther W. Mott is with us tonight and I feel certain that the people of Lewis county are delighted to have him with us. I am sure you will all be pleased to listen to what he has to say. Mr. Mott worthily bears the name of one of the most honored families in Northern New York. I have had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with his father, Col. John T. Mott for many years. He has been an important figure in the affairs of this district as our State committeeman for the past twenty years. He enjoys the confidence of everybody in this section of the State and he has been a big figure in the business world. He has always enjoyed the esteem not only of all his social and business associates, but his business competitors as well. I have known the candidate for Congress, L. W. Mott for a number of years and I want to say to you all that he is a young man of ability, loyalty and courage.

He leads an active business life and is in every way qualified for the position of representative in Congress from this important district. He has taken an honorable and leading position in the business world as shown by the fact that he is today serving as President of the State Bankers' Association. I am familiar with his ability and his interest in the affairs of his own city. As President of the Oswego Chamber of Commerce he has led movements for the advancement and prosperity of Oswego along business and commercial lines. A further illustration of his ability to discharge the duties of the office he seeks is the fact that he is actively engaged as Vice President in directing the affairs of one of the oldest banking institutions in Northern New York. He has been a business success in every way, and he has also been a leader in Republican party affairs in and out of the district.

Mr. Mott has taken an energetic part in the direct primary movement in the State as a member of the State direct primary committee which greatly aided Governor Hughes. He merits the support of every voter in this district. In addition to his qualifications for the position he stands for the policies of the Republican party and if elected to Congress he will loyally support our great President, William H. Taft. In conclusion I wish to say that Mr. Mott is a strong candidate for Congress and his appeal to the people of this district for support is sure to result in a notable victory.

Upon being introduced by Mr. Knapp Mr. L. W. Mott made a strong speech on the issues of the campaign and he urged the electors to rally to the ticket with all the influence at their command. He urged votes for every man on the ticket, his speech making a most favorable impression and winning for him many doubtful voters in Lewis county.

"I am against corporation or lobby rule," said Mr. Mott, "I stand for legislation which will promote the welfare of the great body of the common people of whom I want to be called one. I want to do everything

FALLEY SEMINARY PROPERTY

Its Purchase Strongly Recommended by the Board of Education.

Feeling the present necessity and the much greater future necessity of possessing the Falley Seminary property for the city for school purposes, the Board of Education earnestly ask that the taxpayers of Fulton vote for the recommendation that it be bought for the sum of $18,000 of the Mary J. Gilmour heirs for the following reasons:

1. The primary grades of the east side schools are so crowded that 126 pupils in these primary rooms at the present time can come to only half day sessions.

2. To meet the demands of Fulton, a commercial course has just been established in our high school. Next year we must furnish a room in the present Fourth street building for the accommodation of the 21 pupils now pursuing this course and for the next year's class which will begin this course. This will necessitate the removal of one of the grade rooms in the Fourth street building to other quarters.

3. The present high school quarters are inadequate. We have at the present time 290 high school pupils. The main high school room—the assembly hall—has 141 pupils' desks. When all high school pupils assemble together, which is done nearly every morning, the room will not accommodate all by seating them two in each seat.

4. The Seminary building already contains four grade rooms fitted up for school purposes by the city on which a rental of $400.00 per year is paid by the city.

5. We desire, as soon as conditions will possibly permit, to introduce into our schools, manual training for the boys and domestic science for the girls. This will require more school room.

6. We feel that to meet present needs, we can, by building partitions, make several grade rooms in the present large chapel of the Falley Seminary building.

LOCAL CARS arrive from Syracuse at 6:30 a. m., 7:20 a. m., and every other hour thereafter at 20 minutes after the odd hour to and including 9:20 p. m., then 10:20 p. m., 11:20 p. m., and 12:40 a. m. (Last Car).

All Agents of the Syracuse, Lake Shore & Northern R. R., have on sale mileage books containing $10 worth of travel coupons good on that road only which are sold at $8. Interchangeable coupon books good for travel on all leading electric lines in New York State and containing $12 worth of travel coupons are sold at $10. Commutation books are sold between several points on the line at reduced rates. Apply to Ticket Agents for further information.

7. The rear part of the property which contains nearly an acre of land will furnish a much needed playground for the High school and grade pupils and obviate the necessity of using the public park for that purpose.

8. The front part of the property, which also contains nearly an acre of land, furnishes the best site in the city for a future High school building, as it is situated midway between the two bridges, about the geographical center of the city—north and south—and faces the public park. When such property is desired for school purposes, the value placed upon it is often doubled.

9. When a parochial school is built, it can hardly be expected that more than 200 pupils would be taken from the public schools. This number would not remedy the present congested condition in the east side schools as there are at present 160 pupils housed in the seminary building, 126 attending half day sessions and a demand for commercial, domestic science, manual training rooms.

10. Neither the Phillips street nor Fourth street school buildings are planned, nor could they, in our judgment, be re-arranged into desirable High school buildings suitable to the future needs of our city. They have assembly halls and grade rooms which make them desirable grammar school buildings from which pupils may be graduated to a central high school.

11. The assessed valuation of our city is $4,900,287 this year. The city now pays $400 per year for the rent of four rooms—and an amount equal to that can be secured for other rentals in the Seminary building. More rooms in the building can also be used to meet present needs. If the city is bonded for $15,000, the present income from the property would more than equal the interest on that amount. An assessment of $1,000 per year on $4,900,287 assessed valuation is a very small amount.

12. Our public schools are the only public institution in which all, without consideration to politics, religion or nationality, are deeply interested. We therefore ask the taxpayers of Fulton to vote for the proposition to purchase for the city the Falley Seminary—a proposition which in our judgment is essential to the best interests of our public school system and a wise investment.

EFFECT OF COLLECTING THE FRANCHISE TAXES

Few taxpayers understand thoroughly what a service Attorney General O'Malley has rendered them by compelling the 'public service corporations to obey the special franchise tax law, passed in 1899, and to pay up their ten years of back taxes amounting to the enormous sum of $40,000,000. This act of the Attorney General did more to lessen the burden of taxation on the small property owner than any other official act for fifty years.

Before Attorney General O'Malley was elected two years ago, the Legislature was informed by the State Board of Tax Commissioners that "There has not been that well defined or systematic direction of this legislation (special franchise) which, in the opinion of this Board, is absolutely essential for the settlement of correct principles for fixing the valuation of special franchises."

To illustrate the neglect which has been permitted in the collection of these taxes it is noted that of the special franchise assessments made in 1900, the first year the law was in force, there still remains undisposed of the assessments against twenty-two corporations, firms or individuals representing aggregate assessments of $19,962,911. Of the second year of the Special Franchise Tax Law, assessments aggregating $107,378,317 still are pending and the taxes due upon this amount remain unpaid. For the third and for the subsequent years of the Special Franchise Tax Law, the records show a steadily increasing number of assessments being contested in the courts, with the total of unpaid taxes due upon these assessments constantly increasing.

The members of this Board are deeply impressed with the necessity for the enactment of such changes in the law as are necessary to end the scandal which the above figures describe. With this situation in mind Attorney General O'Malley promised in his campaign speeches of two years ago to change the policy in the direction of this litigation and force the collection of these special franchise taxes representing arrears of ten years. His promises have been kept. Upwards of three thousand actions brought by corporations to delay the payment of these taxes are pending when Attorney General O'Malley was elected. Since he assumed the responsibility of office, practically all of these proceedings have been disposed of by trial or settlement. As a result $40,000,000 in taxes have been paid to the various cities and towns of the State. Every taxpayer in the State has been benefited by Attorney General O'Malley's persistent efforts.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

In case of a burn or scald, what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by all dealers.

By consenting to appear in a sketch, with the vaudeville young woman with whose name his is associated, King Manuel might make enough money to return to Portugal and wield a great deal of influence.

Kansas is evidently in some doubt as to whether the big stick is to be relied on as an insular instrument.

A New York woman has failed with liabilities of $27,684 and assets of $7. Why she didn't spend the $7 is not explained.

BARGE CANAL COMPLETED IN 1914

State Engineer Williams's Excellent Record as Barge Canal Head.

News dispatches from Albany convey the important news that, on the recommendation of State Engineer Williams, the Canal Board had approved the revised specifications and estimate for Contract No. 37, for the improvement of the Oswego River for Barge Canal purposes from Fulton to Oswego. This Contract includes the construction of a new "High Dam" near Oswego, and a new dam at Minetto.

The plans and specifications for this Contract have been completed for some time, and the sole reason the Contract has not been let earlier is because, when it was originally advertised, no bids were tendered. The revision makes no salient changes in the plans as originally laid down, the locations and crest elevations remaining as heretofore planned by Mr. Williams.

The work is being advertised and there is no reason to doubt that the contract will be let at the requisite time for opening bids. It should be added that the carrying out of this plan will provide open river navigation in a channel 200 feet wide for the full distance between Oswego and Three River Point (except at locks), a plan Mr. Williams has insistently urged since taking office.

STATE ENGINEER WILLIAMS

The Canal Board's approval of the present plans for this Contract puts the State Engineer in a position to push forward this important link in the Barge Canal chain with the same speed and energy that is being displayed on all other portions of the Canal now in course of construction. It is well in this connection to call attention to the fact that in the twenty-one months he has been in office State Engineer Williams has completed, in round numbers, fourteen millions dollars worth of work, as against eight millions completed by his predecessors in forty-two months (or double the time)—a showing that speaks volumes for Mr. Williams' ability as an organizing and administrative head. Approximately sixty million dollars worth of Canal contracts are under way—which, by the way, have been let at a saving to the State of two million dollars, under the original estimate (an instance of careful economy almost unparalleled in the annals of great public works)—and it is now estimated that if the present efficient Canal administration remains in charge, the Canal will be completed in 1914.

State Engineer Williams' showing as Barge Canal head certainly entitles him to re-election.

Talking about the bumper crop crops is the pleasantest gossip we know of.

The Civil Service Commission would render a good service if it would explain exactly where activity in politics becomes "pernicious."

Security for the money is absolutely assured by reasons of the conservative management of the bank and the rigid requirements of the State observed in the handling of all its funds.

FULTON MAN HONORED

Mr. H. P. Allen of this city, who was recently appointed by Governor Hughes a member of the Board of Managers of the St. Lawrence Hospital for the Insane, was last week elected Secretary to the Board.

This is a signal honor coming as it does from the members of the Board and without solicitation from Mr. Allen. It proves that the Fulton man has made very good on the important Board and that his efforts are appreciated by his co-workers.

A reader asks if Roosevelt did not really start the whole insurgent movement. No, he did not. He helped it but Cummins and La Follette were actually working at it before Roosevelt climbed San Juan Hill.

LARGE POSTAL SAVING LAST YEAR

Deficit Decreased by Two-thirds in Last Fiscal Year.

Washington, D. C.—Figures, the compilation of which was completed at the Postoffice Department on Thursday show that the exact reduction of the postal deficit in the fiscal year ended June 30 last was $11,500,000. The deficit of the previous fiscal year was $17,000,000, so that in one year the deficit was brought down to $5,500,000.

In commenting on the saving of $11,500,000 last year, Postmaster Hitchcock said:

"This tremendous saving was made without the curtailment of the postal facilities in any direction. On the contrary, during the year there were many important extensions of facilities. In eliminating wasteful expenditures the department has been exceedingly careful not to hamper in any way the constant development of the postal service required to meet the increasing business needs of the country.

In a word, the department's policy is to extend the service as rapidly as is warranted by increasing population, and to accomplish its savings, not by the curtailment of postal facilities, but by handling in a more systematic and businesslike manner the constantly expanding volume of the mails.

WILL DOES NOT GIVE

Making bequests of $75,000 to charitable institutions and $10,000 to his sister, Amelia Bauer, of Oswego, the will of Herman Bartels, former millionaire brewer of Syracuse, was admitted to probate. Few if any of these bequests will be paid, as Mr. Bartels died a poor man, the post-mortem stating that he had only about $1,000. The will was made in 1903, before his financial reverses.

MISTAKE IN FILING CERTIFICATE

Watertown, N. Y.—George R. Van Names, who was Secretary of the Schenectady Convention and who is Chairman of County Committee, made an error in filing the name of Howard F. Baker, the Democratic Senatorial candidate, making the name Harold instead of Howard. It has been certified to the County Clerk here and probably in Oswego county. Mr. Van Names is beginning proceedings to have the error rectified.

LION FONDLES A CHILD

In Pittsburgh a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through colds, croup, and whooping cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he takes cold, its a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for coughs, colds, croup, asthma, hemorrhages, weak lungs. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

INCREASE IN LOCAL POST OFFICE

It is gratifying to note that the local post office shares in the general prosperity of our State and nation and that Fulton keeps pace with cities of even larger growth in industrial and commercial prosperity. The following tabulated returns of sales of stamps and stamped paper at post office for the periods named, furnishes encouraging and pleasing information:

MUST ASK FOR RECEIPTS

Beginning on December 1 the post-office authorities will not forward a receipt to a person who has sent a registered letter unless the receipt is asked for at the time the letter or package is registered. Heretofore the postmaster has submitted a receipt for signature every time a registered letter or package was delivered and the same returned to the sender of the letter or parcel. The receipt will be given on request.

THREATENED POSTMASTER

New York, Oct. 29.—The threats that have been made to kill Postmaster E. M. Morgan of New York city was revealed yesterday when Morris Phillips, a discharged employee of the Postoffice, was arraigned in night court, charged with making the threats. The prisoner convinced the court that he was in an intoxicated condition on the night when the threats are said to have been made. He was fined $10.

A SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

STILL DODGING

(New York Tribune)
Mr. Dix's Buffalo speech would have made a much better impression on the public mind if, instead of devoting four-fifths of it to cheap personalities and the remaining fifth to generalities, he had told the public specifically where he stood upon the vital issues of the campaign. As "The New York World" said so well of Mr. Chandler two years ago, he "is mistaken if he thinks he can make a creditable or an honorable campaign by evading every question that is presented. Perhaps he can dodge all of the issues some of the time and some of the issues all of the time, but he cannot dodge all of the issues all of the time." Mr. Dix cannot dodge all of the issues all of the time. Perhaps it is no longer true that he is trying to dodge all of the issues. Mr. Stinson's persistent prodding has drawn from him something more than an exhibition of bad temper, in a hesitating and shambling fashion he has climbed down off the Democratic platform regarding public service regulation. But he is still on that platform regarding "sumptuary" legislation.

WORK WELL DONE

What Governor Hughes Says About Attorney General O'Malley

"The Department (Attorney General's) not only requires an efficient staff but an able head to take care of the diversified work that is thrust upon it by the other State departments, and I can confidently say that the Attorney General's Department has had both for the last two years. The Attorney General of the State has one of the most difficult tasks to perform, but the work has been well done."

A-Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have yellow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangement, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dizziness, rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are working badly and derangement. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely soothe the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper function. So much so that they are not only a remedy but a preventive. They can be relied upon to restore health and vigor. Price, 25 cents.

OLD DOLLAR BILL

Will Be Reissued To Meet Demand For More Small Bills.

Washington, D. C.—The old 1-cent States $1 notes which disappeared from circulation in 1895 are to be called into service again. Secretary MacVeagh has decided that the enormous demand for bills of smaller denomination warrants an issue, which was authorized in 1907, but until now has never seemed really necessary.

The plates which have been preserved in the Bureau of Printing and Engraving will be pressed into service and beginning on Thursday the notes were issued at about the rate of $1,200,000 a day until the demand for small bills is met.

There are issued $346,681,016 of United States notes. That amount is authorized by law and does not change. Of the sum about $75,000,000 is in notes of the denomination of $20 and upwards. Secretary MacVeagh believes the demand for notes of larger denomination is amply taken care of by gold certificates, so beginning to-day all United States notes of $20 or more which will come into the treasury for redemption or in course of business will be destroyed and their value will be issued in notes of $1 each.

The total amount of United States notes in issue of course will remain unchanged. Banks all over the country have been complaining that there were not enough $1 silver certificates to meet the demand.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures cough and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

TWO MEN INJURED

Antoine Dean and Edward Kennedy were severely injured, Mr. Dean probably mortally so, on Saturday evening as they were driving in First street, by being run into by a south bound trolley car. Their wagon was converted into splinters and both men were dragged perhaps 200 feet before the car could be stopped. When picked up it was found that Dean had suffered a fractured hip, dislocated shoulder and many other injuries. Mr. Kennedy escaped with scalp wounds, bruises and shock. Both were carried to the Lee hospital where Drs. H. P. Marsh and S. D. Keller attended them.

The two men were driving south and just as the car was upon them they attempted to cross from the left to the right side of the street. The motorman threw on the emergency brakes but was powerless to avert the accident.

Next County Treasurer

Herman W. Kandt will become the next county treasurer unless all signs fail and all men belong to the Ananias club. His candidacy appeals to the electors and his personality is above reproach. He will devote his entire time to the duties of his office and will take pride in its conduct and the approval of the patrons. He is young but capable and is conducting a clean campaign.

Sweet Will Succeed Self.

Practically no opposition to the election of Thaddeus C. Sweet to succeed himself in the Assembly has developed. His opponents, realizing how futile would be effort of theirs against his magnificent record of last season. Speaker Wadsworth, in his address in Fulton last week paid the highest tribute to Mr. Sweet, saying that his constituency appreciated his efforts and that he knew how clean and conscientious a worker Mr. Sweet was for his district because he was there and saw him work.

Vote for Mr. Sweet and his associates on the ticket. Do not hamper the work of the one by trying his hands in defeating those in full sympathy with him and his methods.

Senator Cobb

From the standpoint of Oswego county Lieutenant Governor George H. Cobb is the brightest spot in Jefferson county. He is a man of whom any county might be proud and whom every elector might in confidence support. His is not an enviable position in the unsightly melee against the Republican ticket that money and false accusations have developed in his home city, and Oswego county will give him her approval and votes.

Mr. Cobb is destined to occupy yet a higher niche in the political field and so long as he continues the record he has established he may count upon Oswego's loyalty.

A vote for Mr. Cobb is a vote for clean politics and a clean man.

When voting on Tuesday next, remember the fellows far down on the ticket. They are all worthy of your support and are but awaiting an opportunity to give you splendid service. Dr. L. F. Hollis has served as coroner for one term and was re-nominated after a stubborn fight by a tremendous majority. D. Page Morehouse is one of the younger members of the Oswego county bar, a son of Attorney D. P. Morehouse, and very popular with a large circle of acquaintances. He will make a painstaking Special Surrogate. L. Carl Sargent is one of the brightest young men in the county, a student, and with an ambition to make the best school commissioner the Third District ever had. He will make a fitting successor to Herman W. Kandt. Vote for these boys. They are all such boys as you would like to see your boy grow into.

Sincerity of Electors

The sincerity of the electors in the State of New York is on trial this Fall and the votes on Tuesday next will show whether the fights waged for Governor Hughes and his policies by the electors, were mere pastime or a sincere desire upon the part of the voters for political purity and State advancement.

If the former, then it were well that the politicians and the interests rule and that Tammany Hall should hold undisputed sway for two years in the State upon which the eyes of all the United States center.

If the latter, then Henry L. Stimson and every man upon the Republican ticket will be swept into office by a majority so stupendous as to call a halt for a long time to come, upon the aspiration of Tammany and all other unclean things in the State.

Vote the Republican ticket.

Young Men For War

Glancing over the nominees on the Republican ticket this Fall, one is impressed with the fact that it is a ticket of young men, as the present age is the age of young men. A look into their faces and their histories of things achieved reveal that they have not wasted their years in idleness but rather have labored in the upbuilding of things worth while. A few of them are as yet new in politics but the large majority have been renominated as a reward for faithfulness in service. Some have been promoted from lower to higher rank in the field of political activity. Upon their private and political records there are no discreditable marks.

The advent of the young men into the political arena has evidently been beneficial and a forerunner of better conditions. It was the young men who made possible the election and the re-election of Governor Hughes, and the house-cleaning in many quarters. It is left for the young men of the State to keep up the good work and to look to it that no backward step is taken in the Empire State.

The Republican ticket is a ticket of young men. Elect them.

Oswego vs Jefferson County

The pigishness of Jefferson county is Oswego County's opportunity which the electors will not be slow to take advantage of. At present Jefferson county has one more vote in the Senatorial convention than Oswego county and the time is far remote when Oswego county can hope for fair treatment from its sister county in the senatorial district. In their greed to hold all offices within their boundary, Jefferson is in danger of losing the majority representation in the Senatorial convention as it is based upon the number of Republican votes cast per thousand of population.

Oswego county does not ask charity of Jefferson in the present Congressional fight, she but asks justice; and denied that she is planning to roll up such a majority for Congressman and for the entire Republican ticket, as to wrest from selfish and unfair Jefferson her supremacy and to compel her to seek, rather than to hold the privilege of denying, justice and fair treatment.

Breathes there the Republican in the county of Oswego, with soul so dead that he will fail to respond to the call to stand by party and by his county? A thousand noes.

Shall New York Go Backward?

The shocking disclosure that half a million dollars was raised by gamblers to defeat Governor Hughes's anti-race-track bill at Albany came none too soon. Common rumor at Albany, during the legislative session, while the race-track bill was pending, credited the gambling element with having raised a large fund with which to corrupt the Legislature. At first the effort succeeded, but eventually the moral forces, led with a steady hand by Governor Hughes, triumphed. The gamblers were banished from the race tracks of New York.

This is a good time to point out to the people of the State that the race-track gamblers found the great majority of their supporters not among the Republican members of the Legislature, but among the Democratic representation. Every measure advocated by Governor Hughes and supported by the moral sentiment of the people had its strongest support on the Republican and its strongest opposition on the Democratic side.

Nor should it be forgotten that, when Governor Hughes was elected the first time, the remainder of the State ticket was made up of Democrats. The two years' experience the State had with these Democratic sub-officials is recent and well remembered. The scandalous accusations regarding the conduct of the attorney general's office and the recent disclosures on the trial of the State engineer tell their own story. It is said that some Republican bankers and business men this year are contemplating the support of the entire Democratic State ticket as a rebuke to Colonel Roosevelt. Let them bear in mind what this means. It requires no stretch of the memory to do so.

While Mr. Dix, the Democratic candidate for the governorship, is a business man of conceded ability and integrity, he has had no experience in public life. Henry L. Stimson, the Republican nominee, has a clean record of deeds accomplished for the public welfare. His canvass of the State has been wonderfully effective in impressing his strong personality on the people. As for the rest of the State ticket, it is only necessary to compare the record of the Republican candidates, nearly all of whom have served the public faithfully for the past two years, with that of the candidates on the Democratic ticket. These candidates include Schomer, a pronounced politician of the Tammany type, whose official record has been severely criticized, and who now seeks the important office of comptroller. The list also includes an ex-saloonkeeper of Buffalo, Mr. Kennedy, as State Treasurer. He would be custodian of the millions of the people's money.

What do the decent and respectable people of this State think of a ticket made up in this indiscriminate way by Mr. Murphy, the boss of Tammany Hall? The surprising thing about it is that so clean a man as Mr. Dix should consent to run at the head of it.

Clever and Convincing

The cartoon on the first page of this edition is most clever, convincing and timely. In it the real issue before the electors this Fall is as clearly outlined as could have been done in a page of sentences. "The big stick" that can stay the Tammany Hall control of the State Capitol and all public interests, is the vote of the electors. Neither Col. Roosevelt nor President Taft can prevent the horrible catastrophe; the elector is sovereign.

Vote the straight Republican ticket this Fall and you will treasure the recollection with pride.

On Monday afternoon considerable excitement was occasioned by a collision on the O. & W. tracks at Broadway between the shifting engine and a freight, the crews of both trains having to jump for their lives. A great deal of damage was done to the rolling stock and it was late on Tuesday before the tracks were cleared.

A feature of the wreck was that the engineer and the fireman on the shifter were father and son, while the engineer on the freight was another son.

FOR NOVEMBER
Copyright 1910 by C. H. RIETH.

JUST A MINUTE—

November.
Mr. Taft, who rules the nation,
Offers this, his proclamation;

Whereas, Providence continues
Blessing us from day to day,
And the boon of independence
Has, we take it, come to stay;

And whereas, indulgent nature Lavishes upon us still Bounty in excess of what the Weather and the bugs can kill;

And whereas, the old republic
Couldn't be improved upon,
Notwithstanding everybody Gets to run it off and on;

Therefore, I, as delegated
Now and for a short time hence
President, decree that turkey Shall go up to 20 cents.

That's about all there is to it.
Once the country raised its own,
And the White House proclamation
Was not greeted with a groan. Father simply grabbed the hatchet, mother got the water hot, father read the proclamation to the turkeys in the lot, all the young and female turkeys promptly fainted from the shock, and after due farewells the gobbler laid his head upon the block.
No one telephoned the butcher, asking what a turkey cost. No one in his deep resentment wished the Fertile had been lost. No one, while the feast proceeded, knew the torment of the rack figuring upon his napkin what the day had set him back.
Everybody was provided, as the founders pre-supposed. No one can be very thankful, if the truth should be disclosed, paying what we pay for turkey, and, for all of Heaven's gifts, feeling that the day was founded for the Armours and the Swifts.

November gets its name from the Latin novem (nine), and was originally the ninth month of the year.
This brought Thanksgiving around two months earlier than we have it now, and it became very unpopular.
The insurgents, who constituted a majority in the agricultural districts, were bitterly opposed to it. They made two contentions: First, that young turkeys were not old enough to market; second, that crops had not progressed to the point where it was possible to make out whether there was anything to be thankful for or not. In 1793 B. C. the country broke. The insurgents carried Oahu, Britannia and 17 other doubtful states, and the Forum immediately assembled and made November the eleventh month of the year.

The festive coil will sniff the air and don his heavy underbair, and the frenzied candidate will jump and hop around upon the stump.
He'll point with pride and view with fear, and suck and blow the atmosphere, and then, together with his cult, await with prayer the result.

Does reason happily hold its sway, or is it madness for a day will tell the people what to think and put the country on the brink? One cannot tell, but must abide the count that sees him justified in courage, confidence or doubt, according as it may turn out.

One thing alone is sure, it seems,
and that is this: No one esteems a patriot in politics. We only trust him while he sticks to war, with all its trill and throb. The moment that he wants a job somewhat conspicuous for pay, by Jove! we don't know what to say.

But whether we do ill or well, election day alone can tell, and whether love for us and fear did any good, will then appear. We have to

Ten Doctors Said He Would Die

"In 1903 we wrote you regarding my husband, who was suffering from heart trouble. He was superannuated by the North Georgian Conference. Ten doctors at different times, said he would die. You advised Dr.
Miles' Heart Remedy and Restorative Nervine; we did as advised, and improvement was apparent from the very first. He recovered and the Conference in 1904 gave him a charge. He never felt better, although he has very heavy work and does a great deal of camp meeting work. I am so glad we took your advice and gave him the medicine, and feel that I ought to let you know of the wonderful good results from its use."
MRS. T. S. EDWARDS,
Milner, Ga.

This proves what Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy will do. Get a bottle from your druggist and take it according to directions.
It does not matter whether your heart is merely weak, or if you have organic trouble, if it does not benefit you take the empty bottle to your druggist and get your money back.

judge men as we may, and where the candidates all say about the same thing in the end, one scarcely knows who is a friend.

At any rate, the snow will fly, and the wild duck spin across the sky with both eyes focused on the ground, and his tail-piece going round and round. The eager hunter will deploy and supplement the live decoy, and the pneumococcus while he toots, will perforate his rubber boots.

A little shooting now and then is relished by a lot of men. They like to gallivant about and let the farmers run them out. It does them good to feel, by Jove, that Morgan don't own everything, and if he came in consequence and also to climb the fence, together with his dog and gun, he, too, would also get the run.

November will be unusual this year for the reason that there will be no full moon. This is because there will be a total eclipse of the moon on the night of the 16, when it would otherwise be full. The eclipse will be visible in the United States and in Wall Street, and it will send bacon down a couple of points.

The breath of Winter will distill upon the outer window sill, and the chilling calf will hump his back and burrow deeper in the stack. The bird man, with watery eyes, will put on both his undershirts, and the plutocrat who sells us coals will pry our bodies from our souls.

Then let us all embrace the chance and be as merry as we may, for whether we desire or dance, the fiddler is for all to pay. The gentle autumn time will pass, the countryman will kill his hogs, the cottontail will weave the grass around the obscured dogs, the bonking wig will ride the heights, and the wonder hollering of his, and the wolf will sit around o' nights and tell the moon how thin he is.
O woe is us that could enjoy the autumn time for aye and aye, and what with growing soul employ its witchery from day to day. The phosphorescence in the sky, the quail soft piping on the hill, the blackbirds ever bobbing by, and the wind soft-sighing where it will.

But happiness can never last as Antony could apprehend, and holding Cleo to him fast, destroyed himself before the end. The summer cometh after spring, and winter, merciless withal, as truly must succeed the sweet and gentle blandishments of fall.

At any rate, upon a day
Deciphered in the almanacs,
December, desolate and gray,
Will come to whistle through the cracks.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely de-range the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.
Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure, be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle.

pation.

PULASKI DEMOCRAT

INCORPORATED
Albany, N. Y.—The Pulaski Democrat Publishing company of Pulaski, has just been incorporated with the Secretary of State, with a capital of $9,000, consisting of shares of $100 each. The directors for the first year are as follows: Byron G. Seamans, Ella L. Seamans and Jesse C.
Peck of Pulaski.

Dr. Besley thinks more of the young people would marry but for the frightfully high cost of living;
but on the other hand it seems to be mainly due to the cost of high living.

President Taft is said to have increased in weight the past summer, despite insurgeny, Roosevelt and a few other things. The President might however, prefer to lose weight.

A CONSERVATIVE STATEMENT

It is a safe bet that the New York Evening Post would not say anything favorable to the Republican ticket in this State if it could have found, through its special representative sent up-State last week, that there was any hope for defeat.
The Post has fought Col. Roosevelt and all that he represents for years, but it has been forced to admit the excellence of the Republican ticket before the electors this Fall. The Post says in part:

"There are few indications that the three counties lying at the Eastern end of Lake Ontario, Oswego, Jefferson and Lewis, which together constitute the Twenty-eighth Congressional District will this year break away from their Republican moorings. All three are the direct Hugues counties and the direct reaction sentiment there has always been strong. Their Republicanism has been of the progressive type; it has not been of the machine variety, but it has been none the less constant.

A recent trip through this region by one who was on the lookout for some signs of a Democratic upheaval failed to bring to light any conditions that would serve as a basis for high Democratic hopes. Democrats are not themselves confident of accomplishing anything of the sort, but they are hoping.

Democrats are putting up a strong fight to elect their candidate for Congress, but there appears to be small chance of their succeeding.
The Republican nominee is Luther W. Mott, a banker of Oswego. Mott is a young man, a graduate of Harvard, a strong Hugues man, and if elected, he is likely to vote with the progressive wing of his party in the house. He has been nominated to succeed Representative Knapp who was elected by a plurality of 10,125 in 1908.

He is opposed by Judge Reeves of Jefferson county. Judge Reeves has been a city judge in Watertown, and has a strong personal following in his home country. He is probably the strongest man the Democrats could have named. Yet the most estimated of the vote indicate that Mott is likely to win by anywhere from 5,000 to 7,500.

Oswego and Lewis Counties each have one Assemblyman, and Jefferson has two. Sweet of Oswego, who is a candidate for re-election, was the first Assemblyman in the State pledged by his convention to vote for a direct primary bill. He kept the faith; he is energetic and popular, and there are no indications that his last year's plurality of 2, 241 votes will be cut appreciably.
Senator Cobb, the acting Lieutenant-Governor, whose district including Jefferson and Oswego, gave him a plurality of 8,323 two years ago.
He is assured of re-election by a vote
very little, if any, less.

Citation to Prove Will

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, To Patrick Frazier, Robert Frazier, Joseph Frazier, Catherine Doty, Mildred Davy, Chester Davy, Agnes Frazier, John Frazier, Nellie Waters, Anna Hurly, Bernard
Doty, Annie Newcomer, Florence
Mc Cann, Helen Broderick, Richard Broderick and Catherine Broderick, heirs-at-law and next of kin of Richard Frazier, late of the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York,
deceased, Greeting:

Whereas, Anna Frazier, the Executrix, named in a certain instrument in writing, purporting to be the last WILL and testament of said Richard Frazier, late of the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, and State of New York, deceased, and relating to both real and personal estate, has lately made application to the Surrogate's Court of our County of Oswego, to have said instrument in writing proved and recorded as a WILL, of real and personal estate, and each of you are, therefore, hereby cited to appear before the Surrogate of the County of Oswego at his office in the City of Oswego, New York, on the 12th day of December, 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of said WILL, and such of you as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by one; or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed;

failure to do so, a special guardian

AN INVITATION, CONTEST

"If your church society is not accomplishing all it should in the way of helping people get acquainted, you can use an invitation contest to good purpose. This is the way we conducted ours," says the Woman's Home Companion for November.

"One member in each block within the territory of our circle was asked to extend a personal invitation to all the other ladies of her block to be present at our next social afternoon with the promise of a prize to the one bringing the largest number. The ladies appointed entered into the plan with enthusiasm. Every stranger was called upon, and every chronic stay-at-home was solicited by her own neighbor to help her win the prize. The plan for the ladies of each block to meet and go to the social 'in a body' led to more informal friendliness than our staid college town had seen for some time.
The badges of the various delegations, the interest each lady of the committee showed in helping the ones she had brought to have a good time and the merriment over the prize, a toy garden-sake given to the winner as a symbol of her diligence, very successfully broke the ice at the beginning and the whole afternoon passed in a delightfully cordial fashion."

We secured several new members, we learned where people lived and we helped a good many to feel at home in our church fellowship."

CLAIM GAS DESTROYED

LOS ANGELES TIMES
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 28.—That

by an explosion of gas and not by dynamite, is the finding of the committee appointed by the Executive Council of the California Federation of Labor to investigate the recent destruction of the Times. The report was submitted to the Executive Committee to-day.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Edward Schoeneck is a Selfmade Man. Capable and Energetic. Will Receive Heavy Vote.

Edward Schoeneck, Mayor of Syracuse and Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is one of the selfmade young men of Syracuse. Only thirty-five years of age, he is one of the leading trial lawyers of that city. His success has been attained after a hard struggle against early adverse conditions. The son of a blacksmith, he spent at the anvil in his father's shop the days when most youths are still in school. After receiving a common school education, he started to attend the Syracuse High school but was obliged to leave school to work in the blacksmith shop, where he was daily employed for more than ten years and until he reached the age of twenty-five years. Although working in the blacksmith shop, Mr. Schoeneck had no idea of spending all his days at that employment. He was ambitious to become a lawyer, an ambition which had its origin when as a newboy he sold papers to the lawyers and attendants in the Court House. While employed days, he spent his nights in study. Realizing that while he was to receive his education in the law it would be necessary for him to earn his living, he studied stenography, which he practiced in a law office after he entered the College of Law of Syracuse University in 1900. Three years later he was graduated from the College of Law and was admitted to the bar. While a law student Mr. Schoeneck was elected supervisor of his ward in 1901 and served two years, and in the Fall of 1903 he was elected to the State Legislature as a member of Assembly. He was elected for four successive terms, serving in the Assembly from 1904 to 1907, inclusive. Because of the necessity of attending to his growing law practice, Mr. Schoeneck declined to serve longer in the Legislature. Much against his personal desires, he was prevailed upon to accept the Republican nomination for Mayor in the Fall of 1909. His popularity at home is attested by the fact that he was elected in spite of the fact that he was opposed not only by a Democratic candidate, but by two independent Republican candidates, who between them polled about 4,500 votes. As Mayor of Syracuse, Mr. Schoeneck has been able and progressive, devoting to the duties of his office the same energy and application which as a member of Assembly rendered him one of the most useful members of the Legislature. He is of German parentage, both his father and mother having been born in Germany. He was born in Syracuse on August 6, 1875. He is married and has one child.

"The statement that I am hostile to the candidacy of Luther W. Mott is absolutely false. I have not given any statement to that effect to any one. On the contrary I want to see Mr. Mott elected to Congress."

LUTHER W. MOTT ISSUES STATEMENT

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 28TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT
Dear Sirs: I respectfully ask for your votes on Election day, and I want you to know just where I stand on the issues of the day.

1. I stand for the administration of William H. Taft. I will vote to carry out his policies.
2. I stand for further downward revision of the tariff in cases where recommended by the tariff commission, and where it can be accomplished without unfavorably affecting the American mechanic and laboring man.
3. I stand for the present duty on paper, and not for free paper as advocated in my opponent's national platform. I want the paper mills to run full time.
4. I believe with Charles E. Hughes that the people are able to govern themselves, and I pledge myself to carry out the wishes of the voters who elect me, and to endeavor to consult them whenever possible.
5. I stand with Theodore Roosevelt against all forms of graft and dishonesty whether committed by rich or poor. I stand against all forms of politics represented by Charlie Murphy and Tammany Hall, and I resent Tammany's efforts to gain a foothold in these home counties of ours.
6. I am against corporation or lobby rule. I want legislation which will promote the welfare of the common people of whom I am one. I want to do what I can for the honest corporations, and for the honest farmers, and the honest business men of all sorts, and I am against trusts.
7. I stand for the army and the navy, and the old soldiers.
8. I stand with the people on all questions.

Yours respectfully,

LUTHER W. MOTT.

KNAPP ENDORSES MOTT

In my power for honest corporations of my district, and for the honest farmers, and the honest men of all sorts. The best way to do this is to continue the policies of William H. Taft.

"I understand that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt sent some telegrams up here into Lewis County suggesting that I was a good man to send to Congress. Some people may say I am 'Roosevelt's man,' just as they say it of our candidate for Governor. If they mean that I want to go to Congress to carry out the Roosevelt policy of Honesty and Economy which won a great victory at Saratoga, they are right. But they are mistaken if they intimate that I will be controlled by any man or men other than you voters who send me to Washington."

The Hon. Seth Low of New York city was the final speaker. He made a strong plea for surrounding President Taft with Congressmen friendly to the administration, so that the powers of the Chief Executive of the country would not be limited. He spoke strongly in favor of the election of Mr. Mott as one of these Congressmen.

MURPHY'S CANDIDATE

(New York Tribune.) Our esteemed contemporary "The New York World" thought his nomination by Murphy and Connors was a count against Mr. Chanler when he was running in 1908. "Mr. Chanler, who was nominated by Connors and Murphy on a Bryan, reactionary, corporation platform," it called him. And most of the other New York city journals that are now supporting Dix pointed out that the control of the Democratic convention two years ago by Tammany and the Buffalo boss was a reason for distrusting Mr. Chanler and compelling him to pledge himself to certain policies. But how much more is Mr. Dix the Tammany boss's nominee than was Mr. Chanler or, in fact, any other Democratic candidate in recent years.

Murphy's control of the last convention was much more complete than he had ever exercised before over a party council. To this fact all of the Democratic and independent newspapers bore witness at the time. Moreover, to compare Mr. Dix with Mr. Chanler, the Democratic candidate two years ago had strength of his own in the convention. He was, so to speak, the "logical candidate." It would have been safe to predict his nomination two months before the convention met. Mr. Dix, on the other hand, was never heard of as a candidate until the conferences in "Room 212" had been in operation for several days. There was no popular demand for his nomination.

BURNED TO DEATH

In some unknown manner the home of Captain H. J. Daggett, at one time one of the wealthiest men in New Haven, caught fire and its owner who was aged, in poor health and slightly crippled from paralysis, was burned to death. The deceased had but the week before yielded up the wishes of his friends and agreed to go to the Masonic Home in Utica to make his future home. He lived alone.

DEATHS

Alice K. McCarthy, aged 77, died at the home of her son, Harry E. McCarthy in Fifth street on Sunday after a long illness. The funeral services will be held from the late home this Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. J. G. York officiating.

Henry L. Crane, aged 71, died at his home in Fifth street on Wednesday afternoon after a year of failing health. The deceased had resided in Fulton for the past ten years and was highly respected by all who knew him. The funeral services were held from the late home on Friday afternoon, Rev. George Ward of Volney Center officiating, and burial was made at Volney Center. Beside the widow to whom sympathy is extended in her loneliness, the deceased is survived by one nephew, Carl H. Getty of Hoosic Falls.

One of the saddest deaths to have occurred in this city was that of Mrs. Mary M. Gaffney, aged 35, which came as a merciful relief from suffering for which there was no known medical cure, passing away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Connelly in Ganessvoort street on Saturday. During the time that she had known that death was inevitable she had borne herself like a hero, protesting that it must be alright as God never made mistakes. She comforted relatives, children and friends with her own cheer. Her girlhood years were filled with industry and advancement toward high ideals. Her short married life was filled with noble self-sacrifice, and the last three years with patient, willing service for those whom she loved. Her presence in the sick room was an inspiration and her patients mourn her demise sincerely. To the parents, sisters and children she leaves the memory of a beautiful life too soon closed. The funeral services were held from the Catholic church this Wednesday morning, the Rev. J. L. Linman officiating, and burial was made in the family lot in St. Mary's. Beside the parents, two sisters, Mrs. W. N. LaLonde and Miss Anna Connelly, and three children, Clara E., Monica M. and Leonard T. Gaffney, survive.

IN MEMORIAM.

Henry Leamon Crane was born December 25, 1838 at Bristol Hill, Volney, N. Y., a farmer's son. Educated in Valley Seminary and Mexico Academy. Was a successful school teacher for a few years. He studied Civil Engineering and went to Kansas in the Spring of 1864. Lived there for a short time at that time. Mr. Crane was employed and sent out as surveyor on the plains of Nebraska, running out government lines November 26 he returned to Volney, and on December 26, 1864, he was united in marriage to Atha Kendall of Volney. April 26, 1864, they began housekeeping at Gilbert's Mills. In February 1866, he was soundly converted in his own home and united with the Free Will Baptist church, Congregational in sentiment. He afterwards united with the Congregational church of Bristol Hill, Volney, where he has always been, and at the time of his death was member, always giving to the support of the home church.

April 1, 1879, he removed to Volney Center, remaining there until March 2, 1904, when he moved into Fulton, and was always found in church until falling in health. His bible was his unerring guide. Naturally sensitive and shrinking, yet bold and outspoken where duty demanded, he would stand alone, battling for what he saw was right. He voted the Prohibition ticket for the first time in the field. For many years was the only one who voted that ticket at Fayetteville, receiving scorn and ridicule but was unmoved. October 26, 1910, God took him. He has gone to the Father whom he so loved and served. Went like a candle going out. Not one struggle or gasp, answering questions until near his last breath. He was always a devoted husband.

JOHN A. DIX ELECTED GOVERNOR BY 57,000

Democratic State Ticket Elected By Reduced Majorities

MOTT ELECTED BY 3,800

Entire Republican County Ticket Elected Herman Kandt For County Treasurer Sweet and Cobb Re-elected

For the first time in sixteen years, the Democrats will control the State on January 1.

John A. Dix, Democrat, has been elected Governor of the State of New York by almost 57,000, carrying into office with him the entire Tammany State ticket by reduced pluralities. His plurality in Greater New York was about 102,000, against Stimson's 45,000 plurality in the up-State.

Dix carried Buffalo, Utica, Troy, Geneva, while Rochester, Ithaca, Watertown and Syracuse gave Stimson good pluralities.

Onondaga county elected its entire Republican County ticket by a vote slightly under the Republican pluralities in 1908. Stimson's plurality in the County was 4,843.

Mayor Edward Schoenck of Syracuse, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, ran away ahead of his ticket. His plurality in the city was 7,444, which is about 2,000 more than Stimson's. He ran 1,100 ahead of his ticket in Albany. Congressman M. E. Driscoll was re-elected by a handsome vote.

In our own County, Oswego, the entire Republican county ticket was elected. Luther Wright Mott was elected to Congress to represent the 28th Congressional district by 3,800 plurality, it being the first time in twenty-two years that this district had had an Oswego county representative. His plurality in the county was 2,000. Jefferson county gave him 200, and Lewis county, 600. Oswego city gave him 445 and Fulton 144.

George H. Cobb was re-elected State Senator in the 35th Senatorial District by a large vote. His plurality in this county was 2,802. Fulton gave him 178.

Thaddeus C. Sweet is returned to the Assembly by nearly 3,000 majority. In this city he had 318 more than Daley, the Democratic candidate. Thus have the electors paid him tribute for his splendid record in representing this Assembly District.

The contest for County Treasurer was strenuous, but resulted in victory for Herman W. Kandt, the Republican candidate. The vote in plurality. Mr. Kandt received 40 plurality in this city. He cut down Fred Moore's majority in Moore's own town of Richland to 11.

Justice Frank Hiseock was re-elected Justice of the Supreme Court for the Fifth Judicial District, being on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Judge Irving G. Vaan was re-elected on both tickets to the Court of Appeals.

Coroner Leroy F. Hollis has a good plurality in the County. Fulton gave him 202 over Hayes, Democrat.

D. Page Morehouse, Jr., was elected Special Surrogate.

Fulton was carried by all the Republican candidates. The votes in all the wards except the Sixth, showed slightly reduced Republican pluralities. The Sixth ward gave Dix a plurality of 2. Schoenck ran ahead of his ticket in every ward. Mott ran well in comparison with the rest of the ticket although not as strong as was expected. Cobb received a better vote and Sweet was the favorite of all candidates on the ticket. Kandt's majority was not as large as was expected by hundreds. The others on the ticket about the same.

ANNUAL REPORT

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Northern New York Conference. Held on October 12, 1910.

Many of you will remember that six years ago last Spring, a severe storm swept over our Northern Conference, scattering Adams District among its neighbors. From the wreckage we struggled to our feet as best we could, and were coming to feel somewhat at home amid the new surroundings, when last April another cyclone, more violent, more destructive, more disheartening, than the first one could suggest, again swept over our territory. When the fury of the blast had passed, no trace of Ulster District could be found. Looking into the debris we found that it had been blown all over the conference, and that every other District had been shamefully disgraced, and its identification lost; for save one, not a District named remained the same as before the storm. When we looked for Herkimer we found Mohawk; when we sought Oswego we found Ontario; and Watertown had become Black River. But sturdy old St. Lawrence already a province of magnificent distances, was too cumbersome with its heavy Adirondacks for the brethren to meddle with, and it remained St. Lawrence still.

The Delta branch of the Delta Western auxiliary has laid down its life in the interests of our great Barge Canal. The town and all the inhabitants thereof have been bought out and driven away, and where once that quiet little hamlet nestled beside the head waters of the Mohawk River, now a beautiful, imposing state dam is being constructed to feed our one hundred million dollar waterway.

To add to all this confusion, the itinerant wheel made an unexpected revolution which sent the Conference Secretary into boxes and barrels and on a journey of over seventy miles down into the extreme corner of the Conference. The times surely seemed to be "out of joint." After the battle of Waterloo a soldier was asked, "What did you see?" He replied, "I saw nothing but dust and smoke." "Then what did you do?" was asked again, and he answered, "I stood by my guns." And so it was when the atmosphere had cleared after this Conference whirlwind, I saw the women of the W. F. M. S. standing by their guns, and they will not be driven from the field until the Master says, "the work is done."

Five missionaries have helped us during the year, to strengthen our ranks. Jennie Moyer convinced conservative and indifferent men and women of the reasonableness of Missions. Jennie Hughes at the Conference anniversary stirred her great audience to active endeavors in Missionary lines. Four ministers who listened to her then have written for dates for her to speak in their churches. Minerva Outhapfel swept obstacles before her left and right, and left behind her new auxiliaries and added members. Hortense Loring at Dempster Camp Ground converted men and women to Foreign Missions; Mary Carlisle's winning story at Brushy Camp ground won many to her and to the work upon her heart.

The District meetings were inspiring and helpful. "Best we ever had," was the verdict which came from some of them. Dr. Rabi Baksh of India, addressed the one in Oswego District held at Fulton.

Mrs. Brainard's busy pen and purse have again sown broadcast nine thousand five hundred letters from our Missionaries on the field. These letters have made us better acquainted with the women who are our substitutes there, and have kept us in touch with their work. Especially has this been true with reference to Wuhu.

The conference meeting at Carthage was a heart to heart council over the vital interests of the work. "Most sorry I came," said one woman, "for I see the responsibility of the work as I have never seen it before." The Master met us there and we talked with Him.

We pause a moment in reverent memory of those who have entered into their inheritance which lieth within the city which is foursquare. One of these privileged ones was Mrs. Kate Crouse Loucks, wife of Dr. A. C. Loucks of Oswego. A woman of quiet unassuming manner and life, but a woman whom God trusted, and into her keeping He had placed some money. When she had finished with its use here, she gave it back to Him; and when the clouds hung heavy over our Branch treasury last Fall, the seven thousand two hundred eighty six dollars from her bequest went a long way to meeting the deficiency.

The great need in our midst is leaders. We must have them for the auxiliary, for the young women, for the children. Mrs. D. S. Davis of Oriskany Falls will take the work of corresponding secretary of Mohawk District which Mrs. Terhune lays down because of added home cares. Mrs. J. V. Kay of Watertown will take the work of the Black River District which Mrs. Morlock lays aside for the sake of health.

Notwithstanding all the contrary winds against which we have battled this year, we come up to this annual feast with some advance. The workers reported for the last time under the old division of the Districts. Herkimer has 37 organizations, with a total membership of 306; a loss of 5; Oswego has 48 organizations with a total membership of 1114, a gain of 3; St. Lawrence, 25 organizations, 782 members, gain of 19; Ulster, 35 organizations, 343 members, gain of 80; Watertown, 35 organizations, 303 members, gain of 125. A total of 180 organizations, 4361 members, gain of 222.

This does not include 7 new organizations representing about 80 members which have not yet sent any money to the conference treasurer. 371 Missionary Friends are taken, which are 10 less than last year. 313 Children's Missionary Friends, a gain of 46. 18 new Life members are reported. 7 from there auxiliaries, 1 Standard Bearer, 6 King's Herald and 2 Little Light Bearers.

Herkimer ..... $1,541.95—L. 169.
Oswego ..... 2,317.50—G. 196.
St. Lawrence ..... 1,066.85—G. 104.

Req. .... $,690.00

Doubtless the City Attorney is familiar with the situation and I would suggest that it might be desirable to get this matter under way in the near future.

LION FONDLES A CHILD

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through colds, croup, and whooping cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Life Pills could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, hemorrhages, weak lungs. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. # THE FULTON TIMES

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1886 at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Official Paper of City of Fulton.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1910.

They can't "can" Kandt.

Yesterday was a great day for the Democrats in many States.

The voters of the Empire State don't want reform any more.

Col. Roosevelt lost his own election district to Dix by 60.

"The little Dutch schoolmaster" trounced Fred Moore good and plenty.

We pause to await the immediate filling up of the empty market basket.

Too bad that Koenig, Williams and O'Malley went down in the party wreck.

Anyway we saved the county ticket. It's a good one, too. Not a man to be ashamed of in the lot.

Hon. T. C. Sweet ran far and away ahead of his ticket. There was no contest over his nomination or election.

Chairman Charles W. Taft did valiant work for the Republican cause in county, Congressional and Senatorial districts.

Would the result of the Empire State have been any different if the "Old Guard" had selected the candidate?

Oswego County gave nearer to its normal Republican majority on the head of the ticket than any other county in New York State.

Congressman-elect L. W. Mott might not have had as long legs as his competitor but he set a Marathon pace that lost Reeves.

It will be Governor Dix after January 1. Here's hoping that he will rise superior to his nominators and prove all that his supporters expect.

The Congressional fight was pretty one. Reeves on two tickets did not have a look-in from the start. Congressman-elect Mott will devote the next three years to looking after the interests of this vast 38th District.

PROMINENT MANUFACTURER DEAD

The death of L. C. Smith at his home in Syracuse on Saturday following a weeks illness with acute diabetes and apoplexy. Mr. Smith's death is a distinct loss to charitable, religious and educational institutions in Syracuse and his death is mourned by a large circle of beneficiaries of his charity.

Mr. Smith was the founder of the Smith Premier Typewriter Company, now part of the Union Typewriter Company, and later the founder of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Company. He was largely interested in the shipping on the Great Lakes and was President of the United States Transportation Company and the L. C. Smith Transit Company. He was also Treasurer of the Toronto Shipbuilding Company. He was a stockholder and director in the Beebe system of electric roads.

Mr. Smith was interested in the Northwest and extensively interested in the development of the real estate of Seattle. He was President of the Hudson Portland Cement Company, of Hudson, N. Y., President of the Rochester, Syracuse & Eastern Railroad Company, and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Halcomb Steel Company, of which he was one of the organizers. For a number of years he had served as President of the National Bank of Syracuse.

Mr. Smith did much to advance the Syracuse University and was Vice-president of the Board of Trustees and erected the Lyman Cornelius Smith College of Applied Arts. He contributed largely toward religious and charitable work.

It is estimated that his fortune will reach $10,000,000.

SALVATION ARMY

Will the public kindly send their cast-off clothing and bedding to the Salvation Army, Fulton Corps, as there are a great many calls for assistance among the poor at this time. Some relief must be given if we fulfill the scripture "I was naked and ye clothed me."

The relief work of the Salvation Army has always brought forth good results. Any thing given for that purpose will have its reward.

The Salvation Army postponed the entertainment they were to have had last Friday evening to this week Friday, November 11, on account of the bad night and also the Prohibition meeting that was held in this city. Envoys Roberts, who is coming to assist Captain Meyer in her work will also be present and will take part. Admission free.

DEATHS

The death of John Whiting, aged 56, occurred at his home on Thursday after months of ill health. The funeral services were on Sunday under the auspices of Nehtawanta Lodge, I. O. O. F., and burial was made in Mt. Adnah. One son, Fred, and two daughters, Mrs. Will Stauring and Mrs. Pearl Tryon, survive.

After a residence of over 40 years in this city, Burns Case, aged 91, died at his home in Worth street on Wednesday evening, death having followed years of failing health. During the past year he has been a great sufferer and his death was not unexpected. During his illness his wife has been a patient nurse and his passing away found her in very feeble health although hopes for her ultimate recovery are entertained. The funeral services were held from the late home on Saturday afternoon and burial was made in Mt. Adnah. Beside the widow, one daughter, Mrs. D. W. C. Skaden of Cleveland, Ohio, survives.

CARD OF THANKS

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly sent flowers and helped us in various ways in our recent bereavement we extend our heartfelt thanks.

Mrs. Burns Case,
Mrs. D. W. C. Skaden.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. John Miller of Auburn has been visiting Fulton friends.

Mrs. F. G. Spencer was removed to her home from the hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. Curtis of Oneonta is the guest of his sons, Messrs. A. P. and C. M. Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Parsons of Albany have been spending a few days with Fulton friends.

Mrs. Gerhardt and daughter, Lucile, of South Bend, Ind., are the guests of Mrs. H. A. Barker.

Mrs. Roy Owen played the violin and Miss Hazel Guile sang very beautifully at the Lee Memorial hospital on Sunday, giving the shuffling a great deal of pleasure.

Mr. Horace N. Gilbert on Tuesday cast his 60th straight Republican ticket, every ballot of which has been cast in Oswego county. Who can beat that record for staunch Republicanism?

At the Congregational church next Sabbath the pastor will speak in the morning on "The Temperance Question and our Relation to it." The theme for the evening sermon will be "Profit and loss in Religion."

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Congregational church, which was postponed this week, will be held next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. O. S. Bogardus on South Fourth street. A full attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walldorf gave a housewarming at their home in Oneida street on Wednesday evening to which they invited the employees in the O. Henderson & Company store. Dinner was served and at its conclusion the guests presented their hostess with three solid silver spoons as souvenirs of the occasion. Miss Anna Revels made a presentation in an appropriate and original "pome," which was received with great enthusiasm by the guests and the surprised host and hostess.

Mr. W. H. Dewey, Sr., was given a surprise visit on Friday afternoon and evening at the home of his son, Mr. W. H. Dewey, Jr., in South Third street in celebration of his 74th natal anniversary. A sumptuous dinner was served and many substantial gifts presented the venerable host. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dewey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. Potter and Miss Grace Dewey and four grandchildren.

The annual meeting of the Citizens club was held on Friday evening when Messrs. J. A. Foster and G. W. Brooker were elected directors for three years to succeed themselves. Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Prof. J. R. Fairgrieve; secretary, C. R. Bennett; treasurer, L. C. Foster. The following members will comprise the entertainment committee for the ensuing year: Theodore H. Webb, Sheldon B. Mead, William C. Burns, T. M. Ripley and A. L. Rice.

The Baptist Y. P. S. C. E., have inaugurated a membership contest in which Miss Ethel Reynolds and Mr. Harold Schaffer will lead the opposing forces. The sides will be comprised of both sexes so that neither captain will feel lonely in the society of his or her own sex exclusively. The contest was arranged on Friday evening when a banquet and toast list were enjoyed, the toast list being as follows: "Looking Backward," Mrs. William Sylvester; a letter from former president V. M. Schenck, Doris Barnes; "Looking Upward," Fred Trask; "Socialability," Royal Schafer; "How I am Going to Win," Harold Schaffer; "What Girls Can Do," Bessie Dexter; "What Boys Can Do," Edward Hart; "Young People's Vlm," Charles Hartson.

On Friday evening, November 4, Robertson Hughes of the Times attended a vention supper at Westminister Hall in Syracuse which was followed by an instructive and enjoyable lecture by Rev. Jay N. Taft on "Hunting big game in the woods of Maine, Michigan and the Adirondacks." Dr. Taft is a native of Fulton; although he has not lived here for some time he is well known in our city. His lectures abound in valuable information on hunting large game and is drawn from a personal experience over a term of years. Aside from this the instructive features is mixed with humorous anecdotes which make the time pass enjoyable and any one who has not seen him in his hunting clothes and heard him tell his experiences in his own rare style should do both if the opportunity presents itself.

Editor Times: About two years ago I had the privilege of supplying without my consent, someone 32 pounds of honey from a vacant lot on Fourth street, I did not mind that if someone needed it worse than I did, because, I had a little left over from the year before.

This year my aforesaid friend relieved me of 32 pounds more. I did not like this quite so well, as the quantity he kindly consented to leave with me was rather small; however, I still managed to be good-natured about that. The other day, well, it was just about a week ago while I was in New York my aforesaid friend relieved me of the bees and the hives.

Now, I am going out of the bee business under the circumstances and I wish to say if the aforesaid really wants to start in business and will come up to the lot some day, I will give him the gloves, cap and veil and all of the rest of the paraphernalia that I have.

Very truly,
John Hunter.
